Third Annual Musical Comedy Will Be Presented in Memorial Hall February 23-24.

PLANS FOR SHORT STATE TOUR
Record Breaking Crowd Saw Student Production Last Year—Tickets Now On Sale At Patterson's.

The time is rapidly drawing near for the presentation of the big hit of the year, "Yes, by Gosh!" which will make its appearance next Monday and Tuesday night, February 23 and 24. William A. Vaught's musical comedy, which is the third annual production of the already famous Wigue and Masque, promises to excel both of the two preceding productions.

For the last two weeks everything has been in a buzz around Memorial hall, and every day for several hours the chorus of "Every lady is a perfect gentleman" has practiced under the direction of Paul J. Weaver and Kike Kyser. An extra large stage has been in course of preparation and now is practically finished. A corps of campus artists have been hard at work in New West building making "rock walls," a "Statue of Liberty," ship scenes and other original stage background.

The play was written entirely by Bill Vaught. The music was all composed by Parker H. Daggett, assisted by Vaught and Mr. Weaver. The lyrics and melodies of the Wigue and Masque have always attracted widespread popularity and have been noted for their excellence. This year three of the tunes have already been sold to one of the leading publishing houses, and will appear soon after the show.

No state tour will be made by the Wigue and Masque this year, at least until after examinations. Preliminary negotiations are now going on for a short state tour some time during the spring quarter. An engagement has been made for the presentation of "Yes, by Gosh!" however, in Winston-Salem a week from next Monday in Reynolds hall, under the auspices of the Winston-Salem Civic Music Association.

Last year record breaking crowds flooded Memorial hall, and tickets sold out long before the day of the show. This year two shows are being given, but already tickets are going like hotcakes from the table down in Patterson's. Tickets will be on sale there until Monday, if they last.

The play has been called the biggest, brightest, and most joyous carnival of melody and mirth the organization has ever staged.

WILL GIVE RELIEF FROM LOCAL MUD

At Work in Front of Gerrard Hall.

DR. COKER IS IN CHARGE

Students Will Finally Be Rescued From Sea of Mud.

If the plan on which Dr. W. C. Coker and his cohort of workmen are concentrating comes to a successful conclusion, the vast and deep sea of mud which often exists on Cameron avenue in front of the "Y" will "go hence and be no more seen," much to the joy of the inhabitants.

Stakes have been driven between the corner of Old South and the "Y" and between the corner of Gerrard and the "Y," to prevent any automobiles and wagons from using the pathway there. This will materially lessen the amount of mud. The unusual amount of traffic along Cameron avenue has been largely responsible for the unusual amount of mud.

The level of the plot of ground in front of the "Y" will be raised several inches with granite screenings in order to better the drainage. A brick gutter has been laid from the southwest corner of Old South building continuing around towards Cameron avenue. The same kind of brick gutter is being placed in a similar position near Gerrard hall.

Between the walk and Cameron avenue there will be a low ditch to help get rid of the water. This will not be fixed in any permanent form, since the hoped-for paving will require special arrangements.

Granite screenings, a material which is admirably suited for the purpose, will also be used on the sidewalk to help eliminate the mud.

Tar Heel's All-State
Player	Pos.	School
Cobb	F.	U. N. C.
McDonald	F.	U. N. C.
Dodderer	F.	U. N. C.

PLACE THREE MEN ON DEBATE TEAM

Jonas, Chappell and Justus Will Meet West Virginia.

DEBATE AT MORGANTON
Mountaineers Have Won Decision Twice Over Carolina.

C. R. Jonas, S. G. Chappell and E. L. Justus will compose the team that debates West Virginia University about the middle of next month. These men were chosen in open preliminary last Tuesday night. Jonas and Chappell composed the team that won from the University of South Carolina some time ago, while Justus was on the team that won over Williams and Mary here.

The query to be debated in the West Virginia-Carolina contest is, Resolved—That Congress should be given power to override Supreme Court decisions that declare Congressional acts unconstitutional. The North Carolina team will journey to Morganton, West Virginia, to meet the mountaineer debaters on their own home floor.

This is the third year that Carolina has debated the West Virginia University. Year before last the West Virginia team defeated a Carolina team that went to Morganton to debate them. Last year Carolina was defeated here by a West Virginia team. This year, however, it is hoped that the Tar Heel team will partly secure revenge for the two defeats. The team is composed of three experienced men who have already shown their mettle under fire in intercollegiate debates. They have also been on teams that have turned in victories for the University on the same subject that will be used in the coming debate.

M. H. Light and J. M. Saunders also went out in the preliminaries but were defeated by Jonas, Chappell and Justus. Professors W. J. Matherly, C. A. Hibbard and Mr. Claude Currie served on the committee of judges to pick the team.

POWER PLANT IS NOW THOROUGHLY MODERN

New Smoke-Stack Is 150 Feet High and Has Flue Diameter of 8 Feet.

The University now has a new and thoroughly modern power plant to its credit. The building is well lighted, well ventilated, and in every way fireproof. The new plant was designed by Atwood and Nash, the University architects; the power plant being done under the superintendence of Mr. John S. Bennett.

In the main the architecture of the present plant is the same as that of the old. The west wall of the old boiler room has been removed and columns substituted, throwing the old and new parts into a single room 55 feet wide and 75 feet long.

The present boiler room is to be extended 37 feet 2 inches westerly toward the laundry and the remaining space between this addition and the laundry is filled in with a machine and blacksmith shop 16 feet wide and 58 feet long. The capacity of the boiler house is more than doubled. There will be installed at present one Babcock and Wilcox boiler of 375 horsepower, there being space for two more of similar size in the future.

Towering above the new plant there is the new Alphonso custodis chimney 150 feet high and with an eight-foot flue diameter.

14TH CONFERENCE VOLUNTEER UNION OPENED BY NORTH

Annual Conference of North Carolina Volunteers Gets Under Way Last Night.

FOR THREE DAY SESSION
Many Interesting Speakers On Today's Program—Meetings Being In Gerrard Hall.

The fourteenth annual conference of the Student Volunteer Union of North Carolina was opened here last night with an address by Rev. H. M. North, First Methodist church, Rocky Mount, N. C.

The first address today will be made by Rev. I. L. Shaver at 10 o'clock in Gerrard hall. The second address will be made by Mrs. H. D. Swartz, a former missionary to Japan. Other speakers on today's program will be Miss Corilla Broadnax, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement; Mrs. John L. Anderson, returned missionary from Brazil; Mrs. W. C. Huckabee, council member of the Student Volunteer Movement; and Rev. H. C. Ritter, former missionary to China, and at present professor of Biblical literature at Duke university, who will give a stereopticon lecture on China and medical missions tonight in Gerrard hall. Mr. Frank Warner, of Duke university, is the song leader for the conference.

Besides the main addresses there will be a series of discussion groups which will be held in the various rooms of the Y. M. C. A. building and in Gerrard hall. This afternoon there will be a business meeting of the Student Volunteers. The session will open about 2:15 o'clock. Mr. S. C. Farrior, representing the Southern Presbyterian board, will speak to the Volunteers.

The purpose of the Conference is to present facts that will cause students who are present to realize a greater need of workers for the foreign mission fields. There is a great need for medical missionaries and evangelists, but the greatest need is for Christian men and women to go to these fields and show the people there how to solve their social and economic problems by Christian examples.

There is an exhibit of the literature of the Student Volunteer Movement in the Y. M. C. A., which should prove of much interest to the students. The literature will be presented by Mr. Joseph Conly, traveling secretary of the Movement.

BIG TRACK PROGRAM FOR COMING SEASON CALLS MORE CANDIDATES

Extensive Track Schedule Arranged For 1925 Season—More Track Men Necessary to Make Season Success—Dale Ransom Calls for More Men—May Meet Navy Here on May 9th.

(By F. P. ELLER)
The University of North Carolina has arranged the most strenuous track schedule in recent years. The splendid showing of last year's "cinder path" artists caused those in charge of making the 1925 schedule to secure the best teams in the South Atlantic section of the country.

The track season will open here on April 4, with a meet with Washington and Lee. The Generals promise to have the best team in recent years, according to their showing made in the indoor meets at Charlottesville and Richmond last week. In both of these meets W. & L. out scored all the other competing colleges combined.

V. P. I. had considerable young material last year. They were winners in the S. I. C. cross-country last fall and can be expected to offer trouble for the Tar Heel distance men.

Virginia has not been met in a dual track meet since 1921. In this engagement the Cavaliers were returned victors by an overwhelming score. Last spring in the divisional conference meet held at Charlottesville, the University of Virginia won by a good margin over the North State trackmen, who finished in second place. The meet with Virginia is to be held at Charlottesville during the Easter holidays. This will be one of the chief events of a week of athletic contests and festivities at Virginia.

N. C. State is preparing to meet the Tar Heel team. The Tech men may be expected to be in the top of form, since a victory would be all the sweeter for having suffered two defeats at the heels of the Carolina men last season.

The State Championship meet brings together the best talent which the colleges have for display. Once and for all the champions of the year in this sport are determined. Each event will be hotly contested. With so many participants from the educational institutions there are sure to be at least two good track

DIAMOND SEASON OPENS ON HOME GROUND APRIL 6

Play Hampden-Sidney in Chapel Hill As Season Opener—Navy Plays Here April 10.

ELEVEN HOME GAMES
Practice Already Started for Pitchers and Catchers—Basketball Season Soon Closes.

The 1925 baseball season is "just around the corner." The basketball period will come to a close in less than two weeks; then mitts, balls, bats, and all will come into play and all suitable space that is available will be used for the national pastime.

Candidates for Carolina's varsity battery have been getting in shape for more than a week and some of the men who are out for the other positions have also started limbering up. The schedule, with a total of 24 games, is one of the best that the University has ever had. Eleven games are billed to be played here and five others are very accessible, leaving only the eight games which will be played on the trip that the student body will necessarily miss.

The season opens with Hampden-Sidney here on April 6, followed by Gullford on the 8th and the Navy on the 10th. The University of Maryland will be met at Greensboro or Raleigh on the 11th and the Easter trip will begin with Davidson at Gastonia on Easter Monday, which is April 13. Then the northern invasion will begin and culminate with Georgetown university at Washington on April 22. The annual game with the University of Virginia at Greensboro will be played on April 16.

The complete schedule is as follows:
April 6—Hampden-Sidney at Chapel Hill.

April 8—Guilford at Chapel Hill.
April 10—U. S. Navy at Chapel Hill.

April 11—University of Maryland at Greensboro or Raleigh.

April 13 (Easter Monday)—Davidson at Gastonia.

April 15—V. P. I. at Blacksburg, Va.
April 16—Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.

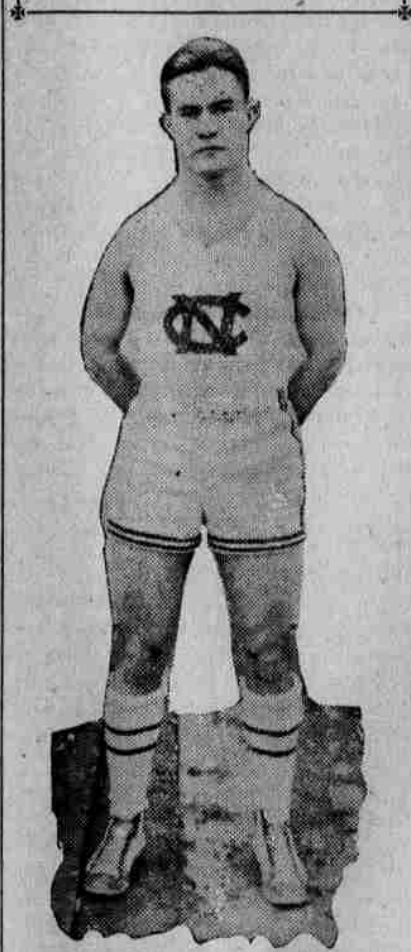

April 17—V. M. I. at Lexington, Va.
April 18—University of Virginia at Charlottesville.

April 20—University of Maryland at College Park, Md.

April 21—University of Maryland at (Continued on page four)

CAVALIERS AND TAR HEELS MEET TONIGHT TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP OF NORTH CAROLINA AND VIRGINIA

"MONK" McDONALD

Three-letter man at the University, twice picked for the mythical All-Southern quint, McDonald has coached the Tar Heels to undisputed state championship and developed them into potential Southern Champions.

COMPLETE STATE SEASON WITHOUT A SINGLE DEFEAT

Victory Over North Carolina State Thursday Gives Carolina Clean Sweep of State.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Visitors Able to Shoot But One Field Goal—Rung Up by Johnson In Last Half.

The Tar Heels held the Red Terrors of State college to a lone field goal here Thursday night while running a respectable total themselves and copped the game by a 29 to 10 score. The Technicians' single shot from scrimmage was tossed by Captain "Red" Johnson.

The Cobmen opened the game with five minutes of the fastest work that the Tin Can has seen this year. The State quint was carried off its feet in these first few moments, somewhat lost its head and never attained that form that it showed when the two teams met in Raleigh earlier in the season.

The defense of the Carolinians was well high impregnable and although the self-styled Terrors had an occasional shot they were too anxious and were unable to cage a goal until about the last ten minutes of play. They had been bouncing long shots off the back board in a desperate effort to secure one field goal, beginning with the opening of the second half. Captain Johnson caught the ball on one of these rebounds and, standing just outside the foul line, tossed the ball overhead through the basket.

As the game drew steadily to a close and it appeared that possibly State would not score from scrimmage, the crowd had developed intense interest and followed every move of the ball closely. When the sphere passed through the hoop the Carolina supporters settled down again and sent up a spontaneous cheer for the visiting captain.

Captain McDonald sent in Poole and Hackney for Cobb and Devin at this point. Although the Technicians continued their efforts to score they were not again able to locate the basket from the floor and the game ended without further scoring on their part.

State guarded well and at no time were the Tar Heels able to break through their defense easily. Many of their shots were from outside the State five-man defense. McDonald was able to locate the basket with uncanny accuracy from a distance. Three of his shots rank with the longest that the Tin Can has ever seen. He was high scorer for the evening with 11 points to his credit.

Captain Cobb was runner-up in individual scoring and had a total of nine points. He played one of his best games (Continued on page four)

Both Teams Are Champions of Their State.

VIRGINIANS ARE HOPEFUL

Old Dominion Team Romped on University of South Carolina Wednesday, 31-14.

GAMECOCKS DEFEATED U. N. C.
Neither Virginia Nor Carolina Has Been Defeated In Own State—Virginia Quint Exceptionally Strong.

The championship of Virginia and North Carolina will be decided tonight when the Cavaliers, undisputed champion of the Old Dominion, meet the Tar Heels in the Tin Can.

All hope points to one of the hardest games of the season. Virginia has a string of victories unmarred by a defeat since they were taken into camp by Maryland in a pre-season game. Washington and Lee, V. M. I., and the leading teams in Virginia have fallen to the Orange and Blue quint.

Wednesday night the Cavaliers defeated the Gamecocks of South Carolina by an overwhelming margin. This game was much like the Tar Heel-Red Terror game of Thursday night, for during the first half the South Carolinians did not score a single field goal. Three foul shots gave them three points to 17 by the Virginians in the same period. The final score was 31-14 in favor of the Cavaliers, Orange and Blue subs playing the last 10 minutes.

Carolina has shown a complete reversal of form against State and Wake Forest compared with the game against the Gamecocks, and the defeat of South Carolina by Virginia cannot be construed to mean that the Cavaliers have a big margin in their favor. The Gamecocks were reaching the tail end of a long trip and were possibly somewhat played out. Maryland beat them decisively on the night before the Virginia game.

The Cavaliers have, however, an exceptionally strong quint, a quint that has a strong offense and a close defense. It will take hard work on the part of the team and staunch support from the sidelines to win for Carolina tonight.

Probable line-up:

Carolina	Virginia
Cobb (C)	McCoy
	R. F.
McDonald	Holland
	L. F.
Dodderer	Miller (C)
	C.
Devin	Walp
	R. G.
Purser	Mackall
	L. G.

DEFEAT BAPTISTS IN TIN CAN 43-24

Cobb Recovers Ancient Scoring Power—Rings Up 17 Points.

GOOD GAME BY GREASON

Carolina Team Showed Marked Improvement Over Performance Against South Carolina.

After being played to a stand-still for the best part of the first half, Carolina unleashed a fierce scoring attack and overwhelmed the demon Deacons of Wake Forest by a 43 to 24 score in the Tin Can last Tuesday night.

Just before the whistle blew for the close of the first half the score stood at 13 all. Up to this time the game had been a nip and tuck affair with the Baptists hanging desperately to the heels of the fast flying Cobmen.

The Tar Heels opened up with a driving offensive after this that was too much for the Deacons and the score steadily mounted in Carolina's favor. Cobb, Purser and McDonald were the leaders in this scoring attack and kept the ball flying through the hoop at regular intervals.

Greason played a fast game at forward for the visitors and it was his individual scoring that kept the Baptists in striking distance of Carolina during the first half. Twice he made a pretty shot over his shoulder while going away from the goal. His total for the game was 10 points and he was tied with McDonald for second place in scoring honors for the game.

Captain Cobb showed the scoring ability that won him a place on almost all all-Southern teams last season and succeeded in amassing a total of 17 points to his credit.

The entire team showed a much better brand of ball than that seen a few days prior when South Carolina nosed out a victory by a one-point margin. During the last half Poole, Hackney, and Har- (Continued on page four)
