Yes, the ordinary pen has greater value conversationally—usually good for a half-hour's cursing any time. Don't throw it away—but the Parker point is—have a Duofold on hand to write with.

NORTH CAROLINA CLUB TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT

The last meeting of the North Carolina club for the fall quarter will be held Monday night in 110 Saunders Hall.

The subject for the discussion will be "Town and Countryside under one Local Government". The paper will be read by a graduated student of the University and everyone is urged to be present.

GLEE CLUB OFFICIALS ARE IN SESSION HERE

Representatives from State Glee Clubs Gather Here to Discuss Plans for Organization.

This afternoon representatives of the North Carolina Glee Clubs will hold a convention to decide upon plans for the organization of a state association.

The purpose of the formation of this state body is to establish closer and more systematic relations among all North Carolina Glee Clubs and to promote a larger organization composed of all southern associations. The work of a consolidated group will include an annual state glee club contest. This meet will be held in accordance with rules passed by delegates of the various clubs in session. These regulations will bind all member organizations more closely and effectively.

Plans are being made to form the North Carolina chapter along the lines of the Intercollegiate Musical Corporation of New York City. This Northern body forms state associations throughout the country and holds the annual National Musical Contest in New York. Correspondence by Mr. Weaver with this corporation has evolved a promising plan for North Carolina's organization.

Present plans of the representatives of clubs indicate that an effort will be made to establish a firm governmental body among glee clubs in this state. Afterwards a thorough organization of all state associations in the South will be attempted.

Following are the names of officials who are meeting here today in Mr. Weaver's office:

Paul J. Weaver, director University Glee club; D. G. Wilson, president of the Davidson club; C. James Velle, director at Elon; Professor W. K. Kone, director of Wake Forest; Dean William H. Wannamaker, Duke club director; P. W. Price, State College director; Ludwig Lauerhass, president of the University Glee club; and Edwin P. Brown, Guilford director.

SCIENCE CLUB HOLDS MEETING AND ELECTION

West Explains Blood Transfusion—Miller and West Are Elected Club Officers for Next Quarter.

The U. N. C. Science Club held one of its best meetings of the year in Davie Hall last Thursday night. J. D. West, of the Medical department of the University, read a well prepared paper on "The Fusion of Blood," and the regular election of officers for the next term was held.

In the beginning, Mr. West classified the blood into the four divisions of the serum and cells. In order to have successful fusion of blood, the blood of the patient and the one who is giving the blood must belong to the same group, both serum and cells. If the fusion takes place, the one to whom the blood is transferred will have a high temperature for a short period, then the blood pressure will become normal, and the temperature will, likewise be normal. If the blood does not fuse, the patient will have a high temperature, and death will soon follow.

The main principles, which Mr. West demonstrated very clearly, was to show how the fusion of blood can take place when the blood is transferred from one person to another and the conditions necessary for a successful fusion.

The officers elected for next quarter are C. E. Miller, president; and J. D. West, secretary. A committee was appointed to arrange the program for each meeting.

Woman's Literary Fraternity Initiates

Chi Delta Phi, national woman's literary fraternity, announces the initiation of Lucile Heath, Elizabeth Calvert, Mary Ellason, Sallie Scott, Ruth Hatch, Mabel Evans, and Margaret Ellis.

The Chapter established in the University last June had its beginning in a writer's club. The charter members of the chapter were Lucy Lay, Pearl Setser, Frances Gray, Irma Green, Naomi Alexander, Caro Mae Green, Eunice Ervin, and Mary Cal Henley. The purposes of the chapter are to encourage and give formal recognition of literary interest and ability among the women students in the University. The chapter makes its debut as an active writing group in the January issue of the Carolina Magazine that contains only the work of members of Chi Delta Phi.

There was an important meeting of the High Point Club on Thursday night at the "Y." Officers were elected and plans made for the Christmas vacation. About 15 were present. The following officers were elected: President, Roy Montgomery; secretary and treasurer, Ed Smith. Wines and drinks were served, while jokes and general conversation took up the remainder of the meeting.

Bradshaw Represents University at Meeting

At the meeting of the National Interfraternity Council in New York City from Thanksgiving night to the following Wednesday the University was represented by Dean Bradshaw. Mr. Bradshaw went in his official capacity as Dean of Men, the council having extended invitations to attend the meeting to the Deans of all universities at which there are fraternal organizations. Among those present, beside Mr. Bradshaw, were the Deans of Georgia Tech, University of Illinois, University of Minnesota, University of Michigan, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the University of Missouri.
