

Tar Heels Move to Raleigh Today for Clash With Tech

WELL MATCHED

Carolínians Seem to Have Edge On State Collegians.

BONNER AND DEVIN BOTH OUT
Hillians Have Won Four of Six Games Since Renewal of Athletic Relations in 1916.

The Tar Heels will meet the Techmen this afternoon on Riddick Field in what promises to be one of the most closely fought contests of the season.

The team ran out on Hanes Field at two minutes before three last Saturday afternoon, and after running out on the field they ran and ran, and then ran some more, over and around the Blue Devils, running up a total mileage of umpty-ump miles; and in the process of their journeys certain players wearing Carolina colors crossed the Duke goal line five times, which with some fine toe-work by George Sparrow gave Carolina a 41 to 0 win over the Methodists. This victory did more than just adding one game more or less to the Tar Heels' record for the season. It restored the waning confidence of the University students and alumni, and now the team faces the remainder of its schedule with a united following behind it.

The team returned to the "Hill" jubilant over its success, but it did not become intoxicated with the "dope" that spilled out over the West Durham field when the Tar Heel backs busted the "dope pot" with their hard drives through and around the Blue Devil line. The Fetzers do not encourage over-confidence in their men, and they started driving the squad as hard on Monday as if they had lost the Saturday's encounter. The coaches know and the team knows that it will not be Duke that they face in their next contest.

The N. C. State Wolfpack will furnish plenty of opposition for the Fetzerites when the Tar Heels and Techmen meet on Riddick Field at Raleigh this afternoon in the seventh annual contest between the two state-supported institutions since the renewal of athletic relations in 1919.

The Carolina outfit will go into the contest with the edge on the Techmen as far as past record goes. Of the six games gone before the Hillians have won four, while the Wolfpack has won two.

The Tar Heels won the 1919 contest by the score of 13 to 12 when Grady Pritchard blocked a kick and covered it for a touchdown, but the State College outfit pulled the next two contests out of the fire by scores of 13 to 3 and 7 to 0. In 1920 "Runt" Lowe's drop-

DI FAVORS WEARING OF FRESHMAN INSIGNIA

Condemns Recent Paragraphics in Tar Heel on Athletics—Meeting Shows More Than Usual Pep.

The Dialectic Senate last Saturday night went on record as approving the proposition offered the freshmen whereby they would wear some class insignia and also as condemning the recent paragraphics in the Tar Heel in regard to athletics here.

Senator L. B. Kennett spoke in favor of the first resolution and was answered by Senators Byron Glenn and George Stephens for the negative. Kennett argued that if the freshmen were required to wear some kind of insignia, they would know their classmates better and a better class spirit would be shown. Stronger class spirit, he pointed out, would be a step toward stronger school spirit.

Senator Stephens for the negative called attention to the fact that a movement is now on to encourage members of the three upper classes to wear buttons and not allow the freshmen to wear insignia of any kind. This, he thought, would cause upperclassmen not wearing the buttons to be embarrassed by being mistaken for freshmen and would also give the twenty-niners something to look forward to besides the joy of using the paddle on next year's crop of first year men.

Those speaking in favor of the second resolution were: Senators Byron Glenn, George Stephens, L. B. Kennett and J. O. Bell, Jr. The negative was upheld by Senator W. T. Alexander and others. The affirmative argued that the criticism came at an inopportune moment, and hurt the morale of the team. They brought out that Wake Forest, once considered as a team played by Carolina to give our team

Students Get Holiday Today

The University, according to its usual custom, will give a holiday today for the big annual Carolina-N. C. State Game. This brief respite from studies lasts one day and no longer. Strict probation will be the lot of any student who misses any class, laboratory or chapel period on the day immediately before or after the game.

The Registrar has announced that no excuses will be granted through his office.

CAKE RACE OPENS HARRIER SEASON

Annual Cake Race Comes On October 30 This Year.

HEAVY TRACK SCHEDULE

Varsity and Freshman Teams Will Meet Stiff Opposition.

The cross-country and fall track season will be ushered in by the annual All-University Cross-Country Run, or "Cake Race" which will take place this year on Friday afternoon, October 30. This big hill-and-dale race has become a fixture on the Intra-mural Athletic Department's fall program each year, and it furnishes some good training for the varsity and freshman cross-country teams which open their season immediately following the big Intra-mural event.

The track manager has announced the schedules for the varsity and freshman cross-country teams this year, and the Tar Heel and Tar Baby harriers are in for some stiff opposition before the close of the season which comes about the first of December. The teams from all of the major colleges in the state will be met during November.

The first of the season is barely a month away, and men starting now have time to get in shape for the first meet of the season. The cross-country runners do not get a letter now, but it is possible that it may be so recognized in another year or two. Men starting now will be in line for recognition then, and a man starting in his freshman year will have more chance than men who wait till that time to begin their work.

All men who desire to try for places on the varsity or first year teams are requested to report to Coach M. D. Ranson at the stadium on Monday and Tuesday afternoons of next week between four and six o'clock.

NEW MASCOT WILL GO TO RALEIGH WITH TEAM

Will be First Appearance of the Successor to Rameses III at a Football Game.

The student body moves on to Raleigh today with plenty of pep and vim after attending the pep meeting in front of the post office last night. Carolina students have received many praises about the manner in which they cheered and yelled at the Duke game. This showed that the student body will be right behind the Tar Heels today when they trot out on Riddick Field to meet the State College Wolf Pack.

The team will be accompanied by Rameses IV, the newly acquired mascot that was given by Dan Burns, of Asheboro, former law student here. The Charlotte Observer, through its sport editor, Eddie Briets, offered the student body a South Down ram, but the one offered by the Asheboro man had already been accepted.

The new ram mascot will doubtlessly add much spirit to the cheering with his initial appearance at a football game. It is hoped that as many students as possible will go on the special train which leaves here this morning at 7 o'clock and returns tonight at midnight. Students will form a procession this morning in Raleigh and parade down Fayetteville street, the procession being led by Rameses.

The student body and supporters of Carolina are urged to sit on the south side of Riddick Field this afternoon. The south side has wooden bleachers. On to Raleigh for a Tar Heel victory.

DEDICATION RITES TAKE UP SECOND PART PROGRAM

Tribute Paid to Dr. Venable by the Speakers At Dedication.

GREETED WITH APPLAUSE

Venable Makes Short Talk In Appreciation of Honor Conferred Upon Him.

A crowd of about 250 people were gathered in the main lecture room of Venable Hall Monday afternoon for the dedication services, the second part of the day's program.

Dr. J. M. Bell, head of the department of chemistry, presided and introduced the first speaker, Edgar Fahs Smith, former Provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Smith, and each of the other speakers, spoke from manuscript, none of them speaking for more than twenty minutes. "Chemistry," he speaker said, "is the noblest of all the sciences. It is not a fountain shut up—a book closed—but something human. The other sciences lean upon it. In every employment its influence is felt."

Dr. Smith traced the history of the science in this country from its beginning in old Virginia in 1608 when the first manufactory was established in America for the making of plate glass. He mentioned the great importance of the indigo industry in early North Carolina history after it was discovered in 1719 to be indigenous to the Carolinas.

In closing the speaker said that he was happy that the name attached to this building was that of his old friend, Francis P. Venable, whose works in experimental chemistry were known far and wide.

Boltwood Speaks

Bertram Borden Boltwood, Professor of Chemistry at Yale University, was the second speaker on the program. "The wide field of science" he said, "may be divided into two general fields, descrip-

RUSHING SEASON TO BE SHORTENED

New System Endorsed by Intra-Fraternity Council.

LIMITED TO FIVE WEEKS

Bids Will Be Filed and Notices Sent to Freshmen.

By BROWN SHEPHERD

Since the hostility, the bitterness, and the cut-throat methods displayed during the crisis of the past rushing season, it has been obvious that a revised system of rushing is inevitable. There were defects and problems contained in the old system that could not be controlled. In numerous instances bewildered freshmen were put to a veritable third degree at the last minute. A climax fraught with entreaties, threats and tears changed the mind of many a confused boy, who, had he been given a few hours of peace in which to consider things from all angles, would probably, in many instances, have formed a different decision. The old system was too lengthy for intensive rushing; and yet it was practically necessary that the different fraternities maintain a system of intensive rushing if they were to get a satisfactory quota of freshmen.

The Inter-fraternity Council was confronted with two alternatives—a longer rushing season or a shorter system. After much consideration and debate, it was agreed that a shorter season would be more popular with all parties concerned. Friday evening a resolution was passed by the faculty, and endorsed Monday night by the Inter-fraternity Council, whereas the season of rushing is to be limited to five weeks. On Monday, November 2nd, a period of silence will begin in which no fraternity man will be permitted to consult with a freshman. This period of silence will last for two days. All bids will be filed by the respective fraternities with Dean Bradshaw and Professor Graham, two neutral members of the faculty. Notices will be sent to freshmen who receive bids to present these members of the faculty with a paper designating which bid they prefer first, which second, etc. Each freshman will be assigned to the fraternity whose bid ranks first, in accordance with the stated preferences of the freshman, among those received. By this method a freshman will never be able to ascertain definitely which fraternities sent him bids and which did not. Bid day is set for Wednesday, Nov. 4th.

It seems that the Inter-fraternity Council, in devising this new system of rushing, has simplified things to such a point that all former defects and weaknesses are to a great extent eliminated.

JUBILEE ENDS WITH BANQUET IN SWAIN HALL

Banquet in Evening for Visiting Delegates, Alumni, and Faculty.

NOTABLE SPEAKERS HERE

Governor McLean and Former President Alderman Principal Speakers During Program.

The Semi-Centennial celebration of the reopening of the University of North Carolina came to a fitting climax in a blaze of oratory on Monday night at the final banquet in Swain Hall.

Francis Donnell Winston, graduate of 1879, presided at the final official event of the celebration. In his opening address of the evening Toastmaster Winston first asked everyone to move his seat as near as possible to the central table in order to hear the speeches of three ex-presidents—George T. Winston (1891-1896), Edwin A. Alderman (1896-1900), and Francis P. Venable (1900-1914), Angus Wilton McLean, Governor of North Carolina and President ex-officio of the Board of Trustees of the University, Harry W. Chase, president of the University, Edward A. Birge, former president of the University of Wisconsin, J. S. Manning, state senator and former Justice of the Superior Court and State Attorney General, and W. P. Stacy, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

Judge Winston Toastmaster

Toastmaster Winston said in part in his opening talk:

"Fond and tender recollections sweep over me here at this final exercise of these impressive ceremonies of the reopening of the University. But I merely wanted to be a guest, not one of the speakers. I did not seek or desire to have any responsible duties to perform. I am impressed by those duties. There was once an unhappy married couple down in the county where I live who in one of their conversations explained my

TAR BABIES ARE GETTING IN FORM

Season Opens With Game With Maryland Frosh.

LIGHT, FAST BACKFIELD

Ends Average 190 Pounds, But Are Fast and Shifty.

With only two days left in which to practice, Coaches "Runt" Lowe and Grady Pritchard are working the Freshman football team hard each afternoon in preparation for the opening game of the season, which will be played with the Maryland Freshmen on Emerson Field Saturday afternoon. Little is known here of the record of the Marylanders but it is said that they have one of the strongest teams in the history of the institution.

The Tar Babies will open the season Saturday with one of the heaviest lines ever to represent a first year team in this state. The average weight of the Carolina forwards is approximately 190 pounds. But with this great amount of avoirdupois the men are not slow; they are fast and shifty on their feet. Although the backfield is comparatively light, it is one of the fastest ones ever seen in these parts.

It is very seldom that a team can boast of two fast and shifty ends who average 190 pounds, but this is exactly what the Tar Babies can do. Beam, of Shelby, tips the scales at 195, while Roy Williams, of Hendersonville, weighs 185. Then there is Marginoff, the big tackle from Charleston, S. C., who weighs 240 pounds, and Eby, a stocky lad from New Bern, who weighs 223. With such men as these in the line, the Carolina Frosh should be able to hold their own against any team that they run up against.

The coaches have not yet decided who they will start in the opening game, but in all probability the men will come out of the following: Ends, Beam, Williams, Ellison, and Sandlin; tackles, Marginoff, Howard, Eby, and Burton; guards, Schuler, Evans, and Gregory; centers, Schwartz, Grigg, and Deadmon; quarter-back, Lassiter and Furches; half-backs, Ford, Hackney, and Satterfield; full backs, Kelly, Wilson and Holland.

Dean D. deWitt Carroll of the School of commerce left Chapel Hill last Tuesday morning to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law Mr. Joseph Meadows. Mr. Meadows was one of the leading merchants of Mispah, N. C.

Celebration Marks One of Carolina's Greatest Events

Season Tickets On Sale Friday

Season tickets for the program of concerts to be given here this fall may be secured at Mr. Weaver's office in 14 New West or at his home tomorrow and Saturday.

Members of the Glee Club will be given tickets to sell also. The appearance of internationally known artists will enhance the value of this year's tickets. Reserved seats for the whole season will cost four dollars, a reduction of twenty percent on the original price. Season tickets of general admission, with a reduction of ten percent on the ordinary price, will cost $3.60. Single reserved seats will sell at $1.25 each for every concert. Single general admission cards may be bought for one dollar before each of the four entertainments.

CAROLINA SCRUBS WIN FROM W. L. I. 7 TO 0

Gresham Scores Touchdown From 60-Yard Pass—Long Forward Passes of Sapp Feature.

While the varsity team was running up its record score against Duke in Durham last Saturday afternoon, another Tar Heel aggregation was raising the Blue and White to a victorious place on another field. The scrub team invaded Wilmington, and came back with a 7 to 0 win over the Wilmington Light Infantry outfit.

The scrubs had the W. L. I. team completely outclassed in every phase of the game, both on the defense and offense. Gresham scored the touchdown when he received a sixty-yard pass from Sapp and galloped over the Infantrymen's goal line.

The feature of the contest was the long forward passes of Sapp. The scrubs punted only twice during the game. The rest of the time when a punt was needed Wilkins called Sapp back, and the sorrel-topped Winston-Salem lad would toss the ball a distance of sixty or more yards over the goal line, which was just as good as a punt over the last line.

Buccaneer Moves Into New Office on Third Floor

The Carolina Buccaneer, infant member of the Carolina Publications Union, has moved from THE TAR HEEL office to one of its own on the third floor of New West.

The Buccaneer sailed into the Tar Heel office last spring when its Franklin street office was demolished. The comic asked to be allowed to spend three days in the newspaper's domains while it was securing new quarters.

However, once in the office, the comic staff showed an extreme reluctance to leaving. After numerous attempts to get them to sail on, a member of the Tar Heel board found it necessary to approach Mr. Woolen and secure an office for the humorous magazine. The Buccaneer officials claimed that they had been searching for a place ever since last spring but were unable to make any headway. The Tar Heel man found new quarters for them within fifteen minutes after starting his search. All of which may go to show the superiority of newspapermen over their less fortunate brothers.

The TAR HEEL is glad to announce in behalf of the Buccaneer that the funny paper's office is now on the third floor of New West. While the comic folks are enjoying in their new and commodious quarters, the TAR HEEL is considering holding a series of thanksgiving meetings as a result of their deliverance.

INFIRMARY HAS ONLY SIX PATIENTS AT PRESENT

The Infirmary has only six patients at the present time. J. D. West has recovered from a slight indisposition. E. A. Evans is suffering from a cold. R. M. Covington will soon be out after treatment for bilious attack. S. A. Griffin, Jr., is confined with a sprained ankle. C. E. Simon had his tonsils removed last week, and is still suffering from the effect. L. A. Perry was taken with a chill Sunday, and was removed to the Infirmary immediately.

USES WHOLE DAY

Morning, Afternoon, and Night Programs Are Held.

MANY DELEGATES ATTENDING

Ninety-six Representatives Attend Semi-Centennial Celebration Commemorating Reopening.

The much heralded Semi-Centennial celebration of the University commemorating the re-opening following the Civil War was held Monday, the program being divided into three parts. The morning program was held in Memorial Hall, where the principal addresses, greetings, and responses were made.

In the afternoon, the dedication of Venable Hall took place. Professor James Munsie Bell presided. Addresses were made by Edgar Fahs Smith, former Provost of the University of Pennsylvania; Charles Holmes Herty, President of the Association of Chemical Manufacturers, and Bertram Borden Boltwood, Professor of Chemistry, Yale University.

The evening program was held in Swain Hall with a dinner, Francis Donnell Winston, of the class of 1879, presiding. Brief talks were made by the three living ex-presidents to the University, the President of the Alumni Association, and others connected with the history and development of the University.

The great event has come and gone. The University officials in charge of arrangements made elaborate plans in order to make the event a great success. And they failed not. The jubilee was one of the most eminent affairs ever attempted by the oldest state university in the country.

The Morning Program

The morning program began at 11:30 o'clock with the formation of the academic procession in front of Alumni building. Professor A. H. Patterson was grand marshal. The procession was divided into six divisions. The first division was composed of the student body of the University, the different classes and professional schools forming separately in the division. O. G. Thomas was marshal. In the second division were the alumni of the University, except the matriculates of 1875. R. E. Little, 1915, marshalled. The faculty of the University made up the third division, and Professor J. F. Royster acted as marshal. In the fourth division were the trustees of the University, marshalled by Professor J. M. Bell. The Supreme court and State officials made up the fifth division. Professor A. C. McIntosh was the marshal. The sixth division was composed of delegates of universities and colleges in the order of the seniority of their organization. Professor D. D. Carroll acted as marshal. The seventh division was composed of the matriculates of 1875, and marshaled by Professor N. W. Walker. The participants in the morning program made up the eighth division, which was marshaled by Professor J. G. De Rouillac Hamilton.

The procession was led by the band to the steps of Memorial Hall where the first division started forming a double

PHI DOWNS QUESTION OF FRESHMAN DORMS

Heated Discussion Results in Vote of 14 to 13—Cole Trial Taken up But Discussion Postponed.

That the freshman class should not be segregated from the rest of the student body and placed in separate dormitories is the decision reached by the Phi assembly in regular session Saturday night. The vote, however, was not decisive, being 14 to 13 against the proposed bill.

The question at first hinged around the question of having all the University classes and members of the professional schools, with the exception of those living in fraternity houses, housed as a group in a separate dormitory or dormitory section; but the bill soon centered on the freshman class and was revised to include that class only.

Heated discussion marked the reception of the measure, and, as the final vote shows, the house was about evenly divided over the matter. The fact of the matter was that the opponents of the bill were having things much their way until Speaker Couch left the rostrum in defence of the bill.

The Cole trial also came up for considerable discussion, but was carried over to the next meeting when it seemed that nobody knew much except general facts about the case.
