CHASE SAYS BUDGET CUT SURE TO CURTAIL UNIVERSITY'S SERVICE

President, However, Praises the Work of Budget Commission and Its Spirit.

LACK OF FUNDS SERIOUS

President Chase, in a statement Sunday concerning the recommendations of the State Budget Commission, said that the "cut down" of requests made by this school would mean a serious curtailment of the service that the state looks to it to render. He praised, however, the spirit and labors of the commission.

A 12-weeks summer school course and the expansion of the extension department were mentioned by him as two urgent needs which were endangered by the cut, and that the University would be embarrassed for lack of funds to make very essential improvements and changes.

"The report of the Budget Commission," he said, "shows clearly that the program entered upon two years ago by this school is to be continued, and it is gratifying to see that funds are available to make this possible on a sound basis."

He showed his hearty approval for the spirit shown by the commission, which reflects that North Carolina is beginning to realize that money spent on her educational institutions are wise investments, from which she may expect immense returns. He said that for several months before the petition was presented, it underwent careful consideration by every department, and that the figure named was the lowest amount on which this important branch of the state's business could be adequately conducted for the next two years. Therefore "a cut of ten per cent in a budget so closely calculated is a serious matter. The quality of instruction given to students must, of course, be maintained." It means, he said, that the University must hold back and sacrifice many important lines of service during the two-year period. He said that it is gratifying to note that the fund recommended is $160,000 more than that available for the last two-year period.

"I do not believe that the seriousness of the material conditions at the University is generally recognized."

He said that taking into consideration the rising tide of increasing numbers, it may be necessary to spend the entire amount recommended by the Commission, which is $1,650,000, for new construction, leaving nothing to repair and rework the old buildings, some of which are badly in need of renovating and fireproofing.

He also stressed the extreme need for a permanent water supply, since for the past two years, at the opening of the school year, it has been necessary to run temporary water mains.

"The Budget Commission has done a careful and laborious piece of work, and, as I have said, with the spirit of its work there will be hearty agreement. But I do think that the public should know just the situation in which its recommendations would result so far as the progress of the University during the next two years is concerned."

RALPH GRAVES, CLASS '97 RESIGNS AS TIMES EDITOR

Sunday Editor of New York Times to Have Charge of Publisher's Syndicate—Noted Journalist.

Ralph H. Graves, of the class of '97, has resigned as the Sunday editor of the New York Times. He goes to Doubleday-Page Company, publishers, and will have charge of their syndicate which distributes stories, articles, books in serial form, and other features. After February his headquarters will be the main offices of the company in Garden City, a Long Island suburb of New York City.

After being graduated from the University, Mr. Graves was librarian here for two years. During this time he was working on his master's degree. In 1899 he went to New York and did reportorial work on the Times. From this time on he has been connected

ATLANTA EDITOR WILL VISIT THE UNIVERSITY

James A. Holloman, of Atlanta Constitution, Will Lecture in Chapel Monday Morning.

James A. Holloman, an editor of the Atlanta Constitution, is coming to the University to deliver three talks next Monday. Mr. Holloman is a native of North Carolina. He has had a long experience as a newspaper correspondent in Washington and in recent years has become an expert upon taxation in the South and kindred economic subjects.

He comes to the University under the joint auspices of the general lecture committee, the school of commerce, the department of rural social economics, and the class in journalism.

"Congress From the Press Gallery" will be the subject of his talk during the chapel period Monday. By special authorization from President Chase, the period will be prolonged by 15 minutes, so that the following recitation period will begin at 12 o'clock and will be 15 minutes shorter than usual.

During the second recitation hour Monday morning, from 9:25 to 10:15, Mr. Holloman will talk to Mr. Groves' class in journalism, second floor of Alumni Building, on "Practical Newspaper Making." All who can find it convenient to come are cordially invited to this lecture.

The North Carolina Club meeting at 7 o'clock Monday evening in Gerrard Hall will be the occasion of Mr. Holloman's third talk. His subject will be "The Tax Systems of the States in the Southeast, and the Relation of Taxation to the Economic Problems of the People." This is closely allied to the program of study now being conducted by E. C. Branson, head of the department of rural social economics. D. D. Carroll, dean of the school of commerce, figures as a joint sponsor of the meeting, because the editor's taxation talk fits in also with the courses offered by Dean Carroll and his associates.

It is because of the close relation of Mr. Holloman's subject to the work of more than one department that the place of meeting of the North Carolina Club is changed from Phillips Hall to the more capacious Gerrard Hall. The hour remains the same as for regular meetings of the club—7 o'clock.

Many Candidates For Higher Degrees

Dr. Edwin Greenlaw, chairman of the Graduate School Administrative Board, has announced that 54 candidates for degrees of A. M. or M. S. or Ph. D. have been admitted by the board.

Fifty-four is far the largest number of students ever admitted to candidacy here, and with the unprecedented total of 275 graduates registered during the year, shows definitely the increasing acknowledgement of Carolina as one of the foremost institutions of higher learning in the country.

BOLL WEEVIL WILL HOLD CONTEST SOON

The management of the Boll Weevil has announced a contest for places on the business staff. All freshmen interested in entering this contest are asked to meet in Room 8, New West building, on Sunday, January 28, at which time the rules of the competition will be announced by the business manager, L. J. S. Brody.

DATES FOR TRY-OUTS HAVE BEEN CHANGED

The dates for the try-outs for the Wigwag and Masque production have been changed to Thursday and Friday, February 1 and 2. The try-outs will be held in Memorial Hall at 4 p. m. on each of these days.

"The Kalif of Kavak" is the name of the prize-winning play which is to be produced. It was written by Ernest Thompson and the music for the entire performance has been written by Mr. Thompson and P. H. Daggett. There are nine principal characters and a chorus of 20 men and 20 women. All female parts, both among principals and chorus, are to be taken by men.

It is expected that a large number of students will try out for the cast of this show. In other institutions where similar organizations exist, there are often as many as 500 men trying out for parts in the annual production.

CAROLINA WINS A DECISIVE VICTORY OVER LAST YEAR'S ATLANTA ALL SOUTH RIVALS

Mercer Puts Up Game Fight But Is Outclassed by Lighter, Faster Tar Heel Quintet—Contest Ends With Score 33 to 22.

(By WALKER BARNETTE)

Outclassing their opponents in every department of the game, the Carolina hoop artists Tuesday night administered a 33 to 22 defeat to the team representing Mercer, runners-up for Southern Championship last year, in one of the best basketball games ever staged in Bynum Gymnasium. This is the same team that Carolina beat in the tournament at Atlanta 44 to 26 in the contest that brought the 1922 basketball championship to Chapel Hill.

CANTATA SUNDAY

The combined choirs of all the churches of Chapel Hill will give a cantata, "The Ten Virgins," at 7:30 Sunday night in the Presbyterian church.

Great Pianist Is To Play At Carolina

The Music Department announces a piano recital for Monday, February 12, by Arthur Shattuck. Mr. Shattuck is one of the world's greatest pianists, according to the Music Department, and is ranked as probably the leading American pianist of this generation.

The University is fortunate in securing him for a concert here. Details of the program will be announced later.

FRESHMAN QUINT LOSES CLOSE GAME TO DURHAM

Teams Play Extra Period and High School Lads Win 38 to 36—Fouls Numerous.

The Carolina freshman quintet received its first defeat of the season Monday night, when the Durham youngsters rolled up a score of 38 to 36. Throughout the game the score was very close, although Durham was usually in the lead by a narrow margin. The visitors started out with a fast, energetic style of playing, and continued it steadily until the final whistle. The freshmen played a moderately good game until the last few minutes, when they seemed to wake up and put forth some respectable basketball.

The game began with a whirlwind offensive by the high school team which showed at once that the game would be a close one. Before the freshmen could get well started Durham had rung up seven field goals. Cobb's free throws, however, had almost tied the score before the half was over. In the second half the freshmen commenced to take on some life. But personal fouls began to rain fast; so substitutions were going on in both teams.

The passing was not so good, but the teams were really fighting. Every player had one or two chances at the basket, and Lady Luck smiled impartially on both teams; so impartially, in fact, that at the end of the second half the score stood 34-34. Carolina made a spurt in the extra period that looked like victory, but when the final whistle blew, Durham was two points ahead. Such was the sad ending of the freshmen's second game, somewhat disheartening, but probably a good shake-up for the team; so that from now on it may settle down and win the rest of the games.

The line-up:

Freshmen	Durham High
Yelverton	Kelly
Right Forward	Green
Cobb	R. Hackney
Center
Devin	Vickers (Capt.)
Right Guard
Carmichael	B. Hackney
Left Guard

Substitutions: Huggins for Cobb, Buchanan for Carmichael, Fisher for Yelverton, Koonce for Devin, Cordon for Huggins; Durham—Satterfield for Green, Green for R. Hackney, Beck for Green, Warren for Vickers. Field goals: Cobb 3, Milstead 1, Yelverton 2, Carmichael 1, Fisher 2, Buchanan 2, R. Hackney 2, Green 3, Kelly 2, B. Hackney 2, Satterfield 1. Free throws: Cobb 14, Fisher 2, Green 8, Satterfield 10. Referee: "Cart" Carmichael; timekeeper: Dr. Lawson; scorers: Bass and Cheek.

MACHINE WELL GREASED FOR JUNIOR SOCIAL LIONS

No Opposition Develops to Ticket Passed Around Before Nominations Are Called For.

Working smoothly and quickly, the politicians of the junior class executed the neatest frame-up of the year in the annual election for "Hop" leaders and commencement marshals held last Monday.

Ships of paper had been passed around before the election to a chosen few and assignments had been given them as to whom they were to nominate. All carried out their assignments nobly, and when President Holschauer called for nominations the names of the candidates were barked out with machine-like precision. After the proper number of leaders and marshals had been nominated, the nominations were closed and the election was over. No voting, no disorder, no hitch in the machinery marked this masterful stroke.

A list of the dance leaders and marshals elected follows: Dance leader, Worth Redwine; assistants, Arthur London and Winton Green; chief marshal, Eddie Woodard; assistant marshals, Dick Cozart, John Ambler, Heinie Linberger, Bill Somers, George Ragsdale, Z. T. Fortescue, and Dan Burns. The election was a novelty in that three members of the "Unwashed" were chosen for the social honors. As usual the men elected will occupy prominent space in the Yackety Yack.

The University has recognized the fine work of the self-help department of the Y. M. C. A. by doubling its Y. M. C. A. appropriation for next year, and authorizing the engaging of another "Y" secretary.

DEBATERS FOR FRESH-SOPH CONTEST CHOSEN

Asheville, Durham, and Hendersonville Are Towns Represented by Young Orators.

The debaters for the fresh-soph annual inter-society debates between Phi and Di were selected Monday night, when the open preliminary was held. Both of the preliminaries were hotly contested, and the judges in both society halls commented favorably on the quality of the speeches.

Three of the four debaters selected to represent Phi hail from the city of Durham, while every one who tried out for the preliminary in Di came either from Asheville or Hendersonville. The sophomore teams were selected, as follows: L. T. Rogers and J. M. Saunders, both of Durham, representing the Phi, and W. J. Cooke, of Asheville, and E. L. Justus, of Hendersonville, representing the Di. G. A. Pelletier, of Stella, and M. M. Young, of Durham, were the freshmen chosen to represent the Phi, while the victorious first year men in Di were L. T. Bledsoe and M. J. Bishop, both of Asheville.

The query to be discussed this year in the fresh-soph debate is, "Resolved, That there should be a constitutional" (Continued on page three)

PLAYMAKERS TONIGHT

The Carolina Playmakers will present at the Playhouse tonight and tomorrow night the three folk plays for which the casts have been in intensive training during the past few weeks. There are no tragedies in the trio, which includes Paul Green's "Wrack P'int," Jane Toy's "Agatha," and Ernest Thompson's "Wilbur's Cousin."

Two entirely new sets of scenery and a brand new lighting outfit have been provided for the plays by the production department.

DEBATE IN WASHINGTON ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

National Literary Society to Finance Open Forum Discussion on Capital Punishment.

Carolina has accepted the invitation of the National Literary Society, Inc., to compete in the debate to be held in Washington, D. C., March 28. The query reads: "Resolved—That capital punishment should be abolished in all the civilized nations of the world." Two men will be sent, one to debate on each side of the question. The preliminaries are to be held in the Di Hall on the evening of February 26.

This debate is especially important from the standpoint of the University in more ways than one. It is being held under the auspices of the National Literary Society, of Washington, and Carolina will be pitted against such universities as Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Vanderbilt and Kentucky. It is to have an equal standing with the other debates of the year, and the debating council has expressed the desire to have the greatest possible number out.

This is a contest for supremacy in public debating, and the following prizes will be awarded: a gold medal, a silver loving cup, and a one-year scholarship in any American institution.

All the expenses of the debate are to be paid by the National Literary Society.

MEREDITH GIRLS WILL PRESENT PAGEANT HERE

Other Interesting Features Will Be Part of Mission Week Program in March.

"The Two Masters," a pageant by the girls of Meredith College, will be one of the biggest attractions of the Mission Week to be put on March 3, 4 and 5 by the Y. M. C. A. and all the churches of Chapel Hill. The pageant will be given free of charge in Memorial Hall, March 3.

"A trip around the world" is another of the unique features planned for the Mission Week. Each church will take some foreign country and represent it by costumes, curios and decorations. It was first planned to have each country in a different home, but they will all now probably be ranged around the walls of Memorial Hall.

Each church in town is attempting to get its foreign mission board secretary, or some such speaker, here on March 4. Another big speaker is being sought for March 5.

A Civic Club From Counties Is Proposed

The organization of a central council composed of representatives from every county club and to be known as the U. N. C. Civic Club was the suggestion brought up at the regular monthly supper of the Mecklenburg County Club held in the parish house of the Episcopal church last Tuesday night. Such an organization was in existence on the Hill in 1913 according to Yackety Yack records, it was pointed out, and its policy was to control the general activities of all civic organizations, most of which at the present time have no definite policy nor end in view. The subject was laid on the table until the next meeting, however, on account of lack of time to discuss it thoroughly.

Another resolution concerning recommendations for a permanent basketball coach for the team was also carried over until the next meeting on account of the failure of the club to reach a decision, the meeting having been held from 6 to 7 o'clock and it being found necessary to adjourn to attend the Mercer basketball game.

CHEMICAL FRAT INITIATES

The Alpha Chi Sigma, chemical fraternity, initiated the following men last Friday and Saturday night: V. B. Rollins, Henderson; R. R. Suggs, Southern Pines; W. C. Quinby, West Orange, N. J., and S. H. Gotherer, West Orange, N. J.

The trustees met yesterday in Raleigh for their mid-winter meeting.
