

TAR BABY CREW DEFEATS BIDDIES BY SCORE OF 19-7

Carolina Played Good Football
Against S. C. Neighbors and Chalk Up Victory.

FERRELL PLAYS WELL

Touchdowns Are Made by Isor and
Ferrell—South Carolinians Cross
Goal Line One Time.

The game between the U. N. C. Freshmen and the University of South Carolina-Biddies, at Columbia, S. C., turned out to be an easy victory for the Tar Babies, who piled up the big end of a 19 to 7 score.

Carolina played a brilliant offensive game all the time, while the Biddies were kept mostly on the run-defending their goal. Ferrell turned out to be the biggest ground gainer for the Tar Heels, while Isor played an erratic game, flashing up with several good gains, and then falling short. Tenney, Shepard, Simpson and Wilkins all did consistent work in short gains.

The first touchdown occurred in the initial quarter. The Tar Babies carried the ball to within one foot of the goal, only to be penalized 15 yards for holding. The Biddies kicked back to their 35-yard line, but Carolina, running it back five yards, was determined to score. Two first downs were reeled off in rapid succession and Isor carried the ball over, Shepard kicking goal.

The first half saw most of the playing in the enemy's field, with Carolina usually in possession of the ball. The Biddies seemed afraid to keep the pigskin when they got it, and only once did they take up the offensive.

South Carolina received at the opening of the second half. Wannamaker, South Carolina's outstanding star, made gain after gain. The Biddies made six successive first downs, putting them in reach of the goal. Wimberley carried the ball across and Swink evened the score by kicking goal.

Carolina retaliated with a defensive drive which completely swamped the Biddies. The whole Tar Baby backfield gained consistently and put the ball within five yards of the goal. Tenney made one yard, Simpson came within six inches of scoring, and Ferrell rushed it across.

South Carolina received and barely missed making first down by an inch. Carolina was again penalized 15 yards, but Ferrell followed it up by a spectacular 48-yard run around end. Isor made four, Simpson 14, and Ferrell four. South Carolina was penalized half of the eight remaining yards, and Isor carried the ball over for the third touchdown. The game ended a few seconds later with the ball on South Carolina's 24-yard line.

THE INTRAMURAL RACE FOR CAKES IS NEXT FRIDAY

One Hundred Homemade Cakes
Are Donated by the Townsladies.

WINNERS RECEIVE CAKES

Big Cake Offered by the Bakery to Dormitory Winning the Most Places in Race.

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock on Emerson field will see the start of the big annual intramural classic—the University Cake Race.

The ladies of the town have arisen gallantly to the occasion, and have contributed 100 homemade cakes for the physical enjoyment of the first 100 men who cross the line. Mr. Neal, of the Chapel Hill bakery, is going to give a prize cake to the dormitory which has the most prize winners. Mr. Paulsen, of the U. N. C. laundry, will donate a beautiful silver loving cup to the individual winner of the meet. Provided the weather is suitable, all the prizes will be exhibited on tables at Emerson field, but in case of rain, the cakes will be placed in Memorial hall.

As an additional inducement, Swain hall has made a very flattering offer. Any student working in Swain hall who finishes within the first ten places will be given a one-week vacation with full pay. If the winner of the race is a Swain hall man, he will be given two weeks' vacation with pay.

All sprinters are urged to begin light practice at once. On the same day as the cake race they will be given a chance to show what they can do in a "handicap sprint" for a cake. The distance will be either 100 or 200 yards.

Men of known ability will run the full distance, others will be given handicaps up to eight yards. All sprinters or dash men wishing to enter must see Dale Ranson before 7 p. m. Thursday. He can be found at 203 Old East, or at the stadium from 2 to 4 p. m.

Any man can participate in the race, but in order that his dormitory, as a unit, may get the credit for winning a prize, he must sign up with his dormitory manager, and thereby help to win the large cake. The dormitory managers are: Carroll, Carr; Young, South; Coe, Manly; J. M. Henderson, F. B. C. Wilson, West; McPherson, Mangum; Red Raper, Grimes; W. D. Merritt, J. Sam Swartz; G. E. Joyner, East; Woodall, South; T. E. Dalrymple, Ruffin; J. J. Somers, Steele; C. R. Jonas, New Dorms.

The race will start from Emerson field. The course will be through the gate to Cameron avenue, thence to the Raleigh road, by the President's mansion to Rosemary street, straight up Rosemary to the old Baptist church, then to Franklin street and to the graded school, across to Cameron avenue by way of the lane, up Cameron across the campus, back to the stadium and around the track to the finishing point.

Last year 125 men participated in the race. The first 100 of these to finish received a cake, and many of these men had not trained any before the race. The prize cake was won last year by West Dormitory. This year's prize cake, which is a beauty, may now be seen at the Chapel Hill bakery.

Varsity track men will be stationed at every corner of the route taken by the runners, so as to keep them from getting lost.

Ten faculty members will act as judges: H. F. Comer, H. D. Carter, F. F. Bradshaw, H. D. Meyer, T. A. Whitener, Dr. A. W. Hobbs, Dr. J. M. Bell, E. G. Hoefler and Dan Grant.

The names of the ladies who have been so generous as to contribute the cakes are:

Mrs. H. W. Chase, Mrs. A. G. Royster, Mrs. C. B. Ledbetter, Miss Cecilia Durham, Mrs. D. C. Battle, Mrs. C. A. Stone, Mrs. J. A. Giles, Mrs. N. B. Adams and Miss Adams, Mrs. F. P. Brooks, Mrs. E. R. Mosher, Mrs. W. J. Matherly, Mrs. Oscar Hampton, Mrs. Walter Patton, Miss Beatrice Pickard, Mrs. I. H. Manning, Mrs. E. G. Hoefler, Mrs. R. W. Foister, Mrs. J. E. Lear, Mrs. M. R. Grabue, Mrs. W. F. Thrall, Mrs. Joel Swartz, Mrs. H. R. Gotten, Mrs. W. F. Prouty, Miss Mabel Couch, Miss Sallie Taylor, Miss Frances Johnson, Miss Aida Hagan, Miss Grace Koonce, Miss Gertrude Tankersley, Miss Mabel Mallett.

Mrs. D. F. Carr, Miss Maggie Pickard, Mrs. Cora Williamson, Miss Edna Womack, Miss Naomi Long, Mrs. C. P. Higby, Mrs. E. C. Branson, Miss Helen LaCock, Mrs. J. Thomas, Mrs. Sutton, Mrs. Alderman, Mrs. A. S. Wheeler, Miss Nellie Burgess, Mrs. A. A. Kluttz, Mrs. A. C. McIntosh, Mrs. H. M. Wagstaff, Mrs. Harold D. Meyer, Mrs. C. D. Snell, Mrs. J. F. Steiner, Mrs. Otto Stuhalm, Mrs. H. F. Comer, Mrs. Wallace Patterson, Mrs. J. T. Dobbins, Mrs. E. W.

CARNIVAL IS TO BE GALA AFFAIR ON HALLOWEEN

Peanut, Popcorn and Chewing Gum to Be On Sale At Big Celebration.

NUMBER OF SIDESHOWS

Co-Eds Offering Naive Freshmen a
Trip Through Hell for Small Sum of Cool, Cold Cash.

If you like cake and can't run; if you prefer to eat peanuts more than to throw them; if you want to come to the gym for once without taking exercise; if you want to get a foretaste of hell without dying; if your best girl hasn't sent you any candy lately, it has been said that you had better be sure not to miss the annual Halloween carnival given by the Woman's association in the gym next Friday night at 8:30.

For the sum of only 25 cents admission may be had to all the various booths and side shows, which will line the sides of the gym, with the exception of the fortune tellers' tents and a safe and same trip to hell.

The booths will be the products of the ingenuity and originality of the co-eds in charge of them, and promise to be different from anything ever seen before. In the corners of the hall there will be the tents of the fortune tellers, who, for the crossing of their palm with a bit of silver, guarantee to give you a pleasant and profitable reading of your hand. These palmists are undoubtedly the best that are to be found in Chapel Hill and know whereof they speak. The full list of the attractions has not yet been made public, but anyone who went to any of the preceding ones will be willing to vouch for them.

In the center of the hall there will be erected a platform on which the various acts and stunts will be given free and without charge for the benefit of the general public. The Freshman Friendship Council is co-operating with the association in this part of the program in an effort to make it more than an average success. Among their various numbers, it is announced, will be one consisting of a burlesque band.

In the course of the evening the grand event will be held on this platform. This will be the raffling off of a cake by an attractive co-ed (or vice versa).

Home-made candy, peanuts, popcorn and apples will be sold by the attendants in the various booths, who will be dressed as witches, gypsies and ghosts. The hall will be decorated suitably for the occasion.

The feature attraction of the whole show will be "A Trip to Hell" which will be found in the basement of the gym. To tell what will happen there is impossible, but it will run true to form in the matter of attendants, who will either have mercy on you and guide you through safely or leave you to wander helplessly through its fearful paths. Go through this and Dante won't have a thing on you even if he did divide his up into nine varieties of hells. It is rumored that an accommodating skeleton has consented to make the place somewhat more homelike for the med. students and to show the bare facts to the other visitors.

There won't be a dull moment in the whole evening for either the freshman who is still slightly bewildered and skeptic

PROF. COBB AND BRANSON SPEAK TO PHI SOCIETY

Dr. Cobb Content to Correct
Statement Made About Him
in Preceding Meeting.

BRANSON MAKES SPEECH

"Boolor" Hardy Now a Member of the Phi Assembly—New Interest Being Taken in Society Work.

The Phi society, in its regular meeting Saturday night, was fortunate in having Dr. Branson, who favors the ports and terminals measure from an economic standpoint, and Dr. Collier Cobb, who maintains that the plan will never succeed because of geological peculiarities of the Eastern Carolina coast, to present the results of the study they have made of the subject. Dr. Cobb's address was brief, and was primarily an answer to the statement made recently concerning the relation of Dr. Branson's attitude toward the measure, which attitude, it was alleged, might have effect on future University appropriations from the state.

Speaking at considerable length on the subject, Dr. Branson stated very clearly that his attitude toward the proposal was the result of careful study and a desire to present the question fairly, in the light of the fact that no question in the past century has been of deeper significance for the people of North Carolina than this one.

Dr. Cobb's reply to this address was brief, and had to do with the geological impracticability of the scheme. He referred the members of the assembly to the report in Saturday's News and Observer of his recent speech in chapel.

Keen interest in discussion of bills, larger attendance of members, and a display of rejuvenation of spirit in every phase of the assembly's activities, has characterized the meetings of the society this year. Since the renovation of the hall and the installation of new furnishings several weeks ago, a very tangible awakening of interest has permeated the Phi assembly hall, and everything points to a decidedly successful year to come.

Regular routine business was transacted at this meeting, and two new members initiated; namely, R. M. Hardee and S. J. Bell. The resolution, "Resolved—That the Phi assembly go on record as favoring A. W. McLean for Governor of North Carolina" was tabled after brief discussion. The ports and terminals measure was also tabled for further discussion at the next meeting of the assembly.

Wigwe and Masque plans to produce a musical revue this year, the first in the history of the University. This is a difficult task and may be accomplished only with the aid of the entire student body. Any student may submit any act or stunt, musical or otherwise, or any ideas or suggestions. These sketches must not be over ten minutes long. Musical stunts will be given preference. All contributions must be handed to Professor Weaver in 12 New West or mailed to box 282 before December 3. The authors of the accepted stuff will be rewarded.

BIG CAMPUS-WIDE STRAW ELECTION FOR PRESIDENT TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Students Urged to Vote and Vote Seriously on President and Waterway and Port Terminal Bill—Republicans Have Shown Strength in Debates Held in the Phi and Di Societies.

A straw vote for president will be held Friday by the Tar Heel for the students and faculty, with polls opening at 11 a. m. and closing at 6 p. m. Much interest has been manifested on the campus and an apparently growing sentiment in favor of breaking away from party lines, shown by recent debates in the two literary societies, has called for the holding of a straw election to determine how the students stand. C. R. Jonas, Republican leader on the campus, claims that there will be a heavier vote for Coolidge than generally expected.

In addition to the presidential straw vote, a straw referendum will be held at the same time on the "Waterway and Port Terminals Bill" which has stirred up considerable interest and argument among the students as well as the faculty.

Bill Coker, president of the student body, in heartily endorsing the proposed campus-wide election, stated that he hoped the students would take the voting seriously and cast their ballots as though it were a real election.

Below is the form of ballot that will be used next Friday:

TAR HEEL'S STRAW VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

(Vote for one.)

Democratic

[] JOHN W. DAVIS

Progressive

[] ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE

Republican

[] CALVIN COOLIDGE

Name _____

Registration Number _____

[] For Establishment of Port Terminals and Waterways.

[] Against Establishment of Port Terminals and Waterways.

Judges of the election will be Bill Coker, C. R. Jonas, and the editor of the Tar Heel.

LAW LAYS HAND HEAVY ON SELF HELP STUDENT

Forced to Check-Flashing, He Is Arrested and Jailed.

FIVE DOLLARS A WEEK

Was Unable to Earn Sufficient to Buy
Food—Efforts Being Made to Raise Bond Money.

The tragedy of a self-help student, working his way through college but unable to make sufficient money to keep his soul and body together, reached its climax last week when one of the village cops arrested a third year student in the University Cafeteria on the charge of check-flashing. Immediately after his arrest the boy was suspended from the University and lodged in the town jail.

The arrest of the student follows a long period of check giving on his part. Back in March, on the 11th and 20th, he gave checks to the cafeteria on his own overdrawn account. Then on October 1 he gave a check signed John E. Mitchell, again on the 8th another signed Elliott Fox, and on the 15th he wrote a check that has not yet been returned through the banks.

On October 23 he presented the cafeteria with a check signed Lee Smith. The manager's suspicions had centered upon him and when asked to endorse it, he wrote his own name. The officer was then called in, and not having the cafeteria warrant which had already been sworn out against the student, he was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Gooch's cafe for worthless checks given that firm in his own name.

So far as is known, the boy has never written a check for money, but merely for board at the rate of $5 per week. A University professor for whom he had worked during odd hours, stated to a Tar Heel reporter that he knew of no other dishonest act charged to the boy. This same professor went on his bail for three days in an effort to keep him out of the jail.

With both his father and mother dead, penniless and in jail, and suspended from the University, the young man is in very unfortunate straits. Efforts have been made by interested parties to make good the checks, but the cafeteria manager refuses, stating that the desire is to make him an example for other check-flashers that are enrolled in the college, by taking it through the courts. It is thought that the case will be tried by the local magistrate, but as the amount involved is over $30, the case can be taken into higher court. It is thought, however, that such action will not be taken, as it will be December before the case can be called if that is done.

In the meantime, Pierce Matthews, football captain, is raising money among the Asheville students and friends of the boy to go on his bond in an effort to get him out from behind the bars.

Emilie Rose Knox Plays Here Tomorrow Night

Emilie Rose Knox, well known violinist, will appear in Memorial hall on Thursday, October 30, under the auspices of Wigwe and Masque.

Miss Knox is a native of Raleigh, and is no stranger to Chapel Hill. In her childhood she was a frequent visitor here, and found some of her most ardent admirers among the students and townspeople of Chapel Hill. Since her first professional engagement five years ago, Miss Knox has never missed giving at least one concert here each year. In November she sails for Europe, where she will spend two years in study at the expense of the Woman's club and the Kiwanis club of Raleigh. It is at her request that she is returning here this year, for in a recent letter to a member of the music department she said: "I cannot leave without the memory of one more concert on the Hill. I am always thrilled to come to the University."

Last year Miss Knox appeared with Colin O'More, noted tenor, and vast audiences recognized her as a genuine artist. She had planned to make her New York debut this fall, but the opportunity for further study has caused her to abandon the idea until later.

Her coming to Memorial hall October 30 will be watched with interest by the hundreds of people who have heard her. After her regular concert heretofore she has played on the steps of Memorial hall to a throng of students, her concert here consisting of college songs and popular tunes.

A Ford owner in Old West has solved one of the great problems which confront automobilists,—that of working on the motor without lying under it. Instead of getting under the car he turns the car over. Saturday morning with his Ford turned over on its side he was seen busy adjusting pistons and overhauling the motor.

FIELD GOALS IN FOURTH QUARTER DEFEAT U. N. C.

Two Drop Kicks by Hall Gives
Maryland Hard Fought Game.

DECREASE IN PENALTIES

University Misses Many Chances to Score—Hasn't Completed a Pass
Yet—Team Fought Well.

The Maryland Terrapins worked slowly on Emerson field last Saturday, but they worked surely and two field goals by fullback Hall in the final quarter gave the Old Liners a 6 and 0 victory over the Tar Heels. One of Hall's kicks was from the 40-yard line and was one of the prettiest ever seen on the field here.

The two teams were pretty evenly matched and the Maryland victory was due largely to the fact that the Old Liners made the most of their opportunities while Carolina let some splendid chances to score go by. Both the Maryland drop kicks came in the last quarter when it appeared that the game would in all probability end in a scoreless tie.

Maryland seemed to strengthen in the last half and the last quarter was all hers. The third period ended with the ball in Maryland's possession on Carolina's 48-yard line. Two successful passes carried the ball 15 yards and on the fourth down Hall stepped back and sent the ball whirling through the goal posts. It was a beautiful kick from the 40-yard line, one of the prettiest ever seen on Emerson field. Again a few minutes later when a blocked punt gave Maryland the ball deep in Carolina's territory, Hall again kicked a field goal, this time from the 25-yard line.

Both teams missed touchdowns by fractions. Once when a Maryland man recovered a punt by one of his team mates that had been touched as it rose over the Carolina line he had a free field, but he did not realize that it was a free ball until too late. In the last quarter with Maryland leading by six points and with the stands praying for a touchdown, Devin dropped a pass that had been held would have meant a touchdown, for he had an open field. Epstein missed a chance to bring glory to himself and Carolina in this same period when he was unable to pick up a fumble behind the Maryland line in time to get started for the goal line. A Carolina man in the squirming pile of gridders was trying frantically to get the ball and his interference probably kept "Ep" from making a touchdown.

The punting of Merritt and Sparrow was a feature of the game. Their boots sailed much farther than those of their opponents, while the good work of Matthews and Epstein kept the Maryland backs from returning very far. Carolina gained on almost every exchange of punts and during the first quarter it was the kicking almost entirely that put the Tar Heels deep in Maryland's territory and in position to score.

This was Carolina's best chance of the game. After an exchange of punts Merritt kicked outside on Maryland's one-foot line. It was a remarkable punt, perfectly judged. Maryland kicked back and it was Carolina's ball on the 25-yard line. An end run by Merritt garnered eight yards and Sparrow made it first down by plunging the line. Jeff Fordham added three more yards. Carolina was penalized five yards for offside. Merritt and Sparrow were taken out and Underwood and Devin substituted. Three passes were incomplete and the ball went over. This was the closest that the Tar Heels ever got to the Maryland goal. During the rest of the game they were kept mostly on the defensive and never again got as good a chance for a touchdown.

During the last half Carolina got the ball on Maryland's 45-yard line when Epstein recovered a fumble and Cobb was sent in to pass in an effort to save the game. He appeared to be nervous and both his tries were wild. Hackney went in and, during the few moments that he had, played an excellent game. He was called on to do some hurling and passed accurately, but on the first try Devin dropped the ball and Maryland intercepted the second throw.

A most encouraging thing about the contest for Carolina was the fact that the total number of yards lost because of penalties was only 30, which is quite a bit of improvement over the other games.

Bonner appeared to be the old "Rabbit" as of yore and showed some spectacular running back of the punts. He was not given many trials around the ends.

The line-up and summary follow:
Maryland (6) Carolina (0)
Supple _____ Epstein _____

Left end _____

Bronley _____ (Capt.) Matthews _____
