

BAILEY FIRES A SHOT FULL INTO KU-KLUX KLAN

Klan is a Logical Monstrosity and Cannot Appeal to a Man of Intelligence.

HE PRODUCES DOCUMENTS

Speech by Bailey Ends Klan Debate Fostered by Di Senate—Bailey is an Able Speaker.

By J. E. FARRIOR

"The Ku Klux Klan should not exist," Hon. Josiah William Bailey declared in a lecture delivered in Memorial Hall last Friday night. Mr. Bailey also went on to say that as a religious and social force the Klan was an unecclasiastical and logical monstrosity and that it could not appeal to a man of intelligence.

This was the second of two lectures on the K. K. K. given under the auspices of the Dialectic Senate. The first was given by Dr. J. H. Hawkins, who spoke in favor of the Klan. This is following the usual policy of the Di to give an able presentation of both sides of the question.

Mr. Bailey stated that he had not come, as the posters had stated, to denounce the Klan. He came, he said, to appeal to the reason and common sense of his audience. He mounted the platform carrying a vast armload of data on the Klan, comprising everything from the testimony of Colonel Simmons before Congress to the latest editorial from the official organ of the Klan, the Ku Kluxer. And before he came down he had used all of it. He literally took up the Klan, turned it wrong side out and shook it. And some unusual and highly interesting disclosures were made.

Mr. Bailey told of the beginning of the Klan and traced its history. It began originally in a little town in Tennessee where a small group was organized. The name came from a Greek word meaning a circle. It was necessary in the days following the war when a government of carpet-baggers made no attempt to check the atrocities of negroes and scalawags. It accomplished a great deal of good but finally, when the need for it was gone, it became corrupt and of necessity passed away.

The new Klan was begun by Colonel Simmons in 1915 and was called the Ku Klux Klan revived. He wrote the ritual, the constitution, and the by-laws. He provided that all power should be vested in the Imperial Wizard, naturally taking that office himself. The new Klan did not make much headway until about the close of the World war. It was then that Colonel Simmons met Edward Young Clark and their famous—or rather infamous—contract was made. They organized the Klan on a sound financial basis. Clark was made king klee of the organization. "And by the way,"

JONAS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF DI

Election is Occasion for Prolonged Cheering.

ELECTED UNANIMOUSLY

Di Passes Motion to Meet with the Phi Assembly.

Amid prolonged cheering, Senator Charles Raper Jonas, of Lincoln, was unanimously elected president of the Di senate for the spring quarter at the session of the Di last Saturday night. The election of president was held early so that the elected president might get his picture in this year's Yachety Yack.

Senator L. A. Crowell, in a short talk, in which he labeled Senator Jonas as the only "logical" man for the position, nominated Senator Jonas for the position.

Pre-election dope had it that there would be several men in the race for the office, but when the time came for the actual voting everything went solidly for Senator Jonas. During the whole year, the new president has been taking a very active part in the society work, has taken a leading part in all the debates, and there was little doubt but that he would be elected.

A motion for adjournment passed immediately after the election, and no bills were discussed or passed upon.

A resolution from the Phi that the Phi and Di meet in joint session next Saturday night was passed by a big majority. The freshman debate which was scheduled to be held next Saturday night, was postponed until the following Saturday so as to permit the joint session.

The following six men were initiated into the senate at the meeting: E. P. Morgan, Candor; R. D. Crabtree, Greensboro; Glenn Elliott, Salisbury; S. A. Huss, Lincoln, and Charles Price, Greensboro.

CAROLINA TAKES AWARD IN THREE CORNER DEBATE

Jonas and Chappel Defeat S. C. At Columbia—Chappel Alternate for Young.

CAROLINA WINS HERE

Justus And Livingston Get Two to One Decision Over William and Mary Debaters.

Carolina was proclaimed champions of the William and Mary-South Carolina-North Carolina debate triangle last Monday night by virtue of winning both sides of the query, Resolved—That Congress by a two-thirds vote should be given power to override the judicial veto. The Carolina affirmative won over the William and Mary negative here, while the University's negative team composed of C. R. Jonas and S. G. Chappel gained the judges' decision over the South Carolina affirmative team at Columbia, S. C. Chappel debated upon only a short notice, substituting for M. M. Young, who was prevented from making the trip on account of sickness.

The Carolina affirmative team met the William and Mary negative here Monday night in Gerrard hall, winning a two-to-one decision over the visitors. The Carolina debaters were Ernest L. Justus, of Flat Rock, and Theodore B. Livingston, of Asheville. William and Mary was represented by George Reilly and Arthur J. Winder.

The affirmative first speaker pointed out the fallacies of the present system by the use of many illustrations taken from the history of the Supreme court. The second speaker advocated the transfer of absolute interpretation of the Constitution from the Supreme court to Congress on the grounds that it would be in accord with the developments of democracy and that it would place greater stress upon the will of the people.

The negative contended that the Supreme Court has always been the guardian of the sacred rights of the people and that to deprive it of its check in our system of checks and balances would destroy the workings of the system. They denied that the Supreme court is incapable of carrying out its peculiar duties, and advanced the argument that Congress is absolutely unfit to pass final judgment upon its own legislation.

The judges for the debate were Glen R. Johnson, of North Carolina College for Women; Dean C. C. Taylor, of N. C. State college, and S. Wade Marr, of Raleigh. Professor George McKie presided at the debate, and L. B. Kennett acted as secretary. The judges, debaters, and officials were guests of the debating council after the debate at a smoker.

SWARTHMORE TO DEBATE CAROLINA

Open Forum Clash Early Next Month.

DEBATE WILL BE HERE

Preliminaries Are Scheduled for February 20th.

An open forum debate with Swarthmore college has been announced by the debating council to be held here the second of March. The query to be discussed will be, Resolved—That the United States should recognize the present government of Russia.

Carolina will be represented by two men, one man for the affirmative and one for the negative. The audience will act as judges to determine the winning side. The Carolina representatives will be picked in open preliminary in the Phi hall on the night of February 20 at 7:30. The speeches in the try-outs will be limited to seven minutes on first speech and to four-minute rejoinders.

The recognition of Russia question is being debated extensively this year by colleges and universities. It is one of the foremost problems of our national foreign relations and much has been written and said in regard to it. Consequently, it is thought that quite a few men will avail themselves of the opportunity to try out for the Swarthmore open forum.

The same query will also be used in the Carolina-Sewanee-Tulane triangle which will be held a bit later in the early spring. The finals of the Swarthmore debate will precede the preliminaries for the Tulane-Sewanee-Carolina triangle, so that it will be possible for men to work up the same subject and try for both debates.

Swarthmore has gained considerable reputation for her debating activities, and the coming debate with the northern debaters is being looked forward to by many here.

GAMECOCKS PLAY HERE TOMORROW

Meet South Carolina in the Tin Can.

DUKE HERE SATURDAY

First Local Games Since the Northern Trip.

Beginning the first of a series of home games the Tar Heels meet the University of South Carolina quint in the Tin Can tomorrow night.

The Gamecocks have been enjoying a very successful season and indications point to a hard fought contest when they hook up with Captain Cobb's men. This is the first game that the Tar Heels have played in the Can for almost a month, and will be the first opportunity the student body has had to see them in action for this same length of time.

Saturday night the Duke quintet plays a return game for the earlier game on the Duke floor. The Methodists appear to have slumped a little since the first of the season and from the fact that they were defeated on their own court earlier in the season are not expected to greatly endanger the strengthened Carolinians.

"YES BY GOSH!" IS BEING REHEARSED

Will be Presented on February 23 and 24.

TICKETS GO ON SALE SOON

Costumes Are Being Made Here by Expert Costumer.

Monday and Tuesday, February 23 and 24, the Wigwag and Masque club will step forth in Memorial hall with what is promised to be the biggest, brightest, most joyous carnival of melody and mirth it has ever staged, namely, Bill Vaught's "Yes by Gosh!"

The performance will be in two acts and four scenes. The costumes are being made here by an experienced costumer, and the four sets of scenery are being mainly purchased in New York. The whole promises a gorgeous treat for the eye and ear.

The bulk of the music in "Yes by Gosh!" has been written by Parker H. Daggett, assisted by Professor Weaver and Bill Vaught. The Wigwag and Masque shows have in the past been noted for the excellence of their melodies and lyrics, and this year three of the tunes have already been sold to one of the largest publishers, to appear on sale soon after the show.

Every day the chorus, "Every girl a perfect gentleman," practices in Memorial hall under direction of Kike Kyser and Professor Weaver. An extra large stage will be erected in Memorial hall to accommodate the elaborateness of the performance.

Two performances are being given in Chapel Hill, as last year record-breaking crowds attended and the reserved seats sold out in less than two hours. Tickets will soon be on sale at Patterson's and the usual rush is expected.

G. B. Zehmer and M. F. Vining have just returned from Winston-Salem and Greensboro, where they organized classes in factory management, business English, and salesmanship. These classes will be taught by professors Matherly, Howell, and Taylor respectively.

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE UNIVERSITY SOPHOMORE ATTEMPTS AT SUICIDE

Marion Dixon, of Winston-Salem, Swallows Two Bichloride of Mercury Tablets and Drinks Cough Medicine—Found by Student and Carried to Infirmary—Recovery Regarded As Being Certain.

Disappointed in love, T. Marion Dixon, a second year student from Winston-Salem, attempted to commit suicide late Sunday night by taking a large dose of bichloride of mercury. He was found by another student, A. C. Justice, in front of the University campus shortly after midnight.

When found, the boy was in a stupor and unable to walk. Justice took the would-be suicide to the infirmary and Dr. Abernathy, University physician, commenced an immediate investigation. Dixon, in a semi-conscious condition, told the doctor that he had swallowed two bichloride of mercury tablets, and combined with it had taken half a bottle of cough medicine. The statement as to the amount of bichloride of mercury was considered unbelievable until Dr. Abernathy pumped out his stomach and found sufficient poison to verify it. The student was undoubtedly saved by the quick work of Justice in getting him to

SOLDIER BOXERS TAKE FOUR OUT OF SEVEN BOUTS

Soldiers Hang Four Bout to Their Belts and Force Others to a Draw.

COX MASTER CEREMONIES

General Bowley Advocates Boxing and General Cox Urges Students to Attend C. M. T. C.

Fort Bragg's boxers defeated the Carolina leather pushers Saturday night, winning four out of seven bouts, three of them going for draws.

More than a thousand enthusiastic spectators witnessed the contests. Ring-side seats were occupied by University faculty members and Fort Bragg officials. Bill Cox, promoter of boxing at the University, was master of ceremonies. Lieutenant Duff, of Fort Bragg, was referee.

General Bowley, of Fort Bragg, made a short talk before the contests began. He stated that there is very much difference between boxing and prizefighting, because in boxing the game is played honor square. General Bowley believes there is no sport which requires more physical skill than boxing, and he urged more men to enter this sport.

Between bouts short talks were made by President Chase and General Albert Cox. General Cox urged the students to consider seriously attending the citizens' military training camps to be held this year from July 2 to July 31.

First bout: Parrish (125) Fort Bragg, and Mike Hall (120) Carolina, draw.

Second bout: Collins (130) Fort Bragg, and Matthews (123) Carolina, won by Collins.

Third bout: Brunetti (140) Fort Bragg, and Gray (130) Carolina, draw.

Fourth bout: Conway, lightweight champion of Fort Bragg, and Gallagher, amateur lightweight champion of North Carolina, draw.

Fifth bout: Demars (144) Fort Bragg, and MacRae (141) Carolina, won by Demars.

Sixth bout: Depratt (157) Fort Bragg, and Spiers (183) Carolina, won by Depratt.

Seventh bout: Chief Mayle, amateur heavyweight champion of United States army (195), and Add Warren (173) Carolina, won by Mayle.

TRY-OUTS FOR STUDIO PRODUCTION AT 4:30

"Torchbearers" Reading Given Monday Night; Six Parts for Men Six for Women.

A large number of people were present Monday night at the reading of "The Torchbearers," the well-known farce-comedy which the class in play production will stage as its second studio production with the co-operation of the Carolina Playmakers. The reading was the first entertainment to be held in the new theater building, which has just been beautifully remodeled.

Try-outs for "The Torchbearers" will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in Gerrard hall. A total of 12 parts are offered, comprising six parts for men and six for women. Every student of the University is eligible to take part in these try-outs, and all are strongly urged to attend.

CAROLINA CLOSES NORTHERN TRIP BY DOUBLING SCORE ON LEXINGTON GENERALS IN FAST GAME, 31 TO 15

TO HOLD FIRST JOINT SESSION

The Phi assembly and the Di senate will meet together in the Di hall Saturday night, February 14, at 7 o'clock. This meeting is the result of a motion passed last Saturday night in both societies, and is for the purpose of jointly discussing bills of vital interest to the societies and the state at large.

Among those bills to be discussed are the following:

1. A bill advocating the passage of a 30 million dollar road bond issue.
2. A bill repealing the exemption of foreign stocks from taxation.
3. A bill authorizing any county in the state to establish a county court.
4. A bill calling a convention of the people of North Carolina for the purpose of altering and rewriting the state constitution.

A copy of each of these bills may be seen at the library. This meeting will be unusual in many ways, and very interesting. All the regular members of both societies are expected to be present, as well as many visitors.

LOVE FEAST FOR SOCIETIES BEGINS

Di and Phi to Embrace Each Other.

WERE ANCIENT ENEMIES

But They Meet Together in Di Hall Saturday Night.

By C. W. BASEMORE

Beginning next Saturday night, the Phi Assembly will meet with its ancient enemy, the Di Senate, in the latter's hall, in the first of a series of joint sessions, for the discussion of various bills and questions now being aired in the legislature at Raleigh. This was decided upon by a vote by the hall. The Di senate, in session simultaneously Saturday night, decided by a unanimous vote that the two bodies begin the proposed series of joint meetings at the time specified.

The question was based upon a set of five resolutions introduced by Cooper, which follow:

1. That the Phi assembly meet jointly with the Di senate on Saturday night, February 14, to discuss bills, especially those on tapis heretofore, and those which may arise in the present session of the state legislature, or any other bills which are desired to be brought up.
2. These bills to be selected by a joint meeting of the ways and means committee of both houses, and made public at least three days before the two bodies meet.
3. That their joint meetings be held alternately in the Di and Phi halls, the first to be in the Di hall.
4. All bills and resolutions passed upon are to be sent to the legislature at Raleigh, unless decided otherwise.
5. That a similar motion be presented simultaneously in the Di senate. If defeated by that body, the decision of the Phi assembly will be invalid.

Cooper's introduction of the bill, Resolved—That the Phi assembly go on record as favoring the passage of $35,000,000 worth of road bonds for building and maintenance of North Carolina roads, was modified by Coats to read $20,000,000 instead of $35,000,000. This bill, after discussion by Harrell, against, and Page, Olive and Matthews, for, passed by a vote of 31 to 1.

The two resolutions, Resolved—That the Phi assembly go on record as favoring the Ku Klux Klan, and that a R. O. T. C. unit be established at Carolina, with voluntary membership, were both tabled, by reason of lack of time in which to discuss them adequately, as were various other bills.

A committee composed of Matthews, Weil, and Page, with Matthews as chairman, was named by Speaker Parker; said committee to be authorized to carry over bills to the Di senate for further consideration. The rest of the session was consumed in various matters of routine business.

New Buccaneers Are Now On Sale

The Antique Number of the Carolina Buccaneer were put on sale yesterday, following an unavoidable delay of over a week in getting them printed.

The new issue is made up of 32 pages and is one of the best issues yet published. The cover, drawn by Starr, is especially appropriate for the Antique Number and the jokes and cartoons are generally in keeping with the issue.

Victory Over W. & L. Gives Carolina Record of Three Wins and Three Defeats on Trip.

With a whirlwind finish to their northern trip, the Tar Heels decisively defeated the Washington and Lee quint Friday night, running the score up to double that of their opponents, the final count being 31 to 15.

The first few minutes were close and hard fought. Carolina stepped out with a five point lead before the Generals were able to score, but a sharp scoring rally put up by the home team put them in the lead 6 to 5. The Tar Heels called time out, and returning to the fray again took the lead and held it until the final whistle.

The half ended with Cobb and his crew holding the long end of a 16 to 9 score, and immediately after the opening of the second half Sam McDonald opened up from the floor and scored three field goals in rapid succession to put the Tar Heels far in the lead.

Cobb and McDonald were the brilliant performers of the night on the offensive, and it was their great work that carried the ball down the court time after time to score for Carolina. Dodderer played a great defensive game and broke up the W. and L. offense several times by rising into the air to seize a pass by one of the General forwards.

Lake, star forward and captain of the Washington and Lee quint, was held scoreless by the close guarding of Johnny Purser. "Monk" McDonald, the Tar Heel's coach, who was unable to make the entire northern trip, met the team at Lexington after the game against the Navy.

The victory over the Generals gave Carolina a record of victories over the University of Maryland, Virginia Military Institute, and Washington and Lee. The Southern championship quint suffered defeats at the hands of Harvard, the Crescent Athletic club, and the United States Naval Academy. However, the three defeats chalked up against the North Carolina team were not by members of the Southern conference, and Carolina still remains undefeated in this section and stands out as a looming candidate for a third S. I. C. championship cup.

Line-up:

Carolina (31)	W. and L. (15)
Cobb (7)	Lake
	R. F.
McDonald (11)	Lane (4)
	L. F.
Dodderer (6)	Van Horn (4)
	C.
Devin (4)	Funk (4)
	R. G.
Purser (3)	Wilson (3)

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS WIN DANCING PRIZES

Take Off Clogging and Dancing Honors At House-Warming Given by Strowd Motor Company.

A mob of University students practically swamped the house warming Saturday night given by the Strowd Motor company. The occasion was primarily for patrons and prospective customers of the progressive motor company, but the college boys found the doors wide open and the latch string out.

In face of much competition from the best of clog dancers that Orange county could offer, Kike Kyser, a sophomore from Rocky Mount, out-clogged them all and won the shining ten dollar gold piece offered to the entry most skilled in America's great rural sport.

C. L. (Doc) Leggett, Dr. Lawson's chief lieutenant in the training of freshman gymnasts, walked away with the prize offered for the best dancer. Leggett didn't know that he was in on the dancing contest until the judge came forth and threw a handsome scarf, given by Jack Lipman, over his shoulder and pronounced him the best dancer on the floor.

The lower floor was given over to modern dancing, while the second floor was devoted to the old folks and lovers of the old square dance and the Virginia Reel. A corps of fiddlers were on hand and the students found much entertainment watching dancing such as was done by their fathers and forefathers.
