

TAR BABIES TO MEET UNDEFEATED VIRGINIA FRESHMAN OUTFIT TODAY IN SEASON'S LAST GAME AT HOME

Visiting Freshmen Haven't Been Licked in Two Years... 1924 RECORD IS GOOD Have Already Defeated Four of the Strongest Teams in the South Atlantic States.

TAR BABIES ARE UNDEFEATED But N. C. State Freshman Team Gave Them Hard and Tough Battle On Emerson Field Last Saturday.

The Virginia Fresh, undefeated for two years, will invade Emerson field this afternoon in their last game of the year with high hopes of licking the Tar Babies. Last year the Young Cavaliers decisively defeated the University yearlings at Charlottesville although the Carolina freshman team of 1923 was one of the strongest ever produced here. Today's game is the last college game on Emerson field this year.

Coach H. D. Thomas, Virginia's freshman coach, left for Chapel Hill yesterday in a special car with his players, and expects to close the 1924 season with a victory. Rushion, Rutter, Cardwell and McCafferty seem to be his four favorite backfield men and will probably start the game. Rushion is an excellent broken-field runner, deadly passer, and consistent drop kicker.

The Tar Babies will probably begin with the same line-up that held the State college Whelps to a 7-7 tie here last Saturday. However, it is claimed by some who have been following practice this week that the coaches will make a number of changes in an effort to bolster up both the offensive and defensive departments, in an effort to cope with the unusually strong team that is coming down from Virginia.

The freshman teams of Washington and Lee, Virginia Military Institute, University of Maryland, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute have all been soundly defeated by the Virginia Fresh. Under the new ruling of the Southern conference only five games are allowed freshman teams and today's contest ends their season.

The Tar Babies have not suffered defeat this year, although they came near to tasting of the bitter waters last Saturday against State college's freshman crew. The game this afternoon makes the fourth played by Carolina and next week the little Tar Heels travel up to College Park and play with the Terrapin Freshes.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTS NEXT MONDAY

Coach Monk McDonald Issues Call for First Practice At Four-Thirty Monday Afternoon.

Coach "Monk" McDonald has issued a call for varsity basketball candidates to report in the Tin Can next Monday afternoon at 4:30. Practice for the varsity quint is scheduled to start earlier this year than before.

Men who have made letters and who are expected to be out Monday or later include Captain Jack Cobb, Billy Devin, Sam McDonald, Bill Dodderer and Jimmy Poole. Others who are expected to report then or later include Don Koonce, Lawrence Watt, Bunn Hackney, Jesse Calhoun, Billy Harvell, Tom Pearsall, Redmond Dill, George Carmichael, Bob Chance, Rabbit Bonner and others.

Last year Carolina repeated her stunt of 1922 by winning the southern title in basketball at the tournament held in Atlanta. Three men from the Carolina team were picked for all-southern berths, these being Jack Cobb, Cart Carmichael and Monk McDonald. The squad will be minus the service of Carmichael, Greene, Lineberger and M. McDonald. These men were lost by graduation. None are back in the University with the exception of McDonald, who will coach the quintet this season.

Parents and Teachers Pay Chapel Hill a Visit

The delegates from the various city Parent-Teachers' associations which have been holding their meeting in Durham were entertained on the Hill Thursday by the Chapel Hill association. The ladies drove over from Durham in automobiles and luncheon was served to them in the new Methodist hut. Several meetings were held during the afternoon.

What the small boy doesn't understand is why they retain grownups to judge jam exhibits at state fairs.

The only worker we saw last week who seemed to appreciate the value of time was a bootlegger burnin' the pike at 70 miles an hour.

DR. CONNOR SPEAKS TO SENIOR CLASS

Makes Plea for Trained Leadership in the State.

DREAMERS NECESSARY "After All the Idealist Rules the World," He Declares.

"If there is one thing that the state needs today it is trained leadership," stated Dr. R. D. W. Connor to the senior class Thursday night at the second smoker of the class this year.

Dr. Connor made a plea for students to enter the field of public service and give the state the benefit of their acquired training. "The state is training you men and women to take up the burdens of leadership," said the professor.

"There are two types of leaders. First there are the dreamers of the world. Every big thing we do in the world is the result of a dream. The second type of leader is the man who makes reality of the dreamer's ideas. He is the man who supplements the work of the dreamer with action."

By way of illustration, Dr. Connor pictured the educational situation in North Carolina a quarter century ago. Some very interesting and informative figures were cited to make more vivid the degree of progress the state has made in educational lines.

In 1900 the state of North Carolina spent $950,000 for its public schools, while in 1922 $22,000,000 were spent. In 1900 approximately 400,000 children were enrolled in the public schools of the state, while in 1922 there were 750,000 children in school, an increase of almost double. In 1900 the average public school was operated for 73 days out of the year, while in 1922 the average was 141 days. In 1900 there were 30 high schools in the state, while in 1922 there were 475 high schools within the state borders. In 1900 the state appropriated for all its institutions of higher learning only $75,000, while a quarter century later the state appropriated in a single year $1,365,000.

The speaker called attention to the progress the state has made along all lines, the evidence, he suggested, that the increased expenditures for schools, roads, etc., has paid the taxpayers.

"The dream of Charles B. Aycock put into operation by thousands of men of the second type of leaders, has brought about the marvelous change in the state. It's the idealist after all that runs the world. So young men and women, dream and do not let mockery and laughs discourage your ideals."

Preceding the speech of Dr. Connor a message was heard from Mr. John Umstead, who in a few well chosen words presented to the class the insurance fund idea which was recently adopted by the Central Alumni council.

Under the head of class business a discussion was heard on the commencement programs, and samples were passed around for inspection by the members. F. S. Griffin, chairman of the executive committee, announced the appointment of the executive and finance committees of the class.

The smoker, which was held in the Carolina cafeteria, was pronounced an enjoyable affair, although only a relatively small number of the members of the class were present. Dick Thorpe, president, presided at the smoker.

Forget-Me-Not Sale Brings in a Nifty Sum

The sale of forget-me-nots held last Saturday netted a total of $123 to the children selling them for the benefit of world war veterans that are not receiving governmental aid.

Due to their blue and white colors, many students thought the little flowers were nothing more than novelties on sale for the V. M. I. game and refused to buy. Others whom the girls approached and explained the purpose of the sale contributed liberally.

DURHAM WINS IN FIFTH QUARTER

Chapel Hill-Durham Title Contest Goes Into Extra Period.

THE SCORE IS 10 TO 7

Hackney and Satterfield Show Good Football Work—Chapel Hill's Stars Are White and Farrell.

A drop-kick by Hackney in an extra period of play broke a seven all tie and brought victory to the Blue Tornado of Durham high school over Chapel Hill high yesterday afternoon by the margin of ten to seven.

The teams fought on even terms most of the time with Durham having a slight edge. The Blue Tornado was a little the heavier team, especially the backfield, and the weight told in the final period. Hackney and Satterfield were the best ground gainers for the Durham eleven while Farrell and White were most effective for the losers.

Chapel Hill lost a good chance to score in the first quarter when they got the ball on Durham's twenty-three yard line when Satterfield got off a bad punt that went outside there. Three tries at the line brought only five yards gain and Sparrow tried a drop kick. The Durham forwards were through and forced him to hurry his kick and it went wild.

The Hillians scored first in the second quarter when with the ball on their own seven yard line and in the possession of the Blue Tornado, Dawson recovered a fumble by Hackney and sped away for a touchdown. Durham was offside on the try for point and the extra counter was given to the Orange county eleven.

Durham started a drive that with a combined overhead attack carried them deep in the enemy territory in the third quarter and shortly after the start of the final period carried the ball over. Porter who was called out of the line to plunge made the last few yards.

It settled down to a grim fight for the winning score in an extra period with dark coming on. Durham gradually carried the ball into Chapel Hill's territory with gains by Satterfield featuring. Chapel Hill braced and held on the fifteen yard line, but Hackney's sure toe sent the ball spinning through the posts for the winning points.

The remaining few minutes were played with Durham still having the edge and Chapel Hill fighting desperately to hold off another touchdown. The whistle blew with the ball in Durham's possession in Chapel Hill's territory.

The line-up and summary follows:

Durham	Position	Chapel Hill

German Language Club Meets Tuesday

The German Language Club (Deutscher Verein) will hold its second meeting of the year at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 18, in Gerrard Hall. Owing to the large attendance at the last meeting (88 members were present), the meeting had to be moved from the "Y" to Gerrard Hall. Due mainly to the efforts of Mr. Metzenthin, the program for the next meeting promises to be even more interesting than that of the last one. Besides group songs, solos, and violin recitals, there will be performances of German ballads from Schiller and from Goethe. Several co-eds will take part. Everybody interested in German are invited to join the club. The program starts at 7 o'clock sharp and end at 8:00 p. m.

The Woman's association will entertain the administrative board of the University, the deans of the various departments and their wives at a tea to be given at the Roberson house on Saturday afternoon, November 15, from 4 to 6. All the women students are also invited.

KOCH AND CREW OF PLAYMAKERS ON NINTH ROUND

Will Make Visits to Leading Cities and Towns of Eastern North Carolina.

ITS AN EIGHT DAY TRIP Wilson Newspaper Gives Playmakers Very Favorable Criticism of First Performance of New Folk-Plays.

Professor Koch and his Playmakers left Wednesday morning on their ninth state tour. The itinerary includes the following eight towns: Wilson, Goldsboro, New Bern, Fayetteville, Red Springs, Dunn, Pittsboro and Raleigh. Jordan's new bus, "Karolina King," is being used by the players on this trip, and the scenery is being transported on a three-ton truck.

Below is printed the article appearing in Thursday's Wilson Mirror: "Any time the University of North Carolina wishes to send another such group of talented actors to Wilson as those who appeared at the Wilson theater last night, Wilson will welcome them with open arms.

"Seldom has any attraction met with greater favor or approval than did the performance of the Carolina Playmakers in this city last night. Not only was the production interesting, but the acting was exceptionally good and of a type that any professional might well have been proud of.

"The show was good from beginning to end and it was thoroughly enjoyed by every member of the large audience which was on hand to greet it.

HICCOUGH EPIDEMIC STRIKES UNIVERSITY

Five Students Go to Infirmary With Violent Cases of the Great American Disease.

Chapel Hill is keeping pace with the Metropolis in more ways than one. Hearing that New York is having an epidemic of "hiccoughs," with hospitals treating hundreds daily, the University infirmary has come up to toe the mark with five cases. Only one is now in the infirmary.

The victims were seized with hicoughing so continually and violently that in one case four injections of morphine were necessary. In some of the cases in New York, the World states that gas was administered without definite relief. The doctors seem unable to classify the cause for the condition, which is contraction of the muscles of the diaphragm. Some consider it the beginning of a case of sleeping sickness, while others consider it merely a form of influenza.

WEEDING OUT OF UNFIT CONTINUES

High School Elimination Series Nearing Completion.

EIGHT TEAMS IN RACE

Finals to Be Staged in Chapel Hill December 8.

Out of the 41 high school teams which entered the contest on November 1, the number has narrowed to eight teams in the eastern series and eight teams in the west at the time of this writing. Each one of the eight teams in both sections of the state is determined to be the winner in the championship series, and as most of them are evenly matched, some very close games are looked for during the remainder of the contest.

As arranged by a recent meeting of faculty managers of schools in the series, the schedule for high school football games to be played this week for the championship of the state was announced by E. R. Rankin, secretary of the High School Athletic association, to be as follows:

Eastern Champion Series

The Durham and Chapel Hill high school teams, champions respectively of groups six and seven in the east, met here yesterday.

The Sanford and Rockingham high school teams, champions of groups five and three of the eastern series, met at Pinehurst yesterday.

The New Bern and Mount Olive high school teams, champions respectively of groups one and two in the east, met at Kinston yesterday.

The Wilmington and Rocky Mount high school teams, champions of groups four and eight in the east, met at Wilmington yesterday.

Western Champion Series

The High Point and Greensboro high school teams will meet this week in a final group game to decide the championship of group one in the west.

The Charlotte and Winston-Salem high school teams played at Charlotte yesterday in a final group game to decide the championship of group two in the west.

The Spencer and Salisbury high school teams played at Lexington yesterday in a final group game to decide the championship of group three in the west.

The Shelby and Mount Holly high school teams played at Shelby yesterday in a final group game to decide the championship of group four.

The eastern semi-finals and the western semi-finals will probably be played on Friday, November 21. The eastern finals will be played Saturday, November 29, at Chapel Hill, and the western finals will take place the same day at some city in the west. The final game for the state high school football championship will be played on Emerson field Saturday, December 6.

Scientific Society Held 275th Meeting

At the meeting of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific society Tuesday night in Phillips hall, James M. Bell, professor of chemistry, read a paper on "Electrometric Methods of Chemical Analysis." The subject of D. A. McPherson's paper was "The Relation of Hydrogen Ions to Bacteriology and Public Health." This was the 275th meeting of the society.

George Tandy, '17, former football star for the University, is now coaching the Berkeley Braves in Berkeley, Va.

Expect Strong Air Attack from Younger's Wildcats.

PASSES RUINED STATE

Techmen Were Lost in Bewildering Overhead Charge—N. C. Coached to Combat It.

MERRITT EXPECTED TO REPEAT

Light Line Should Fall Easy Victim to Fulback—But the Wildcats Frequently Do the Unexpected.

Davidson, with a possible chance at the state championship within their grasp and with their record of no defeats on Richardson field for 12 years, will give the Fetters' Tar Heels the fight of their lives this afternoon before they concede them a victory.

Coach Younger has developed a fighting team at Davidson, that despite the fact that it is generally outweighed 15 or 20 pounds to the man, has been able to do through the season with only one defeat and that by the strong Furman team, conquerors of the University of South Carolina. Davidson and Wake Forest are the only state teams that have not been defeated by a North Carolina eleven and as Davidson does not play the Deacon team, they will in all probability tie for the state championship if the Wildcats can overcome Captain Matthews and his crew. If the Demons should meet defeat at the hands of State college it would then give the Wildcats possession of the state title.

The Davidson crew were enabled to tie State college by the use of the forward pass and appear to have a particularly strong aerial offensive. It is in preparation for this that the Fetters have been drilling the Tar Heels during the past week. V. M. I. and its heralded air attack was not allowed to complete but one pass out of the eight attempted, while three were intercepted. Carolina with this week's training along this line should be able to successfully cope with the offerings of the Younger eleven.

The Wildcat line will have its mettle tested when Jack Merritt tries his rugged strength against it. With the advantage of 15 pounds in the line ahead and the "human battering ram" behind to carry the ball, Carolina should be able to gain almost at will through the lighter Davidson team. That, however, remains to be seen.

Carolina will enter the fray in fair shape. The team came through the hard V. M. I. struggle with no serious injuries. McIver, who was taken from the game, has recovered and will in all probability play this afternoon. Hogan and Robinson, who for the first time played an entire game, may again be given the call. Their work was of varsity calibre and the line appeared to be stronger than it was against South Carolina. Sparrow is recovering, but it is doubtful if he will play. Devin will again probably start at quarterback.

The probable line-up:

Davidson	Carolina
Pinkney	Braswell
	R. E.
Anderson	Hogan
	R. T.
Boggs	Fordham
	R. G.
McConnell	McIver
	C.

CAROLINA VARSITY IS TAKING PART IN MEET

Whitaker Wades Through Tournament At Pinehurst and Will Meet Bostonian in Finals.

F. O. Whitaker, University student, and Richard Lovering, of Boston, Mass., won their semi-final matches at Pinehurst Thursday in the annual mid-South tennis tournament. Whitaker defeated Paul Fuller, another U. N. C. player, 6-0, 6-3. Lovering defeated A. Solomon, also a member of the varsity team here, in three games, 6-8, 6-1, 6-4.

The entire varsity team went to Pinehurst at the beginning of the week to participate in the tourney and to watch the playing of Vincent Richards and other tennis stars who are now at the famous winter resort.
