THAT'S THE SPIRIT

Featured by a two column headline, the N. C. State Technician tells just how low the library of that institution ranks among a group of fifty recently examined.

The rating of the library doesn't particularly interest us, but the fact that the college realizes the fact is pretty significant. Everywhere we find the booster spirit running wild. Everything is the best. North Carolina leads in the production of cigarettes, et cetera, and everybody crowds and there is mutual agreement that we are in fine state.

Among the Southern colleges, we bet that every one of us is perfectly sure that we are the best. Among college papers, the TAR HEEL included, we find in almost every issue the setting forth of conclusive claims that no other college has an equal. "Hooray for us" is our national unwritten motto.

So it's relieving to find even a professional paper that'll print what's what. And when a college paper comes along and tells the bare truth, hurt though it may, it's time to sit up and take notice.

HOW DO THEY DO IT?

Almost any student who professes to be even a casual observer, knows that Steele Dormitory and Murphy Hall are close neighbors. And almost any student who has rambled in the neighborhood of New West Building knows the marvelous carrying power of certain blatant musical instruments that are still quite famous.

The strange thing about these fangled jazz machines is that they make just as much noise in Steele Dormitory as they do in New West Building.

Steele Dormitory is a mighty sight closer to Murphy Hall than is New West. Consequently when an ambitious student indulges in a siesta with his boon companion of a saxophone, at an early hour of the day, he unfortunately enters into violent competition with the professional department operating in Murphy Hall, just on the other side of the Carboro Limited Mail's spur track.

The spur track doesn't mind the noise, but it is disconcerting to the instructor in charge of a class and what's more, its downright unmerciful to the students who know that examinations always come at the end of each quarter.

It's beyond us to figure out what kind of a man it is that can sit himself down during class hours and pour forth his soul in distorted noises for a whole hour. We can't see through the mental process that enables him to forget his school mates—or that gives him the illusionistic impression that he is seated in the midst of an uninhabited desert isle.

Certainly the paramount obligation incumbent upon every one of us, is to remember that there are others besides ourself. And practicing musicians are no exception to the rule, especially in these open window days that are now upon us.

CHAPEL HILL GIRLS DEFEAT LEAKSVILLE

Take Fourth Championship Game from "Moose" Tenny's Team—Hogan, Walker, and Melver Star.

In the fourth championship game that the local high school girls' sextette have entered so far, with Leaksville, Saturday night in Bynum Gym, the final score stood 30-19 in favor of the Chapel Hill lassies.

"Moose" Tenny's team was conceded to be one of those unbeatable outfits, but the local girls, coached by Miss Atkins, walloped the fighting visitors good. Chapel Hill had previously defeated the strong Garner, Middlebury, and Hillsboro teams, but it was the general opinion that the locals had met their match in the western team.

The game was hard fought throughout—once or twice the visitors led, but the Chapel Hill girls could shoot as well as the Leaksville team, and were just a trifle better in the defensive tactics and passing. Especially good guarding was done by Walker and Melver for the locals; they always managed to snatch the ball from under the visitors' goal and, by long throws, place it in the hands of Chapel Hill's scorers, Hogan and Gooch. Gooch, Chapel Hill's left forward, was a tireless and energetic worker. Hogan, the "petite wonder", her running mate, however, led the scoring with sixteen points. The best Gooch could do, being guarded by a heavy agile girl, was ten points. Moore attracted the most attention for the West-erners, but Smith led her by one point in being the third high scorer.

Line-up and summary: Chapel Hill (30) vs Leaksville (19). Positions: Forward (Hogan, Parker, Gooch, Neville, Melver, Walker), Guard (Smith, I. Hill, C. Hill, Ferrell), Referee: McCann.

A bonus of $5 is given to each teacher in the public schools of Rochester, Minn., as an expense aid in attending education conventions of the State or division. Attendance of all teachers is required unless excused by the superintendent.

KNIGHT ELECTED HEAD EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

Go on Record as Favoring Eight Month's School—Request Funds for Normal Schools.

Dr. Edward W. Knight, professor of education in the University, was elected president of the North Carolina Education Association which closed a three-day session in Raleigh Saturday.

Dr. Knight has just returned from a leave of absence in Denmark where he made an extensive study of educational conditions in that country and other parts of Europe. He was elected to this important office with no opposition.

Practically the only work accomplished by the conference of 600 educators was that it placed itself officially on record as favoring an eight months school term, called for an election to pass on the proposal for an eight months school constitutional amendment, and asked the legislature to provide funds to erect additional normal schools in the state.

The regular meeting of the Geology Club will be held today at 2 p.m. Two geological papers of general interest will be read. All who are interested in geology are invited to attend.

The Deutsche Verein will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the Episcopal Parish House.

Creation of a junior college as a part of the public school system of Washington, D. C., is contemplated in a joint resolution recently introduced in the Senate of the United States. A similar resolution was introduced simultaneously in the House of Representatives.
