

CHASE EXPLAINS PLANS CAMPUS' NEW COMMITTEE

Committee of 100 is the Latest
Campus Organization With Definite Purpose.

IS CONNECTING LINK

Committee of 100 with 50 Members
Will Connect the University with State and Alumni.

The Committee of 100, a new student organization, made its first bow to the campus chapel period Monday, March 2, when Dr. H. W. Chase and W. T. Couch explained the purpose of the Committee and the need which it fulfills. With the growth of the University there has been a constantly increasing demand for understanding on the part of the student toward the University, toward the alumni, and toward the outside state. The Committee of 100 wishes to organize these relationships and make them more effective. It is different from any other campus organization in that its main interest is off the Hill; it is concerned with problems outside the student body.

Dr. Chase referred to the organization as one of the most significant student movements in the recent history of the University. "As the University gets larger," he explained, "it becomes more difficult to understand what everything is all about. The Tar Heel carries the campus news and it is supplemented by the Magazine, but there is need for an understanding based on a systematic study of the University. The Committee of 100 is attempting this very thing by arranging a series of lecture courses for its members to be given by the heads of the various departments and schools of the University.

"It is but a step from student to alumnus," continued Dr. Chase, "and alumni interest and understanding of the University is precious to the institution. If alumni are going to keep in touch they have got to understand the task and nature of the problems here. Many alumni here a generation ago think the University is the same as before except that it is bigger. This is not true.

"When you go out into the state aren't you going to be helped if you have studied the University from a student's point of view?" he asked. "Let me give you an illustration. Take the graduate school. It is one of the most rapidly growing and

Judge Winston Makes Hole-In-One Club

Judge Robert Winston, who is going through the University again at the age of 63 and who is now rated a junior, made a hole in one on the eighth green on the Kirkwood golf course at Camden, S. C., recently, according to a Camden dispatch which explains that such a feat has been done only once before in the 20 years' existence of the course.

SEATS ARE GOING FAST FOR SARG'S LATEST PUPPETS

Popular Marionettes Give
"Treasure Island" and "Pied Piper" Here Next Saturday.

MATINEE AND NIGHT

George Denny Reports That Reserved
Section of Seats Is Having Big Advance Sale.

Tony Sarg's Marionettes, held by many to be the best professional treat of the year, will appear in Memorial Hall Saturday, March 7, in brand new productions of two famous classics, Treasure Island and the Pied Piper of Hamelin. So many requests have been pouring into the Playmaker office via letter or phone in the last few days, that a large section of the reserved seats has already been set aside, and it is expected that in a day or two more the reserved seats will be sold out.

For four consecutive seasons the Marionettes have been in such demand that, while from 300 to 400 audiences have enjoyed them annually, at least an equal number of cities have asked for them in vain. Mr. George Denny, who has taken charge of booking the Marionettes in North Carolina, states that there have been more requests for performances than can be accepted. Besides their performance here, the Marionettes will play in Statesville, Lexington, Greensboro, Fayetteville, and Red Springs.

Both of the plays which will be presented Saturday offer splendid opportunities for the display of cleverness in the art of staging a puppet show, and Mr. Sarg has improved these opportunities to the utmost. Cleverly-managed acting, well-sung musical selections, and ingenious scenic effects vie with one another in producing superlative entertainment. One of the most attractive parts of the performance is the scene in which the Hornpipe is danced to a clever musical accompaniment. This dance is so complicated and difficult that it requires four puppeteers for its rendition; twenty-six different strings are used in executing the various steps, contortions, and grimaces.

The following excerpt from the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Sentinel is descriptive of the intensely interesting nature of the Marionette performances: "You don't have to be in either your first or your second childhood to enjoy Tony

THREATENED WITH LOSS THREE HEADS

Henderson, Greenlaw and Snell
Are Involved.

ALL THREE MAY GO
University Men Have Very Flattering Offers.

Three heads of University departments are considering leaving here, according to a confirmed report. Dr. Archibald Henderson, head of the department of mathematics, is considering an offer to become president of the University of Oklahoma, while Dr. Edwin Greenlaw and Mr. Chester D. Snell also have flattering offers under consideration. Dr. Greenlaw has been a member of the faculty since 1912 and dean of the graduate school since 1920. Mr. Snell has been director of the extension division for the last five years.

Announcement of Dr. Henderson's decision probably will not be made prior to the meeting of the board of trustees of Oklahoma university when the offer will be tendered formally. It is understood, however, that Dr. Greenlaw and Mr. Snell must make up their minds in the next few days.

Dr. Greenlaw has been offered an important place in the new program that Johns Hopkins University has under way in connection with its plan to make that institution the only one in the country where only graduate work is given. It is understood that he has been offered a salary considerably larger than what he gets here, together with elaborate equipment for research work, the field in which he is most interested.

Mr. Snell's offer is equally flattering. It comes from the University of Wisconsin, which would make him dean of the extension division in place of Louis Heber, who is retiring. He has been offered a salary approximately twice that he is receiving here and a budget of half a million dollars a year, more than six times that available here.

The hope is being expressed on all sides in the University community that all three of these men will decide to remain in North Carolina. The University feels flattered that larger institutions should see fit to call its leaders, but, on the other hand, it feels it could ill afford to spare them.

TWO GALLAGHERS SAVE UNIVERSITY

Pat and Tom Outpoint Their Opponents.

CAVALIERS WIN 5 TO 2

No Knock-Outs in Bout With Virginia Team.

The Tar Heel boxers were defeated by the University of Virginia last Saturday night, the Cavaliers winning out in all the classes except the bantamweight and lightweight, in which the Gallagher brothers, Pat and Tom, outpointed Maverick and Farrow, of Virginia.

The meet was closer than the score would indicate. In the featherweight event, McPherson, of Carolina, put up a game fight against Memminger, who had this year defeated the intercollegiate champion in his class, while Spiers, of Carolina, forced York to show his wares to win the verdict in the welterweight class.

In his final appearance as a member of the Virginia team, Captain Leftwich registered a decisive victory over Captain Warren, winning out by his superior work on both offensive and defensive.

The heavyweight match proved the most spirited of the meet. Fink, of Virginia, outpointed Donahoe and was awarded the decision after an extra round.

An added event, which did not count in the scoring, was the flyweight match between Ward, Virginia varsity, and "Shorty" Jarrell, Carolina freshman. Referee Mabbutt, U. S. army, declared it a draw at the end of an extra round.

The summary:

Flyweight—Draw between Ward, Virginia, and Jarrell, Carolina, at end of fourth round.

Bantamweight—Pat Gallagher, Carolina, awarded decision over Maverick, Virginia.

Featherweight—Memminger, Virginia, won decision over McPherson, Carolina.

Lightweight—Tom Gallagher, Carolina, won decision over Farrow, Virginia.

Welterweight—York, Virginia, won decision over Spiers, Carolina.

Middleweight—Darby, Virginia, won decision over Proffitt, Carolina.

Light-heavy—Captain Leftwich, Virginia, won decision over Captain Warren, Carolina.

Heavyweight—Fink, Virginia, won decision over Donahoe, Carolina.

SWARTHMORE AND CAROLINA DEBATE

Second Open Forum Debate
This Year.

RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA
Huggins and Livingstone Represent the University.

The United States' position in regard to the recognition of Russia was as violently attacked as it was firmly upheld in the Oxford Union debate between Carolina and Swarthmore in Gerrard hall Monday night. Leonard V. Huggins, representing Carolina, and John Donal of Swarthmore advanced the affirmative of the query: Resolved—That the United States should recognize the soviet government of Russia. Robert F. Lee of Swarthmore and Ted Livingstone of Carolina defended the negative of the question.

A vote of the audience taken just prior to the debate gave the vote on the query as 18 for and 6 against. When the speakers had finished, the chairman called for a vote which resulted in 13 expressing themselves for and 7 against the proposal.

Huggins opened the discussion for the affirmative and was followed by Lee for the negative. Then Donal and Livingstone followed in order. Huggins closed the discussion. After the second speech of Huggins the audience was given the opportunity to question the debaters on any points taken up. After several spirited rounds of questions and answers the final vote of the audience was taken.

The affirmative advanced the argument that the soviet government of Russia is the best form of government for Russia at the present; and that it is permanent in that it is flexible and changeable. It was also pointed out that the Russian government was at a crisis which the United States could turn for the better if she would lend her aid to Russia by recognition. The negative repudiated these contentions and claimed that the Russian government was not worthy of recognition by the United States since such recognition by England, France, and other nations had failed to bring desirable results. The negative also claimed that it was Russia's duty to recognize her debts to the United States first.

FITCH GIVES VERY ELEGANT READING

Program Composed of Irish Folk-Plays.

ALSO SINGS A SONG

Fitch Well-Known for His Dramatic Ability.

Theodore Fitch, of the Music Department of the University, gave a delightful reading on Sunday evening in Gerrard Hall before quite a large audience.

Mr. Fitch is well known to the University for his dramatic ability; having performed in "Yes, By Gosh" this year and last May having taken the leading role in the outdoor performance of "Prunella" in the Forest Theatre.

Mr. Fitch's program was composed of two Irish folk-plays; which he noted were of special interest because of the relation of the Irish Theatre to such movements as the Carolina Playmakers. The plays made a well-balanced program, being "Spreading the News", a light and brilliant comedy by Lady Gregory, and "A Night at an Inn", an exciting melodrama by Lord Dunsany.

Mr. Fitch's clear diction and clever characterizations of the folk characters in the comedy made the rendition of the play popular and well received. Particularly clear were the deaf old apple vender and her contemporary, Bartley Fallon, King of Pessimism. Incidentally in this play, Mr. Fitch was required to sing an Irish folk-song, which was rendered with characteristic ease and ability. The play itself is a delightfully night piece, centering about a common-falling of mankind—love of gossip, and it was given with distinct ability.

The second play, Dunsany's melodrama, combines a "delapidated English gentleman, three 'able seamen,' three priests of India, and a statue of their god". Mr. Fitch created an atmosphere of tension and excitement, managing to give the effect of long waits, while in reality maintaining tempo. His characterizations in this piece were consistent, though Mr. Fitch's ability was not fully exploited. Perhaps his activities in "Yes, By Gosh" and in the Glee Club's performance in Greensboro the day before explain this. The characters of the three sailors were not entirely distinct, and the diction of the three was too much like that of the precise and polished "Tuffy".

But altogether the evening's program furnished delightful entertainment and added another feat to Mr. Fitch's versatile record.

DI MINSTREL FIXED FOR MAY 1 AND 2

Another Home Talent Production for This Season.

KYSER IS THE DIRECTOR
Will Be a Combination of a Revue and Minstrel.

For the first time in the history of Chapel Hill, a combined minstrel and revue will be given here under the auspices of the Di Senate on the evenings of April 1 and 2.

The big Di minstrel will be one of the features of the year in the way of entertainment. Locals will be given the opportunity to see the "old home town" talent strut its stuff, as well as acts by professionals who rank extremely high, who have been booked for the performance by its director, Mr. Kike Kyser.

Six specialty acts, with a fifty minute minstrel "first part" to sap the program is a part of the composition of the show. Of the three specialty acts, three will be professional. The management considers itself very fortunate in having booked these acts, all three of which have played on Keith, Orpheum, Delmonico, and Pantages circuits throughout the United States. Each one of these acts carry their own special scenery and lighting fixtures, and each values its property at over $1,400.

The other three acts, or specialties, will be presented entirely with campus talent. The cream of the campus has been chosen, and a month's steady practice is to be devoted to them so as to make them measure up to professional calibre.

Eighteen end-men, sixteen circle-men, and an interlocutor will make up the circle scene, which is to be one of the most sumptuous ever attempted on this campus. The act will be crammed full of jokes, songs on the faculty, students, campus celebrities, and prominent figures over the campus. Dazzling colored costumes will play their part in enhancing the splendor of the act. Leading parts will be taken by campus characters. George Denny, veteran play-maker, will don a white satin Tuxedo and assume the difficult role of interlocutor.

CAROLINA TAR HEELS SWEEP OVER UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA BULLDOGS AND REACH FINALS IN TOURNAMENT

AUTHOR'S READING OF FOLK-PLAYS TOMORROW

The authors' reading of the plays selected for production this spring by the Carolina Playmakers, will be held at 7:30 tomorrow night in Gerrard hall. The selection of the plays has not been definitely made as yet, but the following pieces are under consideration as possibilities: Ray Heffner's "Old Ines," a mountain comedy; a modern comedy by Sara Duncan; a village comedy by Frances Gray; a comedy of country life by Caro Mae Green; Lura Thomas' "Here She Goes and There She Goes," a village comedy; and "The Thrice-Promised Bride," a Chinese folk-play, written by Chen-Chin Hsiung, of Nanchang, China, in English 31 last year, and recently published in Theatre and Frank Shay's Collection of International Plays. The selected plays will be presented next spring and taken on tour through western North Carolina.

Try-outs for parts in the plays will be held on March 12. It is urged that all who are interested in trying for parts will attend the authors' reading in order to get a line on the nature of the plays.

Local Fraternity Will Petition Delta Upsilon

Sigma Delta has been granted permission to petition Delta Upsilon fraternity by the national officers of that organization, according to correspondence received here recently. The local fraternity, which was organized here last May, has been in touch for some time with officials of Delta Upsilon, and the decision to petition this national was made when favorable indications of the national fraternity's attitude toward the establishment of a chapter at the University was made evident.

Delta Upsilon is an old line fraternity, having been founded in 1834 at Williams college. It has a total of 49 chapters, Virginia being the southernmost institution at which a chapter is located. The Virginia chapter was established in 1922. The organization of Delta Upsilon is distinctive in that it is a non-secret fraternity.

Sigma Delta has a total of 16 members, two of whom are alumni. It also has five pledges. The petition to the national fraternity will be made up shortly, say members of the organization.

WRESTLERS HAVE RATHER BAD TRIP

Lose to V. M. I. and Washington and Lee.

LACK INTEREST HERE
Not Enough Men Out to Make Up
Successful Team.

The University wrestlers returned yesterday from Lexington, Va., where they met the V. M. I. matmen Saturday night and the Washington and Lee team on Monday. Both meets were dropped by the Carolinians, the match with the Gadets being lost 27-0 and the struggle with the Generals by a score of 21-8.

Heafner, U. N. C., scored a fall and Montsinger gained a time decision, giving Carolina a total of 8 points to her credit. The Tar Heels were forced to forfeit two weights on account of insufficient men to man the places. Summary W. & L. match:

Heafner (N. C.) secured a fall in 5:34 over Summerson. Montsinger (N. C.) won a time decision of 5:22 over Wiggleworth. Wick (N. C.) lost on a forfeit to Walters. Yankee (W. and L.) won a time decision of 1:32 over Morrison. Bidie (W. and L.) won a time decision of 6:48 over Blankenship. Tilson (W. and L.) threw Warren in 3:50. Captain Holt (W. and L.) won the final bout on a forfeit. Referee, Zimmerman.

With a team largely composed of second-string men, Carolina, though losing, put up a splendid battle against V. M. I. wrestlers last Saturday night. Two of the weights, 175 and unlimited, were forfeited to the Cadets because the University had no men available. With a ten-point handicap, the final score was 27-0.

Often carrying the fight to the South Atlantic champions, the team demonstrated that but for the inroads of flu and mumps, the Tar Heel matmen would have given a good scoring account of themselves. Montsinger, not yet recovered from a severe attack of flu, threatened at one time to throw Wise, 129-pound ace of the Institute and actually got two minutes' time on him. Wise later got four minutes and twenty seconds, however, and thus won on time. Morrison's fall came in the last ten seconds.

Georgians Fall By Score of 40 to 19.

COBB LEADING SCORER

North Carolina's Defensive Work Holds Georgia Team to 7 Points During First Half.

FINAL WITH TULANE LAST NIGHT

Big Green Wave from New Orleans and Cobb's Tar Heels Won Right to Meet for S. I. C. Championship.

Georgia's Bulldogs, conquerors of Kentucky's Wildcats, proved no match for Carolina's Tar Heels and were swept aside in the semi-finals of the S. I. C. tournament Monday night by the overwhelming score of 40 to 19. The victory gave Carolina the right to meet Tulane last night.

The Hillians led by Cobb with an individual score of fifteen points, showed a fast flying offensive that soon had Georgia trailing on the short end of the score. During the first half the Carolina defensive worked so well that the Bulldogs were forced to content themselves with only seven points, the result of three field goals and a foul throw.

Purser started the scoring for the Tar Heels in the opening moments of the contest and during the first half was the leading scorer, but with the opening of the second period Cobb and Devin stepped to the front and led the way in scoring. Devin played one of his best games of the season and with an individual score of ten points was in second place for game high scorer. Huguley, the Georgia left guard, was the bright light for the losers. He tied with Purser in scoring with nine points.

The Tar Heels made only one substitution, Poole going in for McDonald in the last half. Georgia made one substitution, Forbes relieving Morton. Forbes played a fast game and tossed in two field goals.

Cobb's score of fifteen points enabled him to hold his position as high scorer of the tournament over Henican, Tulane forward, who scored eighteen points and pulled his total scoring up to 53, within four points of Cobb who has a total of 57. Cobb has participated in one more game than Henican but during the first two contests that Carolina played was removed as soon as the score had been

GRAIL DANCE ON FRIDAY EVENING

Moved Up to Allow Marionettes Right of Way.

THIRD WINTER DANCE
Foot-Shaking Will Last From Nine 'Til
One.

The Grail dance that was announced for next Saturday night has been moved up to Friday night so that it would not conflict with the performances of Tony Sarg's Marionettes. This change will enable the dancers to continue their enjoyment beyond the midnight hour, the hours of the dance being from nine to one o'clock.

This is the third Grail dance of the quarter and will be the last one until after examinations. The two previous dances this quarter have been regarded as above the usual, and members of the Grail are hard at work to make Friday night's dance measure up to the standard set by the other two. The North State Eight will probably furnish the music for the dancers. Bynum gymnasium will again be the scene of the affair, since there is no other floor available until warmer weather will enable dancing to be conducted in the Tin Can.

Already announcements of the dance have been mailed out to different organizations on the campus and girls have been invited. It is expected that a good sized crowd will attend in spite of the fact that it is Friday night, and that girls from nearby colleges will find it hard to get over for the evening. Grail men are making arrangements to take care of the crowd and insure good dancing.

Announce Winners Latin Contest Soon

Nine hundred students from 63 high schools are competing in the first statewide Latin contest, according to E. R. Rankin, secretary of the contest committee, who has announced that all papers are in the hands of the committee and the winner will be announced this week.

The highest scorer will be awarded a trophy cup, given by the University extension division, while the several next highest will be given honorable mention.
