

OLD DOMINION BATSMEN WALK OFF WITH CAROLINA'S SCALP TUCKED AWAY IN CLASH ON EMERSON FIELD

Holland Lets Tar Heels Down With Four Hits

ANOTHER CHANGE TODAY

Contest Was Pitcher's Duel—Ferebee Held Up Well—Va. Scored First.

FETZERITES THREATENED IN 8TH

Ferebee Returns Seven Batters to Bench by Strike-Out Route and Holland Nine.

By L. N. Ryan

Mulligan Holland, four year pitching ace of the University of Virginia, triumphed over Bill Ferebee in a pitchers' battle on Emerson field yesterday afternoon by a score of 4 to 1. Holland held the Tar Heel batters well in hand throughout the game and let them down with four hits.

Virginia opened the scoring in the first inning. After McCoy fanned, Friedberg tripled to left and scored on Bronough's infield out. Carolina threatened in their half when Hatley singled, with one away, and took second on Side's infield out; but Stanton fanned to retire the side. The Tar Heels put two on again in the second frame with one out, but Holland tightened and struck out two men.

The game began to assume the appearance of a pitcher's duel when Ferebee came up in the third and struck out three in a row, duplicating Holland's stunt of the inning before. The "three up-three down" stuff continued through the first half of the fourth, the Cavaliers went out on a grounder to third and two outfield flies.

Virginia tallied again in the fifth when Holland hit to the infield, took second on a wild throw to first, advanced to third on Luther's sacrifice, and crossed the plate when Ferebee threw to first to get Coon.

Neither side could get a man further than the middle station again until the first of the eighth. Hushion, Cavalier shortstop, opened the inning with a smashing two-baser down the left field foul line. McCoy sacrificed him to third, and Friedberg singled for his second hit of the game, scoring Hushion. Hatley rambled back to the left field fence after Bronough's fly and Ferebee retired the side by fanning Unversagt.

The Tar Heels' big guns began to boom in the eighth. Johnson, first up, was safe on Bronough's error and scored when "Rabbit" Bonner tripled to left-center. The rally fell short when Hatley fanned and Sides grounded to the first baseman. The visitors made it a three run lead again after two were away in the ninth. Coon was safe at first on a fielder's choice and tallied on Cabell's triple to right field.

TAR BABIES MEET BUCKS MONDAY

Also Meet State Yearlings in Raleigh Tuesday.

MACKIE PROBABLY PITCH

Carolina Frosh Fighting to Cop Second Honors.

Coach "Runt" Lowe's Tar Baby nine, after having a very successful trip in Virginia, is now waiting with eager anticipation for the game to be played on Emerson field Monday afternoon with the Duke freshman team. The Carolina frosh have defeated the Wee Bucks once this year and are confident that they can repeat the stunt Monday afternoon. Mackie, the star left-hander, will probably be on the firing line and may be opposed by Sutton or Swift for the visitors. All three are good twirlers and a battle royal from start to finish may be expected.

On Tuesday afternoon the Tar Babies will journey over to Raleigh to meet the State yearlings. This game was scheduled for last Wednesday but old man Jupiter Pluvius unexpectedly stepped in and activities had to be called off.

Little is known of the strength of the Little Wolfpack other than that they have defeated the Duke freshmen by the score of 6-5 and the High Point college by scores of 11-10 and 6-4. Inasmuch as they defeated the Duke Frosh by about the same score as Coach Lowe's men did, the contest next Tuesday will probably be hard-fought from start to finish.

Although the Tar Babies have been eliminated from the race for championship honors by virtue of their two losses to Wake Forest, they are fighting hard to cop second honors among the freshman teams of the state and will have a clear title to this if they emerge victorious in the games next week.

An Invitation to Carolina Students

PRESIDENT STUDENT BODY:
This year the privilege of entertaining after the Carolina-Virginia game is held, not by the Senior Class but by the four societies on our campus.

The hope that you will all be able to accept this very informal invitation, and join us Saturday night on the campus of N. C. C. W. to celebrate the victory Carolina is going to win that day.

NANNIE EARLE,
President Senior Class.

URGE STUDENTS TO VOTE BLANKET FEE BACK INTO EFFECT

President of Publication Union Gives Out Statement and Explanation.

REDUCTION IN THE FEE
Buccaneer Added to Group—Plan Increase in Tar Heel and Reduction of Space Rates in Annual.

In a recent interview with a TAR HEEL reporter, Ludwig Lauerhaus, president of the publications union, made the following statement concerning the continuance of the publications blanket fee which the student body will soon vote on:

"On Monday, May 18, the students of the University will be called upon to vote on the question of the publications union fee. Two years ago the student body decided that all the student publications, namely, the TAR HEEL, Yackety Yack and Carolina Magazine, should come under the control of one administrative head—to become the property of the students at large rather than the enterprise of a few mercenary individuals. This was the founding of the University of North Carolina Publications Union. Every student automatically became a member, with the privilege of voting at all elections held by the union, and in return for the yearly fee of $5.50 each student was to receive the TAR HEEL, Yackety Yack, and Carolina Magazine.

"As we all know, the purpose of the union is to exercise complete supervision through its representatives, the Publications Union Board elected yearly by the members of the union—over all the student publications; to provide for their administration and financing, and to give each student every publication.

"It is obvious that during these first two years the publications have improved in many ways. In the first place, they have improved decidedly in literary quality. This has been made possible by arousing more interest through keen competition for places on the respective staffs. Those of us who have been here for more than two years can readily appreciate the improvements made in service. The Publications Union has made it possible to produce the publications at a minimum cost. Have not these improvements in the publications justified the existence of the union?"

"The time for re-voting the fee is now at hand. The Publications Board finds as a result of the efficient management for the past two years that it is able to make some progressive changes; namely, to reduce the fee from $5.50 to $5.00 and to include in this fee the Buccaneer. Thus we will not only lower the fee but will also add another publication to what heretofore received in the fee of $5.50. The Buccaneer was started a little over a year ago under the supervision of the Publications Board, and in the first year of its life it has mounted high in the ranks of college comics. Its admission as a member of the union will insure its becoming the outstanding comic in the South.

"The reduction in the fee was decided upon only after a close study of the financial operations of the Union for the past two years. We figured that a fee of $5.00 would insure just a sufficient surplus to guarantee a sound business basis of operation. Such a small surplus is absolutely essential—this is readily seen.

"In our plans we have also included an increase in the size of the TAR HEEL. The University has grown so in the past few years that we feel that there is an urgent need for a larger school paper. The TAR HEEL is to be increased either to a six-page semi-weekly or to a tri-weekly. Further, it is also our plan to make additional reduction in the space rates of the Yackety Yack.

TRACKERS ENTERS S. I. C. TOURNAMENT HELD AT SEWANEE

Carolina Rates As One of Leading Contenders for Southern Crown.

ONLY FEW MEN TAKEN

Team Has Lost Only One Game This Season and That Not to Southern School.

The Carolina track squad left the Hill Wednesday night to enter the S. I. C. track tournament being held at Sewanee, Tenn., on Friday and Saturday of this week. The Tar Heels have piled up an impressive string of victories this season and are rated as one of the leading contenders for the Southern cinder path crown, having lost only one meet during the entire season, and that one not to a Southern school. They will face some keen competition, however, as 19 out of the 22 colleges in the conference are sending men to the big meet.

Carolina returned from Annapolis Sunday morning following the triangular meet with the Navy and Maryland on Saturday. It was the first time this season that the Tar Heels failed to emerge victorious, but they won second best and a good reputation in the minds of Northern track fans. In the track events the Tar Heels were clearly superior, outclassing the runners from the other two institutions; but the Middies won the meet on the field events.

Moore, of Carolina, was victorious in both the hurdles, as he has been in every meet this season. Only once this spring has he been led to the tape, Roy of Tulane beating him by two inches in the high hurdles at the Atlanta relay carnival. Roy will be at the Sewanee meet and the race between these two should prove a feature.

Andy Bell, the Tar Heel miler, has been another consistent winner. He has not lost a race since entering the University, running for last year's freshman.

NATIONAL FRATERNITY RECEIVES DELTA PI

Installation Ceremonies Into Theta Kappa Nu Held Here Thursday.

Formal installation ceremonies of the Delta Pi, local fraternity, into the N. C. Gamma Chapter of Theta Kappa Nu were held in the Delta Pi hall Thursday afternoon of last week. The installation was in charge of Mr. Winslow S. Anderson, Grand Archon of Theta Kappa Nu, assisted by the officers of N. C. Alpha chapter of State College and the N. C. Beta chapter of Wake Forest.

Theta Kappa Nu, organized as a national fraternity June 9, 1924, at Springfield, Mo., has 28 chapters, and now fulfills the standards set by the National Inter-Fraternity Council, having been acknowledged by that body as a member in full standing. With the passing of Delta Pi and the coming of Theta Kappa Nu, another national fraternity is welcomed on the Hill by other fraternities and faculty members.

As a part of the installation, a ball was given at the Carolina Inn by the new chapter Thursday night, in honor of the visiting Theta Kappa Nu's from State, Wake Forest, Howard college, of Birmingham, and the University of Florida. The inn ballroom, beautifully decorated with the fraternity colors, silver, red and black, formed an attractive background for the dancers. Spot-light dances, two of which were featured by the playing of the Theta Kappa Nu waltz for the members only, was an attractive feature of the reception.

Among those in attendance at the reception were Misses Mary McLaurin, Hilda Breeden, Emma Drake, Ellee Townsend, of Bennettsville, S. C.; Marcelle Williams, Louise Bullington, Virginia Greene, Louise Mason, Hazel Lyons, Annie Leo Graham, Ella Mae Beavers, and Eloise Beavers, of Durham; Bettine Parker, Wyndal Ash, Louise Newton, Rodeme Allen, Hazel Bethea and Mildred Allen, of Raleigh; Louise Latta, Daisy Cooper, Estelle Lawson, Miriam Sauls, Helen Thomas, Mary Lynn Giles, Sarah Jane Boyd, Leah Smith and Frances Venable, of Chapel Hill; Misses Sadie Hobbs, of Edenton; Polly Cloud, of Sweetbriar, Va.; Alforetta Weeks, of Winston-Salem; Estelle Caffrey, of Beaufort; Lena Fountain, of Tarboro; Mabel Womack, of Scotland Neck; Roberta Walker, of Charlotte; Louise Paschal, of Kinston; Celeste Lockhart, of Monroe; Grace Elder and Fern Lashley, of Burlington; Jewel Askew, Morelle Askew, Hilda Matthews, and Gertrude Knott, of Chowan college; Mr. and Mrs. Newsome, Dr. and Mrs. G. K. G. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Winston, Dr. and Mrs. Law-

LAW ASSOCIATION HOLDS ARGUMENT AND HAS BANQUET

Ferson Presides Over Banquet—Chase and Others Speak—Many Features.

GUEST JUDGES PRESIDE

Activities of Year Close With Arguments Between Iredell and Gaston Clubs.

With Associate Justice George W. Conner, of the North Carolina Supreme court, and Judges J. Lloyd Horton and Robert W. Winston as guests of honor, the Law School Association of the University in fitting exercises Thursday afternoon and night brought to a culmination the activities of the association with a final argument between the Iredell Lay Club, represented by A. M. Scarborough, of Kinston, and N. E. Aydtlett, of Elizabeth City, and the Gaston Law Club, represented by C. A. Thornton, of Chapel Hill, and C. F. Barlow, of Dillon, S. C. This was followed by a banquet for all members of the Law School at the Carolina Inn.

The defendants in the case, A. M. Scarborough and N. E. Aydtlett, were granted the judges decision in the arguments between the two law clubs held Thursday afternoon in the new law building. The case was that of Fisher vs. Jones Motor Company, ably upheld by the defendants in this instance.

Judge Conner presided as "Chief Justice" of the student court and Judges Horton and Winston acted as "Associate Judges". The decision was reached by the three visiting justices and announced at the conclusion of the banquet held after the arguments.

The entire Law School was represented at this dinner, with approximately a hundred students from the Law School Association in attendance. The visiting judges were the guests of the school on this occasion and the principal speakers of the evening.

LETTER ATHLETES TO HAVE REUNION

Plans for First Reunion At Commencement Are Formed At Monogram Club Meeting.

According to plans announced last Tuesday night at a meeting of the University Monogram Club, the first reunion of University athletes with letters will be held at the forthcoming commencement.

Daniel L. Grant, alumni secretary, explained that the purpose of the reunion will be to bring the athletes of former days into closer touch with athletic conditions and needs of the University of today. It was also announced that all Carolina monogram wearers will be awarded a certificate. As the matter stands now, only those receiving monograms since 1906 have received certificates. In case of death, the nearest relative will be given the certificate.

Grant said that "athletics, both intercollegiate and intra-mural, have grown to such an extent here that the facilities that sufficed a few years past are no longer sufficient. Several buildings are needed now and in a few years we will need a bigger and more modern stadium; but you cannot get a stadium, field house, or gymnasium until you get the real needs before the old men." He then assured the members that the central alumni office will be ready to serve them in any way possible in putting over their plans for expansion.

Dr. Foy Robertson, of Durham, and Louis Graves, of Chapel Hill, both former athletes of the University, spoke in favor of the plan. Several committees were appointed to look after the plans.

The committees in charge of arrangements include C. T. Mangum, Dr. R. Lawson, D. L. Grant, Coach R. A. Fetzer, Coach W. McK. Fetzer, J. F. Fordham, and F. C. Shepherd. The committee on entertainment consists of C. T. Woollen, Dr. R. B. Lawson, Dr. C. S. Mangum, C. C. Poindexter, M. D. Bonner, J. B. Fordham, W. W. Underwood, Herman McIver, L. H. Moore, and F. R. Lowe. On the publicity committee were R. W. Madry, F. C. Shepherd, W. N. Cox, M. D. Ranson and L. N. Byrd.

Psychological Fraternity Holds Interesting Meeting

Wednesday night, May 13, there was an interesting meeting of the Alpha Psi Delta psychological fraternity. Three talks were given. W. M. Linker reported experiments in animal psychology which he had made in connection with his master's thesis. J. H. Wall gave a short talk on the psychological effect of cannabis. Dr. C. S. Mangum reported in some detail his research work on the development of the spinal cord and brain in embryos of the pig and of the human.

CAROLINA WILL MOVE TO GATE CITY MEET CAVALIERS THIS AFTERNOON IN TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL CLASSIC

INVITE COOLIDGE

Dr. H. W. Chase will go to Washington Monday to extend a formal invitation to President Coolidge to attend the Semi-Centennial Celebration of the reopening of the University, here on October 12. Senator Simmons has arranged the appointment at 12 o'clock Monday, and Dr. Chase will invite the President to deliver the address at the celebration.

It is understood that Senator Simmons will go to Washington to accompany President Chase to the White House, and it may be that Senator Overman will also be present.

RETURN GAME HERE WITH W. F. NEXT WEDNESDAY

Fetzer's Men Lost First Game of Series by Score of 2 to 1.

WILL BAPTISTS REPEAT?

A Win Will Do Much in Raising Tar Heel Standing in Championship Race.

The Wake Forest Deacons will be the attraction on Emerson field next Wednesday afternoon. They are coming over determined to repeat their performance of two weeks ago and take another victory from the Tar Heels, but "Rabbit" Bonner and his team mates have another idea in their heads. They are just as determined to take another slice of state championship cake themselves.

The Baptists did not hand the Tar Heels a bad defeat before and the Hillians are great believers in the theory that turn about is fair play. The Wake Forest dopsters have definitely put Carolina out of their championship calculations, but a win on next Wednesday would be strong argument for reinstating the Tar Heels in the chase. According to the Wake county dopster's facts, the Deacons are leading with ten games won and one lost in the state and an average of .917 for their standing. State, with 8 out of 10 and an .800 average, was next, and Carolina, with 6 won and 3 lost, for a .667 rating, was trailing in third place. Still there are two more weeks in the season and a lot of changes can take place in two weeks. Just for example, suppose that Carolina should win both of her games from Wake Forest and State, that State should win her other contest with the Baptists. After these games, with those results, the standing would read as follows: Carolina .800, Wake Forest .769, and State .750. With another victory from Duke to raise the Hillians' percentage rating there would be no dispute from the other contenders when the Fetzerites raised the title "rag" over their heads.

Carolina has been hitting consistently for the last few games. Their average has not varied over two points from .270 in the last four or five contests. The morale of the team was not lowered by the State defeat. They are determined not to have an off day when State and Wake Forest are met again, so the students are due to witness one of the Carolina come-backs next Wednesday.

Dormitory Smokers To Be Held Next Monday Night

Dormitory smokers will be held in each dormitory on Monday night, the time to be set by each dormitory. This will be the last dormitory social of the year, and officers for the coming year will be elected.

Faculty speakers will be at some of the smokers, and a good time for all is expected. Discussion of the year just passed and the choosing of officers will feature the get-together. Refreshments will be served at all the smokers.

It is optional for each dormitory to either elect or nominate their officers for the coming year at the smokers on Monday night. If it is more desirable to nominate men for the offices, the election will take place on Tuesday night, and printed ballots will be furnished by the Carolina Dormitory club. Posters are placarded on the bulletin board of each dormitory announcing the room and time of the gathering.

A new bus line has been installed between Chapel Hill and Hillsboro by Mr. John T. Johnson. A seven-passenger Cadillac sedan is used.

Festive Spirit Will Mark Greensboro's Welcome.

TEAM IN FINE FETTLE

Girls' Colleges of Greensboro Will Declare Holiday for the Event.

SEPARATE CHEERING STANDS

N. C. C. W. Campus Will Be Mecca of Carolina Students Saturday Night.

CAROLINA WILL MOVE q-15

Greensboro will take on a festive appearance today, to do honor to the college students that will throng the city. Carolina will move to the Gate City with the avowed intention of bringing back Virginia's scalp. Enthusiasm has been running high on the campus all the week, and fully three-fourths of the entire student body are expected to march on Cone park today, using every mode of travel from special trains and Cadillacs to walking.

For 24 years the Carolina-Virginia game in Greensboro has been the classic attraction of North Carolina's baseball season, and every year the crowds have been increasing until today's game is expected to draw the largest crowd in the history of the series.

The team is in fine shape for the encounter, and Bill Fetzer has shined up his little black hand-bag and has it all fixed up to stow the win away after the game. Rain broke up practice two days this week, but the team was in condition to stand the day-off without hurting the chances of a victory. Just who will pitch the game is unknown, for Coach Bill does not talk about things like that.

While the team has been practicing for the contest, and while the students have been planning for ways of transportation to the scene of combat, L. V. Huggins has been busy preparing for some of the peppiest cheering ever heard on a North Carolina field. Huggins has made several trips to Greensboro recently to plan with the cheer leaders of N. C. C. W. and G. C. W. for a co-operative cheering section. The girls from "N.C." will occupy the bleachers on the third base foul line. Next to them will be Carolina's own section, and the Tar Heels will be flanked on their right by the G. C. girls. Each school will have its own cheer leaders and will use its own yell, but the girls have been practicing "Hark the sound," "We hail from N. C. U." and all of Carolina's yells, and will be ready to join the Tar Heels in sending these old favorites ringing over the field.

The night after the game "N. C." will throw its gates open to Carolina, and give a reception in honor of the rival universities. This has been the topic of conversation on the Greensboro campus for months, and the girls are looking forward to the event as much or more than the Carolina boys, and that is saying something, for that reception will be a great drawing card for the Tar Heels.

TOWN AND UNIV. BETTER STREETS

May Combine and Use Same Type Pavement.

AGREEMENT TO BE MADE

Standard Milk Ordinance Passed At Same Meeting.

Another time-worn landmark of Chapel Hill was doomed recently when the board of aldermen decided to cover the red mud on Main street with concrete.

The town plans to pave Franklin street from the corner at Strowd's garage to the post office in the present project, joining the curb and the 18-foot strip laid by the State highway commission with two 18-foot concrete strips. The University will run a paved road through the campus from the west gate to the east gate of the campus along Columbia avenue and on northward along the old Raleigh road to connect with Franklin street at the President's home. The administrative board has already set aside a sum of money for this purpose from the recent appropriation.

This action was determined upon some time ago, but it has been delayed because the University has not yet decided what type of pavement it will use. If the town and the University use the same type of pavement and let the contract to the same man at the same time, better terms can be obtained than if the contracts were let separately. The town has already decided upon concrete, and if the University trustees do not reach an agreement soon, Mr. Knox, the town manager, says he intends to go ahead with the work independently by September 1st at the latest.
