

FINAL DEBATE TO DECIDE WINNER OF COVETED AYCOCK CUP TO BE IN MEMORIAL HALL AT EIGHT TONIGHT

Thirteenth Annual Debating
Contest Closes Tonight
With Final Debate.

LARGE NUMBER ENTERED
Sixty-Seven Schools Entered in Elimination Contests Here
Last Night.

WALKER TO PRESENT THE CUP
Professor M. C. S. Noble Will Again
Award Track and Tennis
Trophies.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall will be held the final debate to decide the winner of the 13th annual state-wide debating contest and the Aycock memorial cup. The subject that is being used in the contest this year is: Resolved—That North Carolina should ratify the port terminals and water transportation act.

Sixty-seven high schools entered two teams each in the contests held last night when 14 affirmative and 14 negative teams were chosen to compete today for the finalists' places tonight.

The competition leading up to the final debate tonight begins this morning at 9 o'clock in the two literary society halls when the affirmative teams will speak in the Di hall in New West building and the negatives in the Phi hall in New East building. These preliminaries will be held behind closed doors.

Tonight at 8 will be the final debate for the Aycock cup. Dr. James Finch Royster, dean of the arts college and newly selected head of the English department, will preside, and E. R. Rankin, secretary of the extension division of the University, will act as secretary. Dr. N. W. Walker, chairman of the University committee on extension, will present the Aycock cup to the winning school and the medals to the four finalists. The judges for tonight's debate are H. H. Williams, professor of philosophy; H. M. Wagstaff, professor of history; L. R. Wilson, University librarian; W. S. Bernard, professor of Greek, and M. L. Ferson, dean of the University law school.

Last year the cup was won by the Wilson high school, represented by Miss Catherine Ware and Fred Carr, both of whom are in the contests this year. The Durham high school was runner-up last year and it is interesting to note that Miss Lucille Mulholland, who was a member of the team that debated Wilson last year, is again representing Durham. Two years ago the Elizabeth City high school won the cup, while Durham won it the two previous years. Durham is the only school to win the cup permanently, having won the coveted trophy two years in succession.

ANNUAL TRACK MEET IS TODAY

Twenty High Schools Entered Track Events.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN
Field Events Come in Morning and Track in Afternoon.

Twenty high schools have entered teams in the 13th annual interscholastic track meet conducted by the University extension division. Field events and heats for the track events will be held this morning on Emerson field at 10 o'clock. Track event finals will be held this afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock.

Much interest has been shown in track and field events in the high schools of the state this year and the meet this morning and this afternoon gives promise of being one of the best ever conducted by the extension department. Last year the Charlotte high school walked off with premier honors in the track competitions. This year the boys from the Queen City are again entered and from all indications it looks as though they will make it hot for all comers. However, other schools have been showing up well this season and attempts will be made to break some of the existing state high school records this morning and afternoon.

Teams that have entered the contests for honors include Burlington, Chapel Hill, Charlotte, Greensboro, Edenton, High Point, Kernersville, Lexington, Liberty, Marshallville, Oxford, Salisbury, Sanford, Statesville, Rich Square, Roanoke Rapids, Waynesville, Wilmington, Wilson and Winston.

Tonight in Memorial hall immediately after the final debate for the Aycock cup Professor M. C. S. Noble will present the winners with trophies and awards.

TEAMS OF 14 SCHOOLS IN TENNIS MATCHES

Fourteen high schools entered tennis teams in the annual tennis tournament conducted by the extension division of the University. Elimination sets began yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and will continue on through today. Tonight in Memorial hall after the final debate for the Aycock cup, Prof. M. C. S. Noble will present the winners of both doubles and singles with silver loving cups. The schools that were entered in the tournament are as follows: Burlington, Canton, Chapel Hill, Creedmoor, Greensboro, Kernersville, Lexington, Rocky Mount, Rose Hill, Salisbury, Sanford, Shelby, Waynesville and Wilson.

TEN INNINGS ARE NEEDED TO DOWN GUILFORD'S TEAM

Tar Heels and Quakers Play
Great Game Here
Wednesday.

CAROLINA WINS IN TENTH
Sharpe's Single Pushes Stanton Across
With the Winning Run.

With both teams playing remarkably good baseball for an early season game, Guilford and Carolina battled for 10 innings on Emerson field Monday, a double by Stanton followed by Sharpe's single in the 10th frame breaking a 4-all tie and giving the Tar Heels the game by a one-run margin.

The Quakers' premier pitcher, Shad Smith, did the hurling for the visitors and was touched for 10 hits, several of them for extra bases. He kept them pretty well scattered, however, and errors by his teammates played a part in the scoring. Poyner started on the mound for Carolina but was wild, and Coach Fetzer sent in Coltrane at the end of the third inning. Guilford made three hits and two runs off Poyner. Coltrane was touched for seven hits in his seven innings but the Quakers were able to shove only two runs across on him.

The visitors started the scoring in the first inning when Smithdeal singled, went to second on a sacrifice, stole third and was sacrificed home. Carolina did not score in the initial frame but "Hoot" Gibson connected with one of Smith's slants in the second inning and sent it to the fence for a home run, tying the score.

Guilford got another run in the third and increased her lead to three in the fourth inning when Smith, Lindley, and Smithdeal all hit. With a three run lead staring them in the face the Tar Heels proceeded to tie the score. Gibson singled and Sharpe was hit by Smith. Coltrane's hit to the infield was errored and Boner came to bat with the bases loaded. The "Rabbit" picked out a good one and sent it just inside the third base line for a two base bingle that sent three men across the home plate.

Coltrane and Smith settled down to work and for the next five innings while both made threats neither team scored. In the 10th inning after two men were out Stanton doubled and romped home with the winning run when Sharpe singled through short.

Both teams played good early season ball although several errors were chalked up to each. Sharpe, catching his first game for Carolina, worked nicely and is credited with three assists as a result of the sureness of his peg to second. Gibson hit hard and pulled a spectacular catch in right field. Johnnie Johnson made several hard stops at short and contributed a hit to the Tar Heel total as well. Smithdeal was probably the most outstanding player for the visitors, leading the batting and capturing everything that came to center field with ease.

THE TWO-IN-ONE ISSUE MAGAZINE BLOSSOMS FORTH

Reviewer Takes Crack At Anti-Koch Article

OTHERWISE SANE ISSUE

Several Articles in Current Issue Are Worth While to Readers.

By THE CROSSROADS
Editor James Edward Hawkins has blossomed forth in a consolidated number of the Carolina Magazine with a graceful and highly sensible explanation of the chronic lateness of his publication. He contends, and rightly we believe, that the Magazine has followed a policy of waiting until enough respectable material has been secured to warrant an issue, rather than coming out on time containing anything and everything that has happened to turn up, irrespective of its quality. Our apologies to Mr. Hawkins for many naughty words which in our ignorance we have previously uttered.

Hawkins next proceeds to substantiate himself in offering an all-star issue of the Magazine. The content is excellent. The fact that we have no sympathy with some of the opinions advanced by several articles does not blind us to the fact that they are perhaps sincere on the parts of the respective authors, and are intelligently stated. The one exception is Frederick H. Koch by Charles David North. The study has some sane observations; but it makes no pretense at unity, and leaves a jumbled impression of nothingness; it is inconsistent, illogical and indefinite. The author has hinted at some dozen different themes, each of which could be expanded into a lengthy essay; yet all that he has said could be stated in a sentence of twenty words. As a purely personal expression, we would like to say that it seems foolish to sling mud at Professor Koch, when there are so many other persons who really deserve aqua-terranean decoration.

"Hell's Vestibule", too, has fallen in our estimation. This column is usually delightful; but the selections this time really have no place among the damned. With the exception of a few lines the whole page is pretty good. They are

MAKING CHANGES ON THE CAMPUS

Are Now At Work In Quadrangle.

TO IMPROVE OLD WELL
South Building to Be Remodeled
During Summer.

During the past week work improving the campus in the neighborhood of the Quadrangle has gone forward steadily. Brick gutters have been laid for the walks and several new walks made. A feature of the new arrangement is a closed drive between the buildings. This drive can be entered only behind Dormitory D, which will eliminate unnecessary driving through the Quadrangle. The walks will be completed during the Easter holidays. Grass will be planted between the walks and trees and shrubbery in the grass plots and around the buildings. This will complete the present plans for improving that part of the campus.

The next improvements which are planned are for the space around the Well. Walks similar to those in the Quadrangle will be laid between Old West and Old East. Two will run diagonally and one straight across between these buildings. The diagonal walks will divide the space into four parts. The one containing the Well together with a half circle at the intersection of the walks will be paved with flagstones. In the other three spaces, along the walks and around the buildings grass and shrubbery will be planted. These improvements will be very elaborate. It is estimated that at least seven thousand dollars will be spent on this work which will be started as soon as materials are available. It is hoped that this may be completed by commencement but delays in getting the material will probably make this impossible. When Cameron Avenue is paved and South Building is remodeled to be used as the administration building this will be in every sense the center of the campus.

The new budget allots $150,000 for remodeling South. The work will be started in July and will probably be completed about Christmas. Work will then be started on Alumni which will be remodeled and used as a class room building.

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB RETURNS FROM ITS TRIP TO KANSAS CITY

Appeared Before Conference of National Music Supervisors and Received Unstinted Praise—Received Flattering Offers to Sing in Large Cities Ranging from
New York to San Francisco.

As a grand finale to their trip to Kansas City, the University Glee Club will sing in chapel this morning before the student body and the visiting high school representatives.

The University Glee Club returned to Chapel Hill Tuesday night from what is probably the longest trip ever attempted by any Carolina organization. The club, composed of 40 voices and Director P. J. Weaver, appeared before the National Music Supervisors' Conference at their annual meeting in Kansas City April 2 and received the unstinted praise and acknowledgment of merit from that body.

The club sang before 10,000 people and were given many favorable and flattering comments by the best musicians in the States. To give an indication of the way in which the club carried the large conference of music lovers off its feet, it received offers from 35 cities ranging all the way from New York City to San Francisco to appear in concert in those cities. It was urged to enter the national intercollegiate choral club contest in New York next year with expressed opinions that it was the best college choral organization the supervisors have ever heard.

The appearance before the music conference in Kansas City was last Thursday. Friday night a free concert was given in the union station at St. Louis. Saturday night it appeared in concert at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. Three concerts were given in Asheville Sunday and Monday. One concert was given at Oteen, one at Grove Park Inn and another at the City Auditorium.

The trip to Kansas City was made possible largely by contributions received from Mr. Caesar Cone, of Greensboro; Mr. James A. Gray, of Winston-Salem; Mr. and Mrs. John Sprunt Hill, of Durham; Mrs. George Stephens, of Asheville, and Mr. Leslie Weil, of Goldsboro. The trip was not only the largest and longest ever attempted by any University organization, but it was also the biggest ever attempted by any college glee club of the South. It was made possible by the contributions of these six citizens of the state. The cost of the trip is said to have been about $5,000.

In their appearance before the music conference in Kansas City they received such enthusiastic applause that it was with difficulty that they could start their new numbers. Several times the whole conference stood up to applaud their work. At the end of the concert so many people flocked to the rostrum to congratulate them that it took the men more than an hour to get away from the hall.

T. P. Giddings, who is known as one of the most severe critics of choral music, said to the club: "After hearing every college organization in the United States, I feel that your club is doing the finest work in the country. There are only two choruses in the United States that have produced perfect tone effect—one is the St. Olaf choir (a group of American of Norwegian descent that tours the country annually) and the other is your glee club." This high tribute is typical of many which came to the ears of Mr. Weaver. Their singing was constantly compared with the Harvard glee club, and the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune says that "The Harvard glee club no longer stands alone. . . If the Harvard glee club has found a rival in the North Carolina organization, Dr. Davidson has found one in Mr. Weaver, who, after all, is mainly responsible for the artistic merit of the choir. He has developed the club into a sensitive and marvelously flexible instrument capable of singing any music as it should be sung. The men know how to sing, and above all, understand what they sing."

Dr. C. A. Fullerton, head of the music department of the Iowa State Teachers college, spoke of the concert in Kansas City in high terms of praise. He said: "That's the most significant single contribution to American music in the last 15 years. I know about music conditions in the South and therefore I know what it is to accomplish such remarkable results with untrained material in such a short time."

The critic of one of the Asheville papers, Mr. Sam Fisher, writes: "There are so many good things to say that it is hard to find a starting point. The standard set by these young men and their director is such that not only the old graduates of the University, but all

TAR HEELS ARE TO STACK BATS AGAINST THE MIDSHIPMEN FROM ANNAPOLIS HERE THIS AFTERNOON

FOOTLIGHTS NUMBER
BUCCANEER ON SALE

The Footlights Number of the Carolina Buccaneer went on sale last night. This issue is one of the best that the campus has yet seen containing numerous jokes, skits and spiced with sixteen snappy cuts. The cover is attractively done in red, black and yellow, and lends an air of the stage to the issue. The contents are unusually clever. It is expected that a heavy sale will follow the announcement of the issue.

MEN CHOSEN FOR SPRING DEBATES

King, Young, Justus and Livingston Chosen.

FOR TRIANGLE DEBATE

With Johns Hopkins and Washington and Lee Universities.

Debaters to represent Carolina in the annual Johns Hopkins-Washington and Lee debate were selected in an open preliminary held Wednesday night in the Phi hall. The query is: Resolved—That the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution authorizing the regulation of child labor should be adopted. Carolina's affirmative, which will meet Washington and Lee's negative in Chapel Hill, is to be upheld by A. K. King, of Hendersonville, and Malcolm M. Young, of Durham. The alternate for the affirmative is Ben Eaton.

The Tar Heel negative, meeting Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, George Washington in Washington, D. C., and possibly the University of Maryland in College Park, is to be represented by Theodore B. Livingston, of Asheville, and Ernest L. Justus, of Flat Rock. This is the second time Livingston and Justus have debated together this year. The negative alternate is A. L. Groce, of Candler.

Men trying out were: Affirmative, M. M. Young, Ben Eaton, A. K. King and M. H. Light. Negative, Sidney G. Chappell, Ernest L. Justus, Theodore B. Livingston, A. L. Groce, and Ludlow T. Rogers. Judges were Prof. B. B. Lane, Claude F. Curry, and Professor Bynum, of the department of geology.

In the triangle last year Carolina defeated Johns Hopkins but lost to Washington and Lee. Justus was a member of the team last year which defeated Johns Hopkins, while Young was a member of the team which lost to Washington and Lee. George Washington University was also defeated by the Tar Heels last year. Washington and Lee has defeated Carolina for three straight years, and with the "Jinx" broken against West Virginia, a team defeated recently for the first time in three years, Tar Heel debate artists are hoping for a similar change of luck against the Generals.

CAROLINA FRESH WIN IN DEBATES

Freshmen Win Both Ends of Triangular Contest.

DEBATE PORT TERMINALS

Carolina Has Won Both Sides Two
Out of Three Years.

Carolina's freshmen debaters won both ends of the Davidson-Wake Forest-Carolina freshman triangle Tuesday night. The affirmative team won a 2 to 1 decision from Davidson in Chapel Hill, while the negative team captured a 2 to 1 decision from Wake Forest in Wake Forest.

The debate in Chapel Hill was closely contested. The Tar Heels were upheld by M. H. Mogulescu, of Camden, S. C.; Isadore Black, of Asheville, and Benjamin Eaton, of Winston-Salem. The query was: Resolved—That North Carolina should ratify the Port Terminals and Water Transportation Act. Davidson's speakers were J. P. McKnight, H. F. Peterson, Jr., and H. T. Powell, Jr. Malcolm M. Young acted as presiding officer, with Robert L. Cook as secretary. Judges were Prof. Quinton Holton, debate coach of Durham high school; Prof. B. L. de Bruyne, head of the department of mathematics of Durham high school, and J. R. Barry, editor of the Durham Evening Sun.

The Tar Heel negative, which won a victory at Wake Forest, was upheld by P. N. Crew, Jr., H. P. Brandis, and A. A. Kartus. All three freshmen put up an effective argument and gave much promise of future varsity debating material.

Navy Furnishes the Attraction
Today at 4 O'clock.

THEN TEAM TAKES ROAD

To Meet Maryland University
in Greensboro Tomorrow Afternoon.

WILL PLAY DAVIDSON MONDAY

Salisbury Will Be Scene of Easter
Monday Scrap Between Tar Heels and Davidson Wildcats.

The Guilford game a matter of history, the Tar Heel nine will again be thrown into action. This afternoon the Fetzerites will go up against the strong Navy aggregation on Emerson field.

The game will be called at 4 o'clock, and from then on it will be a matter of nip and tuck between the slugging Tar Heels and the Annapolis Midshipmen. After scrapping it out with the Navy this afternoon the Tar Heels take to the road and for two weeks travel Virginia and Maryland, meeting their old rivals of the diamond.

The first game of the Easter week trip is on Saturday in Greensboro with the University of Maryland as the opponent. The Old Liners beat the Tar Heels in football, were defeated in basketball, so baseball comes as a rubber sport to decide the athletic rivalry.

Easter Monday Coach Fetzer takes his blue and white nine to Salisbury and engages the Wildcats of Davidson college. This game was originally scheduled for Gastonia but moved to Salisbury because of the better park facilities. The Wildcats have been having a bad season so far, but Davidson luck and fight against Carolina is proverbial.

Leaving Salisbury the Tar Heels enter Virginia and take on V. P. L. Wednesday in Blacksburg. From Blacksburg they hop to Lexington and on the next day meet the Washington and Lee nine. The Generals hold the honor of being one of the two southern teams to defeat the Tar Heel basketball team of 1925 and it will take a sound drubbing by Captain Bonner's men to even up the score.

The first game of the three game series with the Cavaliers of Virginia University comes on the following day at Charlottesville. During the past four years only one game out of 12 played has been lost to the big V nine and the Tar Heels have a record to shoot at while the Cavaliers are doubly anxious to win.

Traveling Virginia behind, the Fetzerites leave on to College Park, Maryland, and halt for two days and the finals of the three game series with the Old Liners.

The trip closes with Georgetown university at Washington and the Tar Heels come back to the Hill in time for a day's rest before taking on the Bears of Lehigh-Rhyme on the 24th of April.

CAROLINA WINS FROM VIRGINIA TECH TRACKMEN

Bell and Jonas Lower Their Own Southern Records.

BELL'S RUN IS A FEATURE

Other Records Are Smashed in Carolina-V. P. L. Meet Yesterday.

Andy Bell, sophomore trackman, raced four times around the cinder path on Emerson field yesterday with his usual clock-like precision and set a new southern record, lowering his old mark of 4 minutes and 27 seconds to 4 minutes and 25.6 seconds. At the same time C. R. Jonas clipped 1.8 seconds off the state record for the 880 yards and Ambrose moved the school record for the high jump to a higher peg. Culbreth, of V. P. L., established a new South Atlantic mark in the broad jump, the Techman leaping a distance of 23 feet and 3 inches. All this record breaking took place yesterday afternoon when Carolina met the V. P. L. track team and registered its second overwhelming victory over strong opponents. The final score was 93% to 32%.

The meet was the second dual affair held on Emerson field inside of a week, Washington and Lee having been downed last Saturday by a score of 77 1-3 to 48 2-3. The weather for the meet was again ideal and it was watched by a large number of students and high school visitors.

Jeff Fordham was again high scorer, leading the field with 13 points to his credit. Culbreth followed close with 11 points. Forkham took first place in the discus and shot-put, but "Red" Barber pushed the University track star into second place in throwing the javelin.
