

Y TELLS WHERE MONEY DONATED TO IT IS SPENT

University Gives the Y. M. C. A. $6,000 to Carry on Work Into Next Year.

FIVE ON EMPLOYED STAFF

Big Amount Has Been Laid Aside for Needed Improvement of the Reading and Rest Rooms.

The finance committee and the board of trustees of the University have again passed on a $12,000 budget for the Y. M. C. A. The state legislature voted for it without a question. In fact, the budget of the Y. M. C. A. is the only budget that went entirely through without some attempt being made to cut it to a lower figure. The authorities were so grateful for the work that the "Y" has been carrying on, and so ambitious for necessary extension of its service that they were glad to appropriate half of the $12,000, thus leaving $6,000 for the students, faculty, and alumni to raise.

Just a glance at the detailed budget is enough to convince a man that $12,000 is a very conservative estimate of the cost of a program such as the "Y" should put on at an institution of this size. The $6,000 appropriated by the University will almost pay the salaries of five on the employed staff, only $1,000 more being needed. The bills payable at the beginning of this year amounted to $250. It was estimated that the printing of the handbook, student and town directory, posters and booklets will cost $1,000, while the actual cost last year was $1,200. The postage bill including the sending of the handbook will be at least $300. Stationery and office supplies will cost $200. The minimum cost of keeping up the reading room, as it should be kept, is $200. Heretofore, the reading room account has had to be cut down considerably, while every student will agree that more material has been needed. One hundred dollars is proposed for records and music, two other items that the "Y" has never received enough money to install. The telephone and telegraph communications for the various matters cost $175 annually. Space in the Yack costs $75. The Y. M. C. A. proposes to spend $300 for good speakers, like Sherwood Eddy; but last year, on account of insufficient funds, it was unable to secure more than one man. The Rural Club is to get $50; and the boy's work, including leadership in Boy Scout troops and the Hi-Y clubs, $75. The "Y" proposes to spend $300 for socials and entertainments, while it will have an expense of $300 more for conferences which must be attended and planned for every year. It thought that $400 should be spent for musical entertainment such as a piano, violoncello, and radio; articles which unfortunately have had to be left off in the years past because of the fact that the receipts would never allow it. The International Y. M. C. A. committee will get $100, while the State Y. M. C. A. committee is supposed to get $50. The summer expenses of the "Y" will be $300 if the University's enlargement does not cause them to go over this mark. Two hundred and fifty dollars have been allowed for incidentals. All of these items

THE ALUMNI REVIEW CHANGES ITS MAKEUP

Cover of the Alumni Review Is a Pleasant Surprise to Its Readers Harmony in Color Scheme.

The October number of the Alumni Review comes forth with a new cover design and make up which gives the publication the best appearance of any issue yet seen on the Hill. The cover is of a delightful shade of light blue. Upon this light blue background is a picture of the Well which is very effective, due probably to its clever newness. The Well and name plate is done in shades of brown and harmonize effectively with the background.

The general make up of the publication has also undergone a very decided change for the better. A very interesting table of contents summarizes conditions on the campus in athletics, buildings, changes and scholarships in a way that will prove most enlightening as well as delightful reading matter to the alumni subscribers.

The expressed purpose of alumni publications is to keep the alumni of the institution in touch with the University and with its alumni. This purpose is evidently strictly adhered to in preparing the University's alumni publication. Much favorable comment has been heard regarding the current number of the Review.

MANY GIRLS ARE COMING FOR THE BIG GRAIL DANCE

Girls Will Come Over for Trinity Game and Stay for Dance.

MUSIC IS FROM DURHAM

Order of the Grail Dances Hold Very Excellent Reputation for Conduct and Efficient Management.

A large crowd of visiting girls and co-eds are expected to attend the Grail dance tonight in Bynum gymnasium. A good number of boys are having girls over for the game with Trinity this afternoon and for the dance tonight. Grail dances made an excellent reputation for themselves last year for their cleanliness and real good times. The Order of the Grail is striving to even surpass the record dances of last year in order to give Carolina students dances to fill in between the regular dances of the German Club. The Order plans to have these dances as often as possible, and yet not create a desire for them. Dancing will begin tonight at nine and continue until twelve. Music will be furnished by the Piedmont Strollers of Durham. Admission to the dance will remain the same as of last year, that is, seventy-five cents.

NEW DELIVERY PLAN HAS GREAT SUCCESS

No Bundles Have Been Lost As Yet—New Equipment Has Been Added to Laundry.

The new delivery system that the University Laundry Department has adopted was put in operation last week. All bundles had been delivered by Friday night. This is another convenience which the laundry has brought about for the students. The laundry is now operating all of the new machinery that was bought at the beginning of this year. The new machinery includes: One large motor driven, wooden turbine, one large extractor, three electrically driven garment presses and a compound shirt ironing unit. The large extractor, which is of extra size for rinsing, has a revolving capacity of 1,400 revolutions per minute. It is also equipped with a new device, namely a self-balancing basket. This basket is automatically airtight so that it is practically impossible to tear a garment. The three electric ironers are practically new on the market and are almost human in operation. The compound shirt ironing unit consists of five different machines, giving an added capacity of 2,500 shirts per week. The laundry department has announced with much pleasure that not one bundle has been misplaced this year through the fault of the laundry. It would be appreciated by the laundry department, if those men living in fraternity houses, would put their address down in "real American." Dean Paulson says that his drivers were so unfortunate as to have not received a course of Greek in their education.

Try-Outs for Casts of Three New Plays is Monday

Try-outs for the Carolina Playmakers will be held Monday, October 13th, at four o'clock in Gerard Hall. The new plays, selected after the author's reading last Thursday night, are three in number. They are "Bonava", a play of reconstruction days by Judge Robert Winston of Chapel Hill; "Swamp Nights", a new play on the Lowries, by William Cox, of Rowland, N. C.; and "Straight Ticket", a mountain comedy built around an election and a runaway marriage, by Martha Boswell, of Brevard, N. C.

Social Organizations Begin Marathon Initiations

The two social organizations of Bulls and Shicks have started out on their annual marathon initiations. These two orders have earned the reputation of having the longest initiations of any other organizations on the campus. The Bulls, with their red banded straw hats and red flowing ties, came out only to be closely followed by their deadly rivals, the Shicks, adorned with turbans and yellow sashes. Those undergoing the Shick initiation are: Byron Glenn, Tom Pearsall, T. T. Holderness, Jim Shannonhouse, Andy McIntosh, Finley White and Tom Royster. Miss Bessie Davenport, '24, has accepted a position with the firm of Walter S. Liddell, insurance brokers of Charlotte. Miss Davenport was on the Tar Heel staff last year.

INSTALLATION OF CHI PHI WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Gamma Phi Local Will be Installed as Alpha Alpha Chapter of Chi Phi.

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

Many Visitors are Expected to Attend Initiation Ceremony, Banquet and Dance.

Gamma Phi local will be installed as the Alpha Alpha chapter of the Chi Phi fraternity next Tuesday and Wednesday. A program of ceremonials and events has been sent out to all members of the national organization in the state along with an invitation to attend the installation. Representatives from several chapters of Chi Phi and alumni members of the fraternity have already signified their intention of attending the ceremonials and the other events of the three days.

The initiation ceremony proper will begin Tuesday morning in the lodge room of the Gamma Phi house and will continue until about eight-thirty that evening. The grand council of the Chi Phi fraternity will act in its capacity as installation officials aided by a special initiation committee chosen from the alumni of this state. Congressman John H. Small, of Washington, Coach S. W. Alexander, of Durham, and P. K. Schuyler, chief bridge engineer of the State Highway Commission, will serve on this committee.

A. Holley Rudd, an official of the Pennsylvania railway system and head of the national organization of the fraternity, is expected to arrive in Durham early Tuesday morning in his private railway car with the other national officers of Chi Phi.

Immediately after the initiation ceremonies will be the installation banquet given by the local chapter to all visiting members and the officials. This banquet will be held in the Coop.

Wednesday morning and afternoon will be given over to the entertainment of the visitors. Among other things planned is an auto sight seeing trip to Pinehurst and golf. Wednesday evening the formal Chi Phi installation dance will take place in Raleigh at the Womans Club. Invitations have been sent to all the fraternities on the Hill and a large attendance is expected. The members of the local chapter are having a number of girls over for the dance. Chaperones who have already been secured for the affair include Miss Ida Morrison, Hon. and Mrs. W. N. Everette, and Col. and Mrs. Albert L. Cox, all of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Woolen, Mrs. J. B. Bullitt, Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Bradshaw, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Comer, all of Chapel Hill.

Thursday the installation party and visitors will be guests of the chapter at the State Fair in Raleigh in the morning and the annual Carolina-State football game in the afternoon.

The Chi Phi chapter here is to be revived, since there was formally a chapter of the fraternity in the University. In fact the Southern Order of Chi Phi was founded at the University on August 21, 1858. This order was later united with two other orders of Chi Phi known as the Princeton Order and the Hobart Order to form the present Chi Phi fraternity. The archives of the organization contain papers and minutes recording the founding of the first order at Princeton on December 24, 1824. A centennial celebration of this founding will be held in Chicago the last three days of this year. The fraternity has at present twenty-five active chapters, and with the addition of the North Carolina chapter and the Vanderbilt chapter, which will also be installed next week, the total will be twenty-eight.

Some very interesting bits of history are connected with the local chapter. The North Carolina chapter was given

Society Initiations Will Take Place Tonight

Initiation of new members into the Phi and Di societies will take place tonight at 7:30 o'clock, according to programs formulated at the first meetings of the year, held last Saturday. The societies this year are not conducting the old type of membership campaign, which was more or less of a hit-or-miss plan and sought members whether they were interested or not. A canvas has been made of the dormitories, and all interested men have been invited to come out and join. During the week L. T. Rogers, speaker of the Philanthropic Assembly, made a short talk in chapel, in which he explained to the freshmen the purpose and objective of the societies, and issued an invitation to join to all those interested.

GOOD HOUSE FOR MISS DRAPER IN MEMORIAL HALL

Miss Draper Not Only Holds But Also Makes Audience Work.

CREATES 50 CHARACTERS

Sketch on New York Flapper Wins Praise While Southern Girl Does Not Register Success.

All hail to the renaissance of interest in the arts! Two years ago when a celebrated monologist appeared in Chapel Hill to give a very fine performance, a pitiful audience of a handful of people greeted her.

But a really creditable, enthusiastic and intelligent audience greeted the appearance of Miss Ruth Draper in her program of "original character sketches" Tuesday evening in Memorial Hall. Miss Draper created well over fifty definite characters to people the stage, which was bare save for two bright figured screens. She wore the same simple green gown during the entire program, using a variety of shawls to suggest the costumes. Showing absolute freedom in the use of her voice and truly remarkable ability in the use of her whole body, especially her hands, Miss Draper moved easily through a program of sketches which covered a variety of emotions. In portraying the characters she was never guilty of stage tricks, and rarely verged on caricature, almost completely avoiding mimicry. For two hours practically the whole audience sat tensely watching her every movement, listening to avoid losing a single sound.

Miss Draper not only held her audience by amusing and interesting them, but she made the crowd work. Swayed by her acute sense of characterization their imaginations were working overtime.

Miss Draper was unusual in her unaffected and simple manner of entrance. Greeted by a storm of applause she immediately gained the attention of the audience in the very first sketch "Three Generations in a Court of Domestic Relations", in which she probably showed at a great ability, versatility and depth as in any other part of the program. In a second's time she threw a shawl over her head and an old Jewish woman with sunken cheeks, and sullen eyes turned speaking to the judge in very broken English. Then the younger woman spoke and last of all the flippant, member of the new generation who "was just different, that's all," stood before the judge twitching at her garments and patting at her hair. Here Miss Draper's outstanding talent was first revealed. The young Gentle to whom the girl was engaged seemed quite as vivid as the three characters who spoke. There was grim irony and acute penetration into the Jewish question in the sketch.

The "Boss-tonian" at the art exhibition who thought "art was just lovely" and likewise the little cows and the stream; was true to life and to type to the nth degree. Here Miss Draper showed an absolutely faithful knowledge of the correct accent. The sarcasm and

STATE GAME TICKETS HAVE GONE ON SALE

Are Now Obtainable at the Graduate Manager's Office—Special Train to Run.

Tickets have already gone on sale for the annual football game between State College and the University on Thursday of Fair Week. It is necessary to present registration cards at the office of the Graduate Manager in Alumni building to buy a ticket for the game. Regular price to the game is $2.00, but students may secure tickets for half price on presentation of their registration cards.

The special train will be run again this year, it has been announced. The round trip fare has been announced as $1.89. The train will leave Chapel Hill on Thursday morning at 8:00 a. m. and will leave Raleigh on the return trip to the Hill at midnight. Many students are planning on taking advantage of this special round trip price while others are counting on going with the jitney drivers who are operating cars on round trip prices on the day of the game.

The train will arrive in Raleigh in time for students to attend the Fair just before the game and will not leave the city until midnight, thus allowing students to catch the dance in the Auditorium the night of the game.

Cheer Leader Huggins has mapped out a special pep meeting on the square in Raleigh just before the game. Details will be given out regarding this pep fest later on.

HOWARD JONES' BLUE DEVILS PLAY THE FETZERS' TAR HEELS IN FIRST GAME ON LOCAL GROUND THIS YEAR

FRESHMEN DOWN BINGHAM'S TEAM

Carolina's Tar Babies romped over Bingham team yesterday afternoon on Emerson field for a twenty to nothing victory.

Neither team scored in the first quarter, although the frosh made several large gains, including one of forty yards, only to be called back for off sides.

Ferrell, freshman full back, carried the ball for a touchdown in the second quarter, and Shepherd kicked goal. Immediately following the first score came a seventy-five yard run by Isor, frosh quarter back, for a touchdown, and Shepherd again kicked goal.

Simpson, who was substituted for Isor in the third quarter, made the third touchdown after carrying the ball down the field for several large gains.

The last twelve minutes of play resulted in a kicking and passing duel, with many fumbles intermixed, and neither side scoring.

Carolina made fourteen first downs to Bingham's none. Passes were numerous in the second half, with both teams completing several long ones.

Bingham's only chance to score came in the third quarter when a drop kick for goal failed by a narrow margin.

TENNIS MATCHES NOW UNDER WAY

Twelve Men Left in Running for Team.

THE TOURNAMENT HERE

No Promising Double Material Has Shown Up to Date.

Sixteen matches have been played so far for the elimination of candidates for varsity tennis. Twelve of the new men are still left in the running and the remaining matches will be played off in a few days.

Unless some excellent doubles material shows itself in the new bunch, the members of last year's varsity—Soleman, Fuller, Whitaker, and Blaylock—will probably be scheduled for the two doubles teams.

Reserve signs have been put up on the two courts back of Memorial Hall, which means that all other students are asked to keep off and leave both courts to the varsity.

In the Spring, tennis enthusiasts will get a new attraction. The State Collegiate Tournament, which was formerly held at Greensboro, will be held at Chapel Hill this year.

Some of the new men—Anderson, Geddie, Kelly, Elgin, and Bullock—are playing unusually good tennis, and all of the bunch are fighting hard for the four out of eight remaining varsity positions.

Freshman Player Injured in Scrimmage

The first major casualty among the frosh football players happened last Wednesday, when the Tar Babies engaged in a hard scrimmage with the varsity.

O. E. Davis, former all state end for Sanford, broke his collar bone when attempting to tackle Haekney, of the varsity crew. Haekney had plunged through the line for a good gain when Davis came up from behind and made the tackle. The freshman end will probably be out for the rest of the season.

The freshman put up a good offense against the varsity, although they were unable to make any appreciable gains themselves.

35 Men Report For Training in Wrestling

The 35 men out for wrestling are working out, at present, on the top floor of New West.

One large trip will be taken by the team this year. It is at present undecided whether it will be a northern or a southern trip. If the team goes north, they will probably get a match with the Navy, as well as V. M. I. and Virginia.

Men are out for six or more different weights—188 lbs. through 178 lbs., and over, if possible. Most of them are out for the weights from 139 lbs. on down.

Trinity Defeated by State by Very Small Score.

YALE GAME GIVES HOPES

Second Game at Chapel Hill Since Resumption of Football at Trinity in 1922.

CAROLINA HAS BOILY BACKFIELD

Bullock and Lagerstadt on Methodists' Sick List While Carolina Boasts of a Healthy List Herself.

For the second time in the twentieth century, the Tar Heels will be hosts to the Blue Devils when the Trinity eleven comes to Emerson field for the annual encounter this afternoon.

The Jones eleven is pretty much of an unknown quantity this year. Although beaten by State the Blue Devils fought them on even terms for a half and statistics of the game show that first downs were even at seven all. They trounced the Guilford eleven nicely a week ago but that was an expected event with only the score in doubt. While Trinity did not run up the heavy score against the Quaker eleven that the team of last year did, they seemed to be complete masters of the field and the greater part of the time the second string was doing the playing.

Carolina, after the Wake Forest setback, played a good game against the Yale Bulldog and raised the hopes of students and alumni for a winning team. After light practice for a few days following the stiff game with "Old Eli," the Fetzers put their charges through hard scrimmages and the team that will represent Carolina on Emerson field this afternoon is expected to be several points better than that defeated two weeks ago by the Gharriy gridmen. All the men are in good shape with the exception of Rabbit Bonner, who is still suffering with a swollen leg. Should he be unable to play, deposters are predicting that Jeff Fordham will get the call. Underwood, Dill, and Cobb are all making a strong bid for a place, and it is possible that the "Rabbit's" place will go to one of them. The line will probably be the same as that of the Wake Forest game, although Whisnant and Robinson are making Jackson hump in practice to keep his place.

Starting with few men of experience around which to develop his team, Howard Jones struck bad luck and lost his two most valuable backs, Bullock and Lagerstadt, through injuries. He has unearthed a "find" in Frank, and with the ability that enabled him to turn out a team capable of whipping Yale, may be able to plug some of the holes by development of likely prospects.

An epidemic of boils and sickness has struck the Carolina camp since the return from New Haven with the result that several substitutes may be called upon to play the entire game today. McIver has been on the sick list and, while not seriously ill, is not at his best and Robinson or Murphy may get a chance today to take his position. George Sparrow too has been off colour and may not be able to play the entire game. Bomper, Underwood and Devin are all suffering with boils, which, while not enough to keep them from playing will hurt their work. Taking into consideration these factors and the uncertainty as to whom Jones will play, a line-up is very much of a guess, but indications are that these men will most likely take the field this afternoon.

Emilie Rose Knox Will Play Here Before Sailing

The possibility that Miss Emilie Rose Knox, renowned violinist, will appear in Chapel Hill again before she goes abroad next month for extended study, was confirmed recently when an instructor in the Department of Music had a short interview with her over long distance telephone. Miss Knox expressed her great desire to come to Chapel Hill again before sailing for Europe. In her past concerts here, she has made an extraordinary record, and probably no other artist has attained the degree of popularity among Carolina students as has Miss Knox.

Acacia Initiates

Messrs. M. V. Jackson, of Chapel Hill, G. E. Joyner, of Rocky Mount, and Dr. J. A. Strickland, of Norfolk, Va., were initiated into the Acacia Fraternity Tuesday evening, Oct. 7th, 1924.

Dr. Strickland is an alumnus of Carolina, having taken his first two years of medicine in 1906-'08. Since that time he has been operating a hospital in Norfolk for neuro-psychiatric patients. He is at present taking advanced work in the study of the brain and nervous system at the University.
