

ANNUAL "ONTORALEIGH" FEVER STIRS BLOOD OF STUDENT BODY

Students, Professors, Co-eds and Janitors Plan to Attend Annual Fair Week Classic in Full Force—Special Train Leaves at 8 A. M.—Game Will Be Hard Fought.

Thursday is the day, Raleigh the place, Harry Hartsell's State College warriors the opponents, and the gridiron classic of the state, the occasion.

"On to Raleigh" has been the battle cry on the campus for the past few days. Pep meetings are being held in Gerrard hall where large doses of Carolina are being administered to the student body by cheer leaders and special speakers. Enthusiasm and pep are at a high pitch and it is expected that practically the entire school community—

students, professors, co-eds and janitors—will make the trip to see the annual Fair Week game Thursday. The special train will leave Carrboro at 8 a. m. and arrive at Raleigh at 10:30.

With the Trinity and South Carolina games tucked safely away, the Tar Heels will enter the fray with blood in their eyes, determined to get revenge for the defeats of the past two years. And State will make a desperate effort to run their string of victories to three straight.

In spite of having played three games within the last eight days, Fetzer's combination is in good shape for the scrap, with the exception of "Red" Johnston, who has a bad ankle and did not play in the Trinity game, and for only three minutes in the South Carolina contest last Saturday. He will likely be seen in action on Riddick field Thursday afternoon. The varsity has been practicing behind barred gates this week. Coach Fetzer evidently intends to launch his most powerful attack against the West Raleigh outfit.

The Wolfpack came through their last struggles without any injuries and will fling their full strength into the battle in an effort to turn back the mighty offensive tactics of the Carolina eleven.

The games played so far this season offer no way to compare the strength of the two teams. The Blue and White machine had little trouble in routing the Trinity eleven Thursday but their showing against South Carolina Saturday, although brilliant at times, was not as good as was expected. While the State gang was played off its feet by the supposedly weak Roanoke team, and they were fortunate to get the big end of the score. The aerial attack of the Virginians gave the West Raleigh boys a real surprise and was responsible for 16 first down to 7 for State.

Tomnie Park, State's left-footed punter, saved the day with his mighty toe, and he is being depended on to keep Captain Pritchard's team out of scoring distance Thursday. The Tar Heel looks to be the better team on paper, but there is no saying just what will happen Thursday afternoon. One thing is sure, Riddick field will be the scene of a royal battle.

The line-up for the game is, of course, problematical. However, it will be very nearly as follows:

"Lew" and "Lefty" Visitors On The Hill

Clement Manly Llewellyn, last year star twirler and captain of Carolina's baseball team, spent Thursday and Friday on the Hill. "Lew" showed up well with Buffalo this past season but being rather bashful he could be induced to say but very little about himself. However, it was learned from Sunday's papers that the Yankees are recalling him for spring practice.

Llewellyn will practice law with his brother in Mount Airy this winter, but when spring practice opens up "Lew" will be right on the job with his hand around the pill steaming them straight down the line.

"Lefty" Wilson, for four years one of the best ball players at the University, was here for the Trinity game Thursday. "Lefty" is teaching school and coaching this year at Angier, a little town near Dunn. It is very probable that he will be on the mound again next summer.

Both "Lew" and "Lefty" were pleased with this year's football team and the apparent growth and prosperity of the University this year.

ALBERT COATES DISCONTINUES COMPETITION FOR AMES PRIZE

Because he wants to devote his entire attention to the study of law, Albert Coates, a brilliant Carolina alumnus who is now at Harvard, has declined to compete further for the Ames prize. He fulfilled the requirements for two years and in all probability would have won the prize if he had allowed his name to be retained for the ensuing year.

A. M. McDONALD, Jr.

"Monk's" work at quarter, running back punts and carrying the ball for consistent gains, were high lights in the South Carolina game Saturday. He will pilot the Tar Heel machine in Thursday's battle on Riddick field.

DI VOTES DOWN MEASURE FOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL

Single Affirmative Speaker Has No Chance Against Trotter-Cathey-Peeler Combination—New Members Added

By almost unanimous vote, the Dialectic society decided last Saturday night that the United States government should not own and operate the coal mines. Those taking part in the discussion were: W. C. Presnell, affirmative; J. P. Trotter, S. M. Cathey and C. A. Peeler, negative.

The main contention of the affirmative as represented by Mr. Presnell was the moral issue that it is wrong for a small group of capitalists to monopolize such an important industry, even as it is wrong for the nobles to own all the land in olden times. Furthermore, government ownership does not mean socialism, and it will eliminate waste.

The negative took a more practical stand, without theory. Trotter pointed out that the system had been tried in other countries and failed, and besides, it is not in harmony with the principles of the United States government. Cathey showed that an analogy with the postal system was weak. Peeler declared that there was enough coal in the country to last 4,000 years and that private enterprise was more successful in the mining industry, as in practically every other.

Prior to the program, the following members were initiated into the society: L. T. Bledsoe, Asheville; W. K. Knowles, Asheville; W. A. Swain, Asheville; J. A. Hebert, Charlotte; R. E. Cole, Pittsboro.

PROF. SAVILLE VISITS LARGE POWER PLANTS

Prof. Saville, of the Engineering department, has made an investigating tour in parts of Canada and New York state within the last several weeks for the purpose of observing the installation of hydro-electric power at Niagara Falls and also Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario which operates the largest system of municipally owned power plants in the world.

This water power development at Niagara Falls being the largest in the world afforded Prof. Saville a valuable source of study. There he investigated single water wheels with a capacity of 55,000 horse power.

DANCE AT S. A. E. HOUSE DELIGHTS LARGE CROWD

Thirty-Six Charming Young Ladies, Good Music, Smooth Dancing Floor and Volstead Punch Main Features.

With 36 of the most charming girls of the state in attendance, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Phi Delta Theta dance given at the S. A. E. house Saturday night becomes history, gone but long to be remembered because everyone had such a good time. The music was superb and adds another bit to the growing reputation of the Tar Baby Six.

Good music, a wonderfully smooth dancing floor set in pleasant surroundings, youth and pretty girls, a combination with the inevitable result—three hours of perfect bliss, the world forgotten.

The S. A. E. hall was decorated with flowers and many colored autumn leaves, giving a pleasing soft effect. Fruit punch refreshed the dancers. Despite a veritable mob the young people seemed to enjoy the dancing immensely.

The girls were beautifully gowned, the evening dresses varying from a deep, rich red to velvety black. It would be impossible to say that any one girl was "rushed"—they all were. The dance was well chaperoned. Among those present were the following: Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Patterson, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. D. Conner, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patterson, and Mrs. A. P. Russell. Mr. and Mrs. Summerville of Charlotte also attended the dance.

The young ladies attending were the following, accurate as near as possible: From Raleigh, Blanche Bonner, Adelaide Boylston, Anne Virginia Ward, Virginia Storr, Dorothy Russell, Jane Grimes and Margaret Raney; from Durham, Valinda Hill, Ruth Early and Annie Leo Graham; Greensboro, Billie Brandt, Jessie Brandt, Maurine Moore and Frances Shaw; Dot Mendenhall from Lexington; Margaret Poo, Smithfield; Jane Turner, Henderson; Jody Copeland and Margaret Hoad, Kinston; Jane Griffith, Asheville; Alice Webster, Norfolk, Va.; from Chapel Hill, including the co-eds, Curtis Henderson, Dorothy Greenlaw, Frances Venable, Nancy Battle, Elizabeth Cranford, Sue Byrd Thompson, Kitty Lee Frazier, Kate Culpeper, Catherine Boyd, Carrie Edmonds, Naomi Sykes and Maybelle Penn.

FIRST CO-ED DANCE IS VERY ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Attendance Around One Hundred—Delightful Music Dispensed by Tar Baby Six.

The dance given by the co-eds Friday night in the gymnasium was pronounced the best of its kind ever held in Chapel Hill. There were over 70 young men attending and about 30 of the fair sex. Music was furnished by the Tar Baby Six to the delight of everyone, many claiming that Garber Davis could not have pleased the dancers more.

A total of $35 was made and will be used on the piano fund for the girls' dormitory. It is said that never before have Carolina co-eds looked or danced so well, but the honor of the finest, most attractive dress goes undoubtedly to Miss Kiku Maeshima, of Tokio, Japan. Dressed in silk and satin of the finest tissue, this little lady made a pleasing debut into Chapel Hill society.

This is the first of several dances to be given by the co-eds. The support given them this year by the students promises to be much better than it was last year.

The dancing was from 9 to 12 and never lullied, going strongest and best when "Home, Sweet Home" called the merry-makers away. The chaperons were Mrs. A. P. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Continued on page four)

ALUMNI CELEBRATIONS HELD AT MANY PLACES IN STATE ON THURSDAY

University Problems Discussed at Various Meetings of County Alumni Associations.

WERE WELL ATTENDED

While University Day was being celebrated here by alumni and students, the alumni who were unable to be here were not unthoughtful of their University. Alumni Association of the various counties met that day and turned their attention toward the University and its future.

The Guilford County Alumni meeting held at Greensboro was featured by speeches from Dr. Chase, president of the University; J. I. Foust, president of N. C. State College; Charles Gold, a prominent Greensboro business man, and J. E. Latham, who spoke strongly in favor of the progressive educational movements now being conducted in North Carolina.

Dr. L. R. Wilson, University librarian and editor of the Alumni Review, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Mecklenburg County Association, which met at Charlotte. Colonel Albert Cox, of Raleigh, former president of the Alumni Association, spoke at the Stanley County meeting which was held at Albemarle.

M. C. S. Noble spoke at the Wake County meet, held at Raleigh, and J. M. Booker at the Rowan County meeting held at Salisbury.

The Carolina Band Takes On New Life

The Carolina band has been rejuvenated. D. L. Sheldon, who is its new instructor, had 38 men out for the second rehearsal and is expecting more at the next meeting. Thirty of the new men were used in the University Day exercises and the Trinity-Carolina game.

Mr. Weaver of the Music Department announces that there is an abundance of talent here at Carolina—the only trouble being the lack of instruments. There are many men who know how to play, but who do not possess instruments on account of having been affiliated with orchestras which supplied these necessities.

For three years attempts have been made to obtain a portion from the budget to fill this need, but to no avail. As a last resort $450 has been borrowed by the department and invested in purchasing the following instruments: one big bass horn, one baritone horn, two alto horns, one "E" flat clarinet, and one piccolo. These instruments are being expected every day, and men are ready and waiting to play them.

Carolina is fortunate in having Mr. Sheldon to instruct the band this year, as he has attained a unique achievement of being able to play and teach any band instrument made. Mr. George Lawrence is rendering voluntary assistance in helping the band get started.

Fetzer's Team Hammers Out 12 First Downs, But Can Register Only 10-7 Score.

SNIPES MAKES LONG RUN

Breaks Loose in Spectacular Dash of 67 Yards for Touchdown—Pritchard and Waite Star.

Showing surprising strength on the defense, Sol Metzger's Gamecocks succeeded in holding the Blue and White to 10 and 7 on Emerson field Saturday afternoon. The score does not indicate the real difference between the two teams. The Tar Heels' terrific attack produced twelve first downs, while the 67-yard run for touchdown by Snipes in the third quarter was the only bright spot in the South Carolina offense.

Fumbles played an important part in the game. In the first few minutes of play Captain Pritchard scooped up a South Carolina fumble and trotted across the goal line for his team's only touchdown. Several times when Carolina was in striking distance of the Sandlappers' goal Coach Fetzer's backs fumbled and lost the ball.

The majority of Carolina's gains were made through the line with McGhee and Merritt carrying the ball. The forward passing of the Tar Heels lacked its usual accuracy, but on several occasions was responsible for substantial gains. Near the end of the first half a forward pass, Merritt to McDonald, gained 20 yards and on the next play an extremely long pass narrowly missed producing a touchdown.

The rival captains, Pritchard and Waite, were the outstanding stars on the defense. Time and again Pritchard broke through and tackled opposing backs for losses, and was especially fast in getting down the field under punts. Waite was no less brilliant, being in practically every play and injecting a fighting spirit into his players throughout the game.

A cold, drizzly rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the rival cheering sections. Quite a number of South Carolina supporters were on hand to see the game and stood behind their team to the last.

First Quarter

South Carolina won the toss and Blount kicked to the 20-yard line. Sizemore returned kick-off two yards. Ambs two yards through center. Fulton three yards through right tackle. Ambs fumbled a bad pass and Pritchard recovered for touchdown. Blount kicked from placement.

Wheeler kicked off for South Carolina, the ball rolling over the goal line. Carolina's ball on the 20-yard line. Merritt failed to gain on off-tackle play. Sizemore bucked line for four yards. Morris five yards over left tackle. Morris five yards through line for first down. Merritt four yards around end. McDonald two yards through line. Merritt punts to South Carolina's 33-yard line. Sizemore lost three yards. Holland four yards around left end. Ambs punted to North Carolina's 40-yard line. F. Morris one yard through center. McDonald two yards on off-tackle play. McDonald two yards through line. McDonald punted to South Carolina's 23-yard line. Pritchard downing man in his tracks. Fulton fumbled and North Carolina recovered on 20-yard line. McGhee bucked line for two yards. Merritt squirmed through South Carolina line for nine yards and first down. Merritt no gain. Pass McDonald to McGhee, no gain. Blount kicked goal from placement on the 20-yard line.

JERNIGAN CALLS OFF TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The Varsity Tennis Manager announces that the fall tennis tournament will have to be called off on account of the bad condition of the courts. Heretofore the tennis followers have looked forward to this tournament with much pleasure, and they are hoping that matches with a few colleges of the state and also a game with Virginia can be arranged later.

Jernigan, the tennis manager, is doing everything possible to get the seven new courts in condition for playing, but his efforts are being somewhat thwarted when some students persist in playing on the courts before they are in condition. In order that the courts get in proper condition at the earliest possible time, the manager desires the co-operation of the student body.

FRESHMEN LOOKING GOOD IN PRELIMINARY PRACTICE

Alexander and Shepard Hope to Have Team in Fighting Trim for Encounter With Maryland Saturday.

Coaches Alexander and Shepard have been pushing the first year candidates for the past two weeks and from present indications they will have an exceptionally strong team to face the Maryland freshmen at Washington Saturday.

While the final selection of the first team has not been made, those showing up best and running at first string are: Jones and Hodges, ends; Brown and Ashley, tackles; Taylor and Sherlock, guards; Robertson, center; Devon, quarter; Griffin and Foy, half backs, and Gold, fullback.

The freshman teams will have two schedules this fall. The first selection will play for the South Atlantic freshman championship, while another will play Bingham and Asheville school at Asheville and probably one or two strong high school elevens in the state.

The schedule with major schools is as follows: October 21, Maryland at Washington; November 3, South Carolina at Columbia; November 11, N. C. State at Tarboro; November 18, Georgia at Chapel Hill; November 25, Virginia at Chapel Hill.

Swain Hall Warns Rushing Must Stop

Swain Hall has again been forced to lay down the law in no uncertain terms to her impatient guests who clamor at her gates three times per day, finding it hard to postpone for even a few minutes the enjoyment of her luscious bounties. The following mandate was distributed at all the tables and tacked upon the doors last Saturday:

"During the past few days a certain few have been rushing the doors of the dining hall before the time scheduled for meals. The Management positively will not stand for this. Swain Hall is not to be made a rough house by a certain few. We feel that a majority of our guests expect us to keep this a decent and orderly boarding house and this is our intention.

"To you who have been rushing the doors before the time scheduled for meals, let us say that if you are inside the dining hall before the time scheduled for meals, or if you are out on the porch attempting to rush our doors before we open them, that we will reluctantly ask you to change your boarding place.

"Let us request you to remain off the porch until the doors open in order that you may not be shoved in by those behind you, for if you are inside the door it is immaterial to us how you get there.

"You are warned not to try to get around this by rushing in in large numbers for we intend to check you at your table as well as at the door and on the porch."

FACULTY RECEPTION AT HOME OF THE PRESIDENT

The annual faculty reception was held at President Chase's home last Thursday night with an unusually large number of professors and their wives present. This is the first time in recent years that the reception has been given at night. Since so many new instructors have been added to the University, this annual reception is the best means for all the faculty to learn each other.

Punch, coffee, mints, pistachio ice cream and cake were served. At the head of the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Royster, H. H. Patterson, G. M. McKie and Mr. Currie.
