

MEDITATION Cigar

After a bully-good dinner

After a bang-up meal, a smooth-smoking Meditation just tops off in fine style. It affords thirty minutes of solid comfort before the afternoon work begins.

The skillful blend of fine, mild Havana gives a delicate taste and subtle aroma that makes one hungry for another Meditation.

Meditations lead in popularity. Try one of these quality cigars and see why.

TRIANGULAR DEBATERS CHOSEN IN PRELIMINARY

B. C. Brown, J. H. Kerr, T. C. Taylor, and D. L. Grant are to Represent Carolina.

B. C. Brown, J. H. Kerr, Jr., T. C. Taylor, and Daniel L. Grant were selected in the final preliminary Tuesday night to represent Carolina this year in the triangular debate with Johns Hopkins and Washington and Lee. These were selected out of a list of eighteen debaters, which was probably the largest number that has gone out for the triangular debate in several years.

Two preliminaries were used for selecting the team. In the first preliminary the successful speakers on the affirmative were C. L. Nichols, B. C. Brown, W. E. Horner, and D. L. Grant. Those not eliminated from the race on the negative side were J. H. Kerr, T. C. Taylor, P. Hettelman, and T. L. Warren. The other speakers participating in the contest were M. B. Prescott, W. R. Francis, W. E. Matthews, M. M. Jernigan, V. Young, C. L. Moore, R. H. Frazier, and H. C. Corpening. The judges in the first for the affirmative were Dr. Wm. B. MacNider, Prof. W. J. Mathery, and Mr. F. F. Bradshaw, and on the negative, Profs. P. H. Dagget, E. W. Knight, and L. R. Wilson.

The second preliminary was judged by Dr. H. W. Odum, Prof. F. P. Graham, and Mr. F. F. Bradshaw, who selected the successful speakers, with P. Hettelman and W. E. Harver as alternates.

It is an interesting coincidence that the teams this year are composed with the exception of one man, B. C. Brown, of the same men that were in this debate last year.

The question to be debated this year is: "Resolved, That the United States should adopt a policy of further material restriction of immigration."

ENGINEERS BUY NEW BLUE PRINT MACHINE.

An electrical blue print machine, bought from the Kuffel-Sesser Co., for the use of the Civil Engineering Department has just been set up in a special room at Phillips Hall. This machine takes the place of the old Sun machine which was formerly used for this purpose—the making of blue prints. But as its name implies depends upon the sunlight, while the new machine can turn out blue prints at any time, making it so much better and convenient.

HAVE YOU WRITTEN POEMS?

Do you care to have them revised or constructively criticised by successful authors? If you do, then send us your manuscript (stories, articles or poems). We will criticise, and place them should they prove to be acceptable for publication.

There is no actual charge for our services. If, however, you have not previously enrolled with the advisory department of this association, we request that you enclose the initial fee of two dollars, which we must ask of each new contributor. There is no additional expense, no future obligation.

It must be realized that we can only be of aid to those of serious intent. If you do mean to strive for literary success, we can help you in many ways. Our services are yours until we have actually succeeded in marketing at least one of your manuscripts. Send something to-day.

Please enclose return postage with your communications.

NEMO COLEMAN PUTS RIGHT SPIRIT IN TEAM.

Although breaking even in the number of games won and lost, the Asheville Citizen has this to say of the Bingham basketball team, coached this year by Nemo Coleman, former Carolina football star and captain of the team which licked Virginia and A. and E. in 1919, "No cleaner aggregation represented an educational institution in western Carolina. Coach Coleman is to be commended for first instilling into the team the desire to play fair, and then the enthusiasm of victory.

NEW EDITOR OF THE CAROLINIAN ELECTED.

(By N. C. Collegiate Press Ass'n.) Greensboro.—On Friday, April 1, at the regular mass meeting, the editor-in-chief and business manager of The Carolinian were elected. Anne Cantrell was elected chief and Stella Williams business manager. This year Miss Cantrell has been on the newspaper staff where she has shown exceptional ability.
