

PRELIM KENTUCKY DEBATES MAY 8TH

Two Man Team Will Debate Both Sides of Question.

MEET THREE COLLEGES

Council Sets Date for Coming Oratorical Events.

Several dates for preliminary forensic and debating contests were decided by the debate council at a meeting held Saturday night, following the Tulane debate.

The preliminary for the North Carolina State College Oxford Union debate was scheduled for Friday night, May 1. One preliminary has already been held, but this was thrown out by the judges in conformity with the ruling whereby under-standard preliminaries may be thrown out and a second preliminary ordered to be held. Inasmuch as a stenographic report of the State debate is to be made for the University Debaters' Annual, local officials are anxious that a good showing be made. The query has been changed somewhat from that originally announced. The Cummins-Vaile bill having been defeated in Congress, will not be debated. The query is: "Resolved—That all laws in the United States restricting the dissemination of birth control information should be repealed." There are two limitations: first, that state and federal constitutionality is conceded; second, that the argument of states' rights is void. Carolina will be represented by one man on each side.

The date for the preliminary for the Kentucky state tour has been set for Friday night, May 8. Carolina on this tour will debate both sides of the query: "Resolved—That Congress, by a two-thirds vote, should be empowered to override Supreme Court decisions declaring Congressional acts unconstitutional." Two men will be sent from Carolina to debate against Berea college, Centre college, and the University of Kentucky. The affirmative will be upheld at Centre and Berea and the negative at Kentucky. The tour has not been definitely scheduled, but probably will be before long.

Carolina earlier in the year defeated Kentucky unanimously, the Tar Heels upholding the affirmative side of this question in Chapel Hill.

The Peace oratorical preliminary has been set for Tuesday night, May 12. The final peace contest takes place in Raleigh May 25 or 26. Carolina will send one representative, who is to be selected in this preliminary. It is recommended that speeches be no longer than 15 minutes, while 12 minutes is declared to be an ideal time limit. M. A. James, the University representative last year, took second place in this contest.

It is announced that the Southern Oratorical contest will take place at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., on Saturday night, May 16. The Debate council announces a preliminary to select Carolina's representative next Monday night, May 4. Speeches should not be over 15 minutes, while 12 minutes is recommended.

The final date for the Junior oratorical contest was fixed by the council for May 21 or 22. The preliminary contests are

McNAIR LECTURES GIVEN BY POTEAT

Annual Series of Lectures Will Begin Friday and Last Through Sunday.

Dr. William Louis Poteat, president of Wake Forest college, will deliver the annual series of McNair lectures, beginning Friday night. The subject of the McNair lectures this year as chosen by Dr. Poteat is, "Can a Man be a Christian Today?"

The McNair lectures were established by the will of John Calvin McNair of the class of 1849. The lecture fund became available in 1906 and the interest from this fund made it possible to begin the lectures in 1908. Under the will the objects of the lectures "shall be to show the mutual bearing of science and religion upon each other, and to prove the existence of attributes (as far as may be) of God from nature."

The first lectures were delivered by Professor Francis H. Smith, LL.D., of the University of Virginia. Since this time lectures have been delivered by the presidents of Princeton Theological seminary, New Jersey; Leland Sanford, Jr., university, California; Yale university; University of Minnesota; also professors from Princeton university, Harvard university, Columbia university, Union Theological seminary, University of Chicago, and Yale university. Last year the McNair lectures were delivered by Dean Roscoe Pound, Ph.D., LL.D., of the law school of Harvard university. The general topic of his addresses was Law and Morals.

TWENTY-FIVE ARE ON 10TH CRUSADE

Playmakers Making Tour of Western Carolina.

ARE TRAVELLING BY BUS

Will Present Cox's "Scuffletown Outlaws."

With the largest company of players ever assembled under their direction, the Carolina Playmakers left last Friday in a thirty passenger Safety Coach bus for their tenth state tour. The following towns will be visited on the trip: Sanford, April 24th; Winston-Salem, April 25th; Charlotte, April 27th; Gastonia, April 28th; Lincolnton, April 29th; Shelby, April 30th; Marion, May 1st; Waynesville, May 2nd; Asheville, May 4th; Morganton, May 5th; and Greensboro, May 6th.

Three one-act plays will be presented on the tour:

Old Innes, a comedy of mountain folk characters; The Scuffletown Outlaws, a tragedy of the famous Lowrie gang of Robeson county; and The Thrice Promised Bride, a romantic Chinese Folk Play by Cheng-Chin Hsiung. Large casts are required for each of the three plays and elaborate stage effects for the Chinese play make necessary a number of assistants in the Technical Department.

The players will be accompanied by Professors Koch and Denny and Mrs. Louise Graves, chaperone. The following students will make the trip: Mr. Charles W. Gold of Greensboro, Winslow McIver of Sanford, Reid Hoffner, of Maiden Ray Heffner of Maiden, L. H. Wallace of Smithfield, Graham Dosier of Atlanta, Ga., Brook Todd of Charlotte, John Cotton of Asheville, C. Mintz of Wilmington, C. V. Kiser of Goldsboro, Kike Kyser of Rocky Mount, Bill Cox of Rowland, H. G. Strickland of Nashville, F. H. Koch of Chapel Hill, G. V. Denny of Chapel Hill, H. Patton of Asheville, B. C. Wilson of Glensville, Miss Katherine Batts of Tarboro, Miss Louise Sawyer of Chapel Hill, Miss Elizabeth Henderson of Chapel Hill, Mrs. Louis Graves of Chapel Hill, Mr. J. C. King, Jr., of Wilmington, Frank Goff of Lumberton, Mr. H. Schwartz of High Point, and L. V. Huggins of Hendersonville.

There were many more requests for the Playmakers in North Carolina this year than they could possibly fill. It is customary for the organization to take three tours within the state, but this year they made their first Southern tour in response to several previous invitations, playing in Charleston and Columbia, South Carolina, Atlanta, Macon and Savannah, Georgia and other important Southern points. Their program included three popular Carolina Folk-Plays, When Witches Ride, by Elizabeth Lay; Pie in the Sky, by Paul and Erma Green, and Gaius and Gaius, Jr., by Lucy M. Cobb. Everywhere the North Carolinians were warmly welcomed and in Atlanta, Ga., where they gave two performances under the auspices of the Atlanta Drama League, an organization called "The Georgia Playmakers," was founded, avowedly taking as its model, the Carolina Playmakers.

Dr. Bullitt Will Examine Applicants

General Albert L. Cox, civilian aide to the Secretary of War for the citizens military training camps, announces to the young men of Orange county that Dr. J. B. Bullitt of Chapel Hill has very generously volunteered to conduct physical examinations and vaccinations free of charge for those men applying for entrance to the citizens military training camps. There are 900 places at Fort Bragg this next July for the young men of North and South Carolina and the upper part of Georgia. Many University students are applying and some men from the county. Dr. Bullitt's offer will be of great assistance to these men. Those who are interested in applying should get in touch at once with Dean Bradshaw at 114 Alumni, Phone 151-de.

METHODISTS WILL LAY CORNERSTONE

Ceremony Takes Place at 2:30 O'clock Today.

DUKE PRESIDENT HERE

Will Place University Directory in the Cornerstone.

The cornerstone of the new Methodist church now being built on Franklin street will be laid this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Jeff Fordham, recently elected president of the student body, will represent the University students.

Many distinguished men will attend the ceremony and will make brief addresses. Crawford Biggs represents the laymen of the church. Others among the guests of honor are Rev. M. T. Plyler, representing the joint commission which has charge of the building plan; James Gamble Rogers, the architect; President W. P. Few, of Duke university; Rev. Euclid McWhorter, of the board of church extension; and Rev. E. K. McLarty of the board of missions. President Chase will represent the university, J. B. Fordham the student body, and L. R. Wilson the Methodist church of Chapel Hill.

Rev. Walter Patten, who has been active for many days preparing for the event, has not put himself on the program of all; but he will be the busiest man of them all, what with making the visitors welcome and seeing that the program runs off smoothly.

Rev. M. Bradshaw will deliver a prayer and set the cornerstone, Rev. J. H. Barnhardt will read from the Scriptures, and Rev. R. M. Courtney will pronounce the benediction. E. W. Knight will place inside the stone a Bible, a hymnal, copies of Chapel Hill and University publications, a copy of the North Carolina Advocate, a history of Methodism in Chapel Hill, a directory of the University faculty and students, a roll of the church members, and other documents.

REPORTER TRIES HAND ON FLEECE

Finds Task is Hopeless, as is Usual.

FORDHAM SEEMS SURE

Underwood, Jonas and Watt Picked as Strong Favorites.

By LUCY F. LAY

After three months of research work and constant use of psychology in observing the actions of various members of the Golden Fleece, the Tar Heel reporter has finally approached the task assigned two months ago; namely, to pick a prospective line-up for the Golden Fleece tapping on next Monday night. The names written below are printed in fear and trembling; with due realization of the fact that the real Fleece is picked by half a dozen men who put their heads together and necessarily make concessions to each other's opinions and naturally the pick made by one person can hardly hope to be correct.

Therefore the Tar Heel reporter has chosen five men that the Fleece cannot afford to overlook, and which should certainly be chosen for the honor on Monday evening. There is, no doubt in the reporter's mind that the class of 1926 is full of many men who "rate the Fleece" by character and achievement and Fleece is having the usually difficult time in narrowing down the line-up and choosing one man from several prominent in one activity. So naturally the Tar Heel reporter wishes immediately to accompany the line-up with apologies for any mistakes which may come from the frailty of the human judgment.

No man on the campus deserves the Fleece more than Jefferson Barnes Fordham, president of the student body for next year, Phi Beta Kappa man, varsity man in football and track. There is no doubt as to his election to the honor.

William Emmett Underwood is the runner-up.

FETZER'S TRACK TEAM WINS OVER STATE IN MEET

Defeat Techmen by Score 79 1/2 to 46 1/2—Freshman Team Defeats Cublets by Same Score

MOORE BREAKS RECORD

New Mark in Pole Vault—Edwards Defeats Byrum in 440—State's Captain High Scorer.

The Tar Heel track team registered its fifth consecutive victory for the season last Saturday when the strong N. C. State team was defeated by the score of 79 1/2 to 46 1/2. The Tar Babies defeated the young Wolf Pack by the same score.

Moore ran his two greatest hurdle races of the year when he stepped the high hurdles in 15 2-10 seconds and the low hurdles in 24 1-10 seconds. The latter is a new southern record, and his time in the high timbers has been bettered only once by a southern man. This was done at the Georgia Tech relays when Roy, of Tulane, nosed Moore out and finished in 15 seconds flat.

Edwards ran a pretty race in the 440 event. He took an early lead, but lost it on the back stretch to Byrum of State. By a splendid sprint on the straight-away, Edwards was able to regain the lead and he crossed the mark ahead of Byrum. Byrum was the high point man of the meet, winning the 100 yard dash, the 220, and second place in the 440, amassing a total of 13 points.

Bell ran another splendid race when he came within a fraction of a second of his mile record established in the V. P. I. meet. Jonas finished first in the 880, and was followed to the tape by Parker, who showed last season form for the first time.

A new state record was smashed when Pridgen, of State, vaulted 11 ft. 7 in. The Techmen were especially strong in the weight events, taking first places in the discus, shot put and javelin.

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB WILL GIVE SEASON'S FINAL CONCERT TONIGHT

Lately Sprung into National Prominence, Glee Club Will Make Final Appearance Before Student Body—Swinford Again Guest Artist—Professor Weaver and His Club Highly Praised on Western Trip.

The University glee club, now the famous University of North Carolina Glee Club, will give its final concert of the present season in Memorial hall tonight at 8:30. Jerome Swinford, popular New York baritone, who appeared with the glee club in its local performance here earlier in the spring, will make his second appearance here tonight as guest artist. A general admission of 75 cents is being charged with a lower student rate of 50 cents.

The glee club only recently returned from a triumphant tour to Kansas City, where it appeared before the National Music Supervisors' conference and sprung into national prominence.

In its work this year the glee club has entirely broken away from the usual type of college glee club program with which we have all been familiar—the old-fashioned mixture of humorous quartets, stunts, and college comedy, mixed in with a limited amount of real glee club singing. In place of this type of program the glee club now presents concerts made up entirely of choral work of the highest type, usually with the assistance of a prominent guest artist. This type of program was used first by the Harvard glee club, under the direction of Dr. Archibald Davison, in 1919; the success of the movement was immediately assured and since that time the Harvard glee club has sung all over the United States and in many parts of Europe, and has been recognized by music critics as one of the very finest choral organizations in the world.

The institution is proud of the fact that its representatives here succeeded so well as to have been ranked by many critics as the best college glee club in the country.

On November 21, 1924, the glee club sang in Winston-Salem before the meeting of the Southern Conference for Music Education, which was composed of music teachers from the 13 southeastern states. This concert was reviewed in the highest terms by Mr. George W. Cartlan, director of music in New York city, and by Mr. J. W. Fay, director of music in Louisville, Ky.; over 80 personal letters were received by the director of the club, containing the highest sort of praise for the work of the organization. Immediately after this concert an invitation was received for the club to sing before the National Supervisors' conference in Kansas City.

This invitation was accepted and the trip to Kansas City was made possible through the interest and generosity of Mrs. Caesar Cone, of Greensboro; Mr.

BIG STATE MEET HERE THIS WEEK

Friday and Saturday for Annual Affair.

SEVEN COLLEGES ENTER

Local Track Probably Fastest in South Atlantic.

With another victory to their credit, Coach Bob's cinder path artists are bending their efforts toward winning honors in the State Championship meet which is to be held on Emerson field Friday and Saturday of this week. This meet will bring into action the best track performers in the state.

Colleges participating will be Carolina, N. C. State, Duke, Wake Forest, Davidson, Elon and probably Guilford. Each team will be allowed five entries in all events except the sprints. They will be cut to a smaller number because of crowded conditions and the necessity for so many heats.

Advance dope points to a victory by the Tar Heel fliers. There is no corps of distance runners in the South that can equal the locals' array. It would not be surprising, doped on early season time, if Bell, Ranson, Buchanan, Purser, Goodwin, and their mates should win three or more places in each of the long runs. They will be opposed by Mabry of Duke, Bailey of Wake Forest, and Wright of State. The strength of the other opponents is unknown.

"Cholly" Jonas, weather being favorable, should eclipse his own state record of 2 min. 4-10 sec. in the half mile. Parker, Rhinehart, and Henley will not take their opponents' dust unless the other collegians do near record time.

Edwards, Teague, and McPherson will carry the Blue and White in the shorter distances, while Holt Moore may continue his record-breaking with opposition such as he will receive.

State is going in the field events and will give trouble. Davidson has been going well in South Carolina, but their actual ability is unknown. The local track is perhaps the fastest in the South Atlantic states and the track fans of the state can look forward to a real treat.

The Freshman teams of the state will also match their ability in track performing. Preliminaries in all events except the mile and two miles will be held Friday and finals on Saturday.

Sigma Nu Fraternity House Is Completed

Only the connection with the electric current stands in the way of the occupation of the new Sigma Nu fraternity house at the western end of Fraternity court off Columbia street.

Designed in a modified scholastic colonial style with a two-story portico supported on six Doric columns, this building, with its peripetled roof, exhibits the best traditions of old Salem colonial. The main building is of brick laid Flemish Bond and the two flanking wings are of wood.

Inside is a large assembly room 26x30 feet connecting with a library-15x20 feet by double doors. Three sleeping rooms, a study room, and toilet are provided on this floor, all arranged to be used as ante rooms when a dance is in progress.

On the second floor are five bed-rooms for 11 men, two sleeping porches for five men each, with toilet rooms, lavatories, locker rooms and the usual conveniences. The third floor is unfinished at present, but 18 men can find quarters there in case of necessity, or a chapter and ante-rooms can be arranged.

The building was designed by Arthur C. Nash, of Atwood & Nash, Inc., and B. S. Thompson was the general contractor.

The Bureau of Lectures of the Extension Division is sending Rev. Eugene Olive to Seaboard on April 28, and E. T. Thompson to Bennett on April 29 to make commencement addresses.
