

Carolina Tar Heels Sweep Over University of Georgia Bulldogs Reaching Finals in Tournament

(Continued from page one)

run up high enough to make the outcome a certainty.

Line-up and summary: N. C. (40) Position Ga. (19) Cobb, (15) Morton R. F. McDonald (5) Kilpatrick L. F. Dodderer (4) Richardson C. Devin (10) (9) Huguley R. G. Purser (9) (2) Wiehrs L. G.

North Carolina substitutions: Poole (1) for McDonald; Georgia, Forbes (4) for Morton. North Carolina scoring: Field goals 18; fouls, four out of six, Georgia scoring: Field goals 8; fouls, three out of six. Referee: Erwin (Drake). Umpire, Sutton (Penn.)

Carolina Defeats Tech, 34-26

Carolina advanced in the semi-finals of the S. I. C. tournament by defeating the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech Saturday night in the third game of the tourney by a 34-26 score.

The Techmen were outclassed and the outcome of the game was never in doubt. The Tar Heels opened with a smooth working offensive that carried them immediately into the lead and held this advantage to the last.

For the first time in the tourney Cobb was not the high scorer of the game, this honor falling to Wycoff, the Yellow Jacket center, who rang up 15 points. He was the whole Tech show in the last half and without his work the losers would have been badly outdistanced. In the final period he made 11 points.

Cobb led the Tar Heels with 10 points but was hard pressed by Sammy McDonald, who tossed the ball through for a total of nine markers. Dodderer found the basket for six points and played a stellar defensive game.

For the first time also Cobb was allowed to play for the whole game. Two substitutions were made, Poole relieving McDonald and Barbour going in for Purser. Each of the subs scored a field goal.

By virtue of Georgia's victory over Kentucky she advanced to the semi-finals, meeting the Tar Heels Monday night for the championship of bracket number two. Tulane and Mississippi U. won out in the upper bracket.

Line-up and summary: Carolina (34) Ga. Tech (26) Cobb (10) Wilde (6) R. F. McDonald (9) Wilder L. F. Dodderer (6) Wycoff (15) C. Devin (1) Rosser (3) R. G. Purser (4) Moore L. G.

Substitutions: North Carolina—Poole (2) for McDonald, Barber (2) for Purser; Georgia Tech—Barron (2) for Wilder. Referee: Erkin. Umpire: Yates.

U. N. C. 35—L. S. U. 21

The Tar Heels displayed the same fast brand of ball that won for them on the opening night of the tournament and defeated Louisiana State University in their second contest by the score of 35-21. Consistent team work won for Carolina, but Captain Cobb played a brilliant individual game and with 15 points to his credit was the high scorer of the contest. Bormman trailed him close with 12 points, and was the star performer for the losers.

However, Cobb did not play the whole game. Coach Shepherd sent in Poole to relieve him in the second half in order to conserve the strength of his ace for the game with Georgia Tech, winners from Sewanee, on the following night.

Line-up and summary: U. N. C. (35) L. S. U. (21) Cobb (15) Bormman (12) R. F. McDonald (4) Jones (3) L. F. Dodderer (5) Johnson C. Devin (6) Jackson R. G. Purser (6) Hatcher (5) L. G.

Substitutions: For L. S. U.—Igan (1) for Bormman, N. C.—Poole (1) for Cobb. Referee: Yates. Umpire: Sutton.

SEATS ARE GOING FAST FOR SARG'S LATEST PUPPETS

(Continued from page one)

Sarg's Marionettes—so much may be stated for the comfort of those adults who have been afraid that puppets might be infra dig. The present reviewer is himself in just that embarrassing period of semi-maturity in the presence of the deliberately ridiculous; and the Marionettes had him chuckling in fifteen seconds. Sarg has touched a fundamental chord and done it with rare artistry.

"With each new piece, moreover, Mr. Sarg waxes in fancy, humor, and diversity, discovering the technical means to every desired end. . . . The spectator sees, hears, feels and knows these puppet characters as only twice in a blue moon he may know the personages in a play."

CHASE EXPLAINS PLANS CAMPUS' NEW COMMITTEE

(Continued from page one)

important branches of the University. What do you know about it? There are two engineering schools in the state. Why is this necessary? Why is a university greater than a college? There are dozens of points like this which are clarified by a systematic study of the University such as is being undertaken by the Committee of 100.

W. T. Couch followed President Chase and sketched briefly the history of the Committee of 100. It was organized, he said, in January and had already held four meetings and listened to two lectures, one by Dean Greenlaw on the graduate school and another by Dr. Chase on the organization and administration of the University.

The Committee of 100 is composed of upperclassmen and membership is by invitation. The "100" represents the 100 counties or geographic units of the state. Among the projects planned by the Committee in the immediate future are: To conduct a course in University citizenship for the members of the organization in order that they may understand more fully the institution; to handle, in co-operation with the University administration, all relationships with prospective students, to the end that they may choose wisely the institution to attend; to relate the student more intimately to the University alumni and the alumni more intimately to the University and to prospective students; and to assist in University publicity.

W. T. Couch is president of the organization; W. J. Coker, vice-president; and Emmett Underwood, secretary and treasurer. Other members are Herman McIver, A. T. Curlee, M. D. Bonner, C. W. Bazemore, B. H. Kendall, Bill Perebee, E. S. McDaniel, Jr., Paul N. Olive, J. M. Saunders, Ludlow Rogers, Edward Scheidt, Harold Linberger, R. P. Warren, Jeff Fordham, Allen Stainback, Charles Gold, J. W. Vick, Julian Mann, R. H. Sherrill, W. R. Enloe, K. D. Coates, C. R. Jonas, L. A. Crowell, L. R. Johnston, Reese Berryhill, J. R. Sams, J. N. Epstein, J. B. Wahman, Abram Solomon, Ballard Gay, J. R. Owens, W. E. Crisman, W. H. Coltrane, W. W. Gwynn, L. E. Watt, W. B. Pipkin, Spencer Murphy, Roy Armstrong, J. F. Cooper, P. C. Gibson, John M. Redwine, J. E. Hawkins, Francis Boushall, A. G. Glenn, F. P. Parker, T. S. Campen, N. W. Mackie.

WRESTLERS HAVE RATHER BAD TRIP

(Continued from page one)

onds of the match. Blankenship had the advantage for some time; however, his opponent secured the upper edge and won on time.

"K. O." Warren, regular occupant of the 175-pound berth, was not in the meet due to the boxing game, of which he is captain, having a meet with Virginia at that time. There was no one else out for this weight, so Coach Shapiro was forced to forfeit it. Lockhart, of the unlimited class, was also unable to go, and this weight had to be forfeited.

The recent slump in the number of men coming out for this sport has been in keeping with the general slump in the interest in athletics here so far as active participation goes. Repeated calls have been issued of late for men for this sport as well as some other sports, and neither have received the support which is expected from a student body of the size and ability of Carolina's.

Last year, when students were taking an active as well as a passive interest in sports, the team won six out of nine matches. Many men were developed into excellent wrestlers, and a good-sized squad was out throughout the season. If these men had not stuck out through the season last year as scrubs, Carolina would have had no mat team this year, for Captain Zack Waters was the only letter man returning. This season started off with excellent material and fine prospects for the year, but of late it has been particularly hard to get men out, especially in the weights above 139. With a team of seven men, there should be a squad of at least fifty men, with thirty reporting daily. There are facilities provided by the athletic association to easily accommodate this number, and excellent coaching is to be found in all weights.

Regardless of the fighting spirit of the men who stick out for the honor of alma mater, meets cannot be won unless there is enough material but for each weight to fill it when the one man who happens to be holding it down at a particular time is unable for one reason or another to participate. A man with ability who won't use it is a slacker in every sense of the word. Aren't there but two men who will go out for the 175 and unlimited weights in all the University of North Carolina?

Dr. Cobb's Brother Dies in Winston-Salem

The many friends of Dr. Collier Cobb, head of the department of geology in the University, regret to hear of the death of his brother, Dr. Whitfield Cobb, of Winston-Salem. Dr. Cobb was educated at the University and took his degree of dentistry at the Atlanta Dental College. Dr. Cobb was the youngest of a family of twelve children and Dr. Collier Cobb is the oldest of the twelve.

LESS MEN DROPPING OUT OF UNIVERSITY

Senior Class Has Almost Doubled—Junior Class Has Total of 218 Members.

Dr. J. F. Royster, dean of the college of liberal arts, in his annual report pointed out the fact that, in proportion to attendance, fewer students are now dropping out of college after their first year than formerly, and ascribes the decrease in mortality rates here to successful efforts made by the University against student failures in their courses, particularly in the case of freshmen.

Dr. Royster's report shows a large increase in the size of the junior and senior classes, a most heartening omen when viewed in light of the fact that the value of college education increases in direct ratio to the length of a student's attendance. Conclusive evidence shows that the third and fourth years in college are worth a great deal more than the first and second. The senior class now has 141 members as compared to 71 in the fourth year class a year ago. The junior class numbers 218, an increase of 76 over the previous year.

"The number of students who fail to meet the requirements for remaining in the University is not excessively large. It runs about 10 per cent. The larger number are freshmen. The raised requirements for sophomores and juniors operative this past fall for the first time excluded a larger number of members of these classes from re-entering than has been the case, and they undoubtedly also spurred others to greater effort."

Dean Royster announced in his report that a proposal is under way to designate with some appropriate insignia students of unusual scholastic attainments, and to select such men upon a basis less mechanical than the mere computation of average grades. He also comments upon the fact that the faculty recently voted to amend the class attendance rules so that no penalty which is imposed for absence alone shall fall upon a group of juniors and seniors chosen upon their good class records. "This is an attempt to throw the responsibility of doing their work well upon a group which has shown that it may be trusted. The penalty for laxness of study lies in the student's hands and will be registered in his failure to pass his work."

DI SOPHOMORES DEFEAT THE PHI

Debate on Marriage and Divorce Laws.

HELD IN THE DI HALL

Three Men Voted Into the Dialectic Senate.

The Di Senate, represented by B. C. Wilson and L. B. Kennett defeated the Phi Assembly in the annual inter society Sophomore debate last Saturday night in the Di hall on the question: Resolved, That the United States constitution should be amended so as to allow the enactment by Congress of a uniform marriage and divorce law. The Di held the affirmative side.

The affirmative developed the argument that the conflict of marriage and divorce laws of the various states is objectionable. They said that easy divorce laws in any one of the states made the strict laws of another ineffective, thus making it easy to get around them. They pointed out the fact that North Carolinians who are under the age required in North Carolina can easily go to South Carolina, where the age limit is much lower and the requirements much easier.

The negative largely centered their argument around the doctrine of states' rights. They said that conditions in different states demanded different laws, that each locality must of necessity enact laws which are better fitted to the people of that locality.

Messrs. R. D. W. Connor, John T. Booker, and C. P. Spruill judged the contest.

C. O. Sapp and John C. Davis, of Winston-Salem, and Jeff Fordham, of Greensboro, were voted into the Senate, but their initiation was deferred until next meeting.

Durham High Defeats Wilmington

The Durham high school White Whirlwind quint easily eliminated the Wilmington high school team in the semi-finals for the eastern championship here last Saturday night by a score of 26-10.

The first half was characterized by good defensive work of both teams, but the attack launched by Bock, Satterfield and Hackney was too much for the Wilmington lads. The first half ended by a score 8-5 in favor of Durham.

In the beginning of the second half Wilmington opened the attack, and before Durham could launch a scoring movement, had tied the score. Once the Durham team got in action, however, the Wilmington team went to pieces and was able to score only five additional points to Durham's 18.

All students in the University of Oregon who fail to pass an entrance examination in English are required to take a course in English usage, without credit, until excused by the instructor.

TORCHBEARERS TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEK

Comic Element Reigns Supreme in Play That Play-Production Class Stages On March 10-11.

"The Torchbearers", which will be presented on March 10th and 11th by the class in play-production, is one play in which the comic element reigns supreme. There is in the piece a vein of light satire on the little theatre movement, but this serves merely to enhance the humor of the play, which is of the most brilliant and fascinating kind.

The story is cleverly woven around the character of a benevolent and enthusiastic lady who is firmly convinced that she possesses sparks of dramatic genius which will set the whole world on fire, and who believes moreover that the little theatre was created by divine ordinance for her, and she for it. The play deals with a drama staged by an amateur theatre group, and in the last scene the would-be actress finally resolves to desert the stage and devote herself once more to home life.

Many amusing situations occur during the performance of the amateur play. The actors, who are on the stage for the first time in their lives, make innumerable mistakes, and their awkwardness and embarrassment is entertaining in the highest degree. One of the most amusing situations in the play deals with the home-coming of Mr. Ritter; he finds scattered over the house an enormous quantity of flowers which had been sent to his wife, and, not knowing of her dramatic activities, he concludes that there has been a death in the family and is much perturbed.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL Standing of Clubs Week Ending Feb. 28

Table with columns: Dormitory, Won, Lost, Pct. West 13 1 .929, Steele 12 2 .858, Carr 12 2 .858, East 11 3 .781, New Dorms 9 5 .639, Grimes 9 5 .639, South 7 6 .539, Ruffin 7 7 .500, Manly 6 8 .426, "G" 3 11 .214, "I" 2 10 .166, Mangum 1 11 .083, Smith 0 11 .000, Fraternity: Sigma Chi 14 0 1.000, Kappa Alpha 13 1 .929, Zeta Psi 12 2 .858, Chi Phi 12 2 .858, A. T. O. 11 3 .781, S. A. E. 9 5 .639, Gamma Delta 9 5 .639, Pi Kappa Phi 7 7 .500, Delta Sigma Phi 7 7 .500, Theta Chi 7 7 .500, S. P. E. 5 9 .355, Beta 5 9 .355, Phi Delta Chi 4 10 .284, D. K. E. 2 10 .166, Pi K. A. 1 7 .125, Phi Kappa Sigma 0 11 .000, Kappa Sigma 0 9 .000, Phi Delta Pi 0 10 .000

Ralph H. Graves Visiting Chapel Hill

Ralph H. Graves, managing editor of The World's Work and head of the syndicate department of Doubleday, Page and Company, is in Chapel Hill on a visit. Early in January he got his leg badly hurt in an automobile accident in Washington and was kept in the Emergency hospital there until last Saturday. He is not entirely recovered yet, but is up and about and is getting on well.

LOST Sigma Nu frat pin—initials "F. G." Return to Tar Heel office.

Reward

Have your PRESSING ALTERING REPAIRING DONE BY THE CAROLINA DRY CLEANERS

It's Good-bye Blues and Hello Laugh IF YOU SEE

THE TORCH-BEARERS

Memorial Hall March 10-11

THE DURHAM BOOK & STATIONERY CO. 112 WEST MAIN STREET, 109 WEST PARKHURST ST. DURHAM, N. C. OFFICE DEVICES, SCHOOL SUPPLIES, TENNIS, GOLF AND BASEBALL GOODS

THE BLACKFORD COMPANY GENERAL CONTRACTORS DURHAM, N. C.

MANUFACTURERS OF COLLEGE JEWELRY SCHIFFMAN'S LEADING JEWELERS GREENSBORO, N. C.

DURHAM SHOE SHINE PARLOR PRICES REASONABLE Hat Cleaning and Blocking Our Specialty

K. V. HOWELL, President LUCAS LLOYD, Vice-Pres. C. B. GRIFFIN, Cashier R. P. ANDREWS, Asst. Cashier THE PEOPLES BANK CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

It's Not a Home till it's Planted VAN LINDLEY CO., Florists GREENSBORO, N. C. 100,000 square feet of glass. "Say it with Flowers."

D. C. MAY PAPER HANGING - UPHOLSTERING - PAINTING PHONE 1028 Corner Ora and Roney Streets DURHAM, N. C.

BUDD-PIPER ROOFING COMPANY DURHAM, NORTH CAROLINA ROOFING AND SHEET METAL WORK

GEO. F. MENNER Wm. H. ROWS Everything on campus in past four years heated by us—"Nuff Said" Carolina Heating & Engineering Co. HEATING, VENTILATING AND POWER PIPING Phone 1466 Durham, N. C.

Some Wail!!! Have pity on the Laundry Guy, Please do not "razz" us so; All claims we'll try to recognize If ample proof you'll show. But please don't say, "Now, look here, Jack, 'Twas missing when I got my bundle back." Your bundles filled with sunshine— That's what our slogan means; Because of this, sometimes we must Dig way down in our jeans, Because some stude will sadly say, "Jack, 'Twasn't in my bundle when I got it back." Oh well, we do our very best To have not any loss, But there are times, as shown by test, That they do trim our dean, the Boss, And all because some frosh will quack, "I didn't get my bundle back." Some stude comes in and he will say, "Where are my shirts and collars? Sent them in last Monday— They're worth at least Ten Dollars!" That's the meaning of this crack— Now, why didn't he get his bundle back? WHAT'S YOUR REGISTRATION NUMBER? It's Good-bye Blues and Hello Laugh IF YOU SEE THE TORCH-BEARERS Memorial Hall March 10-11 Laundry Dept. U. N. C.