

KENTUCKY COURT DECIDES THE BINGHAM INHERITANCE SUIT FAVORING UNIVERSITY

Kenan Fund Will Not Be Required to Pay Inheritance Tax of $200,000.

SUIT IS FIVE YEARS OLD

The Supreme Court of Kentucky has recently decided in favor of the University of North Carolina in a suit in which the State of Kentucky was suing the University for an inheritance tax of nearly $200,000.

Mrs. Robert Bingham, of Louisville, Ky., left in her will to the University of North Carolina a legacy of $75,000 a year for 21 years, at the end of which time her trustees are to pay the University a sum sufficient to produce an income of $75,000 a year, estimated at $1,500,000.

Mrs. Bingham was, before marriage, Miss Mary Lilly Kenan, of Wilmington; she was first married to Henry M. Flagler, the Standard Oil multi-millionaire, and after his death married Judge Robert Bingham, of Louisville, a graduate of the University.

The State of Kentucky claimed an inheritance tax on the University legacy of nearly $200,000, and entered suit against the University over five years ago.

DRINKERS AND GAMBLERS ARE WARNED BY HARMON

President of Student Body in Chapel Outlines Council's Policy For the Year.

"Drinking, gambling, cheating, and all forms of vice must go," declared J. O. Harmon, president of the student body, striking the keynote of his first speech in chapel Monday morning.

After introducing each member of the council individually, mentioning the outstanding qualities which won for each of them the honor of being placed on the council, Harmon proceeded to outline the policy of that body for the government of the students during the coming year.

"We want it understood that the student council is not a band of detectives creeping around the campus and spying on your conduct," he said. "We are working toward the end, which we hope to accomplish, of upholding the ideals of Carolina, and making it a bigger and better institution, and we ask the co-operation of the student body, without which we can accomplish very little."

He continued by warning the students against a restless, cynical spirit, urging them to do something worth while and uplifting. "Illness is the enemy of every man," he said. "There is activity for every man who will apply himself." In his denunciation of drinking and gambling, he mentioned the action already taken against them by such organizations as the German Club, the Stygians, and the literary societies, and showed that the natural sentiment of the students is against them.

In conclusion, Harmon said: "The ideal of Carolina is to turn out men of character who are fitted to take a place of leadership in the communities of which they are to become citizens."

MASK AND WIG PRIZE

The Mask and Wig fifty-dollar prize contest, for the best original story which can be adapted as a musical comedy, will close November 28. The words of the libretto should be such that popular or jazz music could be written for them. The comedy is expected to be popular in its character, not classical.

Detailed conditions will be published later. The contest is open to any student in the University, and it is hoped that many will submit stories. Address all communications to Box 472.

GRANT RETURNS FROM HIS ORGANIZATION TRIP NORTH

Secretary of Alumni Association Has Successful Trip—Much Interest Shown by Northern Alumni.

Daniel L. Grant, secretary of the alumni association, has returned from a trip north, where he visited the existing alumni organizations in the North and helped to organize several new ones. Washington, Boston and Chicago already have chapters of alumni and these three places held meetings on University Day, October 12. Mr. Grant reports that plans have already been made for a meeting to be held some time before Christmas in Norfolk, Richmond, Danville, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York City, Boston and Pittsburgh.

Grant had a very successful trip and found the Carolina alumni willing to cooperate with him in his work. It is of interest to know about how many Carolina men there are north of this state. The approximate numbers are as follows: Norfolk, 200; Richmond, 110; Danville, 60; Washington, 125; Baltimore, 90; Philadelphia, 120; New York City, 250; Boston, 75; Pittsburgh, 175; and Chicago, 40. The above mentioned cities will possibly be all the associations that will be formed north of North Carolina.

UNIVERSITY RECIPIENT OF GIFT OF ROBT. K. SMITH

Fifty Thousand Dollar Bequest Left by Native Tar Heel—Other N. C. Schools Remembered.

The University is the recipient of a bequest of $50,000 by Robert K. Smith, who died recently at his home at Orange, Va. Mr. Smith also left a similar amount to Davidson College and smaller amounts to other North Carolina schools.

Mr. Smith was born in Milton, Caldwell county, and lived in Durham and Danville, Va., for some years, after which he moved to Louisville, Ky., where he was connected with the American Tobacco Company. Later he became vice president of that company and moved to New York City.

He was a man of wide reading, a lover of art, a public spirited and well beloved citizen.

Besides the gifts to the North Carolina schools, the remainder of his property was left to his nieces and nephews.

MEYER WILL ADDRESS PARENT-TEACHER MEET

H. D. Meyer, of the school of public welfare, is to address the State Parent-Teachers Association on the subject of "Playgrounds" at their annual meeting November 8. He will stop by Rocky Mount on his return and address the "Hi-Y" Club of that town on the 10th. Dr. Meyer attended the national recreation association at Atlantic City and has just returned from his trip.

PHI ALPHA DELTA ENJOYS HALLOWE'EN

Tuesday night at the home of Prof. M. T. Van Hecke, of the law faculty, members of Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity were very enjoyably entertained during the evening hours. The delightful Halloween supper was interspersed with interesting and entertaining legal anecdotes by the host of the evening, Prof. Van Hecke, faculty member of Phi Alpha Delta, and also Prof. Howard T. Hill, dean of the school of public speaking at the Kansas State Agriculture College, and at present on the Hill in the interest of the Masonic Fraternity, Acacia, contributed not a little to the pleasant passing of the hours.

MONEY STILL COMING IN FROM "Y" CANVASS

Final Reports Considerably Delayed—Large Number Pledges—"Y" Is Keeping Active.

The "Y" financial campaign is still bringing in the money. The inability to always find men in their rooms when making calls has considerably delayed the canvassers in making final reports to the office. Additional instructions have been sent to the captains of all canvassing teams urging that work continue until every man has been seen. The campaign among the faculty is producing especially good results. Also, through correspondence from the office, a campaign is now being opened up on a picked group of alumni and friends. However, it is still hoped that local subscriptions will carry the campaign over the top.

A large number of pledges were made due November 1. The "Y" secretary urges that the student body break the record this year by making 100 per cent payments when due.

All freshmen who participated in Hi-Y or other Y. M. C. A. work in high school or their home town are asked to hold themselves in readiness for the early organization of the Freshmen Friendship Council. The roll should exceed that of last year by about 25. According to the present plans the meetings will be held twice every month. Of these meetings, one each (Continued on page two)

SMOKER FOR JUNIORS IS PLANNED MONDAY NIGHT

Tentative Program Features Meyer, Matherly, Music and Maidens—Treasurer Will Collect Dues.

As a result of the meeting of the executive committee of the junior class, the first smoker of the year for '24' will be held in Swain Hall, Monday, November 6. The tentative program provided is well balanced and should afford a variety of amusement to the large crowd expected. If the present plans are fulfilled, W. J. Matherly and Dr. H. D. Meyer will be the chief speakers of the evening, the co-ed members of the class will put on some original stunts, the nature of which is unknown, and a musical number will be rendered by junior class talent only. The executive committee have established an innovation this year in that only members of the junior class are to participate in the program.

Several important business matters will be thrown open for discussion, chief among them being the advisability of the junior class taking the initiative for the revival of class athletics. Charles Holzhauser, the newly elected president, will be introduced to the class and will outline his policies for the year. A desperate effort will be made by the treasurer to fill the depleted coffers of the class treasury, the total amount of which is hardly enough to buy a square meal at Gooch's. The usual smoker menu will be served.

OUTCOME OF CAROLINA-TULANE GAME SUBJECT OF SPECULATION

Tulane Has Been Scored on But Once, While Piling Up 104 Points in Four Games—Much Interest in Contest.

Carolina plays Tulane at New Orleans tomorrow in what will probably be one of the hardest fought games on the schedule of either team. The Tar Heels journey down to Louisiana fresh from their smashing victory over Maryland and with a determination to continue their fast pace.

Tulane is being coached by Clark D. Shaughnessy, of Minnesota football fame. He has perfected a strong defense that has held Camp Benning and Mississippi A. and M. scoreless, while the offensive tactics of the Tulane warriors have produced 104 points in four games. The only team that has succeeded in scoring upon Tulane is Spring Hill College of Mobile, Ala., coached by "Moon" Ducote, the great Alabama "Pol-y" star. Ducote's team held the "Green Wave" to a 39 and 10 score three weeks ago.

Coneh Fetzer's charges showed great improvement in the Maryland game, and if the punch and drive that won the fight Saturday is directed against Tulane, the New Orleans eleven is doomed to meet its first defeat. Carolina was the first Southern team to defeat Wake Forest, Trinity, South Carolina and Maryland this year, and it is interesting to note that both Tulane and V. M. I. are in the undefeated class.

The Tulane "senate" has ordered that tomorrow be observed as "T" day. Every man that has won a letter there is expected to wear his "T" sweater to the Carolina-Tulane game, if possible. This is a new movement at Tulane which the senate hopes will become an established custom.

Coach Bob Gets Track Spirit Up

At the largest meeting of its kind held on the campus this session, Coach Bob Fetzer made a speech to those interested in track, in Gerrard Hall Monday night. He was very optimistic over the prospect of turning out a real track team this year.

He revived last year's record, pointing out the excellent results obtained by the consistent work of last year's team, and announced the series of inter-class meets to be held this fall.

Beginning with the one scheduled for November 8, there will be another the 20th, followed by the inter-collegiate indoor meet, to be held December 9. The most important meet, the annual indoor meet at Durham, will be held about February 22. Besides those on the regular schedule, there will be several freshmen meets, some of which will be between Carolina and other schools in the state.

Fetzer advised prospective track men to start going out now, so as to gradually prepare themselves for the spring meets by participating in fall and winter track athletics.

"For years track has been considered a minor sport at the University," said the coach in conclusion, "but I am glad to say that that feeling is gradually disappearing, and it is up to those interested in it to bring track to the front."

Playmakers Sell Season Tickets

The Playmakers will offer this year a special subscriber's season ticket which will entitle subscribers to the best reserved seats at each of the three productions presented by the Playmakers themselves and a 10 per cent reduction in admission price to all outside attractions presented under the auspices of the Playmakers.

The price of these tickets is to be $1.50 each, which means a saving of 25 cents on each Playmaker performance as well as the 10 per cent discount. The Playmakers have discontinued all complimentary tickets for the present.

This season ticket plan has been tried with great success by the Theater Guild of New York and by the Vagabond Players of Baltimore. The Playmakers have adopted it as a method of getting into closer touch with those who will become subscribers and of obtaining an idea of their true standing before the public.

It is a means by which all those who are interested in the Carolina Playmakers may have a real part in putting them upon a substantial basis and by which the management can know to what extent the great possibilities of this organization may be realized.

These tickets may be obtained from George Denny, and will be on sale at Babanks or Patterson's for several days before the presentation of "Seventeen" on November 10 and 11.

FIRST SUNDAY CONCERT

Peter van der Meer, the blind violinist who played in chapel last week, will give the first of the monthly concerts to be given throughout the year by the music department, Sunday afternoon in Gerrard Hall at 4 o'clock. Mr. van der Meer will render the entire program. A collection will be taken for the benefit of the musician.

OVER FORTY MEN GO OUT FOR TAR HEEL CONTEST

New "Heeler" System of Filling Vacancies on Reportorial Staff Attracts Many Candidates.

A meeting of the contestants for places on the Tar Heel reportorial staff was held Monday night at the Tar Heel office, with more than 40 contestants going out.

The system, as explained by Editor Jake Wade, of selecting men for the Tar Heel board, is one that is in use in many northern universities. It is simply a contest stretching out over the entire school year, instead of the shorter, more intensive competition that has been used in the past.

The contestants are to be known as "Heelers" and are to consider themselves a real part of the Tar Heel force. Each man will be assigned work covering not more than one hour a week, during the rest of the school year. From time to time, as vacancies occur, leading contestants will be selected as regular reporters on the staff, and at the end of the year the board for next year will be chosen from among the leaders in the contest. All men who make the staff will be given regular college credit in the English department for their work on the Tar Heel.

NORTH CAROLINA CLUB DISCUSSES BOLL WEEVIL

J. B. Eagles Reads Paper Constituting First of Reports on "What Next in North Carolina?"

At the regular meeting of the North Carolina Club Monday night the discussion was led by J. B. Eagles, who read a paper on "The Boll Weevil and an Organized Agriculture."

This discussion constituted one of the reports on the general subject, "What Next in North Carolina?" outlined for the club's work this year. The club as a whole is much more active than it has ever been before. This is doubtless due to the fact that the program for the year affords more interest to students by supplying a broader field for useful investigation than the narrow and more detailed researches carried on by the club in the past.

The officers of the club for the year are: President, J. G. Gullick; vice-president, C. C. Poindexter; secretary, S. H. Hobbs, Jr.; publicity committee, A. M. Moser, chairman, W. S. Berryhill, J. G. Gullick; steering committee, E. C. Branson, chairman, H. W. Odum, E. W. Knight; membership committee, A. E. Baum, J. B. Eagles, P. S. Randolph, J. P. Trotter, F. G. Herron.

HONOR SYSTEM APPLES ARE SOLD BY STUDENT

"Honor system apples" have been placed on sale in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. by a self-help student. The apples lie open in a white pine box against the wall, with a sign above proclaiming the price. A cigar box with a slot in its side receives the dimes and nickels of the hungry students. The apples are being sold by an enterprising student from the western part of the state who receives his fruit from home.

GERMAN CLUB ELECTION IS PROTECTED BY RING THAT FAILS TO WIN OUT

Two Separate "Frame-ups" Are Apparent as Result of Attempt to Elect Dance Leaders.

RESULTS IN LIVELY SCRAP

Two separate and distinct political "frame-ups," apparently destined to be regular political parties in social activities, have resulted from the meeting of the German Club Tuesday afternoon when Lloyd Williams, Beta, defeated Bill Blount, Delta, for leader of the fall German, and Ed Barr, Sigma Chi, and Buster Waddell, Delta Tau Delta, defeated Johnnie Johnston, Kappa Alpha, and Gene Hardin, Sigma Nu, respectively, for assistant leaders. This election was protested on the grounds of "irregularity in voting," there appearing to be some misunderstanding as to the method of balloting.

Signs of the first frame-up were displayed in the Williams, Barr and Waddell combination which was victorious in the "protested" election, this frame-up alleged to have been composed of the Beta, Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, and Theta Chi fraternities. This frame-up went off without a hitch, each organization concerned voting solidly for the candidates of the "ring." It is said that this machine has lasted over from last year, and that it is proposed to continue throughout this year, although this was not confirmed by the fraternities making up the group.

Election Disputed. Pronounced as "the smoothest working political machine" that the campus has seen in years, the fraternities that (Continued on page two.)

ALEXANDER'S FIRST YEAR TEAM GOES TO COLUMBIA

Hard Scrap Expected—Second Team Will Play Charlotte High School Tomorrow.

Coach Alexander's freshman football eleven will play its fourth game of the present season Saturday afternoon. The Tar Heel yearlings will clash with the University of South Carolina first year men, in a game scheduled to be played at Columbia.

The freshmen are anticipating a hard struggle. South Carolina is reputed to have a freshman team almost as fast as its varsity. Advance dope reaching Chapel Hill is to the effect that the Gamecock yearlings always give the varsity a tough tussle in their daily scrimmages. South Carolina has one backfield man, Boatwright by name, who has built up quite a football reputation for himself this season. The Gamecock backfield is believed to be built up around this man. With the possible exception of the State College game, to be played later in the year at Tarboro, the Tar Heel freshmen expect the hardest fought battle of the schedule.

Coach Alexander took approximately 22 men with him to Columbia. The coach had not definitely decided on his line-up before leaving for Columbia. The freshmen have been lining up as follows, however: Left end, Epstein; left tackle, Braswell; left guard, Sherlock; center, Robinson; right guard, Hamer; right tackle, Brown; right end, Jones; quarterback, Devin (captain); left halfback, Underwood; right halfback, Griffin; fullback, Foy.

While the yearling first team is traveling on its way to meet the Gamecocks, the freshman second team will be playing the Charlotte high school football squad, Friday afternoon in the Queen City. Charlotte High is said to have a fast team, having recently defeated Winston-Salem, which was generally thought to be one of the strongest teams in the west. Assistant Coach Norman Shepard will be in charge of the team.

The Glee Club will give a musical program in chapel Monday.

FOOTBALL GAMES SATURDAY

Carolina vs. Tulane. V. M. I. vs. Catholic University. Virginia vs. Washington and Lee. V. P. I. vs. Maryland. N. C. State vs. Davidson. Wake Forest vs. William and Mary. Trinity vs. Oglethorpe. Harvard vs. Florida.
