High schools numbering 66 have already entered the debates and more entrants are coming. Students are asked to cooperate with the University in every way possible to make a successful week. Students from the towns that are sending representatives are asked to help in providing sleeping quarters for the lads. Any one having extra room is requested to see E. R. Rankin, R. W. Linker, or L. B. Kquette.

OLD LOVE STORY TO BE PRODUCED

Romeo and Juliet Will Be Given in May.

TRY-OUTS ON APRIL 21ST

Play-Production Class Staging Famous Tragedy.

brary in the near future.

The announcement that "Romeo and Juliet" will be given in the Forest Theatre will be productive of much interest among those who are familiar with the beauty of the woodland playhouse. The spectacular production of "Prunella" in the Forest Theatre last spring was universally admired, and the romantic beauty of "Romeo and Juliet" should make the setting especially appropriate. The staging of the famous balcony and tomb scenes, as well as the minor scenes in the play, is being elaborately worked out, and the lighting experts are promising some new and strikingly beautiful effects.

The charm of Shakespeare's famous love story is too well known to require any words of explanation, and the play has been a favorite since its first production. One of the most popular productions of "Romeo and Juliet" has been playing recently in New York, with Rollo Peters and Jane Cowl in the leading roles.

"Romeo and Juliet" has been selected for production this spring by the class in play-production under the supervision of the Carolina Playmakers. This play, which will constitute the fourth studio production of Mr. Denny's class, will be presented on May 29th and 30th. A reading of the play will be given Monday, April 20, and open competitive try-outs will be held on April 21st. Copies of "Romeo and Juliet" may be obtained at the library; the acting edition of the play will also be obtainable at the Li-

WEIL LECTURES GIVEN BY WHITE

Western Editor Divides American History Into Cycles.

INTERPRETS MOVEMENTS

Discussion of Bryan and His Rise to Power Delightful.

William Allen White, nationally known publicist, delighted three good-sized audiences here this week with lectures which he generally termed "Cycles of Cathay."

Mr. White divided his lectures into three cycles of American history, the first being the Cycle of the Revolution; the second, the Cycle of the Civil War, and the third, the Populist Cycle. With these three general periods of American history he interpreted the movements in our nation that have led to independence, abolition of slavery, and representation in the government by the common man.

He sounded the alarm that the dreams of the idealists of the past may have been carried too far in that the laborer may be getting too powerful.

Outstanding in his lectures was the part wherein he gave a description of William Jennings Bryan's rise to power in the Democratic party. Discussing the differences between agitators and "reapers," the western editor made the assertion that "Samuel Adams, Wendell Phillips and William Jennings Bryan were sowers who never reaped," and that "Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt were reapers who never sowed."

His series of lectures gave the University community one of the best interpretations of the Popularity movement that has ever been heard here. His interpretation of American history in general was exceedingly well received by his audiences.

CAROLINA PLAYS GUILFORD TODAY

Meet Quaker Team On Emerson Field At 4 P. M.

GUILFORD TEAM STRONG

Defeated N. C. State 2-1—"Shad" Smith Star Hurler.

The Fetzerites, having disposed of Hampden-Sidney with comparative ease, face two hard games before leaving on their Easter trip, in the Guilford contest this afternoon and the United States Naval Academy game Friday. Both of these games are played on Emerson field.

Guilford, expected before the season opened to be little more than an eye-opener for the Tar Heels, appears now as one of the strongest college teams in the state and is looked to by the Carolina players for a hard, close scrap. The Navy comes as an unknown quantity.

In "Shad" Smith the Quakers have a pitcher who ranks up along with the best collegiate hurlers. He beat State's would-be championship nine 2 to 1 recently, and the Guilford supporters are backing him to turn in another victory this afternoon. The Quaker infield is characterized by one state sport writer as "steady and well balanced." With Smith on the mound and the Guilford infield playing tight ball the visitors will be hard to beat.

Coach Fetzer's proteges looked good against Hampden-Sidney Monday and were slamming the ball all over the lot. "Sluggers Row" composed of Coffee, Hatley, Stanton and Gibson, not to mention a couple of pitchers who also wield hefty bats ought to bring in some runs against almost any pitching short of the Walter Johnson brand.

The infield did not do so well as it has in practice but the day was cold and windy and probably threw the players somewhat off form. The weather handicapped the pitchers also.

Nobody knows who will draw mound duty against the Quakers or the Midshipmen, probably Coach Bill himself won't know until shortly before the game; but the indications are that the major portion of the burden will fall to Ferebee and Holshouser. Both are in fine shape and "going good." One will probably start against Guilford and the other against the Navy.

The infield appears pretty well settled with Stanton at first, Hatley second, Johnson short, and Thomas on third. Coffee and Gibson appear to have center and right field sewed up, but whether the "Rabbit" will be in left field or behind the bat is a matter of conjecture. Sharpe worked nicely during the time that he was doing the receiving against Hampden-Sidney and Coach Bill may give him the call this afternoon.

FIRE WIPES OUT FOISTER'S STORE

Early Sunday Morning Blaze Does Great Damage.

STOCK IS TOTAL RUIN

Chapel Hill Firemen Did Good Job of Fire-Fighting.

Foister's, popular commercial establishment of Chapel Hill, was virtually destroyed by fire of unknown origin early Sunday morning. The fire was discovered at 4 o'clock by roomers living in the upper story over Gooch's College Inn.

The Chapel Hill fire department promptly reached the scene and did unusually good work in extinguishing the blaze. The building was completely gutted by the flames and only the solid walls and new roof prevent a disastrous spreading of the fire. Four lines of hose, three from the Franklin street main and one from the Fraternity Row hydrant, were laid and a steady flow of water was poured into the building for over two hours.

The fire originated in the rear of the Foister building and the burning photography material, in addition to large quantity of paper, caused a dense smoke and hot fire. The heat and smoke spread through the walls and seriously damaged the upper floors of the three adjoining buildings. Gooch's banquet hall was practically ruined.

The building belonged to the Chapel Hill Insurance and Realty Company. Their loss is estimated at $20,000 partially covered by insurance.

Very little of the stock escaped unharmed, as the heat and water damaged practically everything that the flames left untouched. It is understood that Mr. Foister is planning on re-opening his store, probably in the Strowd building, as soon as possible.

THIRTY-TWO INTO PHI BETA KAPPA

Dr. A. Henderson Delivers Annual Address.

PIPKIN IS PRESIDENT

This Year's Number Is Record At University.

"We are the wooden toys of a huge American Noah's Ark; we have no ideas," declared Archibald Henderson, speaking to a large audience at the annual election of new members to the Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa held Monday night in Gerrard hall. There were 32 new members elected which constitutes the largest body of students that has ever been elected at one time.

The speaker was introduced by W. C. Coker, Jr., who gave a short sketch of the history of Phi Beta Kappa and of the institution of the Alpha chapter here. He informed the audience that Dr. Henderson was the president of this society when he was elected to it.

The subject of Dr. Henderson's address was "Scholarship from the Angle of Science." He described the present state of unrest that the world is in, dealing especially with America. He contrasted the national state of mind of today with that of before the war. Before the war this state of mind was one of unquestioning optimism, while today it is one of unrest and questioning. He showed wherein science was responsible for this state of mind and wherein it might alleviate it.

Dr. Henderson told how much the contributions of science have altered the manners and ways of living in the last 100 years. He told of the miracles that science has performed, which are more wonderful than the miracles of the Bible, and how the facts of today exceed the

TRACKMEN TO MEET VIRGINIA

Last Dual Meet Was Held in 1921.

VIRGINIA WON 109 TO 16

Probably Two Track Meets During Easter Holidays.

The Carolina track team will meet Virginia at Charlottesville April 15 in the first dual meet between the two institutions since 1921, when Virginia overwhelmed the Tar Heel forces by the score of 109 to 16.

Both teams are preparing for this engagement, Virginia seeking to uphold her supremacy in track, which has not been seriously threatened by Carolina in a number of years. The Tar Heels hope to reach mid-season form for this meet, and are bending every effort toward coming through the meet successfully. When the Cavaliers and Tar Heels match their ability on the cinder path the feathers will fly thick and fast.

The Virginia team has good men in practically every event. The dashes are well taken care of, while the quarter milers have a national reputation. Captain Jed Irving is one of the best half milers in the country. The strength in the two mile is unknown, since both of the two milers finished last year. The team has a letter man in the mile, and the weight events are filled by men with great ability. The Cavaliers showed up especially good in the Conference meet last fall.

After the meet with Virginia, Carolina will probably send representatives to the Southern relay which will be held at Georgia Tech April 18. There will be a four mile relay team composed of four of the following men: Bell, Captain Dale Ranson, P. J. Ranson, Buchanan, Purser, Jonas. Moore will likely take part in the high hurdles. There is a chance of one sprinter and a field event man making the trip.

UNIVERSITY TRACK TEAM DEFEATS WASHINGTON AND LEE IN OPENER

Large Crowd Sees Opening Track Meet—Weather Excellent—Play Havoc With Southern Track Records—Moore Star In High and Low Hurdles—Howard Remarkable Runner in Two-Mile Event.

In a fast and thrilling encounter the Tar Heel track team defeated the Washington and Lee cinder men 77 1-3 to 48 2-3 Saturday afternoon. The meet was witnessed by the largest crowd ever attending a dual meet at the University.

The entire Carolina track team showed splendid form in the initial contest of the outdoor season, and Coach Bob Fetzer's cinder path artists registered a well earned victory over the strong Washington and Lee aggregation.

The meet was undoubtedly the best that track enthusiasts have ever witnessed on Emerson field. The weather was ideal and the General forced the Tar Heels to maintain a fast pace to gain victory.

The onslaught on conference and state records demonstrate to some extent the closeness of the competition and the calibre of the individual performers. The low hurdle race shows this better than any other event. It was only through sheer nerve that Holt Moore was able to win by a few inches in a thrilling finish from Davis, the superb hurdler of Washington and Lee.

Moore won both hurdle races, setting a new southern conference record for each. He lowered the high hurdle record from 15 3-5 seconds to 15 2-5 seconds, and the low hurdle record from 25 2-5 seconds to 24 3-10 seconds. Moore ran two of the prettiest hurdle races ever seen on Emerson field.

Lane Howard, star distance man for the Generals, lowered the Southern conference record for the two mile run from 9 min. 58 sec. to 9 min. 55 3-10 sec. He ran a great race, finishing strong.

"Andy" Bell showed his wares as a miler when he stepped the mile in 4 min. 27 sec., establishing a new state record and tying the southern record. He took the lead from the beginning and set a dazzling pace all the way. The crowd cheered wildly as he crossed the line. Bell was closely followed by Captain Dale Ranson, who finished in 4 min. 30 sec.

"Cholly" Jonas, Tar Heel half miler, lowered the state record from 2 min. 2 4-5 sec to 2 min. 2 3-10 seconds. He took the lead on the first straightaway of the last lap and held it in spite of a great sprint by Gordon, of Washington and Lee.

Jeff Fordham turned in the highest score of the meet with 15 points. He took first place in the shot put, discus, and javelin.

Milbank was high scorer for the Generals with 10 points. He was the fastest man of the afternoon, taking first place in the 100 yard dash and the 220. The wonderful exhibition of endurance and condition by Howard in the two mile run and a fine sprint by Ganaway in the same race which brought him in third, were the outstanding features for Washington and Lee.

McPherson did excellent work for the Tar Heels in the dashes and high hurdles. Edwards, who has only recently taken up track work, furnished a pleasant surprise by taking first place in the 440. Ambrose reached a very creditable height in the high jump, and Woodard took first place in the broad jump. Goodwin showed the stands and other track men how to finish on his nerve and grit in the two mile. Buchanan, who was not officially entered in the mile, followed his teammates, Bell and Ranson, to the tape, negotiating the distance in 4 min. 37 sec.

Out of the fourteen events participated in Carolina took nine first places and tied for another, leaving just four first places and a tie for the Generals.

HAMPDEN SYDNEY TEAM DEFEATED HERE SCORE 14-5

First Game of Season Won by Carolina With Overwhelming Score to Her Credit.

THREE FOUR BASE HITS

Poyner, Ferebee and Coltrane Hurl for Tar Heels—Weather Not Cut Out for Baseball.

Coach Bill Fetzer's Carolina Tar Heels opened their season Monday afternoon with a 14 to 5 victory over the Hampden-Sidney ball-tossers. Out-hitting, out-fielding and out-playing the Virginians, the Tar Heels had little difficulty in winning the game, which was played in weather more suitable for football than for baseball.

The cold wind blowing across the field did not bother the Carolina hitters, for they unlimbered their bats and poked out three home-runs, a triple, two doubles and eight singles off Hundley's delivery.

Stanton, Sides, Gibson, Coletrane and Thomas, with two safeties apiece, led the Tar Heel attack, while Bill Ferebee chipped in a clean homer in the fifth, scoring Sides, who had tripled, ahead of him. Liesfeld's triple was the feature bingle for the visitors. Harris and Brinser pulled the only double-killing of the afternoon when they got Coltrane at second and Bonner at first in the eighth.

Coach Bill sent thirteen players into the fray showing that he has no fear of that "hoodoo" number. Poyner worked a nice game for the first three frames, holding Hampden-Sidney to 1 hit and striking out 4 men. Bill Ferebee put the climax on his two innings work with his circuit blow that put the game on ice and gave him the credit for the victory. Coletrane in the last four innings showed some great stuff and looks good for several wins this season.

Carolina opened the scoring in the first inning. Bonner walked, went to second on Hatley's sacrifice hit and scored on Coffee's single. Coffee scored when Hundley walked Johnson with the bases loaded. Hampden-Sidney evened the count in the second and went into the lead 3 to 2 in the first of the fourth, but Carolina sewed the game up with 3 tallies in her half of the fourth. The visitors were not in striking distance after that.

In spite of the loss of Morris, McDonald and Bryson, four year veterans of last year's team, the Tar Heels look good for a successful season. Stanton, Sides and Hatley of the 1924 freshmen look like real finds. According to their showing this afternoon and the early season records of the other Big Five teams, the Tar Heels should have a good chance to bring the State Championship rag back to the "Hill" this year.

GOBBLERS TROT HERE TOMORROW

V. P. I. and Carolina in Dual Match.

TECHMEN ARE STRONG

Saturday's Win Shows Strong U. N. C. Team.

With the taste of victory over the Washington and Lee track team still fresh, the Tar Heel cinder men are bending their efforts toward registering a victory over V. P. I. in a dual meet here tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. The Gobbler track meet will arrive in Chapel Hill tonight.

The Techmen will furnish stiff competition for Captain Ranson's men as they defeated Davidson, March 28, by an overwhelming score.

In the dashes and field events V. P. I. will offer keen competition. Her distance men are all members of the S. I. C. championship cross-country team of last fall. Captain Culbreth has been doing around 22 feet in the broad jump. This is an indication of the quality of performing that is to be looked for in all the events.

With two weeks since the meet with Davidson in which to prepare for Carolina, the Techmen are sure to be in first class condition, and the Tar Heels will have to put forth all their energy to keep the slate clean.
