

VARSITY MEETS MERCER OUTFIT IN TODAY'S BILL

Carolina Is Slated to Defeat Georgia Baptists Today by Healthy Margin.

TWENTY-FOUR GO ON TRIP Victory Today By Tar Heels Would Make Fourth Consecutive Win This Season.

The Tar Heels will swing into action this afternoon in the Mercer University stadium at Macon, Georgia. And when the Georgia Baptists retire from the field at the close of the final quarter they will probably know that they have been up against a real team. The name of a Baptist is to the Tar Heel football squad what a red flag is to an angry bull, and the good brethren of Georgia may expect to pay this afternoon for the defeat suffered by the Tar Heels at the hands of Wake Forest earlier in the season.

All this week the Hillians have been prepping for their invasion of the enemy territory, and Coach Bob Fetzer carried with him when he left Thursday night an even two dozen well trained grid warriors, all hungry for Baptist meat.

While the game itself will have no effect on the ranking of the Tar Heels in the Southern Conference standing it will have a great deal of influence on the morale of the team. Another win today will run the Carolina string to four consecutive successes, and the team will return to their home stamping grounds with a new drive and fight to carry against the Old Liners of the University of Maryland next Saturday.

Just what the line-up of the Tar Heels to start today's contest will be is unknown, but the Carolina mentors have been using practically the same first string outfit in practice that took the field against the State.

OXFORD OVERWHELMED BY SCORE OF 25 TO 0

Heavy Chapel Hill High Takes One-Sided Affair from Visitors On Emerson Field Yesterday.

Chapel Hill walked over the lighter Oxford team in a rather one-sided and listless exhibition on Emerson Field yesterday afternoon, winning the contest by the final count of 25 to 0. Oxford was unable to register a first down during the entire game while the local team plowed through the line of the visitors almost at will, scoring a touchdown in every quarter.

The outcome was never in doubt from the opening kickoff. Both teams fumbled frequently, but Chapel Hill played a much more consistent game in which their superior weight was an important factor. Only hard fighting of the visitors prevented a severer drubbing and the game was marred by frequent delays due to the large number of knock-outs. J. Hunt, Oxford quarterback, was knocked out during the last quarter and had not regained consciousness when the game ended.

The entire Chapel Hill team showed good form, but Pendergraft made the prettiest run of the game in the second quarter when, after fumbling a punt, he recovered the ball and raced forty-five yards through the entire Oxford team for a touchdown. Evans starred for Oxford, standing out as a tower of strength in the defensive work of his team.

Line-up:

Chapel Hill		Oxford
Perry	L.E.	Remsen
Williams	L.T.	Hunt, R.
Hogan	L.G.	Lanier
Sturdlant	C.	Cooper
Fowler	R.G.	Watkins
Williams, J.	R.T.	Evans
Bennett	R.E.	Cannady
Pendergraft	Q.B.	Hunt, J.
Paulsen	R.H.B.	Niles
Durham	L.H.B.	Hall
Teer	F.B.	Walters

Score by quarters:

Oxford	0-0-0-0	0
Chapel Hill	6-6-7-6	25

Recently nearly all colleges in the state had representatives here to inspect Venable Hall, the most up-to-date chemistry building in the South. Several people came from other states also for the same purpose. There were representatives here from A. & E., Guilford College, Elon, N. C. C. W., High Point College, Davidson, and Duke.

VANDERBILT TRIP BUSTS DR. CHASE

Arrives in Durham with Only Thirty Cents.

WAS IN TRAIN WRECK Didn't Have Jitney Fare Home—Mrs. Chase Saves the Day.

Pulling into the Durham station Sunday night with only thirty cents in his pocket was an experience that nearly caused President Chase a good deal of embarrassment. The fare from Durham to Chapel Hill totals half a dollar and the head of the University lacked twenty cents of having the necessary credentials for a ride on the bus.

Dr. Chase attended the semi-centennial celebration held at Vanderbilt University last week commemorating the founding of the famous Tennessee school fifty years ago. On his return trip the train on which the President was riding was wrecked between Nashville and Atlanta. The engine and a mail coach turned over and one or two of the day coaches left the rails. Dr. Chase was riding in a pullman and although shaken up, escaped uninjured. A woman in the same coach was thrown down so violently that she suffered a broken leg.

The wreck necessitated a lay over in Atlanta and the resulting unexpected night's stay in a hotel there reduced the President's pocketbook to a slim state. Sunday night it is said that Dr. Chase counted his money and found that he must either go hungry or leave the pullman in favor of a day coach. The President elected to eat and to take a chance on the forward cars staying on the tracks. He ate and had thirty cents left.

Upon arriving in Durham he found Mrs. Chase with their warm sedan awaiting his return. Consequently the President was not forced to plead with a jitney driver to give him a lift or to bring him home, three-fifths down and the remaining two-fifths on the installment plan.

DEUTSCHE VEREIN HAS FIRST MEET OF YEAR

Club Is Composed of Officers and Students of University Who Are Interested in German.

The Deutsche Verein club met Thursday night in the Parish House of the Chapel of the Cross. An unusually large crowd was present at the meeting which was the first of the year. Several matters of importance were discussed, and plans for the general program of the year were made. German songs and discourse made up an important part of the meeting.

The Deutsche Verein is composed of officers and students of the University who are interested in German. The officers of the Verein are: Dr. E. C. Metzenthin, director; H. H. Serunian, president; T. Dick Slagle, vice-president; H. Parker, Jr. secretary; J. B. Bullitt, treasurer; M. Grossman, advertiser. All students and officers of the University who are interested in German are urged to attend the meetings which will be announced in the Tar Heel and on the bulletin boards.

MAY SECURE SPECIAL TRAIN TO RICHMOND

Plans Being Made for a Special to Carry Students to Carolina-V. M. I. Game November 7.

Effort is now being made to provide a special train for the V. M. I.-Carolina game to be held at Richmond on November 7th.

Present plans provide for the train's leaving Pittsboro street on the campus at 10:30 or 11:00 o'clock Friday night, November 6th. It will arrive in Richmond at 7:00 o'clock Saturday morning. The special will start back at midnight Saturday, and will arrive at Chapel Hill about 7:00 the next morning. Thus a full day will be allowed in Richmond and until 12:00 Saturday night to catch a date or a dance.

The round trip fare will be $6.77. This is about the price for one way from Durham. Pullmans will be provided for those who consider this luxury a necessity. The tourist Pullman fare will be $3.00, and the standard pullman $6.00. In order to obtain these rates it will be necessary to have at least 125 passengers.

It is something of a tradition for Carolina men to go to Richmond to see the V. M. I. game and a chance to get this special rate will undoubtedly attract a great many. Formerly freights have been the chief means of conveyance but pullmans bid fair to take their place this year.

James Bullitt has gone to Philadelphia, Pa., to attend a national convention of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity.

NAVY BAND GAVE CONCERTS TWICE HERE THURSDAY

Evening Concert is Especially Pleasing to Fair-Sized Audience.

PROGRAM VERY VARIED The "Star Spangled Banner" As Closing Number Brings Audience To Its Feet.

The second concert by the United States Navy Band took place in Memorial Hall Thursday evening at 8:30. It was given before a fair size audience and ranged from operatic overtures to modern fox trots. Numerous encores and extras were played in addition to the ten selections listed on the program.

The concert opened with The Lure of Alaska, a spirited march composed by Lieutenant Benter, the director of the organization, and dedicated by him to the late President Warren G. Harding. Then followed that most wonderful triumph of Wagner's genius, the overture to Tannhauser. Opening with the solemn, stately strains of the Pilgrim's Chorus, it merged gradually into an elusive melody the theme of which was carried by the wood-wind section and then, accelerando, plunged with a crash of brasses into a whirling, passionate Bacchanale. The climax came with the grandioso repetition of the sombre Pilgrim's Chorus forcefully stressed and embellished with a running clarinet figure that cut through it like brilliant stabs of light. The ballet music from Delibes' Coppelia was an airy fragment of expression done with the dextrous grace which has won leadership in a difficult field for its talented composer. As an interpolated selection, a medley of old time waltzes was offered including such favorites of our fathers as The Sidewalks of New York, Little Annie Rooney and After the Ball. For the purpose of contrast this was followed by the familiar fox-trot Oh Katherine, zestfully orchestrated and featuring some rapid clowning on the drums. Stabat Mater is an ancient religious poem based on the crucifixion and set to music by Rossini. The Inflammatus, probably the best known part of the opus, was rendered by Mr. DeGiorgio as a cornet solo. As encores Mr. DeGiorgio gave The Rosary and O Sole Mio. Pantomime, a suite de ballet by Lacombe of the whimsical French school, moved from one delicate caprice to another with a suggestion of poetic gallantry.

After an intermission of ten minutes the program was continued with Liszt's Pesther Carnival, the second of his renowned Hungarian Rhapsodies. This was a descriptive poem written in harmonies and interpreting an allegrezza the myriad activities of a Magyar festival. The perennially popular Beautiful Danube waltz in which Strauss captured the heart of Vienna and imprisoned it in bars of music was given with great success. Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark made a pleasing flute and clarinet duet although the prolonged running of scales became a little tiresome. A selection from the varied works of the late Victor Herbert was well received. Reminiscences of the Plantation, supposedly an example of American Folk Music, proved to be only a stereotyped melange of Diele and Old Black Joe. As such it was distinctly disappointing. The Star Spangled Banner brought the performance to a close.

The first rendition of the afternoon was El Capitan by Sousa, El Capitan Sousa's light operas and like the other (Continued on page four)

Tar Babies Play South Carolina Biddies Today

The Freshman football team will play its second game of the season on Emerson field this afternoon when it lines up in action against the strong eleven representing the freshmen of the University of South Carolina. Last year the Tar Babies emerged victorious after a hard-fought contest. Both teams appear to be much stronger this year and the contest should be very interesting and hard fought from beginning to end. The proteges of "Runt" Lowe and Grady pritchard hope to repeat their performance of last season by defeating the South Carolinians.

After seeing the Tar Babies in action against the Maryland Frosh last Saturday it is quite evident that the team is much stronger than it was last year. The 190-pound line was practically impenetrable and it is going to take some

GRADUATE CLUB DELAYS MEETING

Postponed On Account of Coming Frost Lecture.

TO MEET NOVEMBER 6 Krumplemann and Potter Will Make Talks to Club.

The meeting of the graduate club which was to be held Friday night, October 30, will be held Friday night, November 6, on account of the lecture which will be both business and social and will be held at the Episcopal Parish House.

At this time a very radical departure from former programs will be announced, and the matter of the graduate faculty meeting with the Club will be discussed.

The policy of generalized programs has been adopted by the program committee, of which Mr. R. R. Potter is chairman. The other members of the committee are Miss Katherine Jocher, Mr. S. C. Ogburn, and Mr. Sterling Studemire. The general policy adopted by this committee will result in group discussions of problems of interest to graduate students in all departments. A program of unusual interest has been provided for the meeting of November 6th.

Mr. Krumplemann, of the German department, who has been studying in Germany for nearly two years, will discuss interesting phases of student life in that country at the present time. Mr. Krumplemann has had many very interesting experiences that will be very instructive to anyone who hears him.

Mr. R. R. Potter will also tell of the ease of student travel in Europe during a summer vacation. Mr. Potter spent last summer in Europe and had some highly enjoyable experiences that will be of benefit to students interested in travelling or studying in Europe during a summer.

In addition to the above subjects, there will be other important discussions and all members of the Graduate club are urged to be present.

FROSH TEAM OUT TO COP SOUTHERN TITLE

Brilliant Start Gives Tar Babies Hope Virginia, State, and Florida Will Be Met on Foreign Soil.

With a whirlwind beginning, the Carolina Freshmen bid fair to cop the laurels among the yearlings in the Southern Intercollegiate Conference this year.

The Carolina Yearlings have swept aside everything in the way, defeating Sanford High School by a large score and the strong Maryland aggregation 21-0. Their score over the Marylanders seems more impressive when the record of the Old Line freshmen is considered. The frosh eleven of Maryland defeated the Washington and Lee first year team, and the Little Generals had previously downed the Virginia freshmen by a good score. These comparative defeats give the Carolina Tar Babies an edge on the first year outfits in Virginia which are usually strong contenders in the conference. What the other first year teams on the Tar Heel schedule have on deck is not known, for they are just beginning to swing into action, but Coach Lowe will send a team on the field which will give them trouble.

South Carolina comes to Chapel Hill today to give battle to the Carolina Yearlings. This will be their last home game, for then on successive week-ends the Carolina yearlings meet Virginia and State on foreign fields. Armistice Day will find them at Lakeland, Fla., fighting the 'Gators.

Limit of 300 Placed on German Club Membership

IS RE-ORGANIZED

Old Members Must Pay Annual Fee by November 30.

FEE COVERS ALL DANCES Initiation Fee Placed At $10.00—Freshmen May Join Next Spring For Finals.

Without a dissenting vote the German Club Thursday adopted the proposed plan for re-organization of the Club and provided for the limiting of membership to three hundred. A committee composed of Herman McIver, Hill Yarrow, Henry Johnston, George Stevens and Jim McClamrock was appointed to draw up a constitution, embodying the newly adopted plan, for submission to the Club at its meeting on November 12.

WILL AGAIN GIVE VAUGHT'S FARCE Popular Demand Causes Representation of Play.

Try-Outs for Parts to be Held Tuesday, In Memorial Hall.

Through popular demand, both on the campus and throughout the state, the Wigwe and Masque will produce again this fall Bill Vaught's musical comedy, "Yes By Gosh!" on December 3rd.

This production was pronounced by all who saw it to be the best by far of all previous Wigwe and Masque performances, and the Tar Heel and state paper ranked it as among the highest of all college productions. "Yes By Gosh!" consisted of four scenes, a company of forty, and twenty original musical numbers, everything the product of Carolina men. The new production of "Yes By Gosh!" will have several changes for the betterment of the show. The cast will remain the same except for a few parts left open by men who have left school. Notable among the new additions to the cast will be the highly acclaimed Norman Gordon, an old Wigwe and Masque star, who will take the leading role played by Theodore Fitch last year. Since leaving school Norman has studied extensively in New York and has been in the Shubert operetta "The Love Song." He will return to Carolina long enough to appear here with the Wigwe and Masque again.

Due to extensive statewide acclaim the Wigwe and Masque will take this performance on the road during the holidays right after Christmas, to visit the more prominent towns in the state. Arrangements have already been made in Winston-Salem and Greensboro. In those towns the Wigwe and Masque company will be entertained in the homes of alumni; the audience will attend the performance in masquerade costume, and the show will be followed by a big masked ball for the company and audience.

Tryouts for the parts to be filled in "Yes By Gosh!" will be held in Memorial Hall on Tuesday at 3 P. M. Those wishing to try for principle roles should see Bill Vaught beforehand for information.

COURSE FOR CAKE RACE ALREADY MARKED OFF

Route Laid Off By Ranson and Bell Is Approximately Two Miles In Length.

The course for the annual cake race to be held October 30 has at last been marked off. Due to paving operations the course used in previous races had to be shifted and the new route was laid out Tuesday afternoon by "Varsity" Bell and Dale Ranson.

The contestants will start at the west end of Emerson field and run its entire length, going out the east gate. Turning to the left they will follow the road which meanders by the tin can to Pittsboro road. From this point they will follow the Pittsboro road to its point of juncture with Pittsboro street. Doubling back along Pittsboro street to Cameron and along Cameron Avenue to the Carolina Inn they will turn into Pittsboro road again. From there the course will follow the road to the place where they originally entered it, lead back by the tin can, and re-enter Emerson field by the east gate.

As a sort of grand finale to the race the runners will circle the track once after coming back into the stadium. Arrows have already been posted all along the course so that all those would-be cake winners training for the race may practice running the course itself. From the starting point back to Emerson field is approximately 1.7 miles, making the whole course total practically two miles.

SECOND GRAIL DANCE TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Crowded Conditions Which Hampered First Not Expected—Vigilance Committee to Keep Sharp Eye.

Following the Carolina-South Carolina freshman game here this afternoon the second Grail dance of the season will be held in Bynum gymnasium.

The overcrowded conditions that hindered the first dance, which followed the Wake Forest game, are not expected. The usual number of girls from Raleigh and Durham, together with a smattering of visiting girls from other sections of the state, will be in attendance. The boys will be for the most part students of the University. Drinking and smoking at the dance will be strictly watched by members of the vigilance committee. Action, prompt and vigorous, will be taken against any student under the influence of liquor.

Hal Kemp's orchestra, which has received such favorable comment in this vicinity, will again furnish the music. The affair should be a joyous and typical Grail club dance.
