

BAPTISTS MADE CLEAN SWEEP OF SECOND SERIES

Tar Heels Have Brilliant Comeback in the Ninth Inning.

SCORE STOOD 3 TO 2

Ferebee Strikes Out Eight—Hatley and Armstrong Drive Long Hits—Coffey Makes Great Catch.

Wake Forest made it a clean sweep of the series for the second consecutive year when they won from the Tar Heels here Wednesday afternoon by the score of 3 to 2. In his second pitcher's duel in two games Bill Ferebee came out second best to Simmons, lanky rightside flinger of the Baptists. Ferebee pitched sensational ball, holding the visitors to five hits, but their hits came when they were needed; and the Wake county lads were alert and took advantage of Carolina's two misuses when they came.

Ferebee flashed his old-time form in the first inning when he fanned the first two men to face him and forced Berry to ground out, third to first, but the Baptists came back in the second frame with blood in their eyes. Armstrong, first up, poled out one of the longest hits ever seen on Emerson field to the hedge in deep left and was roosting on third before Hatley could get the ball back to the infield. Simmons grounded out, but Hank Garrity signed for a squeeze play on the next round, and Armstrong was nearly home before Hood bunted his infield hit down the line. Hood took second on an infield out and scored from the middle station when Holt drove one over third that was too hot for Thomas to handle.

The next inning saw a Tar Heel rally that netted one run. Gibson walked and, after stealing second and going to third on a single by Sides, tallied on Thomas' one baser. The rally collapsed when Greason speared a drive off the bat of Johnson that looked good for a safety, and Sides was caught at second.

Both pitchers settled down to business after that and neither could get anything that looked like a hit until Carolina's half of the sixth, when Bonner opened with an infield single and advanced to second and third on a pilfered base and an infield out. He was left stranded on the third sack when the next three batters went out on a fly to right and two grounders to the pitcher's box.

The Deacons tallied their final marker in the seventh when Hamrick went to first on a fielder's choice and raced home when Gibson booted Timberlake's hot one to right eld. That ended their scoring, but they threatened in the next inning after two were away. Ferebee struck out the first two men, but Simmons was safe on an error. Hood, next

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS DEBATE

Overwhelming Vote in Favor of Affirmative.

BIRTH CONTROL SUBJECT

Carolina and N. C. State Have Interesting Discussion.

The question of birth control brought out the largest crowd for any debate this year when Carolina and State met Thursday evening in Gerrard hall in an Oxford Union debate. By an overwhelming vote the audience declared that the affirmative had won and that dissemination of knowledge concerning birth control by contra-receptive methods should be legalized throughout the United States. The vote was standing and was about four to one.

The affirmative advocated placing the instruction regarding birth control in the hands of the medical profession, and thus putting reproduction on a scientific basis. They maintained that the well-to-do classes are practicing birth control now and that the lower classes should have the same right. The negative retorted in declaring that there are no definite and harmless methods of birth control and that to allow distribution of such knowledge would only open the door to dirty, obscene literature. They maintained that even though there were an effective method of birth control it would not be used by the lower, ignorant masses that really needed it. They said that once the step were taken to permit the dissemination of knowledge, it could never be retraced.

There was a scarcity of questions when the debate was thrown into open forum, and after a few vague ones that were not satisfactorily answered the vote was taken and showed that the affirmative, composed of L. T. Bledsoe (Carolina) and J. Alvin Wilson (State) had won.

VENABLE HALL HAS BEEN COMPLETED

Will Be Used First Summer Session.

IS OF IMMENSE SIZE

Building Will Be Equipped With Best—Laboratories Lighted From Above.

The new chemistry building, Venable Hall, which was begun last year is now complete except for a few finishing touches and will be used by the chemistry department during the first summer school session. The building, which was designed by Atwood and Nash, is a magnificent structure consisting of two stories and a large basement. The work on the building has progressed very fast, considering the fact that construction was begun in a virgin forest and a long time had to be spent in clearing and grading before the actual work of building could be started.

The new home of the chemistry department is built in the shape of a square with the eastern side putting out at each end to form a slightly wider quadrangular front. The two main entrances are on the eastern side, although the building may be entered by doors on all four sides. The first and second stories are almost identical, consisting mostly of offices and class rooms. The laboratory rooms are in the basement. Upstairs there is a large auditorium which will seat several hundred people. The seats will be arranged in tiers, one row slightly above the other. There are fifteen of these tiers. The library is also on the second floor. On the northern and southern sides are stairways leading from the basement to the top story.

The most striking thing about the building is its immense size. It is by far the largest structure on the campus, although it is only two stories high, it probably covers as much ground as the library and Bynum gymnasium combined.

Venable hall is situated on a hill, and the floor at the east end of the first story and at the western end of the

HI COMMENCEMENT COMES JUNE 5 TO 7

Mrs. Bickett to Deliver Graduation Exercises—Olive the Baccalaureate Sermon.

The Chapel Hill High School will hold its commencement exercises between the University spring quarter examinations and commencement, June 5 to 7 inclusive. The advanced date this year is due to delays in the school program.

On Friday evening the senior class will stage "What Happened to Jones?" a comedy. Class day exercises will be held on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock on the lawn and the senior banquet will follow immediately. Rev. E. I. Olive will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon in the Baptist church on Sunday evening. This does not conflict with the University sermon, which will be in the morning. The graduation exercises will be held on Monday night in the school auditorium. Mrs. T. W. Bickett will deliver the address.

The present senior class is the largest graduating class in the history of the school. There are 55 seniors out of a high school enrollment of 243. 32 of these will receive college entrance diplomas and the others will be given certificates.

This year the high school is publishing its first annual, Hillside, the new publication, is a book containing 160 pages. Mr. Fowler, of the Seeman Printery, says it is one of the best high school annuals that he has published. It will be off press on May 30.

CHASE INVITES COOLIDGE HELP COMMEMORATE

Dr. Chase Explains Purpose and Plans of Celebration to President.

PROGRESS BEEN GREAT

Hope to Have All Living Former University Presidents at Celebration Next October 12.

On last Monday, May 18, President H. W. Chase personally extended an invitation to President Coolidge to attend the celebration of the semi-centennial of the reopening of the University, to be held here on October 12, next. Dr. Chase was introduced by Commissioner D. H. Blair, neither of the North Carolina senators being in Washington at this time.

In a 10-minute talk Dr. Chase laid before Mr. Coolidge the purpose of the celebration. Telling of the reopening of the University in the fall of 1875, Dr. Chase stated that the institution had been practically refounded then. That date in its history was regarded so important, and its progress within this last half century has been so great, that it was the desire of the University itself, and the whole state, to call the attention of the world to these facts. The University of North Carolina now ranks among the 26 leading universities of the country, and it, with the University of Virginia, are the only southern institutions that are members of the Association of American Universities, which embraces such institutions as Yale and Harvard and the great western universities. Dr. Chase further stated that the University is president of that association and that he, as president of the University, will preside at the meeting of the association that will be held at New Haven next fall.

Stating that he would take the invitation under advisement, President Coolidge asked Dr. Chase to write him a letter and set forth in more detail the purpose and the plans of the celebration. Although it is too early to state whether the President will attend the celebration, Dr. Chase is quite sanguine over his possible attendance. Since the University was refounded in 1875, five presidents beside Dr. Chase have served the institution, but only three of them are living at present—Dr. F. A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia; Dr. George Winston, now a resident of New York, and Dr. F. P. Venable, who is a member of the present University faculty.

It is hoped that all of the living former presidents will be present at the celebration. The plan of the celebration is to have a number of nationally known speakers here and a great banquet of oratory and ideas. The University now outranks the University of Virginia, and it is desired to bring the University to the eyes of the world and gain an international reputation.

CURTAIN ON LOCAL BASEBALL SEASON WILL BE RUNG DOWN NEXT MONDAY

Game On Emerson Field Will Be Last of Three-Game Series—Split Even So Far—Dempster and Bonner Wind Up Remarkable College Baseball Careers—Bonner Only Survivor of Wonder Team of 1922.

The Tar Heels will ring the curtain down on the 1925 baseball season Monday afternoon when they meet the Duke fencers here in the final game of the three-game series with the West Durham outfit. The season has been very successful, although a slump at the crucial point in the schedule robbed the Hillians of the state title after an auspicious start had given them the inside on the chase after the laurels.

The Tar Heels have won thirteen games this year and lost seven, eleven of the first thirteen starts being chalked up on the right side of the ledger. With two more battles on the calendar they are making plans for a comeback finish. The battle with Duke here will be the rubber game of the series, Duke taking the first win while the Fetzermen emerged with the big end of the score in the second chapter.

This game will be the finale for several of the best ball players in North Carolina collegiate ranks. John Dempster, Duke's wrong side pitcher, will mark "Fins" on his career on the ama-

FINAL DANCES BEGIN TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 9

Popular Georgia Orchestra Has Been Engaged to Furnish Music for Frolics.

NEWS SCHEME DECORATION

Script to Dances Much Cheaper This Year—German Club Sponsors Dances.

After careful consideration and inquiry, the executives of the German Club have determined the dates and completed the arrangements for the final dances. The initial frolic will be given Tuesday evening, June 9, by the senior class. The remaining dances will take place Wednesday afternoon, Wednesday evening; Thursday afternoon, and Thursday evening, respectively. All dances, with the exception of the senior ball, are given by the German Club. Watson's orchestra of Atlanta, an old favorite at Georgia University and at Georgia Tech, has been procured to furnish the music. Although this will be the Georgia musicians' debut in the Tar Heel state, it is expected that they will more than meet the approval of the dancers. Recommendations of the highest order have been received for the orchestra from known and reliable sources. When personally consulted as to the merits of various southern orchestras, the members of Naylor's Seven Aces were enthusiastic in their praise of Watson.

It is announced by Jack London that "Slats" Randall has perfected a unique scheme of decoration that will give to Swain Hall a type of beauty that it has never worn before. "Slats" is already well known in this section for his previous achievements on the campus in the art of decorating. Twice before Swain Hall has worn gay garments designed by the hand of "Slats", and it was he who provided and designed the costumes used by the Wigwag and Mask in its latest production, Yes, By Gosh. The dance leaders are assisting him in his work.

The price of admission to the dances this year will be considerably cheaper than it has been for the last several years. Although the exact price has not been determined, it is estimated that a saving of nearly five dollars will be made by purchasing season tickets. Price of admission to the dances will be announced in the next issue.

Town Aldermen Propose Improvement of City Streets

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen a proposal to widen the street in the business block of town was made. This was intended as a preliminary to paving the street, but no action has yet been taken on the proposal. Franklin and Columbia streets are 99 feet in width including sidewalks, 54 feet from curb to curb with 22½ foot sidewalks. The proposal is to move the curbs back 3 feet on each side, on the business block which is to be paved in the present project, making a 60 foot street and 19½ foot sidewalks.

The town has been making extensive improvements in laying curb stones. 7,600 feet will be completed by June 1, and 8,000 feet more have been authorized and will be laid during the summer. This will make a total of about three miles.

Miss Lucy Lay entertains the senior co-eds at tea this afternoon.

FROSH TRACKMEN CONCLUDE SEASON

Meet High and Prep Schools at Asheville.

WIN BY CLOSE SCORE

Carolina Places Two Men in Five Events—Strongest in Track Events.

Carlyle Shepherd's Tar Baby trackmen topped off their 1925 season with a win over the All-Western conference team of high school and prep school stars at Asheville on Wednesday afternoon by the close score of 61 to 55. The Carolina yearlings stepped to the front in the 440-yard dash and the broad jump, the ninth and tenth events of the program. They took the first two places in these two events.

The Tar Babies, like their big brothers on the Tar Heel varsity, were strongest in the track events, piling up their biggest scores in the runs. They scored 42 of their points in the races and only 19 in the weights and jumps. The feature of the day's events was the struggle between Newcombe, of Carolina, and Sidney McIver, Asheville School's star weight man, in the weights. McIver was high point man in the meet with 20 1-2 points, piling up two first places, tying for one first and finishing up with two seconds. Andy Sowles, freshman dash man and hurdler, was second with 15 points.

The meet was not decided until the final event of the day, the half mile. Elliott, Tar Baby captain, who had already won the mile run, stepped in and pulled the meet from the fire for his team by winning the half. Elliott forged to the front in the mile and was never headed. At one time he had a third of a lap lead on the nearest runner. He was rushed into the half in hopes of an extra point and he responded by taking the lead and holding it to the end, showing the same dogged determination that has characterized all of his races this year.

The conference aggregation won all of the places in the pole vault, Rose, the Carolina man, falling out at 9 feet 6 inches, McIver, of Asheville School, and White, of Asheville High, fighting it out for first. McIver won the decision at 11 feet. Lysterly won the broad jump for the first year men with a hop of 20 feet even on his first attempt. Swain took second for Carolina when he leaped 19 feet 11 inches, only one inch behind Lysterly.

Carolina placed two men in five events; Wilkins and Evans winning first and second in the quarter, Cowles and Smith taking first and second in the 100-yard dash, and first and third in the 220. Newcombe and Parker taking second and third in the shot, and Lysterly and Swain leaping to first and second in the broad jump.

AWARDS NIGHT NEXT THURSDAY

Acknowledgment Will Be Made of Worthy Students' Activities.

The campus activities for the year will be brought to a fitting climax on Awards Night, which is to be held Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock in Memorial hall. At that time athletic monograms will be awarded, debaters' medals will be given, and a list of those making Phi Beta Kappa and Golden Fleece will be read. The medal for the best all-round athlete will be awarded. A statement will be made by a University official as to the accomplishments of the University this year, and policies for next year.

A statement will be made by W. J. Coker on the accomplishments of the student body this year, and Jeff Fordham will say something about his plans for next year. Publications awards will be given.

It has been announced that President Chase will preside on the occasion.

Rank in State Race Will Be Decided.

HILL MAY PITCH AGAIN

Fetzerites Are Believed to Have Strength to Reverse Score On Techmen.

STATE WON FIRST ENCOUNTER

Bonner's Men Need to Win Last Two Games to Make Season a Success.

The Tar Heels go to Raleigh today to take another shot at the Wolfpack. The Techmen defeated the University batsmen in their first meeting of this season on Emerson Field by a score of 7 to 5, but the Tar Heels are leaving today with a determination to reverse the decision in this game.

The Fetzerites showed that they still have that old Carolina spirit when they pulled that ninth inning rally against Wake Forest on Wednesday afternoon, and they are carrying a full supply of that spirit to the Capitol City with them. The team played good baseball against the Deacons, but the visitors played ball that was worthy of State champions.

"Lefty" Hill was in rare form in the other game between the two state institutions and kept the Tar Heels well in hand throughout the game; so Coach Doak will probably send him back to the mound to face the Hillians in today's encounter. Hill also pitched a good game against the Methodists last week, defeating John Dempster's crew in the last appearance of Duke's old stars on Hanes field by an overwhelming score. The Tar Heels cannot get the idea of losing any more games in their minds, and they are determined to end the season with victories in their other two battles.

AUGUST SENIORS TO CELEBRATE

Annual Senior Week Will Be Observed.

TO BANQUET AND DANCE

Favored Gentlemen Will Be In Colorful Attire.

Monday will usher in a week which the class of '25 has long been eagerly awaiting and to which every undergrad looks forward. On this occasion the members of the senior class will come out bedecked in their academic dignity and peculiar attire for an entire week. This time, which comes every year just before commencement and the close of the college year, and is the first step in the transition from undergraduates to alumni, is a time-worn custom here. It is known as Senior Week.

This year the seniors have adopted Tux Arrow collars, walking canes, and class-color ties as the insignia for this occasion. These favored gentlemen will chase down to Sutton and Alderman's emporium this morning between 9 and 10:30 o'clock or Monday afternoon from 1:30 to 3 and procure these articles. For the rest of the week they will be easily distinguished from the other students by their colorful one-berry ties and their sporty dollar-and-a-half canes.

On Monday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock, the annual senior banquet will be held in the Carolina Inn. Hon. W. N. Everett, Secretary of State and president of the Alumni association, will be the principal speaker. The seniors will wear their ties, canes, and collars at the banquet. Unusually attractive invitations are being sent out this year. These can be obtained at the "Y" Monday.

The annual senior class dance will be held on Monday night, June 9, the first night of the commencement dances.

Daggett Receives Two Appointments

Parker H. Daggett, professor of electrical engineering in the University, has lately received two appointments of considerable honor. At the first regular meeting for 1925 of the state board of registration for engineers and land surveyors, Professor Daggett was elected secretary of the board to succeed Harry Tucker, professor of highway engineering at North Carolina State College. He is to take over the duties of his office on June 15, 1925. Professor Daggett received this appointment May 15.

At a quarterly meeting held May 13 at the Cape Fear Plant of the Carolina Power and Light Company, Professor Daggett was elected president of the North Carolina section of the society for the promotion of engineering. In this office he succeeds Professor Hall, of Duke University.
