CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS
MAKE BIG PROGRESS
TOWARD PERFECTIONThose Interested in the Organization
Draw Up Certificate of Incorporation.PRIZES WILL BE OFFERED.

The Carolina Playmakers have been making some big steps toward perfection during the summer. They have been incorporated, have mapped out the biggest schedule in the history of the organization, and are still planning for bigger things. The plays are to be published and prizes are to be offered in the writing of plays.

Because of the ever increasing number of financial transactions and the growing amount of business in general with which the organization has been faced the directors called a meeting of those interested in a better organization on July 28th, and drew up plans for the corporation. The meeting was held at the home of President Chase, and besides the president himself the following people were present: Chas. T. Woollen, Frederick H. Koch, L. P. McGeehee, A. S. Wheeler, Geo. V. Denny, and Elizabeth A. Lay.

They constituted the board of incorporators, drew up the certificate of incorporation of The Carolina Playmakers, Inc., which made them into a non-stock association with the objects as follows:

"(a) To promote and encourage dramatic art, especially by the production and publishing of plays.

"(b) To serve as an experimental theatre for the development of plays truly representative of the traditions and present-day life of the people.

"(c) To extend its influence in the establishment of a native theatre in other communities."

The period of the existence of the corporation is unlimited. The executive committee composed of Frederick H. Koch, Wheeler, and Denny at the direction of the board of incorporation, have drawn up by-laws and a form of organization for carrying on the work of the Playmakers which will be considered by this board at the fall meeting on the fourth Monday in October.

The announcement of the prizes to be offered in dramatic work, and the extended schedule for the coming year is to be announced at once.

CAROLINA PUBLICATIONS
GET A SPLENDID STARTMagazine, Tar Baby, and Tar Heel,
Have Opening Issues for Students on Their Arrival.

Publications of Carolina have secured a good start already, the three leading student periodicals having already come forth with opening issues. The new Carolina Magazine, the Tar Baby, and the Tar Heel, released their first issues for the year on the first date of registration. All show much work on the part of the editors in preparation before the college opening.

The new Carolina Magazine, which is edited by Willie Horner and an able board of associate editors, has a very creditable opening issue. The plans for the magazine this year are very elaborate, the publication to be issued semi-weekly and in a more interesting form than ever, if the aspirations of the editors materialize.

A broad and impressive editorial policy will be carried out by the magazine. In the first issue some strong editorials are run, and this will be the aim of the editor in the future. The magazine, as last year, will be composed of both feature articles and fiction, modelled after the modern style used by the American Magazine.

FACTS AND COMMENT

H. E. Martin, a member of last year's graduating class, was here for the game Saturday. He will spend the winter in New York.

Professors Koch and Hibbard made an extended walking tour of the North Carolina sea islands during the summer.

REGISTRATION LARGEST IN HISTORY WITH FRESHMAN CLASS NUMBERING
PROBABLY MORE THAN SIX HUNDREDOver Five Hundred Registered The First Day and Nearly Three Hundred of This Number Were Freshmen-Professional Schools; Also Have Record Registrations.MANY CO-EDS WILL BE AT UNIVERSITY THIS TERM.

With 559 men registered the first day, registration this year will be the largest in the history of the University, from all indications. Approximately 257 freshmen registered last Tuesday, and about 250 upper classmen. At 8:30 Wednesday morning there was a line of over a hundred waiting for the registrar's office to open, and a similar number making out their programs in the class registration rooms.

Over 550 freshmen have made applications to enter the University this fall, and even more than that number are expected. This will make the freshman class over a hundred larger than it was last year, and the largest freshman class to enter the University.

Thirty-five men have registered in first year medicine, and one co-ed. Twenty-three are registered in second year medicine, making a total of 59. This is the first time in two years that there has been a co-ed in the medical department. The total registration in medicine will reach 80.

FRESHMEN ARE FOUND
TO BE PHYSICALLY FITDr. Lawson's Examination Reveals
Class to Be Way Above Average Physically.

Physical condition of the freshman and new men, it was stated at the gym Wednesday morning, is not only above the average but promises to be one of the best averages on record.

The average height of 450 new men examined up to 11 o'clock was five feet 8 inches, weight 135 pounds, age, 19 years, chest 34 inches. Dr. R. B. Lawson, physical director, was sick Tuesday, consequently the burden of examination fell on his two assistants, C. S. Coffey and F. M. Dula, who managed the examination remarkably well.

Freshmen, as usual, will be required to attend gym class Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, which the University authorities consider as important as one of the academic classes. Every freshman is required to attend, the only exceptions being those who go out for any freshman athletic team. Any freshman, who goes out for any team and who, for any reason whatsoever is dropped from that team, will be expected to resume his attendance at gym class. No gym class is held for upper classmen because the gym facilities are insufficient.

BOARDING HOUSES WILL BE CROWDED THIS FALLEating Places Are All Filled to Capacity—Many Changes Made
By Owners.

With more students here than ever before in the history of this institution, practically every boarding house and dining hall in Chapel Hill is filled. Swain Hall is crowded to the extent that second shifts have been arranged in several instances. Large numbers of students are still eating at cafes.

Several changes have been made by boarding houses during the summer months. Mrs. Ledbetter has moved to the place run by Taylor last year, formally known as "Stagger Inn." Mrs. Brown has moved to the house occupied by Mrs. Ledbetter last year.

The managers of some of the leading boarding houses are: Mrs. Ledbetter, Dan Grant, Joe Erwin, Chas. Nichols, and Rufus Johnson; Mrs. Brown, G. T. Hunt and H. M. Taylor, Mrs. Daniels, George Denny, Mrs. Crowder, Weldon Williamson, E. M. Knox, John Bonner, Mrs. Battle, Billie Carmichael, Ike Thorpe, Joe McLean and Guinea Simms.

J. C. Penny, Legette Blythe, and Al Purrington, members of the Greensboro High School faculty this year, were on the Hill Saturday for the Wake Forest game.

Have You Subscribed?

A campaign for subscriptions to The Tar Heel is now being conducted by the business managers of this publication. This year the business managers hope to have a larger circulation than ever, and aspire to have The Tar Heel not only "read by every student" but subscribed to by every student.

The Tar Heel is the University of North Carolina newspaper. To give the campus the college news, fully and accurately is the purpose and ideal of the paper, and toward this end the managers and editors still strive.

It must live. Have you subscribed?

FINAL DETERMINATION AS TO ELIGIBILITY OF PLAYERS NOT REACHEDFaculty Committee on Rules Renders
Johnson, McGee, and Abernathy
Eligible for Athletics.

During the last several weeks there has been much excitement and considerable bitterness over the discussion of the eligibility of certain men out for the football team. The faculty committee on athletics has been widely criticized and certain newspaper men on state dailies have been questioned as to their motives in denouncing University athletes and retraining from mention of athletes at other colleges who were known to have done the things with which the Carolina men were charged.

After a very careful deliberation the faculty committee on athletics has decided, having made a thorough examination of the facts and circumstances in each case, that O. M. Abernathy, W. I. Johnson, and Allan McGee are eligible to play on the athletic teams of the University under the rules and practice of the University with regard to amateur standing.

The eligibility of the other men under consideration R. W. and F. D. Morris has not been established to the satisfaction of the committee. The case of these two men has not been closed however, and at a meeting of the committee Tuesday night they were again given the opportunity of proving their eligibility.

The report of the faculty committee on athletics follows:

The faculty committee on athletics, after hearing statements from one of the organizers of the New Bern 1921 baseball team, the manager of the same, the players whose cases are under discussion, the head coach of the University teams, the chairman of the committee, and others interested, and after a most careful re-examination of all of the facts and circumstances connected with the case, finds as follows:

1. It is the sense of this committee that in view of all the said facts and circumstances Messrs. R. W. Morris and F. D. Morris be not passed as eligible to play on the athletic teams representing this University.

ELEVEN IN NEW HAVEN FOR GAME WITH YALE

Contest Important as a Basis of Comparison for Relative Sectional Strength.

The squad left yesterday for New Haven for the annual inter-sectional clash with Yale. This game is looked forward to with interest throughout the State because of its important bearing upon the dope relative to the coming contest with State at Raleigh Thursday of fair week.

Last Saturday State went to Annapolis and sustained a 40 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Navy Academy, previously she had defeated Randolph-Macon by the same margin that Carolina defeated Wake Forest one week later in her first game of the season, consequently the game with Yale will give a basis of comparison as to the relative showing of the two elevens against Northern elevens of the first water.

Yale experienced no difficulty in winning last Saturday by a large score, but the game was considered more in the light of a practice affair than an expected hotly contested game, and Carolina is expected to furnish the first real opposition of the season,

The first game with Eli was played three years ago during Tommy Campbell's regime as coach. This year the Tar Heels threw a real scare into the Yale camp and managed to score one of the few touchdowns registered against her during the entire season. In fact, it was then that "Chuck" Phair showed up a new wrinkle in the year's rules when he picked up a ball that the Yale team looked upon as dead and registered a touchdown with it.

The team that started against Wake Forest last Saturday will in all probability take the field against Yale.

STEEL DORMITORY NOW OCCUPIED BY STUDENTS

Handsome New Dormitory Conveniently Arranged and Has Splendid Fixtures.

The new steel dormitory which is being built by Salmon, Shipp & Poe of Durham is at last being occupied by students. Although the finishing touches have not been added, the rooms are equipped with new furniture, and the students are moving into them.

The building contains thirty-six rooms, each of which is designed for two occupants, but which will house three men during the coming year. The rooms are a little small for proper comfort to three roomers, but the general congested condition makes the placing of an extra man in each almost an absolute necessity.

This means that the new building will care for 108 students this year. The order for the truck was put in during the earlier part of May. It was purchased jointly between the University and the town, each paying one half. The Chapel Hill fire department will be in charge of the truck and fire fighting.

The town is also having a new municipal building erected on the site of the old jail. The building will contain the court rooms, jail, and will serve as headquarters for the fire department. It is practically completed.

CHAPEL HILL HAS NEW LAFRANCE FIRE TRUCK

Town and University Own the New Apparatus Bought Last Spring, Just Arrived.

Chapel Hill's new $13,000 Ameri-can-LaFrance fire truck rolled into town for its first appearance in these precincts Wednesday morning. The truck is the latest model 750 gallon type, specially equipped with a 40 gallon chemical tank, and two hundred feet of chemical hose.

The order for the truck was put in during the earlier part of May. It was purchased jointly between the University and the town, each paying one half. The Chapel Hill fire department will be in charge of the truck and fire fighting.

MANY STUDENTS HAD NO ROOMS TUESDAY

Dormitories and Rooming Houses Appear to Be Filled to Capacity By Students.

The University may face a room shortage, according to indications at Tuesday noon. At that time there were many students walking the streets, claiming no Chapel Hill home, but all registered up and ready for work.

More rooms are rented in town than ever before and all dormitories are filled to capacity. Many names were on the waiting list Tuesday, but authorities at that time felt that all students could be accommodated after the rush is over.

Some students who paid deposits on rooms have failed to show up, but the majority have called for their rooms, and some have not yet secured a regular place to lay their heads at night.

"BONE DRY" IS HOOCH HOUND

Bernard Staley, of Huntington, W. Va., has a hound that is worth a million. His name is William Jennings Volstead, they call him "Bone dry" for short, and he's a hooch hound.

"Bone Dry" is a rat terrier and he has a red nose and his nose got that way digging for liquor. The prohibition authorities want him but they can't have him. In two days "Bone Dry" unearthed two catches of buried hooch. His master hearing him bark at a stump in a neighboring field, investigated and dug up a quart bottle of very fine moonshine. His second feast of the 48 hours was discovering several gallons buried in a creek bed.

Staley has refused fabulous offers for the hound, it is said.—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.
