

CHARGED WITH STEALING M'CLELLAND IS PLACED UNDER BOND BY COURT

Former Student Put Through Grilling Trial in Local Court—Evidence Very Conflicting.

ELLIS BROTHERS TESTIFY

Hugh McClelland, erstwhile Carolina student, was placed under $500 bond for his appearance at the next term of Orange county superior court by Mayor Robinson's court last Wednesday afternoon. The charge against McClelland was that "he did take, steal, and convey away from the possession of S. A. Ellis and H. B. Ellis one suit of clothes, two overcoats, one lot of shirts, one lot of socks, one lot of handkerchiefs, and one scarf, receiving the same knowing they were stolen."

Evidence introduced into the trial tended to conflict on many details. The prosecution claimed that the articles above described were taken from room 109, Mangum dormitory, between the hours of 6 and 7:30 last Sunday night while the Ellis brothers were at supper. Chief Long stated that he had seen two boys coming down the street towards the fire house a few minutes after 7 o'clock, one of them had a bunch of clothes under one arm and a traveling bag in the other. He could not positively identify McClelland as the man. About two hours later the Ellis boys came to him with the affair. Moudy McClelland broke a town ordinance by riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, and was placed in jail for it. After lodging McClelland in jail, Chief asked his permission to look in his room. Securing this, the policeman, with S. A. Ellis, made an inspection of McClelland's room over the old Pritchard building. In a traveling bag Ellis found a pile of socks, some of which he absolutely identified as his own, and some as his brother's. He recognized the socks by zinc oxide being on some of the black ones. One of them, a white silk sock, had a red spot on it, caused by some shoe polish which he well remembered getting on it.

Ellis had a conference with McClelland while the latter was in jail. He agreed to pay for part of the stolen goods, but said that he could not return any of the stolen goods. He stated that he was willing to pay for part of the goods in order to keep off publicity.

The defense in its plea of "not guilty" claimed that Hugh McClelland and his roommate, Clyde Shipp, an employe of the Foster Electric Shop, spent the afternoon in Carboro, where they had lunch. They returned to their room about 7 o'clock, washed up, and went to the White House Cafe, where both again ate something. From this point the evidence of McClelland and Shipp differed somewhat. McClelland claimed that Shipp changed clothes and went out to see a girl. He said that he read a

MRS. THOS. L. WILSON DIES AT HER HOME HERE

Mother of University Registrar Passes at Age of Eighty-Four—Community in Sorrow.

The community lost one of its oldest residents when Mrs. Thomas J. Wilson died at her home on Cameron avenue, Saturday morning. Mrs. Wilson was in her 85th year. For several years she has been in poor health and has not been able to take an active part in the affairs of the village. Before her marriage, in 1864, to Dr. T. J. Wilson, a surgeon, she was Miss Margaret Ross, of Hillsboro. She and her husband came to Chapel Hill to live in 1885, where he was a practicing physician until his death in 1904.

The death of Mrs. Wilson is deeply regretted by the University on account of the connection of her family with its faculty. Her son, Dr. Thomas J. Wilson, Jr., is registrar of the University, while her grandson, Thomas J. Wilson III, is instructor in French. Both of them are alumni of Carolina.

Funeral services were held at the Wilson home at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, after which interment took place in the Chapel Hill cemetery.

FRANK COXE, OLD YALE PITCHING ACE, WILL BE IN CAROLINA UNIFORM

Will Be Eligible For Team. Coxe Made Wonderful Baseball Record at Eli.

DEFEATED N. Y. GIANTS

Frank Coxe, former varsity pitcher at Yale, will report to Coach Fetzer when spring training begins about the first of March. Coxe, who is a left-handed twirler, was a mainstay on the mound for Old Eli during three seasons, pitching his last game at New Haven in 1921. Last year he was coach of the Carolina freshman nine, and has pitched in amateur circles for several summers.

While pitching for Yale, Coxe held the New York Giants to a 4-3 victory, defeated Harvard three times, shut out Princeton twice in succession, and won from Virginia, Cornell, Dartmouth, and other strong college teams in the East and South. In 1921 he pitched against Harrison, of Virginia, and won 9 to 1, allowing the Old Dominion but three hits. Another notable performance was his 5 to 1 victory over Waseda University, while the latter was on its famous tour of this country. Coxe pitched to Frisch, Killinger, and other diamond celebrities while they were playing college baseball.

The addition of Coxe to the Blue and White pitching staff will bolster up that department considerably. He should be good for at least six or eight victories during the season if accorded good support. Bryson will be Coach Fetzer's right handed ace, while "Tiek" Moore should develop into a splendid portlander. John Coffey, Bill Ferebee and Coltrane are three other mound artists who may be depended on to deliver the goods if called upon.

CAROLINA MAT ARTISTS VICTORS IN ALL CONTESTS

Tar Heel Wrestlers Down Guilford Men Easily—Captain Poindexter Throws His Opponent in 45 Seconds.

The Carolina wrestling team defeated Guilford in every individual match staged at the Gymnasium Tuesday night—winning 35 to 0. Some of the matches went for seven and eight minutes, but no extra periods were needed for the Blue and White grapplers to pin their opponents' shoulders to the mat.

In the feather weight class, Benny Schwartz threw Connor in 3 minutes and 8 seconds. Vick middle weight, threw Ragsdale in 4 minutes and 30 seconds. Matteson pinned Ferrell's shoulders to the mat in 3 minutes and 5 seconds. Hagan threw Connor, who had previously wrestled Schwartz, in 2 minutes and 47 seconds. Waters threw McDaniel in 3 minutes and 48 seconds. Burk, heavy weight, threw Warrick in 5 minutes and 53 seconds. Captain Poindexter, in the unlimited class, downed Hammond in just 45 seconds.

The method of timing collegiate matches is somewhat different from that used in professional wrestling. The time of a fall does not begin when the opponents step on the mat, but is the time that a player is on the offense before pinning the shoulders of his antagonist to the mat. Thus a player's time begins the moment he is on top. When one wrestler holds both shoulders of his opponent on the mat for three seconds, he gets a "pin fall." The wrestlers start in the fashion of the Romans, which is known as "catch-as-catch-can."

The Tar Heel mat artists will probably meet the State wrestlers at Raleigh tomorrow night. Carolina entrants in the Olympics at Durham last winter won two and tied one match, and have lost only to Trinity. Dr. Lawson stated that admission is charged for the matches here in order to cover the cash guarantee to the visiting teams, as the athletic association does not support wrestling.

William E. Dodd, of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will speak on "Distribution of Goods in the United States" at 7 o'clock tonight in Gerard hall.

CAROLINA TWICE VICTORIOUS OVER STATE AND TEAM NOW IN SHAPE FOR VIRGINIA GAME

With the Atlanta Tournament as Inspiration, the Tar Heels Down State Two Times in Three Days—Strong Virginia Quint Will Be Met Tomorrow.

MONDAY'S GAME

Showing a decided superiority in every department of the game, the Carolina basketballers overwhelmed the N. C. State quint 39 to 9 in a rather slow and listless game in Bynum Gymnasium Monday night. After the first few minutes of play when the Carolina five had trouble locating the basket, the only question was how large the margin of victory would be at the end of the game.

The first counter of the contest came after six minutes of play when Mahler dropped in an easy one near the basket. Previous to this the wearers of the Blue and White had repeatedly worked the ball up the floor only to miss numerous "crips." Then Carmichael scored from the foul line. Johnson of State in turn took advantage of the only foul called on Carolina, and a few moments later he rang up a spectacular basket from near the center of the court. Then the score was deadlocked at 3-3 for several minutes, but finally Captain McDonald's men hit their stride and with Carmichael and McDonald doing the shooting the score was pushed up to 17 before the half was over. During this time State was not able to swell their three points.

The second half opened up with Carolina's machine working more smoothly and before State could score the Blue and White team was on the long end of a 27 to 3 score. Then Johnson located the basket for the second time and incidentally the second time for the State team. "Monk" McDonald and Green did some excellent shooting. McDonald's three counters coming in quick succession.

Carmichael and Captain McDonald were the bright lights for Carolina. Carmichael was responsible for 15 of his team's points, while McDonald added 10. Johnson, the sorrel-topped guard, was the best for State. He contributed five of his team's nine points.

Line-up and summary:

WEDNESDAY'S GAME

By defeating State in Raleigh Wednesday night, 45 to 26, Carolina reduced the remaining games before the Atlanta tournament to one. The Virginia contest here tomorrow night is not only the last appearance of Captain McDonald's five on the local floor, but is also the biggest struggle of the season.

The first half went five minutes before a goal was shot and it was State that got that. The Carolina quint seemed baffled by the State defense and the Auditorium floor and State was in the lead for most of the first period. A rally near the end of the period gave Carolina a one-point lead, 17-16, as the whistle blew.

It was a different Carolina quint that came on the floor at the start of the second half. S. McDonald and Carmichael seemed to find the basket from any angle, and the old pinx of the "Auditorium" faded away into innocuous desuetude.

It was the long shots of State, especially of Curtis, that held Carolina at bay during the first half. In the second period State seemed to lose its accurate eye and the long shots bounced off the backboard harmless. "Monk" McDonald did not cage a ball during the entire game but he was always under Carolina's basket to prevent a follow up "Snowbird" from a long try.

The marvelous foul shooting of Carmichael was another feature of the game. He had 19 opportunities and made 15 of them good, not missing a shot out of six in the last half and making runs of six and eight without a miss. Although Johnson's shooting was interspersed with misses, he shot fairly accurately and made 10 out of 15.

The game started roughly and Referee Kroger called many fouls that resulted in S. McDonald being forced from the game near the end of the second half and forced Johnson and Leeper of State to be very careful of their guarding in the second half. Announcing the fouls and the reason in a loud voice so that all the crowd could hear, Kroger made a very popular referee.

The line-up:

Carolina	Position	State
Green	Right Forward	Johnson
C. McDonald	Left Forward	Leeper
Carmichael	Center	Curtis
A. McDonald	Right Guard	Jeanette
Scoring: Field goals—Green 4, S. McDonald 6, Carmichael 5, Johnson 2, Leeper 1, Curtis 3, Jeanette 2. Foul goals—Carmichael 15 out of 19; Johnson 10 out of 15.
Substitutions: Carolina—Poole for S. McDonald. State—Powell for Wray. Referee: Kroger (O. M. I.)

FIVE DEBATERS CHOSEN FOR TRIANGULAR CONTEST

C. A. Peeler and J. W. Deaton Compose First Team, and V. V. Young and George Hampton the Second.

Five men were chosen to represent the University in the triangular debate with Washington and Lee and Johns Hopkins, set for March 24, in the preliminaries held in the Phi hall last Tuesday night. These men compose two teams. On the first team are C. A. Peeler and J. W. Deaton, while Victor V. Young and George Hampton are on the second. George W. McCoy was elected as alternate. The first team will have the affirmative side of the debate here on March 24. The other team will go to Johns Hopkins, and will uphold the negative there.

The query for this debate reads: "Resolved—That the United States should favor a policy of cancellation of the inter-allied war debts on condition." (Continued on Page Four)

INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT CLASS IS TO TAKE TRIP

Third Annual Inspection Tour Will Carry Students to Large Plants in Durham.

The third annual field trip of the class in industrial management will be taken next Friday, March 2. The class will go to Durham and inspect the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company in the morning and the W. A. Erwin Cotton Mills in the afternoon. At lunch time they will visit the Chamber of Commerce, and the secretary will speak on the problem of bringing new industries to a town.

The purpose of the field trip is to reinforce the theories discussed in class, by observing how they are practically applied in specific cases. The class will follow the entire manufacturing process, from the raw material to the finished product. Special notice will be taken of such things as the general layout. (Continued on page four.)

CAROLINA FRESH UPHOLD THEIR END OF PROGRAM BY BEATING STATE TEAM

Pile Up 51-26 Score Against State College Team in First of Two Games With Rival Frosh.

COBB'S WORK FEATURES

The Tar Heel freshmen carried out their part of the double game program with State College in fine style. All five players put forth by far the best playing they have shown this season. Seldom was State able to carry the ball down the court, and then only to lose it again to the home team's smooth working five-man defense. Many times Buchanan alone stood between the State yearlings and their goal, and yet he would somehow get hold of the ball and send it down the court for Cobb or Yelverton to ring up another basket. State's men, particularly Dickens, put up a determined resistance, but the score 21-11 at the end of the first half showed that they were no match for the brilliant Carolina five.

In the second half the Carolina freshman team played even better than in the first. Jack Cobb, not content with making baskets himself almost at will, tried to share the glory with his team by passing to the other players so as to give them as many chances to score as possible. And the other members did score well. Beside Cobb's ten baskets and seven free throws, Yelverton made five baskets, while Johnson and Devin made three each. For Buchanan the basket seemed to be hooled. He made several pretty shots from out near the middle of the floor, but the ball always rolled around the edge of the basket and refused to go through. His guarding and passing were especially good, though.

Near the end of the second half the home team had piled up such a big lead (Continued on page four.)

CALENDAR-BULLETIN NOW PRINTED BY UNIVERSITY

Calendar Will Be Convenient for Students and Faculty—To Be Posted on Bulletin Boards.

At a recent meeting of the Administrative Group, which holds its meetings in the President's office twice a week, the President appointed a committee to see about the publication of a University Bulletin. The first issue of this new publication came out for this week. The whole front page of the Bulletin is taken up with the calendar of the week. This calendar is open to the use of all the organizations that have anything that they wish to call to the attention of the faculty or students in the way of meetings or lectures and the like. This front page of the mimeographed pamphlet will be posted on all the bulletin boards of the campus so that the student body can see what is going on for the week.

The faculty will be mailed a copy of the Bulletin which, besides serving as a weekly calendar, will serve as a medium through which the members of the faculty can reach the other members. Notices that will pertain to the faculty will be printed on the sheets and will be sent through the mail to the faculty members so that they will get them some time Sunday. The forms for the Bulletin close at 6 p. m. sharp on Friday and all material that is not in the hands of Mr. Currie at the President's office before this time will not be in the Bulletin for the next week.

This piece of work was judged necessary by the administration because of the increased size of the faculty. So far as is known here there are but few institutions that have such a bulletin. Under the old system the faculty could have a meeting at almost any time, but now, due to the increased size of the University, it is a hard proposition to get the faculty together for even several times a year. The same trouble that had arisen on account of the increased size of the student body had become true in a smaller degree to the faculty. It is hoped by those in charge that this novel idea of a medium of thought as well notices would serve to acquaint the various members of the teaching force with each other.

SMOKER COMMITTEE IS NOW PERFECTING STUNTS FOR BIG CAROLINA NIGHT

Schools and Classes Working Hard to Make the Smoker a Success—Date Changed.

WILL BE A MERRY TIME

The committee in charge of the Carolina Smoker has been busily engaged in getting up the stunts for the big night and in perfecting them. According to the interest that is being shown by the schools and classes that are to take part in the stunts the affair will prove a huge success. All the stunts have been arranged and the different ones that are to act in them are practicing their particular stunt with the idea of making it the best one of the night.

The date of the smoker as first announced on March 1 has been changed, due to the fact that President Chase could not be here for the occasion. Accordingly the date has been moved back one night, so it will fall on March 2. The Carolina Playmakers had had an impersonator to come here on that date, but they have consented to either get the date moved up or to have a performance in the afternoon, so that nothing can conflict with the big night of the year.

Only the old men who have attended the Carolina Smokers of the past can know the real college spirit and the fun that is connected with such an affair. However, even the old men cannot recall a smoker that will take on the atmosphere that this one will have. Instead of a disorganized series of stunts, there will be the theme of the favorite pastimes of Carolina men from the very founding of the University to the future year of 1950.

The humorous side of the historical events and customs will be brought to the students that night. There will not be a minute that will not be full of fun and enjoyment. Some of the stunts will be as follows: The coming of the co-eds, by the N. C. Woman's Association; the meeting of the first literary society, by the graduates; the time of enforced morning prayers, by the freshmen; a faculty trial, by the law school, and the recollections of the S. A. T. C. days, by the seniors. These are but a few of the stunts that will be presented.

There will also be eats and then some more eats. On account of the expense of the refreshments on the cost of the hall rent and decorations, there will be an admission. It will be hard for the committee to come out on this amount, but they are being very economical with everything that they can, with the one exception of the eats. The whole affair is already well organized and when the big night rolls around no doubt there will be a big (Continued on page three)

HIGH SCHOOL ELIMINATION SERIES IN FULL SWING

By the First of Next Week the Group Champions Will Have Been Selected.

The basketball series to determine the champions of the state is progressing along nicely. The meeting for the purpose of making out the schedules for the first round of the series has been held, the schools have been arranged, and the first round of elimination games in the several groups in both the east and west has already been passed. According to the schedule, the schools in the east and west were divided up into 14 groups—seven in each section. These groups are now playing their elimination game and by the first of next week at the latest, there will only be seven schools in the east and seven in the west. When this is accomplished the second schedule of the series will be arranged in meetings to be held, one in the east and one in the west.

The schools that are now still in the run as far as can be learned at the time this goes to the press are given below:
