

KU KLUX KLAN QUESTION TO BE AIRED OUT HERE

Editor of The Kourier Will Speak for Klan and Bailey Will Oppose It.

SPEAK A WEEK APART Hamlett Comes to Speak in Place of Judge Henry Grady, Prominent Karolina Klansman.

Two talks on an issue which is of much contemporary interest both to students and to people all over the state will be made in Chapel Hill, beginning on Friday night, January 30, when Dr. W. A. Hamlett, of Atlanta, editor of The Kourier, a preacher and an outstanding lecturer on the Ku Klux Klan, will give a lecture outlining the good points of the Klan, and ending one week later when Josiah William Bailey, of Raleigh, well known as a candidate for the nomination for Governor in the recent campaign, will speak in opposition to the Klan and its principles.

Dr. Hamlett has been a member of the Ku Klux Klan for several years, and has spent a great deal of his time recently in lecturing all over the country in favor of the Klan. F. S. Griffin, president of the Di Senate, who has been in communication with Klan leaders for several weeks, finally succeeded in getting Dr. Hamlett to come to Chapel Hill. Judge Henry Grady was at first asked to give the lecture, but that man pointed out Dr. Hamlett as being better prepared for doing it.

Besides being a great fighter for reduced freight rates, Mr. J. W. Bailey has also found time to knock the Ku Klux Klan on every occasion, and he was selected as being well prepared to make a speech in opposition to it. Mr. Bailey has stated that he will base all his argument on the doctrines held by the Klan.

The two men are being brought here under the auspices of the Di Senate.

FROSH WILL PLAY MARS HILL HERE

Shepherd's Charges Will Meet Strong Team Tonight.
LINE-UP, IS UNCERTAIN
Mars Hill Quint Defeated Reserves Last Year.

The frosh basketballers get their first trial tonight when they meet the Mars Hill quint in the Tin Can. Mars Hill is said to have an exceptionally good team and is expected to furnish strong opposition.

Last year the prep school team met the varsity reserves in the Can, played them off their feet and won. Playing with the reserves then were several men who are making a strong bid for varsity positions this year. If as good a team comes here as that of last season Coach Shepherd's men will do well to work out a victory.

No one knows just who will start the game tonight and probably several men will get a chance to show their wares before the final whistle is blown, but the best bet appears to be Newcomb at center, Ferrell and Morris at guards, and Vanstony and Skinner at forwards.

CHEMISTRY HALL NOT YET FINISHED

Interior Work Will Take Up Much Time.
NAMED FOR VENABLE
Building Will Probably Be Ready for Fall Term.

While the new chemistry building, Venable hall, has the roof trusses and pyrobar roof in place, some time must necessarily elapse before the structure will be ready for occupancy. Although completion looks near at hand from the outside, there still remains practically the whole interior yet to be erected. According to H. D. Carter of Atwood & Nash, architects, the edifice is only about 50 per cent completed.

Much work has been necessary from the beginning. Construction was started in a virgin forest, and, owing to the landscape, much grading had to be done before the foundation could be started. Considering the circumstances, the progress made thus far has been very rapid. The heating pipes are yet to be placed; the blower and duct system of ventilation will require much care and time for installation. The plastering of the entire building will have to be done, and then it must dry. When the interior is finished, doors and trims will have to be put on. The top flooring of wood or granolithic is yet to be laid, and the

PLAYMAKERS TO FINISH CRUSADE WITH BIG SHOW

To Be Given In Memorial Hall With Student Body Invited to Attend Free.

GIVEN FOR ATHLETICS Donations Will Be Received and Given Toward Fund for Purchase of Gold Footballs, Etc.

In Memorial Hall on Monday night, February 2, the Carolina Playmakers will give a free performance of the plays presented while on their Southern tour, from which they will have just returned. The program includes "When Witches Ride," a play of folk superstition by Elizabeth Lay, "Fixin's," a tragedy of tenant farm life, by Erma and Paul Greene, and "Gaius and Gaius, Jr.," a farce-comedy of the Old South by Lucy M. Cobb.

These plays will be given as a complimentary performance on the part of the Playmakers to the athletes of the University. Although no admission whatever will be charged, a collection at the door after the performance will provide an opportunity for those who so desire to contribute. The entire proceeds exclusive of the actual cost of the production—consisting of items such as make-up, rental, and lighting—will go to buy gold footballs, basketballs, and baseballs for the men who uphold Carolina's glory in athletics. Thus the performance will provide an opportunity for the student body, the faculty, and the residents of Chapel Hill to show their appreciation of the work which the wearers of the monogram have done on the teams. The regular prices of seats for the Playmakers' performance are $2 and $2.50 on the Southern tour, while at performances in Chapel Hill the admission is usually $1; this performance, however, will be entirely free. It is only expected that the spectators will give what they feel the performance is worth and what they would like to contribute for the emblem, as an expression of their appreciation for our athletes' work.

All arrangements for the performance are in the hands of the officers of the athletic association. The cast of the plays will be announced in an early issue. It has been learned already, however, that Aubrey Shackle, who, besides being one of the most talented of the Playmakers, was manager of last year's track and wrestling teams, will return to Chapel Hill to take a prominent role in the performance.

DI SENATE TALKS ABOUT R. O. T. C.

Senator Charlie Jonas Leads the Way.

A QUORUM NOT PRESENT Seems to Be Much Opposition to the Proposition.

The second meeting of the recently organized Di Senate served the purpose of dropping a little oil in the new machine, in that it made its members a little more familiar with senatorial procedure.

Of the five bills on the calendar for disposal, the first one, introduced by Senator Charlie Jonas, of Lincoln, took up the entire time. The bill favored the introduction of a R. O. T. C. at the University, with membership voluntary. Moderate debate was held over it.

The proponents of the bill claimed that the introduction of a R. O. T. C. would justify itself alone by the physical benefits to be derived from it by the students. They denied that it would foster a spirit of militarism, and some who admitted that it might foster that spirit, contended it would be good. The disciplinary benefits to be obtained from such training, the affirmative contended, is a strong point in its favor.

The negative pointed out the many opportunities for physical exercise open for Carolina students, which make unnecessary a R. O. T. C. for that purpose. Long discourses were made by the opponents of the bill on the evils of militarism and the dangers attending the fostering of a militaristic spirit, which they claimed a R. O. T. C. would do. They used the argument that the "voluntary" element of the bill would make it ineffective.

A quorum was not present, and the Senate decided to further discuss and vote on the measure at the next session. Senator Donald Jonas, chairman of a committee to have the new Di constitution printed, reported that the new printed constitutions would be ready by the next session.

President H. W. Chase left Sunday night for Washington City to attend a meeting of the National Park Commission.

WRESTLERS LICK THE RALEIGH Y Win Season Opener by Score of 21-5.

VICK DOES GOOD WORK Carolina Meets State College Friday Night.

Carolina's wrestling team won the initial match of the season Saturday night by defeating Raleigh Y. M. C. A. there by a score of 21-5, the Tar Heel team getting three falls and two decisions on time.

Starting promptly at 8:30, the match was characterized by snappiness and speed throughout. Representing Carolina in the 119-pound class was Heafner. He was opposed by Bailey, who outweighed the University man by 5 pounds. Time was called for Bailey to change trunks, they having been ripped in the fray. Bailey lasted only 2 minutes and 30 seconds before Heafner's onslaught, and here 5 points were added to U. N. C.'s score by means of a fall.

In the 129-pound class Motsinger, a veteran of last year's team, continued the fighting which marked the opening of activities for Coach Shapiro's men. In exactly 2 minutes and 45 seconds Mtsinger had secured a fall over his opponent, Poole, and had rolled up the team's score by another 5 points.

Matched against Vick, Carolina's 139-pound representative, was Goldberg, a contestant in the Olympic tryouts held in Durham in 1922. Vick proved more than a match for him, however, in both offensive and defensive work. After 3 minutes and 30 seconds Goldberg's shoulders were pinned to the mat and 5 more points were added to the total by the veteran of last year's team.

Captain Waters, the 149-pound man, was pitted against Nixon, captain and coach of the Raleigh "Y" team. Waters entered every meet last year and was not thrown once. A hard fight ensued between the two captains, and during the excitement Nixon succeeded in getting a fall by means of a "full Nelson" without the referee's noticing it, this hold being barred in intercollegiate wrestling.

In the 152-pound class Blankenship won over Jones, an ex-naval wrestler, on a time decision. This he added 3 points to Carolina's score, which now stood at 18-5.

When Warren, 175-pounder, came on the mat, he had to meet Gattis, another ex-naval wrestler. Thus it was that the Navy again met the Army, Warren being a West Pointer. The Army's representative came off victorious, Warren also winning on a time decision. As the Y. M. C. A. had no unlimited weight wrestler, Lockhart, of Carolina, was not given the opportunity of going on the mat. The meet ended 21-5.

This is a creditable showing for the first meet of the year, considering the experience of the opposing teams. It shows the result of splendid coaching and consistent training, and it is hoped that the "big team" can keep up the good work when the collegiate schedule is started.

Carolina matmen go to Raleigh again next week, when they meet State Friday night, January 23.

PHI SOCIETY HOLDS ITS FIRST SMOKER OF YEAR

Delightful Banquet Held in Carolina Cafeteria Last Saturday Night After Davidson Game.

The Phi Society held its first smoker-banquet of the year last Saturday night in the Carolina Cafeteria at nine-thirty. It was proclaimed by many as a most delightful banquet.

About sixty or seventy members of the society were present and their lively spirit helped to ward off the usual banquet's monotony. An excellent feed was spread by the cafeteria manager.

At the beginning of the program Fred Parker, of Goldsboro, was installed as the new speaker of the society. He took charge of the program and called on many of the members to make talks and respond with jokes.

Two negroes were brought in and amused the society with several rounds of boxing. A collection was taken up and divided up on a 60-40 basis, the winner getting the larger pot.

Dr. Charles Foster Kent, Yale professor, will deliver two lectures here Thursday on the general theme, "Jesus' Philosophy of Life." The lectures will be delivered in Gerrard Hall, the first one at 4:00 P. M. and the second at 8:30.

Dr. Kent was scheduled to be here three days, but due to an unexpected business call to Atlanta, he is forced to cut his Chapel Hill visit to one day, so is condensing his material into two addresses.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bennett have taken apartments in the residence of T. C. Atwood out at the Gimghoul development.

WILDCATS CLAW IN VAIN AGAINST THE TAR HEELS

Game Was Hard Fought Despite Lop-Sided Score Run Up Against Presbyterians.

DEFEATED THEM 44 TO 13 First Major College Contest of Year Eliminates Davidson from Championship Race.

Playing a much better all-round game than upon the previous night when they defeated Guilford, Carolina's flying five brushed Davidson aside last Saturday as a contender for state honor, rolling up a 44 to 13 score upon the Wildcats in a contest much more exciting than the score would indicate.

Davidson was clearly outclassed before the superior passing and shooting of Coach McDonald's men, and after a brief five-minute struggle at the opening of the game there was no doubt as to the final outcome so far as the victory was concerned. In those opening few minutes Davidson trailed Carolina closely, the score being variously 3-1, 5-3, 7-4, but the pace set by Cobb and his cohorts was too fast for Presbyterians and in a few moments the Tar Heels began to draw away.

With time almost up for the first half the Carolinians took a spurt that brought four field goals in rapid succession and put them far ahead, the score when the period ended being 23 to 6.

Dodderer was by far the outstanding star of the game. Playing a beautiful floor game he broke up Davidson's passes time and again. His sensational work was largely responsible for the fact that the Wildcats scored only 13 points; however, the entire Tar Heel quint guarded well.

Sam McDonald had a great night of it at forward, tossing the ball through the hoop for 17 points, four more than Davidson's total.

Anderson played a good game at center for the visitors, and while he couldn't get the tip-off over Dodderer he scored five of his team's points. Boggs at left guard also played a strong game, his dribbling being especially good. Carolina rushed the Wildcats off their feet and Coach Younger sent in several substitutes in an effort to stem the tide, but all to no avail.

Lineup and summary:

Carolina (44)	Davidson (13)
Cobb (7)	Beal (2)
	R. F.
McDonald (17)	Staley (1)
	L. F.
Dodderer (7)	Anderson (5)
	C.
Purser (9)	McConnell (1)
	R. G.
Devyn (4)	Boggs
	L. G.

Substitutes: Davidson—Hudgins (2), Hule (2), Laird, Hewlett, Laird. Referee: Parker; 20 minute halves.

CAROLINA MEETS TWO BIG FOES THIS WEEK

Play Wake Forest and Duke on Foreign Ground—Baptists Appear to Be Exceptionally Good.

With Davidson and Guilford disposed of Carolina meets this week her two remaining rivals for state honors in Wake Forest and Duke, both the games being played on foreign courts, the Baptists tomorrow and the Methodists Saturday.

Garrity's crew has just returned from a six game Virginia trip on which they won four games and lost two; winning from Washington and Lee, V. P. I., Richmond Blues, and Lynchburg, and losing to V. M. I. and Georgetown University.

The Deacons always have a good team and this year with a team composed almost entirely of veterans is exceptionally good. The fact that the game is played upon their own court will give them a slight margin in their favor as it always does the home team.

The great Trinity quint of last year has graduated and the men representing Duke are for the most part green and inexperienced. While they will undoubtedly do their utmost to win from Captain Cobb's crew they are hardly expected to furnish very strong opposition. Guilford pulled them a close game, Duke pulling away in the last to win by a ten point margin.

Yachety-Yack Staff Meeting

There will be a meeting of the entire board of trustees in Raleigh on Saturday.

GLEE CLUB GIVES VARIED CONCERT Jerome Swinford Praises Club Highly.

SANG AS GUEST ARTIST
Club Shows Improvement Over Organization of Last Year.

By LUCY F. LAY
"Your glee club has been making history in the past week. I would like to say that I have sung with many choral organizations in the country, and I have never seen a finer and more representative group of men, nor have I heard any finer choral singing. This past week has been the greatest pleasure of my life." So Jerome Swinford, New York baritone, who was guest artist with the glee club appearances, paid tribute to the work of the students under the direction of Paul John Weaver and Theodore Fitch.

The program of the concert on Monday evening represented a variety of some of the highest types of choral music, and the singing was to many a marvelous revelation of tone effects. Not only was there marked improvement in the work over the program given here last year by the club, but also the evening's entertainment was the high water mark of choral singing. Despite the fact that there was more than the customary proportion of mud extant over the community, there was quite a good audience to greet the singers on their return from their state tour.

The opening group of Bach chorales set the tone of the program. They were sung with ease and exquisite shading. In the third, an organ-like background for the solo part by Mr. Fitch was attained by the chorus. It was not mere singing, such as one generally hears in an average choral concert, it was art of the highest sort, exhibiting restraint at one time, and at another the fullest vigor and force.

As the program progressed the enthusiastic reception became more and more evident. In the group of old sacred songs the "Miserere Mei Deus" was given so much applause that it was repeated. The beautiful blending of the parts was especially evident in this number.

In the group of folk-songs, remarkable effects were gained when the chorus made a soft background for Mr. Fitch's solos. Of the four in the group, the negro spiritual, "Wait till I put on my crown," proved to be the most popular with the audience. It was sung with an unbounded enthusiasm and vigor. "On the Sea," by Dudley Buck, included a rich variety of effect. "Ma Little Banjo," always a favorite with audiences, was sung with distinct originality and delicacy. In "The Moorish Serenade" the piano accompaniment played by Mr. Fitch was exceedingly lovely.

Mr. Swinford, who has a baritone voice of richness and fullness of tone, sang two groups of songs. Particularly well done were the Beethoven selection, "Adoration of Nature," and the Ulster folk-song, "The Last Market Day." The negro song, "Didn't it Rain," was sung in a most expressive and inimitable manner. The Breton folk-song about the Nativity showed delicacy of treatment. As one of his encores he gave "By the Waters of Minnetonka." Mr. Weaver's accompaniment was especially admirable

Yale Professor of Law Will Deliver Address.

CLASSES SUSPENDED Dedication Exercises Will Be Held On Steps Of Manning Hall if Weather Permits.

PRESIDENT CHASE TO PRESIDE Legislators, Judges, Trustees, and Other Distinguished Guests to Make Pilgrimage to the Hill.

With a large number of visitors expected, including the members of the legislature, judges of both the North Carolina Supreme court and Superior courts, trustees of the University, and many other distinguished guests, dedication exercises of Manning Hall, the new home of the University law school, will be held in Memorial Hall next Friday morning at 11:30. William Reynolds Vance, formerly dean of the law school at Washington and Lee University, at George Washington law school, and at the University of Minnesota, and who is now professor in the law school of Yale University, will deliver the principal address. He has taken as his subject "New Values in Legal Education."

G. Vernon Cowper, University alumnus, of Winston, and president of the North Carolina Bar association, will bring greetings from the lawyers of the state. William A. Hoke, who was recently elevated to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chief Justice Walter Clark, will represent the judiciary of the state on the program. The University law school will be represented by its dean, Merton L. Ferson, who will also make an address at the dedication program. President Harry Woodburn Chase will preside at the exercises. Music will be furnished at intervals by the University glee club.

The weather permitting, the actual dedication ceremonies will be held upon the steps of the law building. The exercises in Memorial Hall in that case, will end with the addresses and the group will retire to the law building steps where the newly installed lieutenant-governor, J. Elmer Long, of Durham, will make the presentation speech on behalf of the state. The acceptance speech will be made for the trustees of the University by Hon. Josephus Daniels. If the weather does not permit the carrying out of the program upon the steps of Manning Hall, the actual presenting and accepting will be held in Memorial Hall just at the conclusion of the earlier program.

Classes Suspended

Classes will be suspended at the end of the third period, which will be moved up from 11 to 10:30. Exercises in Memorial hall will begin promptly at 11:30 and it is expected that they will be over about 1 o'clock. Special seats will be reserved for the law students, who will attend in a body. They will also wear distinguishing badges. Special sections will be set aside for students, and the committee in charge of the program is especially anxious that a large student attendance be had, since classes are being suspended from 11:30 to 2 p.m.

Many Visitors Expected

It is certain that there will be a large number of visitors here for the exercises. Invitations have been extended to the legislature to come over in a body. The University has offered to furnish transportation to members of the legislature and judges of the Supreme and Superior courts to and from Raleigh. Leaders in the assembly have indicated that it is very probable that the two houses will adjourn to accept the University's invitation. But even though the invitation is not officially accepted, many are expected to be over for the day. Should the weather be fair, it is expected that a number will bring their wives.

Other visitors are also expected to attend and hear the addresses and be present at the presentation ceremonies. A gala day is being planned by the committee in charge of the dedication. Governor McLean will not be able to be present, but has appointed the lieutenant-governor as his representative.

Dr. Vance Will Attract Many

The fact that William Reynolds Vance will deliver the principal address will bring many to Chapel Hill. Dr. Vance is one of the foremost students of law in the universities of the nation. His academic days were spent at Washington and Lee University, where he received his A.B. degree in 1892, his M.A. in 1893, his Ph.D. in 1895, and a LL.B. in 1897. In 1910 Yale University conferred upon him an honorary M.A. degree. He began his teaching career at his alma mater, where he was associate professor of law, a full professor of law and dean of the law school. In 1903 he went to
