Senate Adds Millions to Proposed Bond Issue

COMPLETE CAROLINA BASEBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED FOR 1921

Three Games With Virginia and a Trip With Three Days Stay in New York.

NINE GAMES TO BE HERE

Carolina's 1921 baseball schedule, which has just been completed and given out by Manager William Ruffin, will include the annual series of three games with Virginia, and a northern trip that will give Coach Fetzer's charges a three-day stay in New York city.

The big trip which opens with a game with Georgetown university in Washington, on May 2, and closes with a game with Virginia Military Institute on May 9, will include games with Maryland, Fordham, New York University, College of the City of New York, and Swarthmore.

The schedule in full follows and in addition Manager Ruffin hopes to arrange games with several Piedmont league teams.

March 23, New York University at Chapel Hill.

March 28, Davidson college at Winston-Salem.

March 31, N. C. State at Chapel Hill.

April 2, University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.

April 4, Washington and Lee, University at Lexington, Va.

April 7, University of Maryland at Chapel Hill.

April 8, University of Florida at Chapel Hill.

April 9, Wake Forest college at Wake Forest.

April 12, Davidson college at Chapel Hill.

April 16, Trinity college at Chapel Hill.

April 21, Guilford college at Chapel Hill.

April 23, University of Virginia at Greensboro.

April 25, University of Virginia at Chapel Hill.

April 30, N. C. State at Raleigh.

May 2, Georgetown University at Washington, D. C.

May 3, University of Maryland at College Park, Md.

May 4, Fordham University at New York, N. Y.

May 5, New York University at New York, N. Y.

May 6, College of the City of New York at New York, N. Y.

May 7, Swarthmore college at Swarthmore, Pa.

May 9, Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va.

May 12, Wake Forest college at Chapel Hill.

May 14, Trinity college, at Durham.

In addition to the above Carolina will probably play the Buffalo, N. Y. club training in Durham, a game with the Durham club, and possibly other Piedmont league teams.

PATTERSON ATTENDS CHICAGO CONFERENCE

Commercial Athletics Are Scored at Meeting of National Collegiate Association.

Dr. A. H. Patterson was in attendance at a recent meeting in Chicago of the National Collegiate Association, the only collegiate athletic association in the country, as a representative of the University. The leaders of the association, which is composed of about 150 of the leading institutions in America, are such men as Stagg, of Chicago University; Yost, of Michigan University; Warner, of the University of Pittsburgh, and Walter Camp and others. The University and N. C. State are members of this association.

The growing commercialism of athletics came up for considerable discussion at the meeting, for the association realized that college athletics were growing in popularity owing to the unpopularity of commercial athletics. Attesting to this fact is a comparison between the attendance of the Yale-Harvard football game in the Yale Bowl last fall and the average attendance of the World series which was about 35,000

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION FORMED IN ATLANTA; CAROLINA A MEMBER

Stringent Rules Passed by the Conference Which Are to Take Effect January 1, 1922.

15 COLLEGES INCLUDED

Fifteen colleges, representing every section of the South, meeting last Saturday in Atlanta, Ga., completed organization of a new athletic association, to be known as the Southern Intercollegiate Conference, under what are said to be the strictest regulations proposed for any similar organization in the country.

The regulations adopted to protect the integrity of athletics not only included the one-year rule and the three-year rule, but went a step further by stipulating that no athlete having attended a college can go to another college and engage in athletics under any circumstances. It was decided to put the rules into effect January 1, 1922, so as not to interfere with existing contracts.

The proposed rule against summer baseball for money on semi-professional teams was not included.

The faculty members on the athletic committee in the different institutions must constitute a majority and must assume responsibility for carrying out the eligibility rules adopted by the conference.

Track and field rules shall be those adopted by the national collegiate athletic association.

No student may accept compensation for participation in any branch of sport. No student may become a member of any team for occasional contests until after permission has been obtained from the faculty committee on athletics. Such students who receive expenses for such occasional games must submit certified and receipted vouchers therefor.

Under the rules adopted, no freshman can play on any team in the conference, nor can any athlete participate in college athletics for more than three years. Those three years must also be gotten in within four years from the date of matriculation.

Harmony prevailed throughout the meeting, and the belief was expressed

DEAN CARROLL SPEAKS FOR MODERN LANGUAGES

Says Man That Can Command Languages Will Be at a Great Advantage.

"Abolish the rubbish from our curriculum such as zoology, botany, biology," and I may add economics, "and substitute foreign languages in our schools," quoted D. D. Carroll, Dean of the School of Commerce, from a newspaper clipping of Secretary of State Colby's address on his return from South America, in Chapel Monday morning, Feb. 28.

Dean Carroll took his text from the eleventh chapter of Genesis, which relates how the Tower of Babel was built to pierce the heavens and the Lord not liking the work caused confusion of tongues to fall upon them, and in the words of Dean Carroll: "To judge from the agony students here in the University show, in their study of modern languages, it was some confusion, believe me."

Changing from the humorous side of his subject, Dean Carroll presented the materialistic side of why we should study modern languages. He traced the growth and cleave of languages and said that differences of languages and religion were primarily the cause of the failure of the League of Nations.

Dean Carroll said that in the present day and in the future our trade relations will look outward to foreign shores and that the man who can command foreign languages will be at a great advantage over the man who cannot speak any but his own tongue. Foreign trade depends on convincing the foreign buyer of the value of your goods, but you cannot convince him unless you speak his language. He does not care about you, you must care about him if you want to sell him goods, concluded Mr. Carroll.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS NOMINATED IN CHAPEL ELECTION NEXT WEEK

C. J. Williams, S. O. Bondurant, F. A. Grissette, E. W. Tenney, W. E. Matthews, W. F. Falls Named.

THREE WITHDRAW NAMES

Nominations were held in chapel Tuesday for the Y. M. C. A. president for the coming school year. The present incumbent of the presidency, Donnell Van Noppen, held the nominations and before they were closed, C. J. Williams, S. O. Bondurant, F. A. Grissette, E. W. Tenney, W. E. Matthews and W. F. Falls were put up for the job.

Of these men, the first three were nominated by the Y. M. C. A. cabinet. The last three men were nominated by students, but after the Chapel period, each of the three last named men announced their intention of withdrawing their names from the list. It is understood that the men the Cabinet nominates are considered the best men from the places. However, a chance is always given to students to nominate any one whom they think has been overlooked.

While all these nominations were made for the presidency, it should not be understood that this is the only position to be filled. There are three places, President, Vice-President, and Secretary, and while all men when they are nominated, run for the Presidency, some of these same men get the other positions. The man who gets the highest number of votes becomes President, the next highest man gets the Vice-Presidency, while the third highest is elected Secretary.

Balloting will be carried on next Tuesday at the customary polls—the eating houses, Gerrard Hall, Pharmacy, Law, and Medical Buildings, and the Post Office.

A statement of what each of these men has done since he has been in college follows:

C. J. Williams, of Concord, belongs to the Di Society, and the Cabarrus County Club. He is also a member of the North Carolina Club and of Epsilon Phi Delta, an honorary fraternity for debaters and writers. He is at present Assistant Business Manager of the Carolina Magazine. He has been active in Y. M. C. A. work for the past two years. Last year he was chairman of the Self-Help Department, and this year he is connected with the Rural Sunday Schools. He is working his way through college.

Stuart O. Bondurant, of Leaksville, is a member of the Di Society; and the Rockingham County Club; made the Mary D. Wright Memorial Debate last fall; is at present leading Parson Moss' Bible Study Group every Sunday night; and belongs to Epsilon Phi Delta, and debaters' and writers' honorary fraternity.

F. A. Grissette, of Collettsville, has the following things to his credit: Di Society, Secretary (2), Treasurer (3); Caldwell County Club, Secretary (2); Vice-President (3); Inter-Society Freshman Debate; Inter-Society Sophomore Debate; President Freshman Debating Society; Football (1); Class basketball and baseball (1); Varsity Baseball squad (2), and (3); Carolina Playmakers (1-2); Latin American Club; North Carolina Club.

NORTH CAROLINA CLUB ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

Program Deals With Industrial, Urban, and Rural Problems in North Carolina.

The program for the North Carolina Club for the remainder of the year deals with industrial, urban, and rural problems which are of vital concern to the State, and which deserve more interest from the student body than like matters have heretofore received.

The Club working with the Department of Rural Economics has thoroughly investigated these problems, and will be in a position to discuss them in detail, and furnish

STATE GIVES SURPRISE WINS FROM CAROLINA IN A LIVELY CONTEST

Big Ripple's Long Shots Responsible for Running Up Score for the West Raleigh Boys.

CAROLINA IS SURPRISED

With Ripple leading the attack, caging eight field goals, many from almost the center of the court, North Carolina State College sprang a big surprise in Raleigh Wednesday night and defeated the Carolina basketball quint by the score of 32-31.

In the last half a minute and thirty second before the final whistle the Carolina five was one point in the lead. The ball was out of bounds in State's territory but in Carolina's possession. Hanby passed to McDonald, who was hooked by Johnson. The ball was passed up between them and in the scramble Pork recovered for State and dropped in the winning basket. With fifteen seconds to play Carolina made a desperate effort to win, and Carmichael dribbled down the floor shortly after the loss, and took a long shot that missed its mark by only a few inches. State recovered the ball and the game ended.

The West Raleigh boys took Carolina off her guard in the first few minutes of the game. Ripple and Groome were able to make long and sensational shots that ran the score up quickly. Practically during the entire first half State kept the lead by a few points. Carolina failed to pass with the cleverness and accuracy that has characterized her playing in the past. Aggressive guarding by State caused the Blue and White quint to fumble often, and under the Carolina goal the shots were broken up continuously by State. Carmichael made three long court goals during the first period, Shepherd registered two, and the other members of the team contributed one each. Ripple made seven in this period for State, and his guarding was also a feature. The half ended with State college seven points in the lead, the score standing 25-18.

Carolina came back strong in the final period, playing better from every standpoint. The whole quint's work was more aggressive, more accurate, and more sensational. Erwin

PRESTON CUP CONTEST FOR UNDERGRADUATES

Regulations Announced Governing Contest to Decide Most Journalistic Carolina Man.

Regulations governing the contest for the Preston cup in journalism have just been announced by the English department. The rules this year are similar to those used heretofore, but the material will not be required to be handed in until May 1, instead of April 1, as was formerly required.

The Preston cup is awarded annually to the undergraduate student who does the best work of a journalistic nature during the college year. This does not mean that the work written especially for the contest will be ruled out, however, preference will be shown to that exhibit of journalistic work which has been the natural development of the year's work.

The awarding of the cup will be based on the display of work as shown in the exhibits of work submitted by the contestants. Each student must submit an exhibit showing three different classes of material. The three divisions are as follows:

- 1 (a) Feature story; minimum 1,000 words, or
- (b) News story, minimum 500 words.
- 2 (a) Editorial.
- (b) Book review. Length, minimum 300 words.
- 3 (a) Verse.
- (b) Sketches (descriptive or narrative). Length, no single story to be over 400 words.

One entry must be made for each of the first two divisions and there

STUDENT IN HOSPITAL AS RESULT OF HAZING

Trinity Student Stabbed by Freshman Whom He and Party Intended to Haze.

Durham, March 1.—E. C. Brooks, Jr., is in Watts hospital suffering from a knife thrust in the chest, and John Small, Jr., is nursing a painful abrasion on his chin, as a result of an alleged hazing episode at Trinity college. The injuries were inflicted by Jack McClure, of Canton, a member of the freshman class at the college, who it is claimed, was to have been the victim of hazing.

The information obtainable last night was to the effect that the hazing party composed of four or five members of the sophomore class went to young McClure's room Sunday night about 11:30 o'clock. They are reported to have told him after entering his room, "we have come for you."

McClure's stony to college authorities is to the effect that he arose from his bed, turned on the light, and took a seat on the bed. McClure said further that young Brooks advanced on him and took hold of his right arm. It was then, he asserts, that he drew his knife and from under the bed clothing and wielded a side stroke at his adversary.

The knife blade entered Brooks' chest, slightly piercing the cavity. It left a dangerous appearing wound. The assault abruptly brought an end to the hazing party.

As a follow-up to the affair, college authorities have been informed, Mr. Small a fraternity mate of young Brooks, went to McClure's room in regard to the affair. Just what occurred is not entirely clear. It is known, however, that McClure struck Small with his fist inflicting a severe abrasion on his chin. Young McClure charges that Mr. Small insulted him. It was then, he said, that he struck his visitor. The skin on Mr. Small's right cheek was broken, and McClure's hand was so badly bruised he had it treated by a physician.

The Sunday night affair is the first of its kind to develop at the college since Christmas, and students declare the campus has been exceedingly free from this practice since the sophomore class, a short time after the opening of the fall term met and voluntarily drew up resolutions condemning hazing. The members of the class pledged themselves to refrain from activities of this type. College officials yesterday expressed themselves as deeply regretful that the episode of last night occurred. They are making a thorough investigation, but up until last night no official statement had been made.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT WILL GIVE ORATORIO

Mr. Weaver to Present Holy Musicale Easter Composed of the Local Church Choirs.

The Department of Music announces an Easter Oratorio under the direction of Mr. Weaver, head of the department. The oratoria will be held March 20, the week preceding Easter so as to allow the students who go home or elsewhere for Easter to attend.

The choirs of all the churches, except the Christian, will unite to form one main choir, which is open to any singer in town or college. Rehearsals are being held every Monday night, at 8:00 o'clock in the Presbyterian church.

The oratoria is based on the "Crucifixion," by Stainer which is "a meditation on the passion of the Holy Redeemer."

In a decision reached Tuesday night the Senate of North Carolina added a million dollars to the report of the Appropriation Committee as it was submitted to that body. The schools affected by the addition are the University of North Carolina, the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, the Morganton Insane Asylum, and the North Carolina College for Women. The University receives $1,440,000 in lieu of the $900,000 recommended by the Budget Commission; the State College of Agriculture and Engineering receives $600,000. The North Carolina College for Women receives an extra $300,000 making the total appropriation $875,000 and the Morganton Insane Asylum receives $150,000 making a total of $300,000.

The differences between the appropriations committee and the proponents of the Senate $20,000,000 program for State institutions reached an agreement following a conference with Governor Morrison and the above amendments were added. The Governor laid the compromise before Senator McCoin and Representative W. N. Everett, Chairmen of the two appropriation committees and Senator Long of Halifax and Representative Murphy, two foremost exponents of the Citizen's Bill. The Governor strongly urged his proposal in the interest of harmony, and all those in the conference supported the proposition as a real compromise. The measure was presented on the floor of the Senate Tuesday afternoon and all the warring factions voted for it with the exception of Senator Dunlap, Senator McKinney, as member of the Appropriations Committee, disclaimed any responsibility if this measure resulted in a deficit in the State funds.

President Harry W. Chase, of the University and President Julius I. Foust of the North Carolina College for Women, stood out to the last for either the acceptance or rejection of the proposed $20,000,000 bill as in-

CAROLINA STUDENTS WILL HAVE SMOKER

Smoker, Eats and Stunts Will Be at Disposal of Students and Faculty.

A get together Carolina smoker will be held Wednesday night, March 9, in Swain hall, at which different stunts will be pulled off. The entire student body and faculty will be there for one general good time. The Carolina smoker is not a new thing on the campus, having started some years ago. The smokers held hitherto have been great successes.

The purpose of the smoker is to get the entire student body and faculty together around the festive board for a general good time and to promote a spirit of unity upon the campus and between the students and faculty that has not been as marked as formerly, since the University has outgrown its old small college size.

WHAT'S TO HAPPEN AND WHEN.

Friday, March 4:
Dr. Chase in chapel.
Drs. Hounshell and Lane, of the Methodist and Presbyterian Life Work Board, in Y. M. C. A. for conference with students.
Friday Night:
Chicken and cake sold at Methodist Church, beginning at 5:30 in the afternoon.
