

HEAVY DEBATING SCHEDULE AHEAD IN SPRING TERM

Two Varsity Triangles and Two Dual Debates Booked for the Spring

NEED SEVERAL TEAMS

Carolina debaters will have a full schedule for the next quarter, according to the secretary of the Debating Council, J. W. Deyton.

Two varsity triangle debates are scheduled while two dual debates are also booked. Besides these there will be several oratorical contests and several freshman debates. The first triangle is the same as the one last year and the year before, with Washington and Lee, Johns Hopkins University and North Carolina as members. This debate has been booked for April 25th, subject to the approval of Johns Hopkins, Washington and Lee having already agreed to this date. The preliminaries will be held on April 3rd. Two two-man teams will be chosen at that time; the affirmative will debate at home while the negative will meet Johns Hopkins at Baltimore. Speeches on the preliminaries will be limited to five minutes with a rebuttal of three minutes. This is in accordance to the policy adopted by the Council at an earlier meeting this year.

The subject for the first triangle has already been chosen. It will be "Resolved That the Constitution should be so amended as to prohibit further issue of tax exempt securities." A number of men have signified their intention of going out for this debate and several have begun work on their preliminary speeches. Last year each team in the triangle won once and lost once. The same was true of the year before.

The big triangle or the Southern triangle as it has been termed consists of Tulane University, Sewanee and North Carolina. The date for this debate has been set at May 2nd. The preliminaries have not been set as yet but will be as soon as the subject can be decided. Each school submits to the other two a couple of subjects and then these are voted

Dormitory Club Has Enjoyable Meeting

The Carolina Dormitory Club held its meeting for the winter quarter in the Presbyterian Church social rooms Monday night. After reviewing the usual business, the club heard a short talk by President Chase, then enjoyed a delicious oyster supper.

President Chase made his address on that phase of unification of the University which most interested the club, that is, development of a common spirit through working together as small units, dormitories. He suggested that the club study systematically some method of building up university spirit by means of dormitory spirit. The President complimented the club on its excellent work in advancing general athletics and in aiding in the rapid assimilation of freshmen.

John Purser, Business Secretary-Treasurer of the club, announced that the championship basketball game would be played soon on the varsity court and that the finals in wrestling and boxing will be held shortly. Next quarter, tennis, "peggy," indoor baseball, track, and a continuation of soccer will be pushed into the intramural sports. Other sports will be provided if the demand for them is great enough. The work of the club in fostering intra-mural athletics cannot be overestimated, and if the work for the remainder of this year is as successful as that of last quarter and this quarter the intra-mural sports will be carried over next year without fail.

A motion was passed by the club that a recommendation be sent to Mr. C. T. Woollen and to President Chase requesting that metal wastepaper baskets be placed in every room. President Chase said that he thought that this could be arranged.

Attractively arranged booklets prepared by President Linker were presented to the club. This booklet, called the "Roster of Carolina Club Dormitory," contains a descriptive prelude, the names of honorary members of the club, and the names of officers.

CAROLINA CAGERS DOUBLE SCORE ON KENTUCKY FIVE

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 29.—Two former conference basketball champions met in today's last game in the S. I. C. tournament and North Carolina defeated the University of Kentucky 41-20. Carmichael and Cobb, Carolina's forwards, supported by extraordinary team work brought victory to the Tar Heel team.

The line-up follows:
Kentucky (20) North Carolina (41)
Position:
McFarland (6) Carmichael (14) Right Forward
Underwood (2) Cobb (17) Left Forward
Millard (8) Dodderer (0) Center
King (2) McDonald (6) Right Guard
Rice (0) Devin (2) Left Guard
Substitutions for Kentucky: Hughes, Ruskin (2).
Substitutions for North Carolina: Johnson (2).

Tar Heels Are to be Delivered on Campus

Beginning the first of next week, the Post Office will commence the delivery of mail to the various dormitories. Two deliveries will be made each day, the morning round distributing the early morning mail and that of the night before. The afternoon mail will handle the mail coming in on the noon train.

From now on Chapel Hill Office will adhere strictly to postal regulations and will allow only one occupant to a box. In those cases in which there are two or three to the box it will be necessary that two shall vacate and if the postmaster is not notified who is to hold the box, two of the occupants will be arbitrarily checked off.

In order to assure prompt delivery of the Tar Heels to the students, the circulation department has decided to inaugurate its own room to room delivery beginning with the issue of next Tuesday. Heretofore there has been considerable delay in getting the Tar Heels to the students due to the inability of the post office to handle the great number of papers that are sent out twice a week. In order to prevent any further delay and in order to get the papers to the students while the news is still hot, Circulation Manager, Bill Way, Jr. announced Friday his determination to facilitate delivery by this new system.

In addition to giving the students the Tar Heels fresh from the press the proposition opens up a new field for self-help men. Bids for delivery deliveries of these papers will be received by Mr. Way either at his room No. 21 Steele or through the mail, box 654. Since it is necessary to begin this town and dormitory with next Tuesday's issue, it is desired that bids be sent in at once so as to perfect the necessary plans, the first propositions submitted being given preference over later ones. According to Mr. Way any information desired may be secured by calling on him at his room.

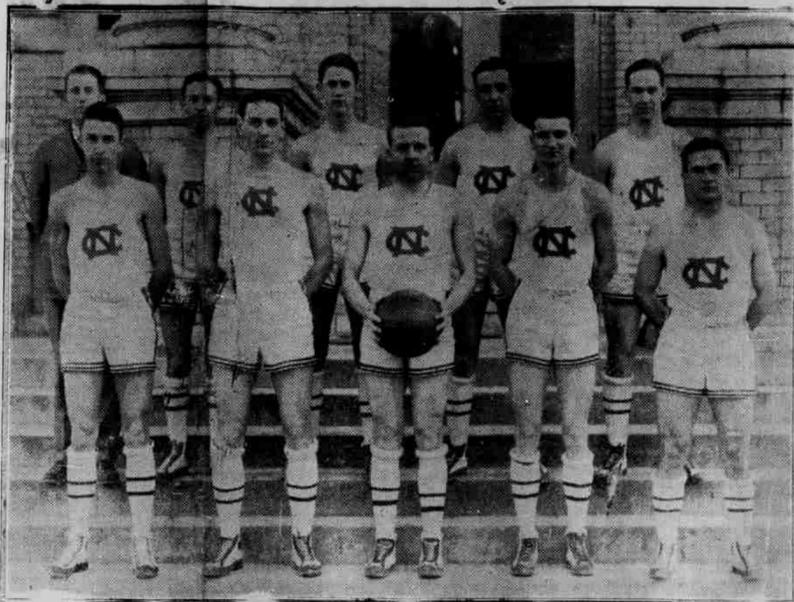

TEAMS FOR FRESHMAN INTERCOLLEGIATE CHOSEN

Try-outs for the freshman intercollegiate triangular debate with Wake Forest and Davidson were held Tuesday night and two three-man teams were selected by the judges, J. A. Williams, R. L. Cook and B. P. Clark were selected to uphold the affirmative, while Hilliard Greenwood, C. A. Boswell and T. E. Clemons were chosen to defend the negative.

The query to be discussed is "Resolved That the Philippine Islands be given their immediate and complete independence." The debate is scheduled for April 11th, but will probably be moved up a week or back a week because of the conflict with the High School debate for the Aycock cup which will be held here on the night of April 11th.

The annual fresh-soph debates between the two societies will not be held next Saturday night having been postponed to April 8th.

Believing that teachers have great power to stimulate and develop musical appreciation in the community, the City Symphony Orchestra of New York admits free to its concerts all members of the teaching and supervising staff of the public schools of the city.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA BASKETBALL SQUAD

The Tar Heel quint left Thursday for Atlanta to enter the S. I. A. A. tournament which begins tonight. The team has made a wonderful showing this season having won every game on its schedule and thereby clinching both the state and South Atlantic championships. With their flashy passing, accurate goal shooting and snappy team work they should stand a good chance to win the Southern title. Front row (left to right) Cobb, forward; Dodderer, center; Captain Green, forward out of game with injured knee; Carmichael, forward; McDonald, guard.

PROFESSOR ROSS WEIL LECTURER

University of Wisconsin Professor Delivers Lecture Series Here April 11-13

One of the most important series of lectures given at the University in many a day will be the Weil Lectures for 1924 given by Edward Alsworth Ross, Professor of Sociology of the University of Wisconsin under the title "Roads to Social Peace." Like Woodrow Wilson in his "The Road Away From Revolution" Professor Ross sees the greatest need of the age to be that of making the world safe from revolution, as well as safe for democracy.

Professor Ross is especially well fitted to give these lectures, having been for many years a careful student of social and civic problems in this country and having a very wide experience in travel and study in other nations. He is now preparing a text-book on Teaching of Citizenship and is the author of more than a score of standard volumes with wide circulation. Some of his books are: "Social Control," "Social Psychology," "The Foundation of Sociology," "Sin and Society," "The Changing Chinese," "Changing America," "The Old World and The New," "South of Panama," "What is America," "The Social Trend," "Russia in Upheaval," "Russian Bolshevik Revolution,"

Cobb Leads Scoring; Carmichael Follows

One hundred and ten field goals and seventy two foul goals, making a total of 292 points is the record of Jack Cobb, star forward on the basketball team. This is believed here to be a state record if not a southern record. Cobb, who hails from Durham, has been considered one of the best basketball players in the South this year, and his record of points goes to prove this fact.

Cartwright Carmichael, also from Durham, trailed his fellow-townsmen one hundred points. He scored 79 field goals and 34 free shots, totaling 192 points. This is Carmichael's last year on the Tar Heel team and one of his most successful. He has been one of the big guns of the University quint for four years.

"Monk" McDonald comes third in scoring honors, the diminutive guard scoring 129 points for the season. He caged 44 field goals and 31 foul goals in the nineteen games in which he took part.

Captain Winton Green scored 95 points in twelve games. An injury to his leg kept Green out of practically one half of his team's games. His average was almost eight points a game.

Billy Devin, who has played in only ten full games, comes fifth with twenty one field goals and ten foul goals for a total of 52 points. Dodderer came next with twenty field goals and eight foul shots, making 48 points.

The other points of Carolina's total of 824 for the season were made by Johnson, Poole, and Koontz, substitutes.

The records of Carmichael and Cobb are outstanding. The two men together scored 484 points in twenty-two games, which is quite a record for two men on the same team.

The figures do not include any of the games played in the southern intercollegiate tournament.

CHARLOTTE MEETING

An interesting group meeting will be that held in Charlotte of the Teachers of Sociology in Southern colleges which is being called by the Department of Sociology of the University of North Carolina on March 25th and 26th to meet in conjunction with the State Conference of Social Work. Representatives will be present from Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Tennessee. They will discuss matters of research and Southern problems, the establishment of more scholarships and fellowships similar to those of the enlargement of departments, and in institutions in other sections of the country.

PROCLAIMS FRESH SNOW CHAMPIONS

First Snow in Two Years Finds Campus Ready for Snow Fight

By L. A. Crowell

Innumerable black eyes, bruised and swollen faces and hands, in addition to scores of broken window glasses and cauliflower ears is the result of the most terrific snow battle held on the University campus in years.

After a snow of about nine or ten hours and the ground had been covered by a snowfall of about three inches, the campus offered a perfect opportunity for the annual freshman-soph combat. There was no snow last year, and therefore no battle, but Wednesday's battle more than made up for the lost one. The battle did not confine itself to any one locality, but was fought all over the campus. Scarcely was there a spot anywhere where the snow was left smooth. Blood stains were numerous in spots where the battle waged the hottest.

The first of the battle, or war, may be said to have started in front of the post office about dinner time Wednesday. A band of fun-seeking sophs assembled themselves there and made life miserable for every person who came into their sight who resembled a freshman in any way.

A number of chastised freshmen smarting under their punishment, determined to take revenge on their persecutors and anyone else who dared to oppose them. About two or three hundred of them gathered around the well, formed a union and went on the war path towards the post office. However, when they reached there, all the sophs had dispersed and they found themselves an enemy.

In the meantime, the sophs, having seen the gathering of the freshmen, gathered also around the well and took their stand, securing every man available.

After giving a few rousing yells and cheers the frosh set out up Franklin street, turned into Columbia and proceeded to Swain Hall, where they called a halt to rest and draw up a plan of battle. During this time their numbers had been increased by many volunteers. Under the capable leadership, the fresh presently began to move down Cameron avenue. Wave after wave the fresh came in overwhelming numbers. They swept around the corner of Old West and the fight was on. The fresh line wavered a moment when they hit the withering fire of the unrelenting sophomores. Soon, however, their

TAR HEEL FIVE WINNERS OVER THE GENERALS

In Fastest Game of Year Carolina Is Returned Winner by 26-17 Score

BILL DODDERER STARS

In the fastest game played in the "Tin Can" this year, Carolina defeated Washington and Lee, 26-17, thus ending her 1924 season undefeated, and undisputed becoming the South-Atlantic Champions. The game marked the last appearance of Cartwright (Cart) Carmichael game and Angus (Monk) McDonald in North Carolina as University basketball players.

The Washington and Lee team fought for the game from beginning to end putting up the hardest fight seen here this season and winning the admiration of the student body. Twenty-one fouls were called on the Generals due almost entirely to over-eagerness in guarding, and Lake and Cameron were forced to leave the floor.

Dodderer, as stationary guard was largely responsible for breaking up the Virginian's offense, and in addition scored five of the Tar Heel's points. Cart Carmichael was the Tar Heel star, tying with Cobb in scoring field goals, intercepting numerous passes and twice tipping in the ball for a field goal after his team mate's attempt from the foul line had bounced out of the basket.

Carolina was completely off in foul shooting, McDonald dropping in only three out of ten trials, Cobb did but little better, caging three out of nine attempts. Enough fouls were called on the Generals to have enabled Carolina to have won the game without securing a single field goal.

Captain Winton Green went into the game in the last few minutes as a substitute for Devin. His leg was still bandaged up as a result of the injury received while on the trip through Virginia and in all probability he will not see action in any of the tournament games.

Dodderer opened scoring for Carolina when he intercepted a Washington and Lee pass and immediately found the basket for a field goal. Cobb was given two tries from the foul line and dropped in the ball for one count. Carmichael then took the ball from center and caged a beautiful shot from almost mid-court. Cobb shot another foul goal and Devin sent a pretty shot through the basket from the left side-line. Cobb then took the ball from center and scored a field goal in Carmichael style. With the score 8-0 Washington and Lee called for time. Lake
