FIERCE WOLF-PACK IS TAMED BY FETZER'S CHARGES

WALKING CANES NOW TO BE DISTINGUISHING MARK OF DIGNIFIED SENIORITY

Class of '23 Votes to Carry Sticks As Distinctive Emblem—Matherly Speaks.

DANCES ARE DISCUSSED

The Senior class, in its initial meeting of the year in the form of a smoker, held in the Phi assembly hall Tuesday evening, adopted a resolution providing for a senior walking cane to be carried at times deemed fit for its use, heard an interesting address by Prof. W. J. Matherly, and discussed the manner in which commencement dances are to be conducted in the future.

The walking cane idea was introduced by Tommy Turner for the class executive committee, who simply called for discussion on the part of members, if, not as a fad, as was charged by some, but as a kind of class emblem that will distinguish seniors from all other classmen and help the members, in this time of a growing student body, better to know each other.

Turner's resolution was carried by an overwhelming majority, only seven votes being cast against it. Even the co-eds, according to their vote and their sentiments, as expressed by Miss Jane Toy, approved, and as soon as a committee can select the style and secure a dealer the cane will be obtainable and seniors will be seen walking English fashion over the campus and about town.

Mr. Matherly's address was really the feature of the evening. He, too, was interested in helping the class do something distinctive and outlined and discussed briefly three main ways in which he believes the class can contribute something of lasting value to the University. These were:

First—Assume campus leadership in developing sound public opinion.

Second—Help develop a high regard for campus property rights.

Third—Improve the social environment of the campus.

In discussing these three issues Mr. Matherly paid particular attention to the fact that seniors, as members of the ranking class in the student body, should control public opinion; that they can do more than any other group to help in the steps being taken to beautify the campus by eliminating the little "pig paths" and other tendencies to destroy already well-plotted and beautiful sections of the campus, and to use powerful influence in caring for the buildings; and that they can do a great deal to bring about a better social spirit between faculty and student body, pay more and less prejudiced attention to the problem of co-education and carry out last year's system of giving a smoker to freshmen in the spring.

The problem of whether or not commencement dances should continue to be in charge of leaders elected by the senior class or should be given over to the control of the German club was brought up for discussion but no motion was made and further steps will be taken at the next meeting.

The refreshments, served under the leadership of J. O. Harmon, were unusually good. Several kinds of sandwiches, apples and cigars were the treats. President Shirley was toastmaster and the seniors enjoyed the manner in which he conducted the program. The smoker came to a conclusion with a rousing cheer for '23, led by Froeberger.

Committee On Med School Goes North

The committee of the faculty and the trustees which will decide on the new medical school for the University will leave here tomorrow for New York and Chicago. The purpose of the trip is to interview officers of the American Medical Association at Chicago and the General Educational Board and the Carnegie Foundation at New York. These will be interviewed in the hope that some suggestions and help can be given the committee which is confronted with the problem of selecting a location for the proposed four year medical school.

Those on the combined committee who will probably go are J. L. DeLaney, H. P. Grier, W. N. Everett and E. W. Pharr of the alumni, and President H. W. Chase, I. H. Manning and W. deB. MacNider of the faculty.

LAW SCHOOL REGISTERS OVER HUNDRED STUDENTS BEGINS 80TH SESSION

Some Facts and Figures Given Regarding Enrollment and Personnel—Additions to Library.

LAW REVIEW OUT SOON

The School of Law opened its 80th year this fall with a net registration of 109, of whom 64 are in the first-year class, 39 in the second-year class, and six in the third year class. Of the 109 now studying law, 84 are over 21 years of age, and 25 are under that age. Of the total number enrolled 94 have had some preliminary college training. Fifteen have had merely a high school preparation. Of the 94 who have had some college work, 12 have received their baccalaureate degrees, 24 have had three years of college, 36 have had two years of college, and 24 have had but one year of college work before entering the law school. Thirty-seven of the men now in the law school have planned to take the new three-year course leading to the degree of bachelor of laws. Of this number 20 are in the first year class, 13 in the second year class, and four in the third year class.

Mr. Wilbur Stout, a graduate student in the Department of English, has been appointed secretary and librarian of the law school. He began work on September first. The library is being systematically arranged and catalogued, and the registration and record systems in the dean's office reorganized.

During the summer the library purchased a large number of books, including the complete English law reports from 1876 to date, full sets of the Michigan Law Review, Columbia Law Review, and Law Quarterly Review. The Index to Legal Periodicals, and a considerable number of the more important treatises. Many of the older books have been rebound and extra copies have been obtained of the reports of the North Carolina Supreme Court. As a result of the publication of the North Carolina Law Review, the law library now receives most of the other legal periodicals by way of exchange.

The following second and third year law students have been selected by the

Blue Ridge Club Is To Be Formed Here

It is planned by the Blue Ridge committee of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet to organize in the near future a Blue Ridge club. The purpose of the organization will be to get more students from Carolina to attend the annual Y. M. C. A. student convention which is held at Blue Ridge about the middle of June each year. Last year Carolina had the largest delegation at the convention and this record will be attained again this year, it is hoped.

In order to get up this delegation it will be necessary to start early. Realizing this, a Blue Ridge account will be opened up whereby a student can deposit a small amount once in a while and thus have a sum saved up to defray his expenses when the time comes.

The trip to Blue Ridge is well worth the money and the time, as will be attested to by the delegates of last year's convention. It is with this purpose that the club will be formed—that the men who have been will try to get more men to take advantage of the opportunity to go. Probably the club will not function as do other clubs but the primary motive for the organization of the club will serve as the bonds which hold it together.

FIRST VOLUME OF FOLK PLAYS WILL COME OUT LATTER PART OF MONTH

Appearance of Book Will Be of Great Interest to Friends of Little Theater Movement.

EDITED BY PROF. KOCH

The first volume of Carolina Folk Plays, which is being published by Henry Holt and company, will be out the latter part of this month. This book, which was edited by and has an introduction on Folk Playmaking by Professor Frederick H. Koch, contains: "When Witches Ride," by Elizabeth Lay; "The Last of the Lowries," by Paul Greene; "Dod Gasi Ye Both," by Hubert Hoffman; "Off Nags Head," by Douglas MacMillan, and "Peggy," by Harold Williamson. There is also a paper on the dialect of the plays by Professor Tom Peete Cross. It is illustrated with photographs from the original productions of the Carolina Playmakers, and includes full stage directions, which makes the volume complete for production purposes.

This book of plays, written by University undergraduates, will receive widespread notice and will be read and discussed throughout the state and elsewhere. Exponents of the Little Theater movement in this country are watching the results of its publication with intense interest. It will be used as a text-book in English 31.

A number of advance orders, including many from the University faculty, for the volume of plays, which will sell for $1.75, have already been received by George Denny, business manager of the Playmakers.

Y. M. C. A. Is To Launch Financial Drive Next Week

Student Quota Is Three Thousand Dollars—Manager G. Y. Ragsdale Has 115 Workers—Students Asked to Co-operate—"Y" Has Elaborate Program For Year.

Definite plans to raise $3,000, the student quota of the Y. M. C. A. budget for the year, will be adopted at a supper given for the campaigners Monday night. Captains will be elected and the campaign launched immediately after the supper.

Manager G. Y. Ragsdale announces a systematic campaign by which he hopes to reach every student and faculty member. He is confident that the campaign will "go over the top."

At the supper a forum discussion will be held and every phase of the campaign discussed. One hundred and fifteen picked men will be present, in addition to the regular Y. M. C. A. cabinet. From their committees will be appointed for the faculty, the dormitories and the fraternities. The faculty is to be canvassed by a special committee of seniors.

The budget calls for $7,000, $4,000 of which is guaranteed by the University. With over 1900 students and 125 faculty members it should not be difficult to raise $3,000, provided every one will do his part.

"Y" Building Program

Within the next three years the University Y. M. C. A. plans to have its home in a thoroughly modern, well equipped, regular "Y" building. The present building is not only inadequate and obsolete, but it is out of line with the University building scheme.

The present plans are to erect a twin to Steele building in the same proportional distance from Gerrard hall as Steele is from the Law building. In this case, the present Y. M. C. A. building would have to be scrapped, as it would interfere with the new dormitory.

There is a strong campus sentiment in favor of combining all University buildings for social and religious purposes into one big union building, similar to the one at the University of Michigan, which would cost about half

MRS. HORACE WILLIAMS DIES OF HEART FAILURE AT HOME IN CHAPEL HILL

End Comes Wednesday Morning at Seven O'clock After Illness Of About One Year.

HAD MANY FRIENDS HERE

Mrs. Horace Williams, wife of Horace Williams, professor of philosophy at the University, died suddenly of heart trouble Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock after a period of ill health lasting for about a year. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. D. Moss, at the home of the deceased, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the interment taking place in the local cemetery.

Before her marriage to Mr. Williams in 1891, Mrs. Williams was Miss Bertha Colton, of Middletown, Connecticut. Since that time she has lived in Chapel Hill for a good many years. She had been visiting relatives in New York City, and had returned home a week previous to her death. Mrs. Williams is survived by her two sisters, Mrs. Lula Wells, of Middletown, Conn., and Miss Jessie Colton, of New York City. She has made many friends in Chapel Hill who will mourn her loss.

The acting pall-bearers were President Chase, R. D. W. Connor, W. D. McNider, Collier Cobb, R. L. Lawson and A. C. McIntosh. The honorary pall-bearers were Francis P. Venable, H. V. Wilson, L. R. Wilson, W. D. Toy, Archibald Henderson, E. A. Abernethy, Major Wm. D. Cain, and George Pickard. The flower bearers were Mesdames A. C. McIntosh, F. P. Venable, R. L. Lawson.

DEFEATS OF PAST TWO YEARS AVENGED BY CAROLINA TEAM ON RIDDICK FIELD YESTERDAY

Wolf-Pack Goes Down in Defeat 14 to 9—McDonald Runs Kickoff Back 95 Yards for Touchdown—Randolph-Park Forward Passing Combination Features.

(By Special Staff Correspondent)

Raleigh, Oct. 19.—Receiving the kickoff on his own five-yard line, McDonald exhibited some wonderful broken field running by running down the field for a touchdown which proved to be the deciding factor of Carolina's 14 to 9 victory over State on Riddick Field this afternoon. Although displaying brilliant form at times, Carolina's triumph was by no means overwhelming. State exhibited surprising strength on defense. Several times forward passes, Randolph to Park, went for long gains.

The initial score of the game came in the first quarter after State's strong offense had placed the ball on Carolina's 40-yard line, when Long booted the pigskin squarely between the goal posts.

On the next play McDonald pulled one of the most sensational runs ever seen on Riddick Field, by sprinting 95 yards down the right side of the field for a touchdown. The interference of Fred Morris enabled "Monk" to elude the entire Wolf-pack.

At the beginning of the second quarter Carolina held State for downs on her own three-yard line. With the ball on Carolina's 30-yard line, State uncorked two forward passes which placed the ball on the 10-yard line. Lassiter carried the ball over on two line bucks.

After fighting State to a standstill in the third quarter Carolina opened the fourth period by unleashing a bewildering attack that carried the ball 41 yards for the touchdown that spelled victory for the Blue and White, Johnston carrying the ball over.

Captain Floyd and Randolph were the outstanding performers for State. The latter showed flashes of brilliance in carrying the ball and throwing passes. The entire Carolina backfield played well, showing no semblance of fumbling, as was evident in the Trinity and South Carolina games. Captain Pritchard was a tower of strength on both offense and defense.

The day was an ideal one for an open air athletic contest. Wednesday morning "Old Sol" shone forth in all his splendor, much to the delight of those planning to make the trip to Raleigh. By the hour set for the great intrastate classic, Riddick field had become fairly dry.

A special team brought the majority of the Carolina students over from Chapel Hill via Carrboro. A great many came through the country in everything from a "lizzie" runabout to Pandy's big red joy wagon.

Students from Merodith, Peace, and St. Mary's attended in a body, and each fair "fannette" cheered for her favorite team. Gay colors were in evidence, sprinkled here and there throughout the stands, and added to the festive spirit of the afternoon.

Good natured banter was exchanged by opposing rooters, but the game was notable for the courtesy of the cheering sections. Both the State College

Devereux Players Will Appear Here

The Playmakers have booked the Clifford Devereux Players of New York to fill the date left vacant by the cancellation of Tony Sarg's Marionettes. This company will give two performances in Memorial Hall on December 1. "The Mummy's Ear-Ring" as a matinee, and in the evening Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man."

The Devereux company was in Chapel Hill three years ago and presented Henrik Ibsen's "Ghosts" to a capacity house at the high school auditorium, the S. R. O. sign being hung out long before the demand for seats was supplied. The play was most favorably received.

Mr. Devereux is well known in Chapel Hill along with Miss Graff, his leading woman. He plans this year a larger and more elaborate production than ever before. The company carries a special car of scenery and electrical equipment and effects.

CAROLINA'S DELEGATION AT BLUE RIDGE, 1922

This is the largest delegation that ever represented a college at the Southern Students' Conference of the Y. M. C. A. at Blue Ridge. It is planned to make this delegation even larger next June.
