BAILEY SPEAKS

the state to make it a better place in which to live.

"The world of politics has new factors to deal with and these are women and the world war veterans. The women are going to clean politics of filth, abuse, and hot air," declared the speaker, "while the world war veterans are going to demand a real patriotism—one that means service of men, women and children. Why does North Carolina rank fifth in the total value of her agricultural output, but forty-first in farmers' compensation? What can the citizens do to bring up this compensation?" continued Mr. Bailey.

The average income per capita in the state is $1700 as compared to $2900 which is the average income per capita in the United States, the speaker pointed out. Of the 500,000 families of the state, only 44,000 had incomes of as much as $2,000 a year. The percentage of population filing income tax in this state is 17 to 1,000, while the average of the United States is 62 to 1,000. This is a problem of progress, Mr. Bailey asserted.

He also pointed out the unfairness of freight rates, the land taxes, the small market for the produce of the farmer of North Carolina.

"Why is North Carolina backward? The Civil War is no longer the cause of it," he said. The speaker gave a new definition of the negro as a great southern alibi.

He pointed out the need of lower freight rates with the statement that freight rates are the foundation of civilization, and are the cause for the lack of large cities in North Carolina. "Freight rates have caused business to go elsewhere. Stop sending railroad attorneys to the general assembly and the unjust freight rates will be abolished," he continued.

"A great deal of trouble in the state comes from the system of commercial credit. There is a difference of 40 to 60 per cent more on time prices than on cash prices, and many persons are paying more than six per cent interest."

In conclusion, Mr. Bailey declared that the statement must undergo a process of political liberation, and that North Carolina has everything in it to make it the greatest of the commonwealths.

TO INSPECT THE TOWN

Chapel Hill is to have a complete inspection in two ways within the next two weeks. Starting next Monday morning, the chief of police and Dr. Nathan, health officer, will canvass the town thoroughly. The chief will take the complete census of the people together with the number in each family, their sex, race, and color, the number of autos, number of dogs, and the amount of waste. The health officer will investigate the sanitary conditions of each home, and particularly that of stables and mosquito breeding places. Suggestions and requests will be made in accordance with the recent ordinances passed by the board of aldermen pertaining to sanitation. It is thought that at least three weeks will be required to finish the work.

WIEGAND OUSTED

came alongside he jumped for the running board, but missed and fell in the street, rolling over and over. Featherstone continued on across Five Points and turned in on Great Jones Street.

Mayor Roberson and Everett then gave up the chase and asked the Durham police for aid to catch the Mayor's chief of police and Everett's client. The police responded to the call, but took the wrong road and never caught a glimpse of the men. Meanwhile the chief continued on with the Ohio man and his prisoner to South Boston, Virginia. There he parted company to return to Chapel Hill, first offering his services to Wiegand in any way he could assist him. Wiegand gave him some letters which he delivered upon his return.

When Featherstone reached Chapel Hill he found the town in a furore of excitement and himself charged with aiding the abduction of Wiegand. Students and townspeople had congregated on the streets all Tuesday afternoon to discuss and speculate on the turn of affairs. The town officials immediately suspended him for an indefinite time, and only his previous fine record was all that saved him from being fired.

In a statement, Featherstone said that he thought he was doing his duty and was only doing what another officer would have done had he gone to another State for a prisoner. He did not know that the extradition papers had been countermanded by the Governor, having no knowledge of the telegram which Everett received, nor did he see the Mayor when he was overtaken in Durham. He said that he had no intention of throwing Everett to the pavement and gave as a cause the unevenness of the pavement that caused the car to lurch about. He was running at a very moderate speed.

Reports from Lynchburg Va., Thursday, say that the Ohio officer and his prisoner Wiegand have been held there and the case will be heard before Judge Christian, of the corporation court of Lynchburg. The lawyers of the abducted man say that the case will be brought back to North Carolina if possible. Mr. Everett and Victor S. Bryant have gone to Lynchburg to appear for Wiegand. It is likely that action will be brought against the Ohio officer. Further developments are expected to take place rapidly in the case.

More than 35 cities and towns in Ohio maintain special classes for mentally defective or backward pupils in the public schools.

CLASS ELECT OFFICERS

election, B. W. Hackney, Durham, obtained a majority over his two opponents on the first ballot. Hackney received 154 votes, Daniels, 63, and Legrande, 62.

Jesse Calhoun, Rocky Mount, won the vice-presidency with 152 votes. A. C. McIntosh, Chapel Hill, and R. L. Cook, Winston-Salem, trailed with 68 and 57 votes respectively.

Doug Schlitz, Charlotte, received more votes than any candidate in all class elections. He left J. M. Sartin, Cleveland far behind for the office of treasurer, receiving 224 votes to Sartin's 54.

All three candidates for secretary were closely bunched. As there was no majority in the first election, a second election was held Thursday, in which John S. Graham, Winston-Salem, defeated C. A. Boswell, Wilson, 175 to 156. In the first election Graham was first with 99, Boswell 95, and Wilson 83.

In the first year Med class elections, J. H. Wall of Chester, S. C., was elected to represent the Medical school on the Student council. R. B. Nye of Andrews, N. C., was elected class president; J. C. Holloway of Durham, vice-president; R. L. Felton of Fayetteville, secretary-treasurer.

In the Pharmacy school, J. L. Thompson of Reidsville was elected to the student council. J. M. Spoon of Charlotte was elected representative to the campus cabinet. The class officers were not elected at this time, but will be elected later.

NEW MOTORCYCLE USED

The new Harley-Davidson motorcycle recently purchased by the town of Chapel Hill is an instrument that is proving as effective to the authorities in their attempts to restrict speeding, as it is proving a nuisance to the speedsters. Chief Featherstone has been watching the Orange County roads for the past few days and by the aid of the motorcycle catching a goodly number of those who are hurrying past. Some of the victims of one day's work the first of the week belong on the campus. They were Benny Schwartz, H. Sinkler, pulled, and Robert Madry warned that he wasn't to try any record stuff.

A conference of city supervisors of home economics in the United States has been called by the United States Commissioner of Education to be held in Washington, April 22, 23, and 24. #### WOMAN VOTE

Cooper in Wilmington. Every fundamental law in this state was written by the Republican party. Col. Meekins maintained. He said there were no free schools in 1868, there were laws which bound women in almost complete servitude. The Republican party had abolished these laws and also the debtors' prison. Corporal punishment was likewise abolished by the Republican party. The state interest law, which fixes the amount of interest at six per cent and provides a heavy penalty for infringement, was passed at the bidding of the Republican party, he said.

The total deficit in the state is a little less than $6,000,000, he continued, and notwithstanding this, it took an auditor to teach Governor Morrison the difference between a surplus and a deficit. Colonel Meekins said that if he were elected, he would at least acknowledge the difference between a surplus and a deficit.

Colonel Meekins was introduced by Dennis G. Downing, of Fayetteville, a third year law student and intercollegiate debater.

NEW BASEBALL COACH ADDED TO STAFF

Needing a man to help coach the Varsity, and someone to work with the Freshman pitchers and catchers, Coach "Bill" has secured Mr. William D. Legrande. Mr. Legrande is an old friend of both Coach "Bill" and Dr. Lawson.

Back in the later nineties the battery of Lawson and Legrande was well known throughout prep school circles in Virginia. This same battery later played with Tarboro and Wilson. Mr. Legrande, while catching for Raleigh, established a record for consecutive games, for the old Carolina League, catching eighty-nine consecutive games.

Leaving Raleigh, Mr. Legrande went to Concord, Coach "Bill's" home town. Here he became associated with Coach "Bill." The association lasted even to the altar, for he was best man at Coach "Bill's" wedding.

He and Dr. Lawson spent two summers playing with various teams in New England. Besides playing a great deal of ball himself, Mr. Legrande has had some experience as a coach, coaching athletics while teaching at the old Bingham Military School at Mebane.

Neptunite Varnishes

Don't be Fooled by a Varnish Shine

The poorer the varnish, generally the more it shines, and the less it wears. The better the varnish, the richer is its deep satin like glossiness, and the longer it wears. Don't buy a varnish by its shine. Buy it by its power to stand wear and still keep glossy. For everything from floors up, use Neptunite Varnishes. You get wear out of them because wear is put into them. Won't turn white. Dry hard and stay hard.
