THE VERDICT AWAITED

The educational bill will, in all probability, come before the Legislature this week, and the appropriations that will be made by the state to the University and the other educational institutions will be decided.

In spite of the doubt that exists in some quarters over the state's financial status it appears to be the general wish of the state that the Legislature is generous in its gifts to the University and its appropriations for higher educational facilities.

Nobody, of course, wants the Legislature to appropriate more money than the state can afford, and thereby run up the taxes in an alarming increase, but it seems to be generally agreed that, regardless of how well off we are or how poor we are, education is a cause so deserving that there is grave danger in not giving enough for its advancement.

The University is an institution the state should well be proud of. With the money before appropriated by the state it has acted wisely and judiciously, and we have only to look around us not only in Chapel Hill but all over the state and see the fine results of the expenditures.

LOOKS GOOD TO US: Carolina representatives to the Atlanta conference, called for the purpose of organizing the Southern Federation of College Students, report a trip that was thoroughly enjoyable and beneficial to them in many respects.

They also returned very enthusiastic over the project of organizing this federation, and convinced that it will be a fine thing.

There is just cause for such enthusiasm, for there is no doubt but that a federation such as this could do a world of good for all the colleges represented.

We trust the enthusiasm now being registered will not die down, and that the organization will come into a healthy being and be thoroughly active.

COMMUNITY SHOCKED: The death of Mrs. George McKie came as a very great shock to the residents of Chapel Hill and the students and faculty of the University.

NEW VILLAGE PAPER: The Tar Heel welcomes as a contemporary a new weekly newspaper to be published in the village by Professor Louis Graves, head of the Department of Journalism of the University.

MINCE AND COMMENTS: The mysterious writer who signs his articles with the rustic title of "Hay-Shaker" seems to possess more information concerning the past history of the Fetzer brothers than they do themselves.

PROF. DAGGETT ATTENDS ENGINEER INSTITUTE: P. H. Daggett, of the Electrical Engineering department, has been in New York City all of this week attending a meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

POST-OFFICE RUSHED BY CROWD OF STUDENTS: The United States Government post office was forcibly entered Saturday night at a little past nine o'clock by a number of University students following the victory over Trinity.

WARREN INSISTS THAT STUDENTS PAY RENT: The treasurer's office has issued a statement that many rooms on the campus are for rent.

SPORTOGRAPHS

State College and Carolina will play their second game of the season at the gymnasium tomorrow night. Hartsell's five has developed rapidly in the past week and was barely beaten by Wake Forest Saturday.

Virginia leaves on her trip into North Carolina Thursday. Washington and Lee will tackle the Orange and Blue at Charlottesville tonight, after which "Pop" Lannigan's men play V. P. I. at Lynchburg. Trinity at Durham, and wind up their season here Saturday night.

The Old Dominion has defeated V. M. I., West Virginia Wesleyan, and Trinity on her own floor, but lost to Washington and Lee 29 to 19 at Lexington. West Virginia University is the only other team with a victory over the Charlottesville crew, and Carolina will receive stubborn opposition in the last game on the home floor.

Washington and Lee will lose two regulars of this year's quintet by graduation. Captain Schneider and ex-captain Hines have both played their last contest on the Lexington floor, while "Wahoo" McDonald and Snively, substitutes, have also completed their fourth year.

Wake Forest is taking a week's trip through Western North Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. The Baptists close the season Saturday night when they play Trinity at the Angier Duke Gymnasium. Carlyle and Stringfield will participate in their last college basketball game then.

Davidson won from Elon 30 to 24, but was defeated by Guilford 45 to 43 last week. Maize and Crawford have been the only Presbyterians to play consistently all season, and they deserve the bulk of the credit due the Wildcat team.

Mercer and Vanderbilt are pretty well matched. The former gave the Nashville aggregation a licking 32 to 29 and the next night the Commodores were victorious 37 to 35 on the Macon floor.

Coch Alexander, of Georgia Tech, does not expect one of the accepted favorites to win the Southern tourney. His opinion is that good foul shooting will decide the victor, and that the team with an exceptionally accurate shot from the fifteen foot mark will walk off with the laurels.

Kentucky and Georgia are depending on new material this year. Only one man is left from the Kentucky quint that won the tournament in 1921, Dutch Burnham; but he and Reifkin, a little forward who is unusually fast, make their team a dangerous one at all times.

Georgia has the best basketball schedule in the history of that institution. Virginia, Trinity, Maryland, and Carolina will visit Athens, while inter-sectional clashes have been arranged with Yale, Michigan, Dartmouth, and the University of Pennsylvania.

The Red and Black has lost four varsity players from the team that Carolina defeated here last spring. Cody, Boney, Hutchinson, and Frost did not return to school.

At the Trinity-Carolina basketball game Saturday night, E. R. Shirley, president of the Athletic association, presented gold footballs to the coaches and players of the 1922 championship eleven. Those receiving tokens were: Coaches Bill and Bob Fetzer, Dr. R. B. Lawson, Captain Grady Pritchard, Captain-elect Roy Morris, Bill Blount, "Monk" McDonald, Allan McGee, Fred Morris, "Sney" Cochran, Pierce Matthews, "Christ" Fordham, McIver, Poindexter, Tommy Shepard, "Heinie" Lineberger, Jack Merritt, George Sparrow, "Moose" Tenney, and "Gent" Randolph.

PROF. DAGGETT ATTENDS ENGINEER INSTITUTE

P. H. Daggett, of the Electrical Engineering department, has been in New York City all of this week attending a meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Carter Dalton, University alumnus, and at present a prominent lawyer in High Point, was a visitor on the Hill last week.

NORTH CAROLINA MUCH TALKED OF SAYS HOBBS

Associate Editor of News Letter Makes Statement After 3,000 Mile Trip Through Other States.

"North Carolina is attracting more attention throughout the nation than any other Southern state," according to statements from S. M. Hobbs, Jr., of the editorial board of the University "News Letter" who recently completed a 3,000-mile trip in the United States.

"On the Pullman cars, in hotels, at conventions—in fact, almost everywhere the Old North State is being praised and discussed." He declared that a Tar Heel away from his native state is proud of his homeland and is asked many questions about its marvelous achievements.

N. C. CLUB PUTS OUT FARM OWNERSHIP BOOK
