POLITICS NOT CONFINED HERE.

Out at the University of Kansas, there is a campus squabble now in full swing with student politics at the bone of contention. The two party system, if we interpret rightly, is used in the mid-western school and apparently is not serving with any great amount of satisfaction.

Evidently the party system has little advantage over the "frame-up" system used at Carolina. At Kansas, it's a case of one party against the other; a Carolina it's a case of the survival of the fittest frame-up and the devil take the hind-most.

In discussing conditions at Kansas, the daily college paper has to say:

"From the undercurrent of opinion that is already sweeping across the campus, it appears that politics are going to receive even less student support at the spring election than they have ever received before."

"If the present fraternity alignment could be scrapped, and the voters of both classes be allowed to vote according to their own estimates of the candidates merit, the result would be to the advantage of the fraternities as well as the unorganized. Some fraternities are beginning to see this fact and the movement will probably start there. The result of the withdrawal of a few prominent fraternities from the political mess would be the splitting up of one party and the death of the other from lack of any excuse for existence.

"Under a fair system of election, any fraternity could point with far more pride than it now can, to its office holding members as having been chosen from the Hill at large rather than by a fraternity league of picnicians.

"The final results would be far reaching. The vote would be wide and representative, and offices would mean more as the result of a desire to fulfill the obligations of an officer to the people who elected him—in this case the students at large.

"And one glorious benefit would be student support of the first student council to be elected by the students of the Hill as a body.

"The time is coming. Why not at once?"
"The time is coming"—what time, may we ask, utopia or the judgment day? Every student on every campus admits that a system of open and based-on-merit election is the only fair method. Still, we find the ambitious attempting to trick the deservng out of his just due; and we find as a result that the deservng must build his own fences in order to keep the wolves away.

"The time is coming" at Kansas, we are informed. Eureka. When it does, may the Kansans get on the air and inform the collegiate world what time brought them."

High Point Club Holds Meeting Thursday Night

The meeting of the High Point Club which was postponed from last week was held Thursday evening in the club room of the "V." About twenty members were present and outdid themselves in making the meeting a jolly one. No regular program was carried out, but each member was free to contribute whatever he might wish to the entertainment of the occasion. Several brief speeches were heard and much enjoyed. The feature of the evening was the number of excellent jokes which were told by the various members. Pretty nearly the whole crowd got into the thing as the meeting progressed, and such a number of good anecdotes were told as would make the Buccaneer editor's heart expand with joy and anticipation. Delicious refreshments consisting of hot cocoa and cakes were served.

STEM FORFEITS GAME TO CHAPEL HILL LADS

Stem high school, because of the unwarranted rushing onto the court during a play by the visiting principal to protest one of the decisions of the referee, Billy Harvell, of Carolina, forfeited the first championship basketball game of the series to Chapel Hill Thursday night, 2-0.

Mr. Jernigan, the principal of the Stem school, protested the decisions of the referee throughout the first three quarters. With only five minutes to play one of the men on the Stem team fouled one of the forwards of the local quint; the action by the Stem player was noticed and commented on by practically all of the spectators. Mr. Johnson rushed onto the court and seized Harvell by the shoulder and commenced most vehemently to protest his decision, and frequently his angry speech was interpolated with disgusting profanity; he was finally forced off of the court only after being threatened with arrest. After Mr. Jernigan's removal, Harvell, the referee, announced the standing score of 13-13 null and void and gave the game on a forfeit to the local boys.

The game was the roughest that has ever been witnessed on the court of the high school Tin Can. Every other move by the Stem lads was an open attempt to foul, trip, injure, or interfere with the much smaller local lads. And in this contest of strength and weight the Stem team completely outclassed the Chapel Hillians. Six fouls were called on both teams.

Friendship Council Plans To Give Elaborate Banquet

At one of the best attended and most enthusiastic meetings of the year, the Freshman Friendship Council at its last meeting decided that before the end of the present quarter it would have an elaborate banquet at the Carolina Inn for members and their lady friends.

Committees appointed by the president, Bob Harper, for working up the banquet are as follows:

Program and Menu—Joe Bobbitt, Sam Pettus, and Frank O'Neal; Finance—Nelson Woodson, John Norwood, and "Pete" Wilson; Favors—Jack Davis, Howard Jones, and Wadell Gholson.

Walter Spearman was elected temporary secretary for the rest of the quarter, since the secretary, Lincoln Kesler, is not able to attend the meetings due to basketball practice.

Nelson Howard was by a vote of the Council elected a new member.

METZENTHIN LECTURES TO DEUTSCHER VEREIN

Professor Metzenthin gave a very interesting lecture, "From Bremen to the Rhine in August, 1925," to the Deutscher Verein, at the Episcopal parish house, Thursday evening.

Professor Metzenthin's lecture, which was illustrated with slides of the beautiful spring aspect of the rugged country found between Bremen and the Rhine, on account of the rapid flight of time had to be discontinued after a little over an hour's time. The second part of Professor Metzenthin's extremely entertaining and instructive lecture, which goes into detail about his return trip from the Rhine by the way of Berlin, will be given some time in the near future. Stereoscopic views including pictures taken during last summer of the mountains, cities, rivers, and monasteries will be used to adequately illustrate the points of interest brought out by Professor Metzenthin. Explanations and details of the unusual costumes and works of art found in the Dresden Art Gallery will be given. Berlin architecture will also come into a large share of Professor Metzenthin's address.

A. I. E. E. Has Election Of Officers At Smoker

The regular semi-annual election of officers of the U. N. C. branch of the A. I. E. E. was held at a smoker in the new freshman laboratory in Phillips hall. Lewis M. Murchison, of Raleigh, was elected chairman for the remainder of the year. The following other men were elected: Glenn M. Wilson, of Dallas, N. C., vice-chairman; David M. Holshouser, of Rockwell, N. C., secretary; and F. A. Urhston, of Waterbury, Connecticut, treasurer.

After the election, an excellent assortment of sandwiches, cakes, fruit, dopes and smokes was enjoyed by the members of the society. Dr. G. M. Braune and Professors Lear, Trimble, Smiley and Ray favored the gathering with talks of a strictly non-technical nature. Along toward the larger hours of the night, after the ox was lead back into the stall, the smoker broke up. All the budding engineers declared the meeting to be one of the best yet.

CAROLINA NOW THIRD IN CONFERENCE STANDING

Defeat At Hands of Maryland Relegates Tar Heels To Third Place—Kentucky Leads Column.

When the Tar Heels fell before the Old Liners for the one-point defeat, Kentucky took the leadership in the Southern Conference standing. The Kentucky Colonels jumped into the lead in the Southern conference basketball race this week with a record of five victories and no defeats, and with an unblemished esutcheon.

The one defeat at the hands of Maryland shot Carolina down to the third position, with five wins and one reverse. "Ole Miss," whose steady record of climbing since the first defeat at the hands of L. S. U. at the beginning of the season, has been creating comment, now rests with the coronal and garlands in second place. The eight victories that they have in the right side of the column have all been won since the first mishap with L. S. U., and which gives "Ole Miss" eight consecutive wins.

Tulane, of whom we hear many sinister rumors as to what will happen about the end of the month, has nine victories and seven defeats to her credit. Although they stand at tenth place in the percentage column, they have the unique record of having scored the most points against opponents and at the same time have more points scored on them than any other conference quint.

With the Atlanta tournament not quite two weeks in the future, the standing of the conference teams is being watched with unprecedented interest, since only 16 of the 22 southern conference teams will be permitted to compete in the Atlanta meet.

The standing:

Kentucky	5	0	182	114	1.000

GLEE CLUB SINGS TO FILLED HOUSE

N.C.C.W. College Enthusiastically Receives Local Club in Greensboro.

WEAVER DOES DIRECTING
Difficult to Get Boys to Return After Girls' Entertainment.

The Glee Club returned Saturday night from a concert which had been given in Greensboro at N. C. C. W.

The program Saturday evening was enthusiastically received. The front seats in the college auditorium, which was filled long before the concert was to start, were taken an hour before the curtain was raised. The program of the Club has been made even more attractive than that of last quarter by the addition of several new songs, arranged by the director, Mr. Weaver. In every instance these new songs scored a hit with the large audience. A unique feature of the program was the singing of a prologue, a folk song of the Netherlands, before the curtains were drawn.

Although two soloists were to have featured the program, William Breach, Salem College music director and baritone, notified the officers that he was suddenly called to New York and would be unable to sing with the Club. The baritone part of one of these, The Plainsman's Song by Bliss, was sung by Mr. Weaver. It was given a tremendous ovation, calling for encores. The other soloist, T. Smith McCorkle, head of the violin department here, presented several violin selections which delighted the appreciative audience. Among these were Serenade Espagnol, Chaminade-Kreisler, Mazurka by Music, and Hejre Kati by Hubay. Mrs. McCorkle accompanied these numbers most ably at the piano, where she assisted throughout the concert.

"Saxy" Dowell, who will lead the club in contests requiring a student director, so skillfully conducted several songs that he was the object of many indistinct but pleasing exclamations from admirers on the first few rows. However the morale of the audience was not long entrusted to the amateur director.

Mr. and Mrs. McCorkle, whose work was highly praised by those present, will accompany the Club to Pinehurst, where a concert is to be given Thursday evening. From Pinehurst the men will go to Salem College, Winston-Salem. This year's schedule calls for the most notable trips ever undertaken by a University organization. The definite itinerary will be announced soon.

Before the concert the songsters were royally entertained by the N. C. C. W. girls, who invited the entire Club to dinner. So hospitable were representatives of the college that difficulty was experienced in finding a quorum willing to return to the Hill. Those men who made the trip are:

First Tenor: C. V. Lawrence; J. R. McClamrock, Jr., T. B. Ogburn, Jr., J. M. Parsley, Sam Vance, Mackie.
Second Tenor: L. C. Beard, D. M. Holdshouser, J. H. Johnson, J. B. Neal, Henry Weil, M. O. Smathers, R. W. Wilkins, Caesar Cone.
First Bass: C. C. Branch, Jr., D. D. Carroll, R. W. Gladstone, Ludwig Lauerhass, Cameron MacRae, Ernest H. Young, E. L. Curlee, Frank Myers.
Second Bass: "Saxy" Dowell, C. T. Hawkins, Alex. Laney, C. T. Lipscomb, Jr., E. B. Smith, J. N. Starr, G. M. Stephens, Jr.

VIRGINIA IS DEFEATED BY GRAPPLERS 25 TO 5

Cavaliers' Only Win Is Fall in 149 Class—Warren Downs Opponent in 18 Seconds.

The Tar Heel matmen handed the University of Virginia grapplers an overwhelming defeat on the mat Friday night at Charlottesville. The Carolina men won six bouts out of seven, taking three on falls and three on time decisions to pile up the winning score of 24 to 5. The Cavalier team registered its only win in the 149-pound division on a fall, won by Captain Peyton, of Virginia, over Leary, the Tar Heel man.

The Carolinians started things off with a bang, taking the first three matches in quick order. Thompson and Molsinger won theirs on falls, while Clements took his on a time decision. Then came the Virginians' lone win by Captain Peyton, followed by three more Tar Heel wrestlers. Taylor and Blankenship took their victories on time, while Ad Warren threw Symington, of Virginia, in exactly 18 seconds.

A summary of the meet by individual matches follows:

125-pound class—Molsinger, Carolina, threw Hinton, Virginia, with an arm lock in 1 minute, 47 seconds.
135-pound class—Clements, Carolina, won over Chapman, Virginia, with 48 seconds' time advantage in extra periods.
145-pound class—Peyton, Virginia, threw Leary, Virginia, with quarter Nelson in 34 seconds of first extra period.

COBB AND SASSCER ADDRESS GEOLOGISTS

The Geology Club held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon in New East building. Two well prepared papers were read by Dr. Cobb and Mr. R. G. Sasser. Dr. Cobb spoke on the "Origin of the Sands on the Coast of North Carolina," and Mr. Sasser gave a paper on the "Paleozoic Strata near Blacksburg, Va."

Dr. Cobb gave a clear and extended description of the sands along the coast and gave his explanation of their origin. He has arrived at the conclusion, supported by strong evidence, that the origin of these sands is purely glacial. One strong point of evidence, Dr. Cobb pointed out, is the fact that the sands along the N. C. coast are almost pure quartz sands. Dr. Cobb has found evidence which seems to show that the sands of the Pacific Coast, also, are glacial in origin, but the fact has not been definitely established.
Mr. Sasser dealt with the paleozoic strata of the section near Blacksburg from Ordovician to Mississippian time. "The rocks in this section are much folded and faulted, with three series of the same formations, each series being slightly different from the others, some formations as much as 1,000 feet in thickness having disappeared between two outcrops and another having appeared in its place.
