

SAM AND MARY NOW PRACTICING LAW IN ASHEVILLE

Former Blind Students Are Given a Big Write Up in Asheville Paper

WERE WELL KNOWN HERE

Sam Cathey and "Mary" Worsham, two Carolina men whom all upperclassmen recall with many pleasant memories, are now practicing law in Asheville. The day following their being sworn in the Asheville Citizen came out with a detailed write-up of both men, including a photograph of these two which the campus knew so well.

In order that the upperclassmen may see what Asheville thinks of two newly-made alumni of the University and in order to acquaint the class of 1928 with two men who were among the most prominent on the Hill last year, the Citizen write-up is being quoted in detail as follows:

All things yield to the mind, according to the philosophy of Sam Murston Cathey and Blackburn Buford Worsham, blind students of the University of North Carolina, who recently passed with high honors the examination given by the Supreme Court of the State for admittance to the practice of law in North Carolina.

The announcement of the formation of the partnership of Cathey and Worsham is of unusual interest to many persons throughout the State, for during the five years that Mr. Cathey and Mr. Worsham studied at the University of North Carolina they made a host of friends among the student body.

Both men are keen students, and both made remarkable records at the University. Worsham did unusual work in athletics and received his "NC" as a member of the gym team. Cathey was active in campus affairs, and was successful as a political leader.

It is understood that Mr. Cathey made the highest grade upon the examination given in August by the Supreme Court. This is of more than passing interest in view of the fact that Mr. Cathey is totally blind and that the examination was considered to be the hardest given by the Supreme Court in many years. This is attested by the fact that 53 out of the 111 who took the examination failed. Sixty-eight of those taking the examination were admitted to the practice of law in this state. Six men were licensed by the county act. This number is not included in the 111 taking the examination.

The information that Mr. Cathey made the highest grade was obtained from an indirect but reliable source. From this same source it was learned that Mr. Worsham's paper was also of a very high order.

The examination was several hours long and Mr. Cathey and Mr. Worsham dictated their answers to stenographers provided by the court. The stenographers

(Continued on Page Three)

TRACK CAPTAIN ISSUES CALL FOR CANDIDATES

Cross Country Men Are Especially Urged to Report Next Monday

A call for all men interested in track work to report Monday afternoon at 4:15 in Gerrard Hall was issued Saturday by Dale Ransom, captain of the 1925 University of North Carolina track team. All old men and freshmen are included in the call, and cross-country men are especially urged to report next Monday.

According to Ransom, cross-country training will begin in earnest on Tuesday. Two meets are planned for the freshmen during the fall of this year, and there is strong possibility of several intra-mural matches. The cake-race, which was quite a sensation last year, will take place during the first week in November, and a batch of choice home-made cakes will be offered for the mere trouble of doing a little running.

Special emphasis was laid upon the value of doing work this fall in both track and field events, as a method of getting in shape for the spring work. Cross-country running, says Ransom, is very valuable training to all men interested in the distance side of track, and a help to those interested in the other events.

An unusually good schedule for next year is being arranged and will soon be released. In order to keep up the splendid track record of the University, all two-legged men, regardless of experience, are urged to come out and make a trial for the team.

"RABBIT" BONNER
Fast halfback who is expected to star against Wake Forest.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL CANDIDATES AT WORK

"Runt" Lowe and Grady Pritchard Begin Work With "Tar Baby" Candidates

With "Runt" Lowe coaching the backfield and Grady Pritchard at work on the line, freshman football practice began last week with the usual preliminary period of limbering up and wind developing. Sixty-five men reported for backfield work and 77 for the line. Only a few uniforms have been issued to date, and the squad has not been on the field long enough for the men of first string calibre to show up.

The coaches report that the freshmen have shown only mediocre ability at punting, but are slightly better with the passing game. In a week or ten days, the teams should begin to assume shape in preparation for the season's schedule, which to date has not been released by Mr. Woolen's office due to incompleteness.

C. C. Poindexter, who played his fourth season with Carolina last fall, will join the other two University stars next week and assist them in coaching the "Tar Babies." Below are given the names of the men who, according to the list turned in to the paper's office, are out for the team:

J. F. Ashley, Mt. Airy; P. A. Atwell, Mooresville; A. J. Bergen, Wilmington; A. Brandt, Jr., Asheville; M. H. Bopp, Badin; Robert Baggett, Lillington; Norman Block, Greensboro; Milton Block, Greensboro; C. L. Beasley, Smithfield; Hampton Byerly, Sanford; H. H. Braxton, Saxapahaw; D. D. Carroll, Bennettsville, S. C.; T. J. Capel, Gumberry; J. H. Cheatham, Henderson; A. N. Cowles, Statesville; S. M. Carpenter, Durham; Bill Cherry, Rocky Mount; R. B. S. Cowper, Raleigh; W. D. Delancy, Reidsville; "Onyx" Crinkley, Raleigh; Hubert Dial, Belmont; E. J. Evans, Fayetteville; Nolan Faulkner, Hendersonville; Thomas Faison, Winton; H. L. Farrell, Mebane; Tom Gallagher, Durham; J. T. Gresham, Jr., Warsaw; Maurice Grossman, Mebane; Hannibal Godwin, Jr., Dunn; Alton Gardner, Wilson; C. H. Herring, Scotland Neck; W. E. Harrison, Rockingham; H. A. High, Greensboro; Ben Humphreys, Asheville; B. B. Hudson, Benson; J. T. Hooks, Smithfield; Sibley Hoyle, Newton; J. H. Ingle, Burlington; J. G. Johnson, Lillington; Ralph Johnson, Clayton; W. F. Johnson, Benson; Walter Kelly, Jonesboro; Ballard Lenoir; W. E. Murphey, Jr., Louisburg; Worth Morris, Charlotte; W. D. Merritt, Mt. Airy; E. H. Moore, Burlington; Garrett Morehead, Charlotte; Robert Monroe, Hamlet; J. W. Moore, Jr., Fayetteville; J. D. McConnell, Gastonia; Neil McWatt, Parkton; H. R. Nettles, Arden; Richard Overton, Spencer; J. M. Osborne, Mouth of Wilson, Va.; Dowell Pearson, Apex; C. R. Purser, Charlotte; C. W. Parsons, Ellerbe; J. H. Parker, Pine Level; B. H. Redfern, Hartsville, S. C.; C. P. Russell, Granite Falls; P. L. Skinner, Smithfield; R. C. Shannonhouse, Pittaboro; Odell Sapp, Winston-Salem; Brown Shepherd, Raleigh; T. A. Sandlin, Bryson City; Frank Smith, Oxford; D. S. Smith, Jr., Greenville; S. D. Thorpe, Rocky Mount; R. P. Taylor, Oxford; G. L. Utt, Mt. Airy; A. A. Webb, Rockingham; M. B. Williamson, Burlington; W. H. Walters, Oxford; J. B. Westmoreland, Canton; Rodolph Wilson, Dunn; Joe Walls, Lilesville; C. D. Whisnant, Belmont; D. A. Young, Raleigh; Marion Young, Spartanburg, S. C.

Y. M. C. A. WILL START FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN

Annual Banquet Tuesday Will Begin Program for Financial Campaign

JOSEPHUS DANIELS TO SPEAK

The annual banquet of the University Y. M. C. A. will take place at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, September 30, at the Chapel Hill Baptist church. This is to be a fellowship banquet. Invitations have been sent to 312 students, 25 faculty, and ten members of the University Board of Trustees. All men at the banquet will be seated by place cards.

A very elaborate program has been arranged. John Purser will be toastmaster, and among the speakers for the occasion are Josephus Daniels, Dr. Chase, and Dr. A. H. Patterson. There will be special music during the meal by the University orchestra, and vocal solos by Mr. Fitch and Mrs. Learned.

The food for the banquet is to be prepared by ladies from the different churches of the town. Thirty University girls dressed in white, with blue headgear having a red triangle on the front, will serve the food.

This also opens the annual finance campaign which is to be perfected in two hours following the banquet. Organization will be determined by the manner in which the men are seated at the tables. There will be 23 teams composed of 14 men each, with a captain of each team. Immediately after the banquet these teams will go to their respective territories.

Following is a list of the team captains and their assigned territories:

- W. S. Berryhill, New and Old West.
- T. A. Burns, New and Old East.
- J. E. Calhoun, Smith.
- T. S. Clark, South.
- K. D. Coates, Battle, Vance, Pettigrew.
- W. E. Crissman, Steele.
- E. A. Farrell, Carr.
- C. C. Fordham, B.
- J. F. Glenn, C.
- C. W. Gold, D.
- B. W. Hackney, E.
- L. V. Huggins, F.
- A. K. King, G.
- J. K. Kyser, J.
- J. H. Lineberger, Frat Row.
- L. H. Moore, Tankersley, Strowd, Klutz, Brookes.
- C. C. Poindexter, Rosemary St.
- L. T. Rogers, N. Glenburnie, Boundary, Hillsboro, Henderson, Cobb Terrace.
- A. M. Scarborough, Franklin St. except bus block.
- F. D. Smith, Church and Columbia Sts.
- George Stevens, Cameron Ave. and Mallett St.
- Z. J. Waters, Pittsboro St. and View Heights.
- L. E. Watt, McCauley, Vance, Ransom and Patterson Sts.

NEW LAMP POSTS SOON BE ERECTED ON CAMPUS

According to a statement made this week by the faculty committee on grounds, of which Dr. W. C. Coker is chairman, the new specially designed campus lamps will be installed by the first of January. In all, there will be about 50 lamps, located at the most appropriate points over the campus. Each will be set in a concrete foundation, and when installed will be a material addition to the campus in regard to appearance, as the design was chosen after much consideration with the view that they should be in closest harmony with the architecture of the buildings and general atmosphere of the University.

Mr. E. E. Peacock's house in Gimghoulville will be ready for occupancy by October 1.

COLLEGE NIGHT IS WELL ATTENDED BY NEW AND OLD

President Chase and Major McLendon Speak on Behalf of Faculty and Alumni

"BILL" COCKE THE INTRODUCER

Nearly all the freshmen and a good number of old men attended the College Night celebration in Memorial hall on Thursday night. W. J. Cocke, Jr., president of the student body, presided and explained the origin and the purpose of College Night. He also introduced the speakers.

President Chase began his address by welcoming the new men on behalf of the faculty. Then he proceeded to tell what the University means and should mean to those who are students in it. It was not a factory, he said, but an individual thing. He explained that it did not consist of its buildings, its grounds, or its equipment, but of the living, breathing spirit that gave it life. Into this spirit, he said, had gone the hopes, the dreams and the labor of young men for a hundred and thirty years. He then proceeded to enumerate the characteristics that made up this spirit. He defined these as honesty, honor, freedom, high standards, good sportsmanship, vitality and future-mindedness. "Our University has never settled into sleepy content; it has always advanced," he declared. "The new men comes not only to opportunity; they come to responsibility."

"I feel like coarse cement between two slabs of polished marble," Bill Cocke declared as he took the floor. He bade the new men welcome on behalf of the student body and said that each class brought new fuel, new energy and new ideas into the student body. Good citizenship is the goal of education, was the tone of his message. He went on to explain how sectionalism was wiped away and a larger, broader outlook took its place in the minds of the men who came to this campus.

The last speaker was Major L. P. McLendon, of Durham. He spoke for the alumni and gave a picture of the alumni's part in the life of the University, comparing its organization to that of an army in the field. "The alumnus," he said, "is the trained soldier on the fighting line." He then drew a humorous picture of the evolution of a college man, declaring that he is the greatest imitator on earth. He proceeded to show that a man's individuality is his greatest asset anywhere, and that the state has need of men of initiative rather than imitators.

The cheer and song leaders roused the freshmen into great enthusiasm. The band was present and furnished an enjoyable part of the evening's program.

Invitations Issued For a Pan Hellenic Tea

Invitations have been issued to a tea to be given by the local Pan-Hellenic and the city Pan-Hellenic on Tuesday afternoon, September 30, from 4 to 6, in the Presbyterian church reception rooms. All the women students of the University and all members of women's fraternities in the town are cordially invited. The city Pan-Hellenic is an organization formed last spring which comprises all the alumnae members of women's fraternities represented in Chapel Hill.

George Y. Ragadale, editor of the Carolina Magazine last year, is selling life insurance in his home town of Smithfield.

PIERCE MATTHEWS
Captain of this year's team who is playing his fourth year at tackle.

CHASE AND BERNARD SPEAK TO JUNIORS

Underwood and Couch Are Also Speakers at the First Junior Smoker

"The ideal size of a University is between 3,000 and 4,000 students, and the University will soon reach that ideal size," President Harry W. Chase declared Tuesday night at the junior class smoker.

President Chase talked generally along the same lines that he did on the previous night at the senior smoker. He pleaded for a greater unity of understanding among the student body. He compared the University of a hundred years ago with the University of today, and used several humorous illustrations which threw light on University life in 1824. Dr. W. S. Bernard, known to the students as "Bully," emphasized, in a rather lengthy talk that the junior class occupies a strategic position on the campus. The seniors, he declared, are looking forward to the day when they will finish the University and enter the world as full-fledged men and women, whereas the juniors have not yet developed that outlook upon life. The sophomores and freshmen, he stated, were "inabilities," inasmuch as they had not been in the University long enough to take over positions of student leadership.

Talks were made by Emmett Underwood, president of the class of last year, and by William T. Couch, intercollegiate debater and popular member of the class. Couch delivered an effective five-minute talk on "Bull." He divided the well known bull into two divisions: "pure" bull and "practical" bull. The students, for the most part, engage in "practical"

Continued on Page Four

FRESHMAN FRIENDSHIP COUNCIL IS ORGANIZED

Seventy-five Ex-Hi-Y Men Attend Banquet Tuesday Night

Last Tuesday night some 75 ex-Hi-Y men, members of the freshman class, held a banquet in the social room of the Presbyterian church and organized the Freshman Friendship Council, which is the medium through which the first year men look after their interests during the year. The program was in charge of J. R. Purser, Jr., who acted as toastmaster and temporary chairman.

The purpose of the council was explained by Jesse Calhoun, who welcomed the new men. He spoke of last year's council and challenged them to improve on the work that their predecessors have done.

Following this speech came a humorous talk by C. C. Poindexter and a speech by President H. W. Chase, who again welcomed the new men and explained to them some of the benefits of college life and how they could derive the most benefits from it.

The work of the coming year was outlined by Lawrence Watt, who explained how the council did its work and how it could help the other members of the class.

After the speeches, officers for the year were elected. They were as follows: President, Brooks Todd, of Charlotte; vice-president, Joe R. Bobbitt, Jr., of Rocky Mount; secretary, W. W. Neal, Jr., of Greensboro, and treasurer, Edwin MacKeithan, of Fayetteville.

CAROLINA LINE-UP STILL UNCERTAIN FOR GAME TODAY

The Carolina Coaches Still Keep Their Line-Up Under Cover

GAME WILL DRAW BIG CROWD

Just who will represent Carolina today in the annual scrap with Wake Forest is still uncertain. Underwood and Devin are hard to choose between and in all probability both will be given a chance to show their goods. Underwood has been suffering with a boil, and while not enough to keep him out, may throw the balance in favor of Devin. Whisnant and Warren are both making a good show as linesmen, and have been running part of the time with the varsity. They may be given an opportunity to perform today also.

Latest words from the Baptists is that Riley will most likely replace Daniel at end. Except for this change the line-up is expected to be that of last year. According to the Demons, Daniel was the weak link in the chain last year and was the cause of the 22 to 0 defeat handed them, and that Riley will make a perfect chain. If this be true, then the Tar Heel chances this afternoon are slim.

In spite of the acknowledged strong team that the Baptists have, there is a note of confidence among the Carolinians. The school is with the team in victory or defeat, and the belief on the campus is that it will be in victory. The backfield appears to be faster than that of last year and Jack Merritt should lend it a drive that the team of last fall did not have at times. The line, while such stars as Morris, Poindexter, Lineberger and Shepherd are missing, is hefty and seems fully capable of filling its part of the job.

Many students are accompanying the team to Wake Forest, journeying by auto, train and bus. Pendergraft has two of the big Safety coaches that will make a round trip in addition to his other busses. Huggins and his crew of cheer leaders will be on deck and a demonstration of the old-time Carolina spirit is expected to be given. For a few hours Saturday afternoon the campus will be left to the dogs, co-eds and such of the faculty as find it impossible to make the trip. The janitors in the various dorms have conducted a subscription campaign to go to "Wake Feres" and an unusually large number of Chapel Hill's colored population should be there to cheer on "their team."

Although there is no certainty, it seems probable that these men will constitute the line-ups of the two teams this afternoon when the whistle is blown for the start of the game:

Wake Forest	Carolina
Riley	Braswell
Pegano	Epstein
	Ends
Moran	Matthews
Ellerbe	Hawfield
	Tackles
Lentz	Fordham
Caulde	Jackson
	Guards
Emmerson	McIver
	Center
Greason	Bonner
Armstrong	Underwood
	Backs
Karleskint	Merritt
	Full Back
Rackley	Sparrow
	Quarterback

Old West dormitory met Sunday night for the purposes of electing officers for the term and for a general get-acquainted meeting. Eats were served, and efforts were made to have all men acquainted with the other. The dormitory unanimously elected Zack Waters as chairman, Bob Williamson as secretary-treasurer, and George Ivey as manager.

Jordan Conducts Contest To Name His Bus

Quite a bit of interest is being shown in the contest which is being conducted by W. P. Jordan to name his new 23-passenger Reo bus. Judges for the contest have been announced as Dr. W. deB. McNider, Dr. R. B. Lawson, and Mr. C. T. Woollen. Blanks for the contest are being distributed by Mr. Jordan and are also obtainable at his auto stand at Gooch's Cafe. The winner of the contest will receive ten round-trip tickets to Durham.

The new bus is Chapel Hill's most recent addition to its jitneys. It is of greater capacity than any other bus on the line heretofore, and represents the utmost in Reo convenience and comfort. Mr. Jordan is well pleased with his purchase and expressed satisfaction with the operation. It is now making regular trips to and from Durham.

FOOTBALL STATISTICS

Name	City	Weight	Age
Bonner	Aurora	137	23
Underwood	Fayetteville	148	19
Sparrow	Chapel Hill	154	22
Merritt	Chapel Hill	174	23
Epstein	Rocky Mount	157	20
Braswell	Rocky Mount	175	20
Hawfield	Matthews	202	22
Jackson	New Bern	189	21
Fordham C.	Greensboro	183	21
McIver	Chapel Hill	187	21
Matthews	Asheville	165	22
McMullin	Elizabeth City	144	19
Dill	New Bern	162	19
Hackney	Durham	158	19
Devin	Oxford	157	20
Fordham J.	Greensboro	178	19
Farrell	Chapel Hill	261	23
McMurray	Shelby	166	20
Calhoun	Rocky Mount	172	21
Donahue	Asheville	180	18
Whisnant	Morganton	190	22
Robinson	Weaverville	191	20
Warren	Blounts Creek	169	21
Murphy	Salisbury	192	21
Hogan	Chapel Hill	195	22
Carlee
Dodderr	Waynesville	173	22