

JOIN THE RED CROSS
NOW!

THE TAR HEEL

Vol No. XXX.

Chapel Hill, N. C., November 11, 1921

KNOW

and our special proposition
it TODAY! See

CAMPAIGN DRIVE FOR RED CROSS LAUNCHED TODAY BY COMMITTEE

Organization Is Perfected To Make Successful Membership Drive
For The Red Cross Here.

MR. GRAHAM CHAIRMAN

The next step in the Fifth Roll Call of the American Red Cross, which is formally inaugurated today, after the cause has been so favorably presented to the University by Dr. Green of the National Committee; to the town by Professor Frank Graham; to Carrboro by L. J. Phipps; and to the county by Mr. Francis Bradshaw, is the campaign drive.

The drive is not to put across in a hap-hazard manner, but a well-regulated committee has been formed by Professor Frank Graham, Chairman of the Roll Call, which according to plans, is going to give everybody in the community a chance to enlist in the most patriotic, religious, and humanitarian cause the world has ever known. It is not an organization to serve any special class, nor yet an organization during crises, such as the late war, but rather it is an organization to serve YOU, whoever you are, during war and peace alike.

With this in view, the local committee has mapped out the following organization, bearing always in mind that Carolina goes forward for South Atlantic Championship not only in football, but also under the banner of the Crimson Cross.

Frank P. Graham, Chairman of the Roll Call Central Committee: Composed of all chairmen, and Mrs. Bryant, Community Red Cross Nurse, Dr. A. H. Patterson, Mr. Whitfield, Central Treasurer.

College: David Jacobi, Student Chairman; W. M. Nash, Executive Secretary; James Kerr, Treasurer; Executive Council: G. B. Porter, J. O. Harmon, E. H. Hartzell, B. C. Brown, H. D. Duis, William Blunt, P. J. Ransom, E. E. Reeves, E. M. Sweetman, and others.

Town: Mrs. T. J. Wilson, assisted by sub-chairman; Mrs. J. B. Bullitt, Miss Louise Venable, Mrs. Jane Toy, Miss Josie Pritchard.

School: Supt. F. Morris and Miss Helen Schell.

Carrboro: L. J. Phipps and committee.

County: F. F. Bradshaw and committee.

Colored: Mrs. Isaac Manning and committee.

Three meetings on preliminary organization of this committee have been held and the committee has announced itself ready for business. The final meeting of the committee before actual work begins will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, 4:30 at which final organization and consecration will take place. All volunteers for the Red Cross campaign are requested to be present at this meeting.

Attractive posters advertising the campaign have been posted over the town, and all dormitories are to have 100 per cent posters if they deserve them.

New Books At The Library

Akers, A. E., and Cherry, A. M.: The Spirit of the Roanoke; Bloomfield, Daniel: Labor Maintenance; Dewing, Arthur S.: The Financial Policy of Corporations; Ferrero, Guglielmo: Ancient Rome and Modern America; Graves, Ernest: The Line Man's Bible; Harper, William A.: The New Church for the New Time, The New Layman for the New Time, Reconstructing the Church; Irwin, William H.: "The Next War"; Kelly, Roy W.: Training Industrial Workers; Lowe, E. P.: American Principles; Murray, J. Middleton: Aspects of Literature; O'Shea, Peter F.: Employees' Magazines for Factories, Offices and Business Organizations; Parks, Leighton: English Ways and By-Ways; Patrick, George T. W.: The Psychology of Social Reconstruction; Prothro, Rowland E.: English Farming, Past and Present; Sharpe, R. F.: Short History of the English Stage; Spingarn, J. E.: Creative Criticism; Walmsley, James E.: Making of South Carolina; Webb, Sidney: The Works Manager of Today; Woolf, L. S.: International Government.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Next Monday the annual Roll Call for the American Red Cross begins. Prof. Frank Graham is chairman of the campaign in the district of which Chapel Hill is the center. He has divided the work and appointed the following chairmen of sub-committee: Mrs. T. J. Wilson, town; David Jacobi, college; F. F. Bradshaw, county; Mrs. Isaac Manning, colored people. Plans are being made for a thorough canvass of the district and all those selected as helpers have been asked to meet at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 4:30 to receive final instructions before the opening of the campaign Monday morning.

DR. THOMAS J. GREENE TALKS ON RED CROSS

Representative American Red Cross
Make Eloquent Appeal For Aid in Chapel Tuesday.

Bringing to the campus a touch of old-school oratory seldom heard nowadays, Dr. Thomas J. Greene, director of the speakers' bureau for the American Red Cross, spoke in chapel Tuesday morning. His time being limited to the regular thirty minute period, Dr. Greene was not able to cover all phases of Red Cross work, but he dwelt especially upon foreign relief and aid to disabled soldiers and sailors.

The chapel committee, learning that Dr. Greene was in Durham, seized the opportunity of bringing him to the Hill for this address. The annual Red Cross roll call begins next Monday, a fact which made the committee all the more anxious to secure a speaker on this subject.

"If there is anything connected with our American social system that has to do with the fundamental currents of life, it is the Red Cross," said Dr. Greene. "Many people fail to understand what the Red Cross is. Now that the war is over they ask why it doesn't draw in its lines, demobilize its forces, and quit work on a large scale. It doesn't stop because it can't stop. It is an integral part of the government, an organization created by charter of Congress, which states specifically what the Red Cross shall do. The five great departments of government are represented on its cabinet, and it can no more stop than the treasury department can stop."

According to Dr. Greene, there are three things which the Red Cross is required to do by this charter. It must render voluntary aid to soldiers and sailors in time of war. It must act as a channel of communication between the people at home and their relatives in the army and navy. It must continue to give national and international aid in case of famine, fire, flood, or epidemic of any kind.

Dr. Greene spoke of his travels in southern Europe since the war and depicted in graphic terms the misery of the starving people, especially the children. The danger to civilization resulting from such conditions ought to give us great concern, he said.

In concluding the speaker became very eloquent in his tribute to American soldiers, sailors and nurses. He spoke of the great number of these men and women whose health has been ruined as a result of the war, although they may have escaped without an apparent wound. "We must not allow one of them to say that their country is ungrateful," he said, "and it is to save them that the American Red Cross appeals to you."

Freshmen Debate On Advisability of Free Tuition

At its regular Monday night meeting the Freshman Debating Society discussed the question, "Resolved, That the society go on record as favoring free tuition at the University." The vote being a tie, the president decided it in favor of the affirmative.

It was decided to begin future meetings at 7 o'clock instead of 7:15. Permanent officers will be elected next Monday night and the following question discussed, "Resolved, That the state should supply free text-books in the public schools."

THREE PERFORMANCES AT PLAYHOUSE UNDER AUSPICES PLAYMAKERS

Shakespeare Playhouse Company of New York To Present Three Shows Here Next Week.

SEATS ON SALE THURSDAY

The Shakespeare Playhouse Company of New York will be here next week for three performances at the Play-House on the 18th and 19th. On Friday evening they will present "Candida," by Bernard Shaw; Saturday afternoon Ibsen's masterpiece, "A Doll's House;" and Saturday evening three one-act plays, "A Night At An Inn," by Dunsany, "In The Shadow of The Glen," by Synge, and "The Rising of The Moon," by Lady Gregory.

This company played here last summer under the auspices of the Carolina Playmakers, and each of their productions met with great success. Professor Koch and others say it is the best company of professional actors ever seen on a university campus.

Mr. McEntee, director of the company, is a fine actor himself. He brought out Walter Hampden in New York, the most famous "Hamlet" of our generation up to the present. The plays they are to present here this time are all of the highest order.

"Candida" is a delightful comedy of the eternal triangle of husband, wife, and love-sick poet who woos her. This complex situation affords the playwright some very amusing incidents. Needless to say that the brilliant Shaw makes the most of this with his flashes of wit and his irresistible humor.

Ibsen's "A Doll's House" is a masterpiece. It is a gripping problem play of modern family life. Its original production was heralded in all the theatres of Europe, and was an instantaneous success. It is now regarded as a classic of modern drama.

Dunsany's "A Night At An Inn," is a play of mysterious imagination. In far off Araby is the scene. It is a play of terror and of strange beauty, a masterpiece of its kind.

Synge's play "In The Shadow of The Glen," is one of the best of the Irish plays. It is full of weird imagery and grim humor, and is sure to be a favorite. This may also be said of Lady Gregory's "The Rising of The Moon," another Irish play. It is one of the most delightful of the Irish comedies. The wily tramp, who is also a poet, and who has escaped from the burly policeman affords a situation of irresistible comedy.

Seats will be on sale at Eubanks on Thursday morning, November 17. By securing a reservation for all three performances a considerable reduction is made to the purchaser.

'THE VAMP' PRESENTED BY GOLDSBORO ACTORS

Bill Royal's Play Scores Hit When Presented By Goldsboro Home Talent Recently.

Bill Royal, captain of last year's track team, and author of "The Vamp", one of last year's best folk-play productions, has had two of his plays produced in Goldsboro recently. "The Vamp" was one of the plays put on there. The other was a tragedy "The Ghost of Lombry." Both plays were written here in the course of dramatic composition under Professor Koch. The plays were presented, mostly by local talent, and under the auspices of the "Woman's Club" of that place.

Miss Dorothy Greenlaw, who so ably played the part of the vamp in the Chapel Hill production, appeared in the cast in the same role at Goldsboro. Carlyle Shepard, who finished here last year and was captain of the basketball team also played a part in its production.

The newspaper accounts give the production credit for a very successful show. An audience of about five hundred witnessed the performance.

WATCHDOG SAVES LIVES OF VIRGINIA FAMILY

Richmond, Va.—Furious barking of a watchdog resulted in the saving of the lives of Mrs. Eddie Jones and her children after their home at Brokenburg, Spottsylvania county, Va., had been set afire by a member of a gang of bootleggers who are believed to have suspected her husband of informing the authorities about the illicit sale of liquor, according to the county authorities.

FALL DANCES WILL BE HELD WEEK-END AFTER BIG THANKSGIVING GAME

Elaborate Plans Being Made For Fall Dances On November 25 and 26.

OLD RULES ARE IN FORCE

November 25 and 26, Friday and Saturday following Thanksgiving are the dates finally decided on for the fall dances, according to an announcement just made by Roland McClamroch, leader of the dances. At least four and probably five dances will constitute the fall dance program, and the music engaged for the occasion will be rendered by the famous Meyer-Davis Orchestra of the New Willard Hotel of Washington.

The program of the dances will be as follows: Friday night, Junior Order of Ghinghous in honor of the Junior Order of Gorgon's Head; Saturday morning, Order of Sheiks in honor of the Order of Minotaurs; Saturday afternoon, Junior Order of Gorgon's Head in honor of Junior Order of Ghinghous; Saturday night, the Fall German. There is a probability that a dance will also be given Friday afternoon.

Elaborate plans are being formed to make the fall dances the best ever, and the leaders are very enthusiastic over the success of the events. The orchestra engaged is one of the best dance orchestras in the country, the Meyer Davis first orchestra being famous the country over for its dance music. Meyer Davis himself will be along to personally lead the orchestra.

Following up the rules made last year, no visitors will be allowed at the dances, and alumni will secure cards from the leaders of the dance or officers of the German Club. The dances will be held in Bynum Gymnasium, and the rules concerning drinking, intermission, etc., made last year, and which worked out so well, will again be in force.

The gymnasium will be handsomely decorated for all the dances, and the grand finale of the week-end, the Fall German, will be featured by the presentation of beautiful favors and the German Club figure. All of the organizations to give dances during the program have made elaborate arrangements, ordering handsome dance cards, and planning figures and decorations.

The usual number of girls will attend the fall dances, according to all indications. Members of the German Club who have asked girls up for the dances should give their names in to Lloyd Williams, secretary of the club, who will mail them handsome engraved invitations.

OFFICERS NOMINATED FOR A. A. IN CHAPEL

Stormy Chapel Period Wednesday
With Nominations, Music, and Speech for Better Speech Week

Nominations for officers of the athletic association, an English professor's speech interrupted by a violent epidemic of coughing on the part of the student body, and orchestra music, which apparently soothed the tortured throats of the victims, were features of Wednesday's chapel period.

Sweetman, president of the athletic association, went to bat first and called for nominations. He got them, especially where the nominees came from the freshman class. Twenty-two young hopefuls were thrown bodily into the seething whirlpool of doting upperclassmen friends, each intent upon securing for his protege one of the two positions open to the first year men.

The nominations were as follows: For vice-president of the athletic association, Dave Jacobi, Joe McLean, Bill Transou; for secretary of the athletic association, Pres Edwards; for sub-assistants of varsity football next season, Allen Stainbach, Simmons Bushby, John Redwine, Ogden Yates, Billy Brown, Alex Thorpe, Sam Hoover, Robert Wimberly, Riley Hines, Mahler Russell, Al Trevis, Jack Lane, Grimes Williams, Jimmy Poole; for assistant managers freshman football, Sidney McMullen, Billy Gian, R. B. Shepard, Edwin Gregory, Hoyt Boone, John Lamb, Walter Allen, John Henderson; for sub-assistant manager varsity baseball, John Pursler, H. E. Johnson, P. Boney, J. Vance, C. Y.

CAROLINA AND DAVID IN WINSTON TO FAVORING

AD, Jr.
BILL HARRIS.
reasurer: BILL ANDREWS.

FRESHMEN PLAY IN WELDON.

The freshman eleven left for Weldon to play the N. C. State freshman team, being the chief attraction at the big American Legion of that point.

The freshman team has shown remarkable improvement over past performances. In the Woodberry game they showed a complete reversal of form and in several scrimmages with the varsity during the past week they have shown marked ability to gain ground and to hold on the defense.

JAMES BARRETT SPEAKS ON THE LABOR QUESTION

Head of Labor Federation in North Carolina Urges Students to Make Conscientious Study.

Presenting the cause of organized labor in North Carolina, Jas. F. Barrett addressed the student body in chapel Monday morning and made a plea for more conscientious study of the capital-labor problem. Mr. Barrett, who is president of the North Carolina Federation of Labor, figured prominently in the settlement of the three months' textile strike in Charlotte, Concord, and Kannapolis last summer.

"The thing that has made the biggest trouble in this controversy," said Mr. Barrett, "is the fact that no labor leaders have been trained for their work. The labor union as we know it is not the ideal way to settle the question, but under existing circumstances, with capital organized as it is, the labor union is the only way. The organized laborer is not asking for control of the plant in which he works; he is only asking for a voice in the regulation of three things—wages, hours and working conditions."

In answer to the objection that so many foreign names are found on the rolls of the labor union, Mr. Barrett blamed the manufacturers who often discriminated in favor of cheap foreign labor. He admitted that there was a radical element in his organization, as in every other organization, but declared that its strength was not sufficient to influence the policy of the federation.

In concluding his argument, the speaker said, "The labor problem will never be solved by abuse and bitter criticism on the part of the public and the newspapers. The public has no earthly reason to expect consideration from the hands of a group of workers, unless it has first shown an interest in that group. When the situation comes, it will come as the result of conscientious study and will be based upon right and justice. No one group can ever hope to advance and make progress at the expense of another."

Coley, Brett Smith, John Gregory, J. S. Branch.

After the nominations, Watts Hill, manager of varsity football, announced that a special train would be run to Winston-Salem for the Davidson game Saturday. An invitation to the student body to be present at an alumni banquet at the Robert E. Lee Hotel aroused very little enthusiasm, the price being two dollars per plate.

Prof. McKie, of the English department, made a short talk on behalf of the better speech movement. The impatience of the students to hear the orchestra, which was waiting its turn on the program, combined with the chilliness of Memorial Hall brought about the first exhibition of discourtesy shown a speaker since compulsory chapel was instituted. A voluntary chorus of bronchial sufferers interrupted the speaker, who was able to make little headway in face of this unexpected counter attack of coughs. When he sat down the coughing ceased, the band struck up, and the charmed audience kept its seat until after the bell had finished ringing.

Y AGENCY, Inc.

AD, Jr.
BILL HARRIS.
reasurer: BILL ANDREWS.

Bryant Brown, Gus Reavis,
Leonard Epstein.

IVERS

Occasions
Durham, N. C. ill Agent:
DRUG CO.

CHAPEL HILL

Longest Bank in County.
R. L. STROUD, Vice-Pres.
GAN, Cashier.

"I" Jones'

IG CLUB

g and Repairing a ialty.

BROTHERS

Hardware

ware, we have it. Years of us to build up an institution e.

209-211 Parrish St.
m, N. C.

ool Architects

& LINTHICUM

st., Raleigh, N. C.

are 35 Percent less in cost.
1 time—100 Percent safety.
Concrete, Stone and Steel.

RY CLEANING

day, Wednesday and y morning.

g and Altering

ry Cleaning Co.

CTOR YOUNG.

L ON THE

l Hardware Co.

FOR

ery. Also paints and essary articles of quality kind

VE TO PLEASE.

School Every Sunday
9:45 A. M.