

Sircent's Column

An unfair and unjust prejudice, it seems to me, against General A. J. Bowley might be aroused by the article in the Tar Heel of February 8th. I am reliably informed that Mr. Young, the reporter who turned in the article, had just interviewed Mr. Snell, when he wrote it. Naturally he may have been somewhat biased in his point of view after the talk with Mr. Snell, who had the unfortunate controversy with the Fort Bragg Army Commander at the Commercial Secretaries' meeting in Raleigh on February 2nd. I can make no statement as to what took place at this meeting; but being acquainted with General Bowley as I am, I have no doubt that certain features of the affair were due to the vigor of his belief in the danger of much present-day radicalism.

General Bowley is deeply sincere in his belief that the Communist organization in Russia, which is admittedly the power in control of Soviet Russia, has been and is now spending millions of dollars in the United States to undermine our government and established institutions. From the State Department and other high sources there is proof of this contention that would establish it as a fact in a competent court of justice. The General is probably right in that a great many of the more or less socialistic measures like the minimum wage, the Federal education bill, and the Federal Child labor amendment are fostered by the Communists, as well as by many good citizens. Most of us not being as vigorous by nature as General Bowley, and probably a little more philosophical, refuse to become excited over the Sovietists overthrowing the Republic. It is interesting to note, by the way, that the General sounded very much like a Southern states rights Democrat in denouncing these measures.

As to the accusation that colleges are hot beds of radicalism, I have heard General Bowley make several speeches on this subject, and he generally makes it plain that there is radicalism of an un-American nature in many of our colleges. A little time and study would give plenty of facts to bear out this contention. We in the South do not realize the un-American character of great masses of the population in the Northern and Middle Western states. From this source, largely, pernicious doctrines have come that tend to undermine everything that has gone to make this great republic of ours. Men who have no love for America have made their way, in some instances, to the faculties of colleges and universities—in some cases to state institutions. It is to call attention to this fact that General Bowley is so vigorous in his statements.

Since entering West Point as a California lad in his upper teens, Bowley has spent thirty years in the service of his country. During the World War he made an enviable record as an artillery commander in France. He is not only a distinguished soldier, but at Fort Bragg he is showing interest and leadership in the arts of peace. The reforestation work there, the farm, dairy, and similar activities have caused widespread commendation throughout the State.

Since he became Commander of Fort Bragg several years ago no man has worked harder to develop North Carolina than has General Bowley. On every proper occasion he has put the resources at his command at the disposal of the communities in the State. General Bowley is a great asset to North Carolina.

While not meaning to disparage anyone, Mr. Editor, I trust and feel sure that students and faculty alike will give this straight-forward American a fair hearing when he makes his appearance here next Monday;

A SUGGESTION

Those who have to sit in Chapel every day of the week, and also the visitors, who attend the concerts, and the recitals, held in Memorial Hall are often wont to comment upon the most uncomfortable arrangement of the seats. Doubtless some seven hundred or more men have often thought some very unkind things regarding the work in general because the seats are so close together. Why is it that as large as is Memorial Hall, and as much empty space as there is between the last seat and the wall that the seats can not be moved back some few inches, even six inches each would help a great deal, and would add an untold amount of comfort to visitors, and to those who have to attend Chapel.

This is a small favor to ask of Mr. Birch or of Dean Bradshaw. Let us all hope that if they do not attend to it that the Freshman Class will voluntarily re-space the seats, so that one can at least sit without having to tie ones self into a knot.

This is written simply as a suggestion, and with the hope that some one who is in charge will see it and let action, voice its reception. With thanks for the use of this space. And hoping for results.
T. C. QUICKEL,

Father: "Good heavens, son, how you do look!"

Son: "Yes, father, I fell in a mud puddle."

Father: "What And in your Finchley suit, too?"

Son: "Yes, Father, I didn't have time to take it off."

SANFORD VS. CAROLINA

In a listless basketball game the University freshmen waded through Sanford High School Monday night in the "tin can" to the tune of 25 to 16. Neither team showed any great amount of flash although the collegians outplayed the high schoolers throughout the whole of the contest. Many substitutions were made by Coach Sam McDonald during the game.

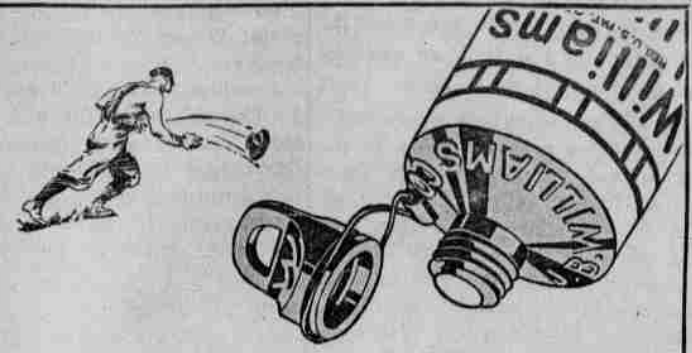

Makepeace played the best game for the Sanford team although he was closely followed by H. Byerely. These two players showed promise of developing into good players. Both were fast and good shots. They accounted for all but two points of Sanford's score, Makepeace getting four field goals and one foul and H. Byerely, two field goals and one free toss.

For the freshmen Calhoun lead the scoring with five field goals. Hackney with six points to his credit came next. Carmichael shot two field goals although he was in the game but a short while.

The line-up:

Carolina Fresh. 25	Sanford High 16	Pearsall	L. G.	Williamson
R. F.	Makepeace (9)	Carolina: Howell, Godwin, Royster, Carmichael (4), Wilson.
Morton (3)	L. F.
Dill (2)	Jones (2)
Calhoun (10)	Byerely, F.
Hackney (6)	Byerely, H. (5)

You won't fumble this cap!

Professional jugglers could handle the old-style shaving cream caps and never once drop one down the drain or under the bath tub. But for most of us, this new Williams Hinge-Cap puts an end to an ancient nuisance.

Williams Shaving Cream is just as much pleasanter to use as is the Hinge-Cap. It softens the beard with uncanny speed. The thicker lather holds the moisture in against the skin where it is needed. This lather lubricates the skin, too, so that painful razor friction is eliminated. And when your shave is done, that famous ingredient in Williams which helps the skin, leaves your face cool, soothed and refreshed. No coloring matter is used in Williams—it is a pure, natural-white shaving cream.
