GOBBLERS POUND BALL HARD AND ANNEX GAME 5-4

Collect Ten Hits to Carolina's Six-Connected With Ball When Hits Meant Runs.

SECURED AN EARLY LEAD

V. P. I. Pitchers Issue Twelve Passes to First-University Leaves Twelve Men on Bases.

Twelve men left roosting on the cushions and only six hits tells the story of the V. P. I. game Monday afternoon on Emerson field. Inability to hit behind the base runners kept the Tar Heels from scoring several times in the pinches, and the Gobblers romped off with the big end of a 5 to 4 score. The skies threatened rain during the entire contest, and the dark day was a handicap to players of both sides. This defeat was the first DEFEAT OLD BUCK suffered by the Tar Heels at the hands of any Virginia team this season.

The visitors did not play any "after you" stuff, for they jumped right in the man up, opened with a single to right field. Adams followed with another one baser, and both runners crossed the plate when Captain Thomas drove a hot one to the outfield. Carolina could not score till the fourth, though they had a good opening in the second. It was then that their weak spot for the game came to light. Bill Sharpe, first man up in the inning, hit safely, Johnson singled after him and Stanton's sacrifice sent the run-Deacons gave the Fetzerites their seconly one away the Tar Heels failed to the dope gave the Methodists an even score, for Ferebee popped out and Bon-chance to win the second chapter of the ner retired the side with a long drive to the left fielder

In the fourth Sharpe walked, Johnson singled for his second hit of the game, and Stanton sent both men in with a single. Stanton went to second on the throw to the plate after Johnson, took third on Ferebee's infield out, and scored on Bonner's hit over the infield. These runs gave Carolina the lead, and prospects brightened for the Tar Heels; but the Virginians turned the tables in the next frame. Bond and Wood singled in succession, but Dear hit to center field and was out. Bond scored from third

At the same time he issued a state ment to the press in which he said the "the crucial factros in my decision has been the great promise of the Unive sity of North Carolina as the center of scholarship and research throughout th South and the urgent and spontaneous expression of desire on the part of ou people that I remain in North Care

Discussing the matter informally, D Henderson said that his deep-rooted at fection for North Carolina coupled wit hundreds of expressions from Tar Heel urging him to stay are the factors in hi sion that more than offset the offer of the leadership of an institution offering a bigger salary and with a student Duke body twice the size of that here,

BONNER LOSES THE BALL

Carolina Touched Dempster for Eleven Hits.

The Tar Heels evened the count with Duke when they hammered Dempster for a 7 and 6 win in Durham on Saturday afternoon. After the Wake Forest ond defeat of the week on Thursday, three game series with the Hillians; but Bill Poyner, aided by the Tar Heel war clubs, decided otherwise. Four thousand fans of Dukedom and Tarheelia filled the stands and side lines of Hanes field to see the contest. The Fetzerites slashed out 11 hits for 17 bases, while Duke could only get to Poyner for 7 safeties.

Both teams played errorless ball for the first three frames, but the Tar Heels tallied twice in the fourth on wild throws by Dempster and Saunders. "Rabbit" Bonner broke into the run column in the next canto with a clean circuit swat that cleared the left field wall. They scored once in the seventh, and in the eighth Hatley tripled to start the three-run tally that put the game on ice.

Bonner, Hatley and Gibson leaders in the barrage of hits that the University lads laid down, each of them bingling twice. H. Johnson and Smith were Duke's batting stars, and Dempster and Turner pulled the only double killing of the game.

Before a huge audience tense with excitement and interest, the Senior Order of the Golden Fleece, by an impressive and tantalizingly deliberate ceremony, tapped eight Juniors and three Seniors to be initiated within the order. The black-robed figures did their work with dramatic intensity, holding the interest of the crowd through a period of minutes that dragged have dwelt upon the offer a while longer, very creditable height in the pole vault,

William J. Cocke, Jr., of the Fleece, introduced Dr. Horace Williams, as one of the founders of the order who had been "largely responsible for its growth and success," since he had been with the Fleece since its beginning. Dr. Williams spoke of the fact that the Fleece had a bigger and deeper aim than that of any individual. He took occasion to comment with gratitude on Dr. Chase's recent refusal of the presidency of Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. In a few words he introduced Dr. Edwin Mims, who made a splendid address on the subject of "Colleges Under Fire," with especial emphasis on student leadership.

It was after Dr. Mims' address that Bill Cocke explained the purposes of the Fleece, with the various characteristics which the members of the Fleece consider in choosing their men. "The Fleece," he said, "picks men who have shown that they are men of the finest type of character, and who have excelled in any one field, or who have shown versatile ability. The Fleece taps men of unimpeachable character, men who have put all they have into their work and taken full advantage of their opportunities. The Fleece has recognized various fields of activities; and if any field lacks a man of Fleece calibre, the field is passed over. Above all things, the Fleece wishes to emphasize the fact that its task has been fraught with many difficulties and that the results have been arrived at only by conscientious effort and not by any influence of personal likes or Carolina's teams are coming through well in both singles and doubles and have a good chance to win out in the meet. The most dangerous rival of the Tar Heels is found in Davidson college, who has produced a very good team and one which has shown up well in all matches that they have played so far this year.

The Southern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament will begin tomorrow. Among the applications received are those of N. C. State, Davidson, V. P. I., and Tulane. Several teams are expected to arrive soon and many who have not entered their application will bring them when they come to the Hill.

GIVE "THE RIVALS" HERE MAY 29 AND 30

Studio Production Class Will Present Sheridan's Comedy In Forest Theatre.

Sheridan's famous comedy of manners, The Rivals," will be presented in the Forest Theater on May 29 and 30, instead of the Shakesperean play as previously announced.

"The Rivals" has made fast in the minds of play lovers more clear-cut individualities than perhaps any other comedy. The famous Mrs. Malaprop is one of the widest known and enjoyed comedy characters of today, and she is the pattern for many present day roles, Sir Anthony Absolute is another of the deared to many.

For "The Rivals" is a farce comedy that has endured for many years. The campus will be fortunate in seeing it presented here in the beautiful Forest Theater, by the class in play-production, fifth.

CAROLINA TAKES CHAMPIONSHIP OF STATE IN TRACK

State-Wide Meet Goes to State University With Overwhelming Score of 108 1-2 Points.

JONAS BREAKS RECORD

Byrum and McPherson Tie for New Mark In 100 Yard Dash-Ripple Sets New Distance.

Coach Bob Fetzer's cinder path artists registered a giorious victory last Saturday by emerging from the annual state championship track meet with a total of 1081/2 points, more than the number of points garnered by all other representatives combined. State came second with 55 points, Davidson with 191/2, Wake Forest with 16, and Duke with 11 points. This is the fourth consecutive year that the Tar Heels have triumphed in the big state-wide meet, and the 1925 team has proven to be the greatest in the history of the University.

Out of 15 events, the Tar Heels won nine first places and tied for another. Three new records were established. "Chollie" Jonas, Carolina's star half miler, lowered his state record from 2 min. 9-10 sec. to 2 min. 2-10 sec. McPherson, of Carolina, and Byrum, of State, get credit for a joint record in the 100-yard dash, according to the decision of the judges. The time for the run was 9 9-10 seconds, and is certified since it was caught on five stop watches. Ripple, of State, established a new record with the shot, when he put it 41 ft. 11 1-4 in. Jeff Fordham was high point man of the meet. He won first places in the javelin and discus and second in the shot-put, garnering a total of 14 points.
