FACTORY PLUMBING CAN CONTRIBUTE TO EFFICIENCY

Supplying dependable valves, fittings and steam specialties that exactly satisfy all piping requirements is only one of the ways Crane Co. serves American industry. Crane provides another important means of lowering manufacturing costs in its complete line of factory plumbing fixtures.

In many ways this sanitary equipment can be used to bring up efficiency. Toilet rooms and lavatories of ample capacity, placed close to the "population centers" of the departments they serve, save many wasted minutes. Enough drinking fountains, convenient to machines and benches, increase production by shortening the time taken off by workmen in quenching their thirst. Because Crane plumbing materials stand up under ordinary, careless usage, they perpetuate these savings of time. Their upkeep cost is low, their life much longer than could be expected of fixtures made to sell on price alone.

When you plan plumbing installations, a Crane specialist at the nearest Crane Branch or Sales Office will be glad to help you select the correct type of fixture for each particular requirement. One hundred two Crane branches and offices bring this service within easy reach of every industrial plant in the United States and Canada.

PROF. KOCHBACK FROM NEW YORK

 especial importance are, "They Knew What They Wanted," a play of California life, in which Ernest Thompson, a student here until last year, is playing a small part; "My Son", a comedy of the Cape Cod fishes folk; "Minick", a comedy of modern American life portraying the revolt of the present day American youth.

Other noteworthy comedies that Professor Koch saw that are not of American origin were, "Old English", by John Galsworthy, in which George Arliss is playing a fine role, and "Fire Brand," a brilliant comedy on the life of Benvenuto Cellini from his autobiography, by Sidney Howard.

There are a number of good revivals and of these Professor Koch said the outstanding were: Barrie's "Peter Pan", Stephen Phillips' poetic drama, "Poala Francesca"; Rostand's, "Cyrano de Bergerac", with Walter Hampden; Congreve's masterpiece of the Restoration Comedy, "The Way of the World", originally produced in 1700; and an East Indian play, "The Little Clay Cart," written 11800 years. This is done with the original stage craft at the Neighborhood Playhouse.

In summarizing his statements concerning the theatre, Professor Koch said: "It is interesting to note the number of really worthy plays of both comedy and tragedy, and the number and variety of revivals of excellent standard plays. My total impression is that American taste is being educated and is taking the theatre thoughtfully with a serious interest in drama of artistic merit. The outlook for the future is altogether promising."

At Aeolian Hall Professor Koch saw a demonstration of Thomas Wilford's "Clavilux", or color organ, a marvellous invention on presenting a play by using light in three dimensions. This instrument promises to develop a new fine art, that of light in a symphony of moving forms and colors comparable to music.

University alumni now on Broadway are, Elisabeth Taylor, who played with the Playmakers two years ago, and who is rehearsing for a part in Brock Pemberton's new play, "The Marionette Man", Tom Pace, who is playing small parts, and Ernest Thompson, well-known campus playwright and actor last year, who is playing small parts.

MAGAZINE BOASTS A STRONG STORY

 "style" and gives evidence either of actual experience or a broad knowledge of a certain school of literature. Medicine as a Profession is the second of a series of vocational articles to be offered by the Magazine; a very clear and brief analysis of Medicine as a profession. Tender Hearts is a clever imitation of Addison, but it lacks point. In the Forum column C. R. Jonas dwells on two topics of general campus interest. He presents, so to speak, the case for the state, and does it very well; but he fails to state how much collaboration Mr. Woolen donated. The three poems on the last page are conventionally undergraduate; the two contributions to Hells Vestibule are the offshoots respectively of a potent Babbitt Amy Lowell.

The editorials and the Pasture are a further following-up of the new editorial policy. The subjects chosen are timely and competently, if characteristically, handled. If the Magazine continues to improve, we needs must become superlative ere long.
