

ALL STATE TEAM IS SELECTED BY TAR HEEL SCRIBE

Players From Every Team In State Have Been Considered.

TRIES TO BE UNBIASED

Three Carolina Men Are Chosen—Dempster, of Duke, Is Made Captain of Mythical Nine.

The 1925 season in North Carolina collegiate circles has produced some good players in all of the positions on the team and the selection of an all-state team, that will please all concerned, is a task that would try the wisdom of a Solomon and the baseball knowledge of John McGraw. The college season has been successful in the amount of interest that the public took in the sport, and the games have been drawing very good crowds.

Wake Forest piled up a record to be proud of, winning the championship for the first time since the revival of athletics at the Baptist institution. Carolina started the season with a bang, but slumped as they struck the home stretch and finished in third place, one notch behind the Techmen, who were runners-up for the champs. Duke played some good ball at times, but at others they showed woefully weak. Dempster, Turner, and Johnson were the bright lights in the Methodist constellation. Davidson, Elon, Guilford and Lenoir were trailing the eastern schools.

Several All-State selections have appeared in the state papers, picked by the various college mentors, who have shown an inclination to give their own team a monopoly on the honors. That is the one fault with most all-star picks, and one that has been avoided as far as possible in the "Tar Heel's outfit. Players from every team in the state have been considered, and the following have been chosen, after being measured in every phase of the game:

Harvey Johnson, of Duke, has been outstanding as a receiver for the past three seasons, and he has had one of his best years this year. Playing with a weak team, he has always been a dangerous hitter in the pinches, and few bases are pilfered when he is behind the bat. He gets the call for catcher.

Stanton, of Carolina, playing his first year of varsity ball, has had a good season, and Captain "Red" Lassiter, of State, has done good work; but Armstrong, the Baptist first-sacker, is one of the few four hundred hitters in the state, and he handles the fielding assignment well enough to get the call for his position. So mark down Armstrong for first base.

Second basemen have been more or less mediocre this season and there is no outstanding player in that position; so Turner, Duke shortstop, is shifted to the middle station. Turner is too good to

BOY SCOUT CAMP TO BE HELD HERE

Patrol Leaders Will Gather for First Camp of Its Kind Ever Held.

The first educational patrol leaders' camp in the history of the Boy Scout organization will be held in Chapel Hill June 18-19-20, according to an announcement made public by Dr. H. D. Meyer, Boy Scout educational director for North Carolina.

Approximately 150 picked patrol leaders and eagle scouts from the 14 organized scout councils in the state will be here for the camp, where they will receive training in scouting and leadership. Tents will be pitched on Emerson field by the visiting scouts, and steps have been taken by University officials for their comfort and food while here.

There will be two big nights for the scouts, with entertainment and talks by faculty members on each occasion. Classes will be held and prominent leaders and instructors from all over the state will be present to conduct the training.

Dr. Chase will welcome the lads who will be met and escorted to their camping ground by the Chapel Hill scouts. All former scouts here for summer school are invited out to inspect the camp.

In this connection, Dr. Meyer also stated that during the first summer school the University will conduct a Boy Scout leadership course for which credit will be given towards a teacher's degree and possibly an A.B. degree.

Charles F. Smith, professor at Columbia and prominent as author of a book on scouting leadership; Charles O. Hunter, regional scout executive, and Dr. Meyer will be instructors in this course which promises to be a useful addition to the summer school curriculum.

YACKETY-YACKS

The Yackety-Yacks are here. They will be distributed directly from the freight car on the track by Saunders hall today from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Students will bring 3 x 5 cards with names and registration numbers written on them in order to facilitate service. Yackety-Yacks will not be issued to those who have not paid their University fees.

ELABORATE PLANS FOR FINAL DANCES

Many Affairs Fill Left-Over Hours.

FLASHY CROWD OF GIRLS

Officials Are Picked—Two House Parties Given.

As the date set for the final social events looms closer, great gaiety for all on the Hill appears more and more assured. Smaller affairs, both formal and informal, are being planned by different organizations on the campus to fill in the hours left open by the German club program. Girls are buying tickets to Durham from many sections of the country, and a flashy crowd of females seems a sure factor to be counted on. Reservations in the Inn are being filed every day, and many of the private boarding houses are already booked to their full capacity. House parties are being given by the Dekes and S. A. E.'s. About 25 girls will stay at each house.

The officials of the dances want the fact stressed that every student is eligible to attend the Senior ball Tuesday night, and that it is just as cheap to do this and attend the rest of the dances on season tickets as to miss the first night, and pay separately for each dance. An announcement concerning season tickets will be placed in Patterson's drug store window Monday.

GEOLOGY DEPARTMENT TAKE LONG FIELD TRIP

To Visit Georgia, Tennessee, Virginia, and North Carolina.

The department of geology, with the co-operation of the extension bureau, is planning an extensive field course in geology to be given during the period of the second summer school. The party will travel by automobile through North Carolina, northwestern Georgia, eastern Tennessee, and southeastern Virginia. In this course most of the more important mining centers and mineral industries will be visited, and the student will have unusual opportunities to become familiar with structural, stratigraphic, and economic geology.

The course will be under the personal supervision of Dr. W. F. Prouty, to whom students should make application for registration at an early date, as the number is limited and applications have already come in from faculty and students from four institutions outside of this University.

The total expense for the trip will be a little less than $150, and the University gives two course credits for the work.

CARDWELL IS ELECTED EDITOR OF BUCCANEER

Guy Cardwell was unanimously elected editor of the Carolina Buccaneer in chapel Monday. Charles W. Gold, Jr., was appointed business manager by the Publications Union Board.

Cardwell was nominated by the Buccaneer staff, and as there were no other nominations from the floor, the chairman declared the nominations closed. Candidates were to be voted on in the election the following day, but as there was only one nomination, a motion was made to make the vote unanimous. The motion was carried by acclamation.

Editor-elect Cardwell has been managing editor of the Buccaneer this year and he has been one of the hardest workers and best writers on the staff. The other officers of next year's staff will be appointed by the editor and business manager. There is room for several more men on the editorial, art, and business staffs. Since the Buccaneer has become a full-fledged publication of the Publications Union, the editor hopes to put out next year an even better comic than this year's monthly has been.

REVIEWER THINKS PRESENTATION OF "THE RIVALS" GOOD

Costumes, Scenery, and Lighting Effects in Forest Theater Uniformly Good.

PRINCIPALS EXCELLENT

Performance Repeated Tonight—Alumni Will See Comedy in Playmaker Theater During Commencement.

The Carolina Playmakers gave their second-studio production of the year in the Forest theatre last night. The play was Richard Brinsley Sheridan's famous old comedy, "The Rivals." The choice of this play for outdoor production was a very happy one, and the performance on the whole was very creditable.

The play itself is too well known to need comment. The fact that it is still so popular after 150 years places it above criticism.

The costumes, scenery and lighting effects were uniformly good. It is well known that the Forest theatre presents a good deal of a problem in the matter of lighting and stage effects. We rather regretted that a veil of darkness could not be drawn between the audience and the stage while the scenery was being shifted. Still, the stage crew met its problem in a very able way.

The presentation of the play, while on the whole very good, was not quite all that we had hoped. Ed Copeland as Captain Jack was rather flat. He was a bit mechanical and he lacked that essential of the military man, dash. Louise Sawyer gave a sincere and delightful interpretation of Mrs. Malaprop, making the most of her lines and situations. Margaret Jones, though she did not rise above a certain level, was very charming as Lydia Languish. George Denny gave a ripe and excellent Sir Anthony. One of the high lights of the play was Theodore Fitch as Sir Lucius. He brought a gay whimsicality and lightness to the part that was altogether charming.

Claudius Mintz was well cast as Bob Acres. His squeaking voice and ungainly gait were the height of the ridiculous. The minor parts were well played on the whole, good support being afforded the principals at pertinent points in the play. The worst fault of the production, so far as we can see, was that the actors were not too well acquainted with their lines. It is, of course, to be considered that this is a very difficult time to produce such a play, the end of the quarter being so near.

As is customary with Playmaker productions, the performance will be given again tonight. The comedy will also be

ALUMNI PROGRAM CLASS REUNIONS

Fourteen Classes Will Hold Regular Reunions.

COMFORTABLE QUARTERS

Special Invitation to Alumni to Bring Families.

Presaging a record-breaking home-coming of alumni for class reunions during commencement exercises, D. L. Grant, alumni secretary, has prepared for the event with elaborate plans. The program begins with class dinners on Monday, June 8, 6:30 p. m., and embraces the entire day Tuesday.

The setting aside of the Infirmary, Old West, Grimes, Manly and Steele dormitories will provide comfortable and convenient quarters for the incoming alumni. An excellent cuisine and quick service for the alumni will be provided by the cafeterias and cafes. A special invitation has been extended to the alumni to bring their families with them, one whole dormitory being provided for mixed couples.

Headquarters of the various classes will be in tents around the historic well. The classes holding regular reunions are those of '60, '65, '70, '80, '85, '90, '95, '00, '05, '10, '15, '20, and '24. Some other classes are planning informal reunions.

Below is given the complete program of the alumni class reunions:

- Monday, June 8, 6:35 p. m.—Class dinners for '95, '00, '05, '10, '15, '20, and '24.
- Tuesday, June 9, Alumni day:
  - 9:30 a. m.—General assembly of alumni association in Memorial hall. Address by President H. W. Chase.
  - 12 m.—Reunion program, Francis D. Winston presiding, Gerrard hall.
  - 1:30 p. m.—Alumni luncheon, Swain hall.
  - 4 p. m.—Smoker of all monogram men, Carolina Inn.
  - 6:30 p. m.—Buffet supper on lawn for all monogram men. Award of certificates.
  - 9 p. m.—Carolina Playmakers at the new theatre, Smith hall.

BASEBALL SEASON ENDS WITH TEAM THIRD IN STATE

Team Won Fifteen Games and Lost Ten With .600 Average.

SUCCESSFUL EASTER TRIP

"Rabbit" Bonner Ends Baseball Career Here—Last Part of Season Proves to Be Reverse.

By L. N. BYRD

Baseball hopes at Carolina were not so high during the pre-season days, when the filling of the various positions was still in doubt. With Casey Morris, Monk McDonald and Herman Bryson on the list of retired veterans, and men to fill their vacant shoes to find the prospects for even a fifty-fifty team looked nil, but Coach Bill got out and shook together a bunch from the left-overs of last year's team and the rising stars from the 1924 Tar Babies, that went through Virginia leaving a trail of devastated hopes in their wake that rivaled even the Sherman's famous march through Georgia.

In the pre-Easter engagements the Tar Heels gave slight indication of what might be expected of them on their northern trip. Hampden-Sydney came to the "Hill" for the opener, and left with the small end of a 14 to 5 score. Ferebee, Coletrane and Hatley contributed home runs during the mix-up. Guilford threatened to break the Tar Heel hopes on April 6, when it took the Carolinians ten innings to win over the Quakers 5 to 4. Gibson hit for the circuit, and Stanton got a triple and a double off "Shirt" Smith.

The Navy game on Friday, April 10 was rained out in the third canto with the score standing at one-all, and the Hillians left on their Easter week trip the next day. Maryland was met at Cone Park on Saturday, and Ferebee shut the Old Liners out while his teammates worked across two runs for a 2 to 0 win.

Easter Games.

The annual Easter Monday game with Davidson was played at the Salisbury league park, and the Tar Heels won easily by the score of 8 to 3. Holshouser and Coletrane divided the pitching. Buck Stanton chipped in a clean homer as one of the features. The Feterites revisited Cone Park on the next day to hand Guilford the second defeat of the year by the count of 3 and 2.

Wednesday of holiday week found the Tar Heels at Blacksburg for their first encounter of the Virginia invasion. V. P. I. Gobblers took the Tar Heel dust in 6 to 2 win, Ferebee out-pitching

FRESHMEN CLOSE EXCELLENT SEASON

Won Eleven of Fifteen Games Played Under Lowe

BRILLIANT VIRGINIA TRIP

Made 114 Runs Against 60 for Opponents—Several Players Picked

Early in March when the call was sent out for candidates for the Freshman baseball team, there were a large number to report. To observers it appeared that there was very little promising material and the old-timers were very dubious as to the success that the team would meet with. Coach Runt Lowe took in hand the material that he had and molded it into a machine that won 11 out of the 15 games played and who were runners-up for the state championship.

In the first game of the season, the Tar Babies showed unexpected strength by defeating Mars Hill by the overwhelming score of 11-3. The boys pounded the ball to all corners of the lot and Mackie made his debut on the hillcock by twirling an excellent game. In the next two games the Little Tar Heels had little trouble in defeating Weaver College and the Davidson Wild Kittens. However, they met their Waterloo when they met Coach Caddell's Wake Forest Frosh team. Mackie pitched a creditable game but was given poor support by his team-mates. In the next encounter Coach Earl Holt's Oak Ridge Cadets were vanquished by the fighting Freshman nine. The Duke Red Devils were the next victims, they going down in defeat after an 11-inning struggle. A few days later the Tar Babies journeyed over to Wake Forest with blood in their eyes and with a determination to defeat the Baptist Freshman team. They gave them the fight of their lives but due to infield errors were defeated by a margin of one run, the score being 7-6.

The morale of the team was not weakened by the Wake Forest reverse and the boys went home for the Easter holiday.

SECOND ANNUAL AWARDS NIGHT HELD WITH LARGE AUDIENCE APPLAUDING MANY WINNERS OF COVETED HONORS

Review of the Year Closes College Activities.

MANY AWARDS ARE GIVEN

Athletics, Publications, Studies and Debates Chief Qualifications for Giving Emblems.

DR. CHASE PRESIDES OVER MEET

Bonner Selected Best Athlete—Announcement Made Cup and $500 Will Be Given Ideal Student.

On Thursday night at 8:30 a large crowd assembled in Memorial hall for the second annual awards night. The meeting was presided over by President Chase, who, after making a short speech in which he outlined the origin and purpose of awards night, proceeded to introduce the men whose privilege it was to present the various awards for the past year.

The publications came first on the list. J. M. Saunders, editor of the Tar Heel, read the names of those who had done outstanding work on that paper. They were: J. H. Linberger, H. N. Parker, J. M. Saunders, Harold Seburn, W. B. Pipkin, Lucy Lay, J. T. Madry, G. E. Wilkinson, R. B. Rancey, L. A. Crowell, W. T. Peacock, E. P. Eller.

W. T. Couch, next year's Magazine editor, presented the following list of those who had done the best work during the past term on that publication. They were: Mary C. Henley, Guy Cardwell, Lucy Lay, Telfair Peet, R. K. Fowler, P. N. Olive, and Spencer Murphy.

Editor R. L. Felton of the Buccaneer read the following names of men receiving Buccaneer charms: C. W. Gold, Jr., C. A. McCarty, G. A. Cardwell, Ted Smith, W. B. Vaught, Fred Wright, J. S. Starr, John C. Finley, John-D. Ross, and Fred Simon.

The publications awards were concluded by a list of those distinguishing themselves in Yackety-Yack work. They were: Lucy Lay, Reid Kitchin, W. T. Peacock, E. M. Hedgepeth, T. S. Campen, Kenneth Jones, and C. B. Bishop.

Dr. T. J. Wilson, Jr., then read the list of those who had been added to the ranks of Phi Beta Kappa. The number was unusually large and spoke well for the University's scholastic achievement. Those receiving this honor were W. B. Pipkin, president; H. C. Klingenschmitt, vice-president; Jewel Sink, J. B. Fordham, Mable Couch, R. C. Bullock, J. H. Linberger, J. B. Bullitt, G. A. Cardwell, Mary C. Henley, J. G. Simmons, L. L. Garner, R. T. Pickens, J. F. Cooper, A. K. King, L. E. Watt, J. B. Wahman, R. H. Geddie, George Stephens, C. E. Ray, J. J. Somers, M. L. Murchison, Ludwig Lauerhaus, A. G. Glenn, J. R. Thackston, A. A. Cory, J. S. Lewis, Hampton Davis, C. E. Robinson, G. W. Owens, W. C. Johnson, and R. S. Matthews.

J. M. Saunders, representing the Grail, presented Bobby Wilkins with a cup for having the best scholastic standing of any freshman athlete. He also gave out

COACHING SCHOOL HELD NEXT FALL

Under Direction of Fetzer Brothers And Auspices of University Extension Division.

The fourth annual two weeks intensive coaching school for high school athletic coaches will be held here from August 24 to September 5 under the auspices of the University Extension Division and the Athletic Association of the University.

Messrs. Robert A. Fetzer and W. McK. Fetzer, athletic directors of the University, will be active directors and conduct the school.

The course will be two full weeks, devoted to a study of the theory and the practice of the coaching of high school teams and preparatory school teams in the various branches of athletics. Instruction will be given in the coaching of football, basketball, baseball, track and tennis. The morning hours will be devoted to lectures and discussions, and the afternoon hours will be given over to practical demonstrations of how to coach teams in the various branches of athletics.

Announcement has been made that there will be no charge for tuition in the coaching school, but that a registration fee of $10 will be charged to those who attend. Room rent in one of the University dormitories for the duration of the school will be included in this registration fee.

Many inquiries have already been received concerning the school, and although it is too early to make any definite announcements, the coaching school is expected to be a tremendous success this year and surpass those of previous years. E. R. Rankin, associate director of the extension division, will act as secretary of the coaching school.

G. C. Kelly and L. H. McPherson are in the infirmary with the mumps.

O. G. Thomas is in the infirmary with an infected foot.

SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS JUNE 12

New Dorms and Smith Assigned to Boys—South Will Be Remodeled.

The University summer school will open this year on June 12. The first term will extend from June 12 to July 21, and the second term from July 22 to August 29. Last year 1,474 students were enrolled for the first session and 623 for the second. An even larger number is expected this year.

All the college dormitories except Battle-Vance-Pettigrew, Smith, Carr and South, will be assigned to the women. The first two mentioned will be occupied by the men and South will be undergoing repairs and remodeling for use as the administration building. Carr will be assigned to married couples.

The University of North Carolina summer school was a pioneer in the field, having been established in 1877 by Dr. Kemp P. Battle and called the "Summer Normal." It was suspended after eight years in 1884, during which time it had enrolled 2,480 teachers and students. In 1907 it was revived again, and it has continued to grow and prosper steadily, notwithstanding the war and the fact that other summer schools have since been established in various parts of the state and country.

Prof. N. W. Walker, acting dean of the school of education, will be director of the summer school. In addition to normal courses for teachers, work will be given in the various schools of the University giving regular college credit.
