PARAGRAPHS

At last! A workable German Club plan.

The proposed re-organization of the club went through without a dissenting vote. That's strange. Usually there's a conscientious objector to be found for everything.

The Episcopal Church has voted to relieve women of the embarrassment caused by the promise "to obey" formerly found in the marriage ceremony. With it went the bridegroom's worldly-goods-endowing clause. But that doesn't affect the alimony situation.

Says our favorite campus cynic, "Every time I attempt to get a perfectly good check cashed, I'm firmly convinced before I succeed that I'm a flasher, a forger, and that I'll certainly end up in the electric chair."

Dr. Archibald Henderson has done the Charleston. But he must surrender priority honors to Josephus Daniels. A recent issue of Life had the ex-secretary Charlestoning down the South Carolina's main street.

A certain fraternity man is reported to have boasted that "his fraternity didn't intend to be any more honest during the Period of Silence than the rest of the fraternities." If such a spirit of mutual distrust is to be rampant, the period might as well be called off.

The library is soon to take over Pefson Hall. When that institution receives its new home, we hope that the University will turn the old Pharmacy Building over to Dr. Coker. If we may judge from external appearances, the building could be easily converted into a greenhouse, and such an innovation here would not be without decided benefits.

WHEREIN THE PUBLICATIONS UNION IS AT FAULT

Daily the TAR HEEL editorial office is besieged by complainants who, quite within their rights, are pretty heartily wrought up over the failure of the Publications Union to deliver to them the publications for which they have paid.

The trouble is completely beyond the control or jurisdiction of the editor of the TAR HEEL or his assistants. The editor is frank to say, although he is supposed to be fairly well on the inside of the publications circle, that if he were not getting the very paper that he edits, he would be just as helpless in placing his grievance before the proper authority as the greenest freshman on the hill.

A pretty sad commentary isn't it? The reason, however, is wrapped up in a very simple cause. There isn't any "proper authority". Whether the Publications Union is asleep on the job, or whether it is willfully dodging an unpleasant situation, we do not know. We believe, however, that the trouble is due to a chronic case of sleeping sickness that has hung over the Union since the middle of September.

The Publications Union has no efficient circulation system. Its system of distribution is wonderfully well oiled. But there is a vast difference between circulation and distribution troubles. An intelligent circulation policy is necessary for efficient distribution.

There are three publications that are distributed at least once a month. Why doesn't the Union put these various publications under the same circulatory system and place some responsible head over it? Then there would be a "proper authority" and students could let their troubles be known and rest assured that they would be promptly remedied.

SIX NEW PLAYS READ AT AUTHORS' MEETING

Plays Selected for Presentation Will Be Announced Friday-Try-Outs for Casts Follow.

The following plays were read at the author's reading of new plays, which was held in the Playmaker Theatre building last Monday night: Old Fools, by Walter Kelly of Sanford, N. C.; The Dry Tree, by Dual Greene of Chapel Hill, N. C.; Yon Side O' Sunk Creek, by Martha Boswell of Brevard, N. C.; Carolina Moonlight, by William McMillan of New York City; The Floating Island, by Bertha Dickinson of New Bern, N. C.; and The End of the Road, by Carrie Benson of Georgia.

The Play Committee, composed of Horace Williams, Mrs. Grant, A. C. Howell, J. F. Royster, A. H. Patterson and Louis Graves, is to decide which plays will be presented at the Dedication Performance. At present the committee is withholding its decision until the completion of a new play by Paul Greene, which is now unfinished and under consideration.

Announcement of the committee's decision will be made in the Playmaker Theatre Friday at 4:30 o'clock, at which time try outs for the casts will be held. All who wish to try out for parts must register at the Playmaker offices in the Theatre prior to the try outs.

FRESHMAN ATHLETIC RULES ARE EXPLAINED

Scholarship Eligibility Requirements Based on Record During Previous Quarter and Present Standing.

During the past several years there has been a great deal of misunderstanding in golf the rules of eligibility of the men who participate in freshman athletics. This misunderstanding has worked a hardship on both the individual and the team, and it would be well for every man who expects to go out for freshman basketball, baseball or track to inform himself as to these rules. An understanding of them now will save much disappointment and embarrassment when he reports for practice.

The main features of the regulations are as follows:

- 1. A freshman is defined as "a student who enters the institution from a high school or preparatory school." 2. Any freshman who has previously played on a freshman team at any other institution of collegiate standing is not eligible to participate in the same sport at this institution. 3. No student can participate in freshman or intercollegiate athletics who has not passed satisfactory examinations upon at least two full courses or their equivalent in his last quarter of attendance. 4. No student who is found delinquent in a majority of his studies by the faculty during the quarter in which he is playing shall be permitted to engage in intercollegiate contests (varsity or freshman). 5. No man is eligible to participate in athletics at the University who has not registered for at least three full courses during the quarter in which he participates. 6. No student who has received any remuneration for athletic activities, either directly or indirectly, or any promise of such remuneration, shall be eligible to play on varsity or freshman athletic teams.

The attention of all freshmen is called to items 3, 4 and 5 above, giving the scholastic requirements as to eligibility. Anyone intending to go out for any freshman team must pass at least two full courses during the preceding quarter, and at the same time have passing grades on his work during the quarter in which he plays, during which quarter he must have registered for at least three full courses.

Every man who intends to go out for freshman athletics should be sure to get a copy of the regulations governing athletics at the University and study them thoroughly. These regulations are printed on pages 71-74 of the University catalogue for 1924-25, a copy of which can be secured at the office of the Alumni Secretary in Room 13, Alumni building. Any person wishing further information should call on some member of the coaching staff, or on some varsity athlete and get the matter straightened out.

PERSON HALL TO SOON BE USED BY LIBRARY

Tentative Plans Being Made Only so Far—Pharmacy Department is Vacating This Week.

The Library has as yet made no definite plans for using the old pharmacy building, which is being vacated by the Pharmacy Department this week. It is thought that some renovation will be necessary, but it is certain that as few changes as possible will be made to put the old building in a suitable condition for its occupancy by the Library. The building will most probably be used for storage purposes. Books which are now stored in the main library building will be moved into this smaller addition. At present the library facilities are not at all adequate, and access to this building will be a much-needed addition. A very strong floor is necessary to support the weight of books in storage, and for this reason it will be necessary to reinforce the floors of the old pharmacy building. Definite plans for moving into the addition have not yet been formulated by library officials, but a definite decision about this matter will likely be made in the near future.

MRS. BRADSHAW BREAKS ARM IN FALL FROM PIAZZA

Mrs. F. F. Bradshaw while descending the steps from her piazza last week stepped on a small pebble causing her to fall and break her arm.

The physician attending her pronounces the break an impacted fracture, which will take from six to eight weeks to mend. The patient is suffering very much pain.

GRIMES WINS GAME WITH FOUR MEN PLAYING

Tuesday of last week Grimes Dormitory with four men won an intramural tag football game from Smith Dormitory which had the regular quota of players. The score was 7 to 6. Zimmerman made the touchdown for Grimes. Davis, of Grimes, was the most consistent ground gainer. The line for Grimes consisted of the center and one end; the backfield was made up of a quarter and a combination half and full back.

OPEN FORUM

Disrespect for National Anthem. A great many University and Chapel Hill citizens, being also American citizens, deeply resent the reflection cast upon this community by those muckers who were so utterly lacking in decent respect for our National Anthem as to rush from Memorial Hall during its rendition by the Navy Band Thursday evening. It would be a pleasure to me to meet this group and express my personal contempt for their action. F. D. BELL

The Editor, THE TAR HEEL, My Dear Sir:

In your edition of last Thursday, under the caption of "Campus Tragedy Now Impending," my relationship with Mr. Charles Frederick Bluske, Inventor of Power-Generating Apparatus, Authority on the Law of Applied Power, Teacher of Christianity by Authority of Spirit-Power, Inventor, Song-Writer, Natural Born Writer, and True Light Shining Into Darkness, has been so misrepresented and I have been so maligned and calumniated that I feel it necessary to protest.

It is true that at one time in my life, when I was very young and thought I was extremely wise, I might have laughed and joked about such things. I remember very clearly now how the good people used to tell me that I would come out of that all right when I got older; and they were right. I did not then, but now I realize the seriousness of it. It has been, in great measure, due to the writings of Mr. Bluske which he has kindly sent me that I have overcome the doubts which assailed me. There is nothing I can say which could show the extent of my indebtedness to him.

It is true that I put the writings of Mr. Bluske in The Pasture, but could one find a more beautiful setting than the wide green fields in which to present such perfect examples of logic and incomparable rhetoric? The Pasture is the richest and most fertile part of the whole magazine; the writings of Mr. Bluske just naturally belong there.

And I am accused of laughing. Well, why shouldn't I laugh? Isn't laughter always a sign of health and joyousness? And who could help laughing at the way in which Mr. Bluske makes monkeys of the scientists?

Your most humble servant, THE EDITOR, The Carolina Magazine.

GLEE CLUB THINS OUT NUMBER OF CANDIDATES

Forty Men Will Make Trips, While Sixty Will Give Number of Local Concerts.

Two elimination trials were held by the officers of the Glee Club last week. The following men have survived the rigid tests given to date:

First Tenors: W. M. K. Bender, G. Y. Harris, C. A. Lee, C. U. Lawrence, J. W. McClamroch, T. H. Mackie, Crawford Nance, T. B. Ogburn, C. W. Robinson, Jr., C. H. Sikes, Sam F. Vance, Jr., Marvin E. Woodall.

Second Tenors: James R. Baker, C. L. Beard, M. C. Berry, J. L. Cantwell, Jr., J. E. Cobb, W. J. Cooke, Jr., C. Cone, Jack Crawson, J. R. De Jaurnette, Eugene H. Erwin, E. B. Glenn, Jr., R. H. Harris, Robert M. Hardes, D. M. Holshouser, J. H. Johnson, J. W. King, B. K. Manning, Lloyd Moore, James B. Neal, H. L. Richardson, M. O. Smathers, Henry Weil, R. W. Wilkins.

First Basses: J. F. Clemenger, Robert Poltz, Jr., Henry H. Briggs, Frank Myers, Jr., C. F. MacRae, Jr., J. R. Bobbitt, Jr., E. M. Hedgcock, J. D. McConnell, W. M. Shaffner, Jr., Bob Gladstone, R. H. Cain, C. C. Branch, Jr., Lewis Watson, Paul N. Olive, W. C. Wilson, Harry Pond, Jr., David D. Carroll, E. L. Curlee, J. P. Latta, M. W. Breman, K. R. Jones, Hal Kemp, Karl W. Selden, J. S. Trotter.

Second Basses: J. S. Adams, Jr., H. M. Brown, Algernon L. Butler, H. K. Dowell, C. H. Elmore, Paul S. Foster, H. L. Hall, C. T. Hawkins, Brandon Holland, Alex. Laney, C. F. Lipscomb, Jr., M. H. King, R. H. Rowe, E. B. Smith, Julian Starr, Jr., George M. Stephens, George N. Toms, H. W. White, T. M. Whitener, B. W. Williams.

This large list is by no means the final index to the membership of the club. It is probable that many candidates will be dropped from the list of active members before the end of this week. However, the men whose names are omitted from these periodic reports are only requested not to attend regular practices. Many of them will doubtless be used as alternates later.

Although probably no more than forty men will make the trips, the larger club of approximately sixty members will give many good concerts. The present schedule for the Glee Club indicates a brilliant season for this year.

Mr. Grumman of the Extension Department of the University has just returned from Smithfield and Four Oaks, where he organized classes. The classes, on the subject of North Carolina, Economic and Social, will be conducted by Mr. S. H. Hobbs, Jr., of the Department of Rural Economics.

TRI-WEEKLY LESSONS IN ENGLISH

By W. L. GORDON

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

1. Don't say "the accident was due to carelessness." While not incorrect, "owing to carelessness" is preferable. 2. Don't say "we shall smell of the roses." Omit "of."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

1. forbade. Pronounce the "a" as in "bad," not as in "bay." 2. food. Pronounced the "oo" as in "school," not as in "look."

OFTEN MISSPELLED

1. indictment. 2. sacrilegious. Note the "le," not "li."

SYNONYMS

1. hopeful, confident, sanguine, buoyant, exultant, elated. 2. angry, enraged, irate, incensed.

WORD STUDY

1. "Use a word three times and it is yours." Today's words: FECUNDITY; fruitfulness, prolificness, fertility of invention. "Fecundity is an asset to any writer." INSTIGATION; the act of urging or inciting, particularly to evil. "We know that he was led astray at your instigation."

FRESHMAN FRIENDSHIP COUNCIL HAS MEETING

The Freshman Friendship Council held an interesting meeting Tuesday night with much lively discussion. Especially interesting was the discussion of cursing led by Joe Bobbitt and taken part in by the members.

Plans were discussed for publishing quarterly a paper dealing with Council activities and suggestions for Hi-Y clubs over the state. A committee was appointed to make investigations about the possibility of such an undertaking and to report their suggestions about it at the next meeting. The publication planned would considerably advertise the "Y" because it would be distributed over the state to the various Hi-Y clubs. Also, the information that it would bear would greatly assist the Hi-Y clubs in their work, and help to make the meetings more profitable.

A Halloween party is planned for next week by the members of the Council together with the co-eds. Several of the members were appointed to work out a program for the party which will be given in the "Y."

TENNIS TOURNAMENT BEGINS ON TUESDAY

Entrants Must Register at Intramural Department by Monday—Any Number of Men Can Enter.

The annual fall term all-University tennis doubles tournament will begin Tuesday, October 27. All entrants must register with the Intramural Department in Alumni Building by tonight.

There will be no limit placed upon the number of men who can enter this tournament, but each team entered must represent some fraternity, dormitory, church or other organized body on the campus. These organizations may enter as many teams as they have men. The tournament will be held according to the regular elimination plan, its duration and the number of matches to be played in one afternoon being dependent upon the number of entrants.

The eligibility rules specify only that to enter a man must be a student of the University, must be without varsity experience, and must represent some organization. Teams will be formed by agreement of any two men to play together as representatives of some organized body. The schedule for the opening round of matches to be played will be posted in the "Y" by Saturday morning.

Last year this tournament was won by Routh and Duncan, representing Carr dormitory. They were faced in the final match for the all-University championship by Reitzel and Stephenson, entered from the Episcopal church. The 1924 tournament opened with a field of 20 teams.

Officials of the "Y" have complained of the practice of some members of the student body in removing the publications from the reading rooms.

These periodicals are not the property of any individual but belong to the student body and are placed there for their use. Their usefulness is weakened when one is removed or torn up.

The "Y" earnestly desires that all persons using these magazines handle them with the same care as if they were their own personal property and not take them from the building.
