

BAPTISTS BOW IN DEFEAT AS TAR HEEL SLUGGERS HIT THE OLD AGATE HARD AND OFTEN

Defeat for Baptist Nine Places Fetzter's Men in Running for Tie in State Championship.

HEAVY HITTING CONTEST

Wake Forest Team Was Weakened Somewhat by Absence of Stringfield and Clarke.

The University's championship aspirations cast off its swaddling clothes and out on full-fledged long pants last Thursday when the Tar Heels completely snowed Wake Forest under by a score of 13 to 6 on Gore Field before a good-sized crowd attending the Wake Forest commencement.

The Baptist nine was considerably crippled by the absence of Stringfield and Clarke who had left college before the finals to enter professional baseball.

Bryson held forth on the mound for the first five innings and yielded only one hit while his team mates were piling up a total of nine runs. With the game safely on ice, Coach Bill sent in Ferebee to take some exercise. He traveled at an easy gait and gave the Wake Forest team seven hits in four innings which all resulted in a sum total of six runs.

Two runs were chalked up in the first inning by Carolina. McDonald made first safely on error and was sent to second when Bonner was walked. He then stole third and Bonner lost no time in pilfering second. Morris singled and brought in Monk. Bonner went to third on a passed ball and came home on the next play. A good old timey boss race was staged in the second when exactly seven men were eased across the plate by the University nine. Stanley Johnson, who beat the Tar Heels on Emerson Field on May 8 and thereby earned his reputation as a good pitcher, was knocked completely from the box in that glorious inning when he was struck in the head by the rest of the team. The other runs were shovelled across in the fourth, seventh and eighth. "Mule" Shirley christened Gore Field with its first and only home run of the year in the fourth canto.

The Wake Forest score was not quite so prolific. She jumped on Ferebee in the sixth and hung up four counters, and tried to make folks believe that she was staging a sure enough rally in the ninth when two runs were made. However

OXFORD STUDENT PAYS VISIT TO UNIVERSITY

Kenneth Lindsey, Young Englishman, is Favorably Impressed With American Institutions and Customs.

Kenneth M. Lindsey, an Oxford University student and debater, stopped over in Chapel Hill for a few days last week for the purpose of inspecting the Commerce School. Mr. Lindsey came to America on a debating trip, expecting to stay only two weeks but he was so impressed with American institutions and customs that he decided to stay longer and has remained already eight months.

Aside from debating, Mr. Lindsey's chief interest is in Worker's Educational work and he proved himself to be well informed on this line as he made several interesting talks to classes in Economics and also one in Chapel.

Mr. Lindsey served three years in the World War, after which he went to Oxford where he immediately became a leader having been president of the Labor Club and also of the Oxford Union—two of the most important organizations at Oxford.

His chief interest lies in Economics and Industry and while here he made several interesting discussions of both these topics from a broad and inclusive point of view. Mr. Lindsey also touched on the political situation of England and Europe as a whole. Along this line he also proved to be well informed and he made a very favorable impression by his clear cut style and easy flowing humor.

Being somewhat of an idealist he advanced a theory of International Athletics through which he believed that the instinct of rivalry between nations could be vented instead of war. Such original ideas as this, some of which were more practical, caused Mr. Lindsey to be regarded as one of the most clever speakers which has appeared in chapel this year. He certainly shows good promise of a future leader in the Isles.

RAPER ELECTED TO THE PRESIDENCY OF SOCIETY

W. J. Cocks is Elected Vice President on Second Ballot—A. L. Groce Gets Secretary's Job.

The elections of next year's officers was held in the Di Society last Saturday night. The whole time was taken up in electing officers and winding up the Society's business for the past year.

Immediately after the reading of the minutes President J. M. Brown threw the ball open for nominations for next year's president. At once a half dozen fellows leaped to their feet, each clamoring for recognition. C. B. Yarley first succeeded in getting the President's acknowledgement and, with a very ludicrous speech, nominated himself for the job. Two others were nominated, A. F. Raper and E. H. Hartsell, but Hartsell withdrew, leaving the field to Raper and Peeler, the former winning by a large majority.

When the time for the election of Vice-President came there was even more superabundance shown over the nominations, and it was necessary for the President to make three attempts before he was able to make the announcement, and even then it was necessary for him to do so while two men were on their feet shouting for recognition.

Those nominated were: W. J. Cocks, J. W. Dayton, White Linker, and C. L. Justice. On the first vote Justice and Linker were dropped, and Cocks was elected on the second.

Taylor Bledsoe, A. L. Groce, George Stevens, Jr., and Lineberger, were nominated for Secretary. Groce was elected on the second vote.

The other offices were filled in short order, and with fewer clashes of political bosses than was apparent in the first three elections. Bledsoe and Stevens were elected first and second. Custors Mortum respectively. C. L. Justice was elected for Recorder of the Constitution Committee, and C. R. Jones was elected recorder of the Finance Committee without opposition. For Custodian of Documents, L. M. Gudger was nominated, withdrew, then accepted, and won over Homer Coltrane. C. L. Haney was elected first Corveter, and Lineberger second.

Then, after hearing from various committees, finding delinquent members, and giving up all interest in the Carolina Magazine, the summary of the meeting was read by the Secretary and the Di Society was adjourned until the opening of school next fall.

NEW CREDITS GIVEN

The faculty of the College of Liberal Arts recently voted to grant credit for beginning German (German 1-2), toward the A. B. degree, upon the same basis as credit for Greek 1-2 has been allowed since the beginning of the winter quarter of this year. To count as degree credits and to absolve a part of the language requirement, German 1-2 must be followed by three other courses in the language. This takes effect with the summer quarter of 1923.

At the same time it was voted to grant Geology 1-2 the same standing toward fulfilling the freshman-sophomore science requirement as is now given to Chemistry 1-2, Physics 1-2, Zoology 1-2, and Botany 1-2.

Messrs. Carl Barefoot, Marvin Everett, and J. E. Powell spent last week end in Raleigh with some of their friends.

AMID GAY AND COLORFUL CROWD THE SATYRS SPOT THEIR CHOSEN MEMBERS

The Annual Carnival Given by the Dramatic Order of Satyrs Is Huge Success.

ORIGINAL COSTUMES SEEN

Multi-robed sheiks, John Barleycorns, Spanish maidens, the Gold Dust Twins—all laughed and danced together amid a riot of color and costumes at the Satyr Carnival Friday night in Bynum gymnasium. The dancing lasted from nine until one thirty, interspersed with several added attractions.

Unlike the previous carnivals, there was no overabundance of vaudeville. The dances, "A Vision of Salome," by Mlle Oisette Galli-Gazzari called for repeated encores.

At twelve thirty was held the grotesque but impressive figure of the Dramatic Order of Satyrs. The "spotting" of new members was effected in an unusual way, accompanied by the guttural shouts of the appropriately dressed Satyrs. Those spotted and "consigned to Hades" were: E. H. Hursey, Theodore Livingstone, J. Owen Woodside, H. W. Boone, J. E. Hawkins, Carl Barefoot, Katherine Batts (honorary) Elizabeth Taylor (honorary), and from the faculty, Paul John Weaver and Archibald Henderson.

Music for the dancing, figure and exhibition dance was furnished by the Carolina Club Orchestra, who played better than ever, keeping up their reputation as the best of college orchestras.

The enjoyment was heightened by an unexpected number of visiting girls. The costumes were unusually original and well-designed.

GARBER-DAVIS WILL BE HERE AT THE FINAL DANCE

This Will Be the First Time That the Famous Garber-Davis Orchestra Has Been Heard Here.

Garber-Davis will be here for the Commencement Ball this year. This orchestra has never been in Chapel Hill before, but there are few if any Carolina boys who do not know what kind of music Jan Garber and his music club puts out. For the past half dozen years this orchestra has held the undisputed leadership among the dance orchestras of the south. It has also had a tremendous success in the North.

For a long time it has been the desire of the student body to have Jan and his original jazz bounds on the hill but somehow there has always been a slip and the popular orchestra has always gone elsewhere.

The gymnasium is to be decorated in the Carolina Victory Colors. Again the most expert decorators in the section will visit Chapel Hill to make a lovely ball room where Dr. Lawson trains his charges. The blue and white of Carolina will be used to dress it up.

Six dances will be given on June 14 and 15. A. M. "Munk" MacDonald, Chief Ball Manager, with Miss Eugenia Goodall will lead the Commencement Ball. Assisting Ball Managers are: James Thomas Barnes with Miss Mildred Barnes; Alan Marshall McGee with Miss Mary Giles Bellamy; Thomas Turner, Jr. with Miss Elizabeth Nolan; Silas Martin Whedbee with Miss Frances Whedbee; James Thomas Little with Miss Martha Best; and Howard Holderness with Miss Margaret Huske.

The Commencement Marshals are from the rising senior class. They are: Thomas Alexander Burns, George Young Ragsdale, John Vernon Ambler, William Fletcher Somers, Henry Abel Lineberger, Zachariah Thomas Fortesque, and James Edwin Woodard, chief.

These dances will all be given under the auspices of the German Club. They will be given for the students of the University and the alumni. For the first time this year the freshmen will be allowed to put aside their freshness and enter without gainsay the world of grand sophistication. German Club members are asked to pay all dues immediately so that the club can have some funds to work with.

These are always the best dances of the year. They undoubtedly will be better than ever this year. Every effort is being made towards this end by the managers and marshals.

FACULTY SANCTIONS NEW FRATERNITY REGULATIONS BY A UNANIMOUS VOTE

Ruling by Faculty is a Significant Step Toward Raising Standard of Fraternities on Campus.

SCHOLARSHIP STRESSED

Probably one of the most significant rulings of the faculty was made last Friday when it passed unanimously the petition in regard to fraternity regulations as set forth and recommended in outline form by the Pan Hellenic Council. This ruling is significant because it promises to revolutionize the policies of the social organizations of the campus,—in revolutionizing not to effect a complete change, but make the policies of fraternities more well balanced.

In brief, the ruling states that a freshman becomes eligible to join a fraternity at the beginning of the spring quarter, provided, he has passed on as many as five whole courses in the University and has made at least two thirds on two of these five courses. Special and professional students become eligible under the same conditions as academic students. A student with advanced standing from another approved college or University becomes eligible after his registration for the second quarter, provided, he has on record a credit of seven whole courses, on two of which he must have made a grade of three (or C) or better. Any student may be pledged after he has registered for the second quarter. The regulations follow:

Students may join fraternities after registration at the opening of any regular quarter or term if eligible under the (Continued on Page Four)

PRELIMINARIES HELD FOR COMMENCEMENT DEBATE

C. A. Peeler and W. F. Somers to Represent the Di, and C. E. Spencer and Z. T. Fortesque the Phi.

The preliminaries for the Commencement debate, which is an annual contest between the two literary societies during Commencement Week, were held last Friday night. The question for debate this time is, Resolved, "That France was justified in invading the Ruhr." The Di has the affirmative while the Phi will advance the negative of the query.

In the contest in the Di Society C. A. Peeler and W. F. Somers went out, while C. E. Spencer and Z. T. Fortesque, Jr., were chosen to represent the Phi Assembly. These men will meet in debate in what is generally recognized as one of the most important debates on the Hill. The occasion of the debate itself indicates its importance. The time is when all the old alumni members of the two rival societies are out to bear their respective team. The rivalry between the two societies was once much greater and made itself more manifest than at the present, and this rivalry still exists in the spirits of the old members of these organizations.

Not only is there an old sentiment connected with this particular debate that makes it such an honor to be selected, but there is a handsome medal offered to the best speaker of the debate. This is the Bingham medal, which has been given annually for many years. Last year the medal was won by Victor V. Young, representative of the Phi Assembly. It is one of the most coveted of all medals given in college.

PUBLIC WELFARE SCHOOL IS ACTIVE NATIONALLY

The University School of Public Welfare has recently taken an active part in a discussion of the American Association of Training Schools for Professional Social Work. At the time of admittance two years ago, Carolina was one of the earliest Universities to be admitted to membership in the Association.

Some of the other large Universities that are now members are: Bryn Mawr College, University of Chicago, Johns Hopkins University, University of Minnesota, University of Missouri, Ohio State University, University of Oregon, University of Southern California, University of Toronto.

Warning has been given that drastic measures are to be taken to stop the practice of giving bad checks and that future offenders are to be punished fully by the town authorities.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Student Publications Board announces that the position of Business Manager of the Tar Heel is still open to all students, irrespective of class affiliations. Applications for the office on a salary and commission basis will be received by any member of the board until midnight, Thursday. Only one application has yet been received.

PRESIDENT APPOINTS THE TWO FACULTY MEMBERS

Professors Hibbard and Matherly Are the Men Appointed to Serve on Publications Board.

Following President Chase's appointment of faculty representatives on the Student Publications Board, the first meeting of that body was held Thursday night and tentative methods of procedure in handling the various periodicals were decided upon. Prof. Walter J. Matherly, of the School of Commerce, and a member of the special committee which thoroughly investigated the financial and editorial organization of college publications throughout the country, is permanent treasurer of the board. Prof. C. A. Hibbard, formerly an instructor in journalism here and now Associate Professor of English, will serve as secretary. Both men received practical experience in the field of collegiate publications during their undergraduate days, and are well-fitted for membership on the board.

This recently organized body is holding a series of conferences with business managers of the Carolina Magazine and Yackety Yack in an effort to estimate the exact financial status of these publications for 1923-24, and to agree upon a satisfactory basis of compensation for the managers. Bids are being received from prospective business managers of the Tar Heel, and it will probably be several days before that position is filled. Members of the board believe that more dignity and honor should be attached to managerial duties on the student periodicals than has been evident in the past, and the highest type of business man is what they are after.

The business managers will be required to keep systematic records of receipts and expenditures, and thus eliminate the possibility of inefficiency in matters of finance. While economy will be practiced in business administration, student publications of the coming year will be up to standard in printing and general composition.

Blue Ridge Delegation Will Break Precedent

Carolina's Blue Ridge delegation for this year promises to be a record breaker. Sixty-seven men are already on the list, in addition to several more who have not definitely decided, making in all at least seventy-five. Chairman C. A. Holsinger says that there is still a scarcity of athletes on the delegation, and urges especially that men go who could represent Carolina on the track, swimming, tennis and baseball teams.

The conference is to begin about June 12th and will last nine or ten days. The total cost for the trip will be about $30, or perhaps even less, as the railroad gives special rates, and several men are planning to make the trip by automobile, taking passengers at a low price. The "Y" office or any member of the Blue Ridge committee will be glad to give any other information that prospective delegates may wish.

DARGAN GETS LEAVE

Dr. H. M. Dargan, of the English department, has obtained a year's leave of absence to travel and study in England. He leaves for New York early this summer, where he will probably spend a few weeks before sailing. As no announcement has been made concerning his work, it is not known who will take charge of his classes and the secretarial duties of the department. However, it is very likely that Dr. Thrall will succeed him in teaching English.

LEONARD TO DURHAM "Y"

Grady H. Leonard, who is receiving his B. S. degree in chemistry this June, and who has been connected with the University Y. M. C. A. for the past three years, has been offered a position as assistant secretary of the Durham Y. M. C. A. Leonard has accepted and plans to join them about June 15th.

PHI SOCIETY SMOKER IS THE SCENE OF SPIRITED EXTEMPORANEOUS DEBATE

Judge Winston and Prof. Horace Williams Have Discussion as to Penalty of Success.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

(By J. OSLER BAILEY)

Judge R. W. Winston and Prof. H. H. Williams, armed, intrenched, and battling with heavy artillery, presented such a spectacle in debate at the Phi Assembly Smoker as has not been seen in many a day, and probably never will be seen again. Experience and Conviction, under the able generalship of the Judge, led the assault to the very citadel of all that Prof. Horace Williams stands for in the University. Logic and Syllogism responded with a withering fire. It was a holocaust of giants; a struggle of the gods. The mere members of the Assembly sat on the edges of their seats, chewing and swallowing five-cent stogies. It seemed as if the pictures on the walls had stepped down for a season to struggle again, in their grim, majestic way.

The Smoker was the first Phi has held in several years; financial difficulties have prevented the holding of a smoker in recent years. This year, however, due to the heavy burden being lifted off the societies when the student body passed the debate fee, the treasury emerged several hundred dollars to the good, and the Assembly decided to spend a hundred or two on a good, round feed.

The first part of the evening was given over to the election of officers for the Fall quarter, 1923. The officers elected were as follows: Speaker, George Hampton; Speaker Pro-tem, Fred Parker; Sergeant-at-arms, Richard Thorpe; Reading Clerk, M. M. Young; Treasurer, J. H. Price; Assistant Treasurer, J. E. Mann; Reporter, M. M. Young; Ways and Means Committee, C. E. Spencer, chairman, J. O. Bailey, and W. M. Saunders; Chairman of Appellate Committee, D. L. Ward.

Speaker Jerigan then lifted the lid, Speaker Jerigan then lifted the lid roof on," he said. After that, the fun began. A course in chicken salad, sandwiches and punch was served, to the great delight of everyone present. During this, one of the old Phi members, now Alumni Secretary, Dan Grant, made a few appropriate remarks. Then with a short introduction by Speaker Jerigan, Judge Winston rose to speak. Everyone expected a goodly store of jokes, but the

MULE SHIRLEY TO ENTER PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL

Star First Baseman on Tar Heel Nine Will Play With Either Raleigh or Norfolk.

Will "Mule" Shirley, star first baseman on the University team for the last two years, desert collegiate ball to enter the ranks of professionalism? Just now this question is causing much concern on the campus due to reports circulating among state papers that Shirley will report to the Raleigh club of the Piedmont League on June 15.

The news blazed out last week when manager "Duke" Duncan, of Raleigh, announced that Shirley would report at the end of the college season and take charge of the initial sack. The Raleigh team has been in pretty bad straits lately and has only recently moved up to fifth place following a long stay in the cellar. Immediately after the announcement that the Carolina first sacker was coming to join his crew, Duncan put former first baseman Alexander on the bench with intentions of discharging him, and delegated scrub catcher Sessions to cover first until Shirley reports.

When approached by a Tar Heel reporter, Friday, Shirley stated that he had not as yet decided whether he will or will not join the Raleigh team. He is signed up with the Norfolk Club of the Virginia League but has been given permission by Manager Clarke to report to Raleigh if he so desires. Duncan has been working after Shirley persistently for quite a while to come down to bolster up and inject some spirit into his team. Shirley has played three years of ball at Carolina, his first year in the field and the last two as first baseman. Besides his remarkable record as a baseball player he has been prominent in campus life and has also been picked by many as the probable successor to Roy Morris as captain of next year's team.
