CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1925

NUMBER 3

University to Hold Its Semi-Centennial Jubilee October 12

NOTED VISITORS

Celebration Will Be Divided Into Three Separate Parts.

COOLIDGE UNABLE TO ATTEND

Occasion Will Cause Nation-Wide Interest Because of Age and Accomplishments of the University.

Chapel Hill will be a mecca of prominent educational leaders from all parts of the country on October 12 when the semi-centennial celebration of the re-opening of the University of North Carolina following the Civil War will be held.

President Chase made a trip to Washington last May to invite President Coolidge to attend and be principal speaker of the occasion.

Senator Simmons had previously made the appointment and accompanied the university official to the White House. President Coolidge indicated that he was in a receptive mood, but did not say the final word.

The celebration will be divided into morning, afternoon, and night exercises. There will be exercises in the morning in Memorial Hall with President Chase presiding, when the principal speakers will deliver addresses and delegates from institutions throughout the country will extend greetings.

Venable Hall, the University's new chemistry building which has recently been completed at a cost of $400,000, will be dedicated in the afternoon.

The three living ex-presidents of the University, George T. Winston, Edwin A. Alderman, and Francis P. Venable, will deliver addresses at the banquet in Swain Hall at night, over which Judge Francis D. Winston, prominent University alumnus, will act as toastmaster.

Noted Educators to Speak

Dr. P. P. Claxton, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, former Tar Heel and former United States Commissioner of Education, will discuss the progress of education in the South in the last fifty years.

More than 75 colleges and universities scattered throughout the country have accepted the invitation to send delegates. Among them will be President Livingstone Farrand, of Cornell University, who will speak for the 26 institutions comprising the Association of American Universities, of which the University of North Carolina is president.

President W. O. Thompson, of Ohio State University, will speak for the National Association of State Universities. President J. A. Chandler, of the College of William and Mary, of Virginia, will bring greetings from the colleges and universities of the South.

Enrollment in Graduate School Largest Ever

According to figures compiled by James Finch Royster, Acting Dean of the Graduate School, more graduate students are enrolled for this term than have ever been listed at this time during any previous year.

On Friday evening at 8:00 P. M. these students will meet with the graduate faculty in the Parish House of the Episcopal church for the organization of the Graduate Club. Dean Royster and President Chase will give short talks. Officers for the club will be elected and light refreshments will be served.

Announcement is made that E. E. Peacock, professor of accounting, was married on August 22nd to Miss Vera Ward, of Lake Junaluska. Miss Ward was Y. W. C. A. secretary at N. C. C. W. last year.

Issue Call For Tennis Prospects

All men interested in varsity tennis are requested to give their names and room number to S. L. Blaylock at 105 Grimes (B) building or to "Hap" Whitaker at Battle 3. Play will start Monday.

This year plans are being made so as to give all who want to try out for places on the team an opportunity. None of the places on the team are definitely fixed, so all men interested in working for a position on the team are asked to get in touch with either of the two above-named men as soon as possible so as to start practice and try-outs for places, if possible, next week.

Y LAUNCHES GET TOGETHER MEET

Three Days Devoted to Speak-Greet-Meet Campaign.

WELCOME TO FRESHMEN

Movement Designed to Encourage Cordiality and Stengthen Spirit.

Better fellowship and closer companionship among the student body, increased cordiality and cooperation, wider acquaintance and warmer friendships—these are the objects that will be aimed at in an intensive campaign to be sponsored by the "Y" Cabinet. Three days of next week, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, have been scheduled for the campaign, and will be devoted to the attempt to have every Carolina man know his neighbor.

The three days of the "Speak-Greet-Meet" campaign will be filled with interesting events, from Wednesday morning until Friday night. Smokers, pep meetings, and get-together gatherings of all kinds will be held. The program is being worked out in detail, and the program committee promises many interesting features and surprises.

To the members of the Freshman Class, the Friendship Campaign will come as a direct and whole-hearted effort on the part of the old men to extend a cordial welcome to Carolina. The new men will be invited to shake hands and get acquainted, to become a vital part of the great brotherhood of Carolina men.

At one time last year it was suggested that the spirit of the University was on the decline; but the immediate and vigorous response which this suggestion elicited was ample proof, had any been needed, of its falsity. It is not, however, on the day of the game or on the athletic field alone that college spirit counts.

On the walks of the campus, in class-buildings, in the dormitories, the friendly spirit of college fellowship should be manifest. The get-together campaign which the "Y" is sponsoring is one of the best means of encouraging and extending cordiality, and it should furnish at once a proof and a strengthener of Carolina spirit.

INTRAMURAL TAG FOOTBALL GAME ON NEXT MONDAY

Snappier Program Is Promised This Season Than Ever Before.

CAKE RACE FOR OCTOBER

Track Meet May Be Held Also This Fall—Butler and Wahman In Charge.

The Intramural Athletic Department has its plans practically completed to give the students a snappier program this quarter than ever before. These plans include two tag football leagues, the big, annual cake race, and possibly an all-campus track meet.

The season will get under way Monday afternoon when the opening games of tag football will be played. This year, following the plan used last fall, there will be two leagues, a dormitory league and a fraternity league. Last year there were 12 fraternities and 14 dormitories entered in the contest.

Letters have already been sent to the various dormitories and fraternities relative to the league rules and the eligibility of players. The organization of teams is now under way, with the prospect of a number of good teams being put in the field. More teams are expected in the field this year than last.

Last year the tag gridders from New Dorms were champions of the Dormitory League while the Pi Kappa Phi's topped the percentage column among the fraternities. In the play-off for the all-campus championship the Fraternity men were victors. Both of these teams are expected to be strong contenders again this season.

All games will be placed under the supervision of the two official referees: "Red" Routh, fast all-round intramural athlete of two years ago, and "Pinky" Morris, captain of last year's Frosh basketball team. Some time during the latter part of October or the first of November the great, annual cake race will be staged. This is one of the biggest events of the year. As many men may enter as feel like they can make the grade.

The course last year covered approximately three miles. Two hundred and twenty-eight men entered. First place was won by a sophomore, L. N. Byrd, of New Dorms. To the dormitory placing the largest number of men in the winners goes the mammoth cake presented by the Chapel Hill Bakery. All Freshmen who like running and cake are advised not to miss the cake.

The Intramural Department has under consideration a plan to stage an all-University track meet some time during the fall.

ADMISSION OF FORMER MINISTER TO LAW SCHOOL SUBJECT OF COMMENT

"Carolina Admits Radical Minister" is the expression used by several newspapers in calling attention to the fact that Rev. Tom P. Jimison, LaFollette elector in the 1924 presidential campaign and former pastor of the Methodist church of Spencer, had been admitted to the University law school after being refused entrance to Wake Forest College because he was convicted of transporting whiskey in Charlotte last spring.

Jimison, it is stated, was escorted here by Secretary of State W. N. Everett, who presented the case to President Chase under the endorsement of former Governor Cameron Morrison. "Our problem is different from Dr. Potent's," President Chase is reported to have said. "We are running a public institution and any citizen has a right to come here."

Over in the law school Dean Ferson makes the same statement. He declares that no question was raised over the admittance of Jimison here, that he registered as a special student as any other person would do, and that the former minister would receive the same treatment granted other law students in the local school. The only local address given by Jimison, however, was "general delivery."

Jimison was a student at the Wake Forest summer law school, but when he attempted to reenter the Baptist institution this fall as a regular student he found the faculty in arms and heated argument over his entrance. Wake Forest had already been criticised for allowing the ex-minister there in the summer school; so rather than run the gauntlet

N. C. CLUB HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

Chase, Bradshaw, Koch, and Connor Make Addresses.

YEAR'S WORK OUTLINED

Election of Officers Postponed Until Next Meeting of Club.

The North Carolina Club got off to a good start with its twelfth year Monday night. The meeting was for organization and election of officers, but due to the fact that only a comparatively small number were present, the election of officers was postponed until the next meeting which will be held some time in October.

Dr. Chase told the club that he knew of no group making a more serious and honest effort to ascertain the facts about the state with the view to having the defects remedied. "No man can do anything better for his education than enroll in this group," he said. "Its ideals and intellectual habits are those which we need most in this present day complex and intricate civilization. This club is notable for its spirit of give and take, its atmosphere of tolerant discussion, criticism without enmity, and assimilation of points of view. I have a genuine regard for the administration."

This club is organized for the purpose of studying the social and economic needs and problems of North Carolina. Papers are prepared by undergraduate and graduate students, and these papers, when registered for and accepted by the department, carry college credit and are printed in the club year book at the close of the year. Membership in the club is voluntary and free and the public is always invited. Meetings are held fortnightly on Monday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30.

The following is the program for this year:

- Oct. 5—Can the conflicting interests of the town and county be reconciled?
Oct. 19—The complementary contributions of the town and county.
Nov. 2—The federation of agencies and institutions for local community welfare.
Nov. 16—The rural mind: Is it a myth?
Nov. 30—Race co-operation for town and country advancement.
Dec. 14—Town and countryside under one local government.
Jan. 11—Mercantile service relations between town and country.
Jan. 25—The local market problem.
Feb. 8—The problem of community tenancy.
Feb. 22—Should the consolidated school be located in the country or in the town or village?
Mar. 8—A community program for the school.
Mar. 22—A community program for the church.
Apr. 19—A community program for the bank.
May 3—Rural use of town service.

CALLS FOR LAST YEAR'S BAND MEN

Pres. Fordham Writes to Last Year's Band.

TRAINED MEN NEEDED

Says a Good Band Is Now Indispensable At Many Occasions.

President Fordham, of the Student body, in an open letter to last year's band men, asked for experienced men so as to form a backbone to this year's band. Last year's aggregation proved itself a great asset to the University at games and on all occasions when large numbers gathered together. He urges that the men go out for the band and keep it up to the high standard of last year, since the need is just as great now as then. The letter follows:

To the members of last year's band—Due to the fine work of the leader and the individual men U. N. C. has developed a band in the past two years of which we can well be proud. The contribution that the band has made to campus life has been a marked one and I certainly hope that the band this year will do equally as well.

The old men are the backbone of the organization and a great deal depends on your co-operation if we are to have a good band this year. So, if it is in your power to do so, stick by the new leader and keep up the good work. Carolina men are proud of their band. A good band is almost invaluable at many of the big occasions in campus life and you know that it is no little job to build up an entirely new band each year. Don't forget—the Wake Forest game is only a few days off!

J. B. FORDHAM
Pres. of the Student Body.

FRESHMAN TEAM BEGINS PRACTICE

Coaches Lowe and Pritchard Expect Good Season.

SCHEDULE IS ATTRACTIVE

Squad of 110 Contains Many Good Prospects.

With the initial practice during the latter part of last week, prospects are unusually bright for one of the best Freshman football teams in the history of the University. Coaches Lowe and Pritchard had on hand at the first practice something like 110 men, among whom were many former high and prep school stars.

Coach Pritchard had the following to say when he was interviewed by a TAR HEEL reporter: "At the present time it is very hard to tell much about the strength of the team as only light practice has been indulged in so far. It is apparent, however, that the team will have plenty of weight. Scrimmaging will start next week and then we can tell more about what the real strength of the team is going to be."

Some of the outstanding men on the squad are: Swartz and Ford, of Charlotte, who were mentioned for All-Southern high school center and half-back, respectively; Beam, Furches, and Grigg, who played on Shelby's Western championship team last year; Deadmon, of Spencer; Shuler and Hanes, of Salisbury; Lassiter, Howard, and Thomas, of Woodberry Forest; Marginoff, who will probably be the biggest man in North Carolina football this year, and Brown, from Charleston, S. C.; Roy Williams, of Hendersonville; Satterfield and Hackney, from Durham; and Kelly, from Bingham Military Institute.

Charles T. Woolen, graduate manager of athletics, has arranged the most attractive and elaborate schedule that the freshmen have ever had. The season opens here with the University of South Carolina Frosh on October 17, and closes on Armistice Day with the Tar Babies playing the University of Florida first-year men at Lakeland, Fla. The entire schedule is as follows:

- October 17—South Carolina Frosh at Chapel Hill.
October 24—Maryland Frosh at Chapel Hill.
October 31—Virginia Frosh at Charlottesville.
November 7—N. C. State Frosh at Raleigh.
November 11—Florida Frosh at Lakeland, Fla.

Mr. C. O. Kewster, Secretary of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce will meet with the Mecklenburg County Club at 9 o'clock Thursday night in the Parish rooms of the Episcopal church. All students from Mecklenburg county are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

SECRET PRACTICE NOW BEING HELD

Fetzers Work Football Team Behind Closed Gates.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED

Special Bleachers Being Erected to Accommodate Baptist Supporters.

Coaches Bob and Bill Fetzer barred the gates to Emerson field and initiated the first secret practice of the year on Tuesday afternoon. That event marked the beginning of the final drive in preparation for receiving the Baptists on the "Hill" Saturday afternoon. With the men in fine physical condition the coaches are concentrating on the plans of attack and are driving the men until dusk settles over the field.

Special bleachers are being erected on the opposite side of the field from the stadium to accommodate the overflow of the crowds that are expected to swarm Chapel Hill to see the game, which will be the only game of any importance in the state on that date. The State College-Richmond University game and the Elon-King College game, which were scheduled for Saturday have been moved up to Friday to avoid a conflict with the game here. The entire State College team will probably witness the Carolina-Wake Forest encounter.

BOTANY DEPARTMENT STAFF MAKES CHANGES

There are two changes in the teaching staff of the Botany Department for this year.

Mr. John Couch, who holds a National Research fellowship, will be away for the year, and Mr. William Harvey West of Lincoln, Nebraska, will take his place. Mr. Paul Patterson, teaching fellow, is filling the place of Mr. J. V. Harvey.
