

BORGLUM SPEAKS TO LARGE CROWD IN GERARD HALL

Famous Sculptor Talks for Over Two Hours Concerning the Stone Mountain.

HELD HIS AUDIENCE

Says He Will Never Go Back to Atlanta Until Whole South Desires Completion of Project.

By LUCY F. LAY

The huge crowd that packed Gerrard hall on Tuesday evening to hear Gutzon Borglum speak on the Stone Mountain memorial held a speech which was thoroughly interesting, unique, and sometimes decidedly thrilling, in which the sculptor proved himself to be an artist, a man of affairs, and a scholar who has read widely and deeply. The lecture had been announced by Dr. Bernard as an art lecture and those who attended—whether they came out of interest in the controversy or not—received a large slice of liberal education sprinkled with many original and Borglum-like ideas.

Dr. Bernard introduced Mr. Borglum as one of the 10 greatest American sculptors and thanked him heartily for the local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for making the address of the evening. Mr. Borglum showed himself to be extremely tactful by responding to Dr. Bernard's complimentary introduction by telling the audience that "If North Carolina does not adopt me, I shall adopt North Carolina."

From this beginning he held his audience for a period of two hours while he traced clearly and definitely the origin and development of art, in which he included interpretations of various race movements, bringing his recital down through the settling of this country. Then he turned his attention to the elements which had gone to make the differences between the South and the North, showing that he had thoroughly studied the South and its history. From this he came to his conception of the great Stone Mountain memorial and told of the his-

LOCAL FRATS TAKE IN THEIR PLEDGES

Freshman Shed Their Pledge Buttons for Pins.

MANY OF MEN INELIGIBLE

Not All Fraternities Have Initiated Yet.

A good many of the fraternities have held their spring initiations during the past few days. A flock of pledges who failed to measure up to the requirements of the registrar were not eligible to be shown the grip and slipped the magic pass-words.

Ribbons of many colored combinations have been appearing almost daily on the campus, signifying that some pledge or pledges have passed from their former stage of pledgedom into the circle of fraternalism.

Included among those who have been initiated are:

Delta Kappa Epsilon—Gordon Forbes, George Darst, Brown Shepherd, Jack Davis, Charlie Causey, John Rodman, Palmer Jerman, John Gautier, T. V. Moore, and John McMullan.

Beta Theta Pi—David Carroll, Tom Rollins, T. B. Ogburn, Jr., and Dick Crabtree.

Chi Phi—Gyp Dozier, Henry Brandis, Francis Jenkins, Piggy Jarrell, Worth Morris.

Kappa Sigma—Marion Oettinger, Emmett Wooten, and Edward Hudgins.

Kappa Alpha—Will Prescott, Harold Butt, Tart Barnes, and Jim Lyerly.

Sigma Nu—Charles Price, David Blanton, and Walter Creech.

Pi Kappa Alpha—Hoyt Covington, Bob Taylor, Herman High, and Sam Vance.

Theta Chi—Willum Ray, Ernest Duval, Cliff Branch and Marion Hetherington.

Delta Sigma Phi—H. C. Giles, J. C. King, Marion Young, M. O. Smathers, and John Van Noppen.

Sigma Phi Epsilon—F. H. Whitaker, A. U. Johnston, J. B. Linn, C. W. Bynum, James McElroy, W. W. Ricks, Pat Daughtridge, and Nathan Gaskill.

Delta Tau Delta—Porter McNair.

Chi Tau—W. R. Mancy, K. G. Daey, and J. L. Pinnix.

Tau Epsilon Phi—E. J. Evans.

Kappa Pi—George Laney, Dirk Steed.

Alpha Chi—Tommy Franklin, Arthur Hollett.

Delta Pi—Robert Fields, Roy Brookbanks, and John Privott.

Chi Omega—Miss Elizabeth Strowd.

Pi Beta Phi—Miss Rosalie Thrall, Mrs. Frank Rowley, and Miss Betty Winston.

MINSTREL-REVUE SCORES BIG HIT IN DOUBLE SHOW

Not An Act On Di Minstrel-Revue Bill That Was Not Encored—Had Wide Appeal.

RADIUM DANCE WAS GOOD

"Yes, By Gosh" Trio Tempt the Powers-That-Be Kike Kyser Deserves Much Credit for Show.

By THE CROSSROADS

The Di Minstrel-Revue made a great hit Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The reason lies in the fact that it possesses the broadest appeal of any show given in Chapel Hill in a long time. It was so genuinely good for the most part that it gained the approval of the regular local audience, and it was crude enough and raw enough in spots to win the applause of those who seldom attend anything except classes and a certain third-rate tab-house in a neighboring city. There wasn't an act on the bill which wasn't encored.

The outstanding features of the Revue are the three solos, the Playmaker skit, and the Radium Dance. Mr. Massey, the imported tenor, has a beautiful voice and a pleasing personality. However, he doesn't trip gracefully—we saw the Wednesday night performance—and he should treat the University piano with more respect. Neither Mr. Buice nor Mr. MacClamroch suffer from comparison with the professional. Naturally they are not possessed with a professional ease of manner, but they both have excellent voices. We hope that the second night somebody kept the sickly green light from making Mr. MacClamroch look like the first leaf of summer.

The Playmaker take-off is delightful. To those who are familiar with the inner workings of the Playmakers it is ludicrously funny. Mr. Kyser's impersonation of Professor Koch is long to be remembered. While the full humor of the act was appreciated by only a small percentage of the audience, it stands out as one of the best things we have seen here.

The Radium Dance brings back memories of Gilda Gray's "It's Growing Dark on Old Broadway" in last season's Follies; but we resolutely brush the tears of longing from our eyes and continue to compliment Kike's show. The Radium Dance is imminently satisfactory. The back-drop is clever and the dancing is remarkably uniform. The team comprises eight; so far as we know the largest team which has ever appeared in a buck-dance. Anyway, it's an unusual number, and shows originality.

The singing and dancing throughout the minstrel are good, and evidence considerable competent training. The best work of this kind is the "We'll Start This Show" number. Runt Lowe, Ben Hicks, and Grady Pritchard as the Senegambian "Mamas" get the biggest hand of the performance.

The act from "Yes, by Gosh!" by Vaught, Erwine and Oettinger is a repetition from the older show with addition.

PROMINENT DEANS IN MEETING HERE

Southern Science Teachers in Convention Here.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

William Allen White and Josephus Daniels Speak.

The annual meeting of the southern science teachers which convened here last night is one of the most important meetings held in Chapel Hill in several years. The convention was arranged by the Institute for Research in Social Science and by the University Extension Bureau. William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette and 1925 Weil lecturer, was scheduled to address the assembly last night, in addition to addresses by Hon. Josephus Daniels and President H. W. Chase.

Among those who are attending are the following:

University of Alabama—Dean Lee Biegood (Economics).

University of Florida—Dean L. H. Bristol (Economics and Sociology).

University of Georgia—Dean T. J. Wooster (Education), Dean R. P. Brooks (Economics), and Carl Hutchinson (Sociology).

Emory University—Dean T. H. Jack (History).

Vanderbilt University—Dean W. M. Fleming (History), I. E. Hudson (Government).

Birmingham-Southern College—Dean L. M. Spivey (Sociology).

N. C. State College—Dean Carl Taylor (Rural Sociology).

University of Virginia—Wilson Gee

GOLDEN FLEECE TAPPING OCCURS ON 6TH OF MAY

Between Seven and Ten Men Tapped Annually by Fleece for Highest Honors.

HARD TASK THIS YEAR

Interest Increasing As to Whom the Organization Will Tap This Year—Tar Heel Will Predict.

The announcement of May 6 as the date for the Golden Fleece tapping ceremonies has started the annual bull sessions and speculations as to who will be considered for this honor which is universally known to be the highest honor which can come to a Carolina man. Between seven and ten men are generally tapped for the Fleece in recognition of their character, their ability and their achievements, which are sometimes notable in a single field and sometimes varied in several fields.

Most of the men chosen are juniors, although last year four of the nine men chosen were seniors; a high proportion. For the last three years it has been customary to print an article containing a line-up selected by a TAR HEEL reporter. This will come out shortly after the Easter vacation.

The task of selecting the men this year seems unusually hard. In 1922 the comment was that, except in the field of athletics, material was very scarce. Yet later the Fleece tapped ten men, four of whom had not even been mentioned in the tentative line-up. In 1923, six of the seven men among those that the reporter decided would certainly receive the honor, were tapped; and one man was tapped whose name had not been mentioned in the list. This man was LeGrand Everett, who was tapped for his outstanding work as a Playmaker and in musical activities.

In 1924, the five men who were mentioned as certain material were taken into the Fleece, and the remaining four had been prominently mentioned in the list of probable candidates. It has been customary for men holding certain offices to be considered because of the virtue of the office, although, as yet, it has not been the case that a man has been elected to the Fleece simply because he happened to be in some office.

In 1924 William J. Cooke, Jr., was chosen for the Fleece as a Phi Beta Kappa president, a writer, and as the president of the student body for this year. "Rabbit" Bonner was chosen as the outstanding athlete of the year. J. W. Deyton was chosen for his prominence in the work of debating. Aubrey Shackell was tapped as a Playmaker and as an athlete. Henry Fuller was chosen for his work in writing and in Y. M. C. A. activities. Henry Lineberger, manager of the baseball team and a football and basketball man, was tapped. J. E. Hawkins was chosen because of his work in writing and the Playmakers; he was also editor-elect of the Carolina Magazine. J. M. Saunders, editor-elect of the TAR HEEL, and debater, was tapped last spring. R. Y. Thorpe, one of the most popular men in the senior class, was tapped as an all-around man, having served as manager of the

FRESHMEN ONLY CLASS INDULGING IN HOT POLITICS

Manly Williamson Elected President of Next Year's Sophomore Class.

GLENN "Y" TREASURER

Jonas, Young, Godwin and Cook Members of Debate Council—Lineberger Heads Publications Union.

Carolina's annual springtime elections came and went away Thursday with only the freshmen enjoying the pleasures of "hot politics." There were hints that a monstrous, powerful machine was responsible for lining up the various factions and thus eliminating the friction and hard feelings that usually accompany the spring elections.

The freshmen, however, fought a hard day and the energetic first year politicians made a thorough canvass of the campus, exempting not even the upperclassmen in their dash for votes. Manly Williamson defeated Jack Davis by a count of 284 to 168 for the presidency of next year's sophomore class. Walter Kelley secured a majority on the first round over Joe Bobbitt and "Mutt" Evans. Kelley polled 259, Bobbitt 151, and Evans 41 votes. George Busby was elected secretary over Carr Purser, 236 to 215. B. K. Manning had no opposition for the position of treasurer.

In the general elections, Frazier Glenn ran away from E. A. Farrell for the treasurership of the Y. M. C. A. and accumulated 695 votes to Farrell's 159. It was found that J. R. Owens' name had been incorrectly withdrawn from the debate Council race and his name was carried on the ballot despite the announcement made through the TAR HEEL that he was not registered in school. In spite of the handicap, he pulled a goodly number of votes, although he trailed the list. C. R. Jonas led the field with an ever 800 to his credit, and following the custom of last year, is president. M. M. Young accounted for a large number of votes, receiving 745. Howard Godwin and R. L. Cook were elected with 671 and 634 votes to their credit respectively. Owens was defeated, taking fifth place with 431 votes.

The three newly-elected members of the Carolina Publications Union held an informal meeting and the presidency was conceded to J. H. Lineberger. The elections committee verified the trio's action and Lineberger will head the union for next year, with W. S. McIver and W. D. Toy completing the board.

Jeff Fordham Makes Campaign Speech Thursday

"I stand wholeheartedly behind the honor system," affirmed Jeff B. Fordham, the newly elected president of the student body, and who appeared in chapel Wednesday morning as a candidate for the responsible office for which he was running without opposition.

"We are seeking the truth and we will not get it unless we live the truth," declared Fordham, who asked the students to take the honor system to heart. Harmony and co-operation between students and the faculty was especially stressed, and the students were commended by the new president for their interest and support of the honor system thus far.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS MONDAY ON EMERSON FIELD WITH INITIAL FRACAS AGAINST HAMPDEN-SIDNEY

Wind and Rain Has Interfered With Practice.

LINE-UP STILL UNKNOWN

Ferebee, Coltrane, Poyner and Holshouser Appear to Be Slated for Pitchers.

GUILFORD PLAYS WEDNESDAY

Carolina Will Play U. S. Navy Here On Friday—Guilford Defeats North Carolina State College.

With the opening game of the season with Hampden-Sidney around the corner on Monday, Coach Fetzter has been working his men overtime to smooth it into the even running machine that is hoped for before the season closes.

The cold and wind of the last week has hindered somewhat the daily workouts, but still the players have gone through their afternoon canters with accustomed regularity. Many shifts have been made in the infield as the coach has been trying to work out the strongest possible combination. There is some doubt as to the eligibility of Johnnie Johnson who appears as the best man for the short stop position. Johnnie has been working to get off a required course and may get to play. He is reported to have passed off his work and is said to be eligible.

If Johnson is not in the game, Hatley will probably play short and Sides go to second to take his place. Hatley is a fast infielder with a good arm, but lacks the experience of Johnson. First base seems to be well cared for by Stanton, while third is the most doubtful position of all with several men offering strong opposition for the job. "Touch-down" Jones, Starling, Don Jonas, and Bill Dodderer have all taken a whirl at the place but Coach Bill appears to be still undecided as to who best fills the position.

John Coffey appears to be the only man certain to start in the outer gardens. He is hitting hard again this year and bids fair to be one of the TAR HEELS' best bats. Hoot Gibson also is going good and will probably be in right field. Dodderer may be in left field if Captain Bonner is put behind the plate. Bonner is the class of the catchers, but in Sharpe, Prescott, and Greene Coach Fetzter appears to have three men who can take their turn with the mask and mitt if need be.

The pitchers are all working hard and the man to start against the Virginians is doubtful. The four strongest contenders seem to be Ferebee, Coltrane, Poyner, and Holshouser. One of these will probably start the contest, but if Hampden-Sidney does not prove too strong Coach Fetzter may give others of his moundsmen a try.

Play Navy Here

The Carolina students who have been watching the daily workouts of Captain Bonner's men and speculating on the chances for a winning team will have their thirst for the sound of wood on leather partially satiated next week, three games being scheduled at Chapel Hill and one at Greensboro.

Hampden-Sidney offers the first opposition to Coach Fetzter's TAR HEELS in the 1925 season on Emerson field Monday. On Wednesday, Guilford, conqueror of State, comes to the Hill in an attempt to trounce the Fetzterites.

The strength of the Virginians is unknown, as they have not played a team that can offer a comparison, but they always present a strong combination and will probably force Captain Bonner's men to their best strides to win. Last season they gave the TAR HEELS considerable worry for a time.

Guilford looms as a strong contender for state honors by virtue of her victory over the Techmen, to whom many were conceding the odds for a repetition of last season's championship. The Quakers always present a good team and have held the championship on several occasions. Casey Morris' timely blow into the woods with three men on gave Carolina an easy victory behind Bryson's pitching last spring, but neither Bryson nor Morris is with the TAR HEELS now and a new hero may have to arise for Carolina to be victorious.

The United States Naval Academy nine is the opponent on Friday and appears as another game that will be doubtful until it is played. The warmer weather here puts southern teams in much better condition and they have this advantage over northern visitors. The Gobs should furnish an interesting game. Maryland is the Greensboro opponent.

The Delta Pi fraternity initiated Robert Lewis Fields, of Abokkie; William Roy Brookbank, of Winston-Salem, and John Miller Privott, of Edenton, Tuesday, March 31.
