CANDIDATES GIVE THEIR PLATFORMS

Five Candidates For President of Student Body Speak.

WEDNESDAY IN CHAPEL

Ballot Boxes Located at Gerrard Hall and New Dorms.

Chapel Exercise Wednesday morning was converted to a scent of rapid fire discussions made by candidates for the office of student body president, outlining their platforms. The five candidates were allotted five or six minutes each to announce their politics regarding student government and other duties they considered theirs in connection with the office.

Fred Parker was first introduced by President Fordham. In his opinion the student council should uphold the welfare of the student body according to the unwritten law as set forth by the traditional Carolina spirit.

S. G. Chappel next speaking, emphasized the important position of student council, which is a culmination of the growth of the University and of progress extended over the middle ages. His conception of student council is not confined to the judiciary duties, he said, but it should also as an advisor setting examples to all. He pledged his support for betterment of student life whether he should win the election or not.

Bob Sides expressed in his speech the Honor system which he said reached to the boundless ends. He announced that he was a strong advocate of the present system. "We are put on our honor just as Adam and Eve," he says.

U. G. "Squatty" Thomas speaking next, expressed himself as favoring a liberal but just treatment of all students. In his opinion and difficult office of student councilman makes it hard to say just what one will do in situations, which are at the disposal of the student council. He favors the golden rule in this matter and says that he will do to all students as he would have himself treated. He promises to do his best by administering justice, fair play, and consideration if elected for the office of student body president.

Jimmie Williams who is now sick in the hospital sent a letter to be read to the student body in which he expressed his conception of the office of student body president and the subsequent of president of the student council. Ted Livingston read the letter, which stated that Mr. Williams had improved in health. The policies of Mr. Williams according to the letter were: that he would keep in touch with the students, give them all a square deal, and play hands off politics. His keynote was malice toward none and charity to all.

Elections for these men and all other officers will be held today. There will be two ballot boxes: one in front of Gerrard Hall and the other in front of New Dorms.

TAR BABY NINE PLAY MARS HILL

"Beef" Roberts' Western Outfit Is Rated High.

GAME HERE TOMORROW

Ingram Will Probably Start Contest For First Year Men.

The Tar Baby baseball nine will play its first game of the season on Emerson field tomorrow afternoon when they line up in action against Mars Hill. The game is expected to be interesting and hard fought from start to finish, and there should be a large crowd on hand to cheer the freshmen on to victory.

The Mars Hill team is coached by "Beef" Roberts, a former Carolina catcher, and in the past several years he has turned out some of the best nines in the western part of the state. Little is known of the strength of the Mars Hill team this year with the exception that they were defeated by the strong Lenoir-Rhyne club by the score of 14-5 in a veritable slugfest.

It is not known who Coach "Runt" Lowe will send to the hillock tomorrow afternoon, but it is highly probable that Ingram will get the assignments. He has been showing up well in practice and last Saturday Coach "Duke" Duncan's men were able to garner only one scratch hit off his delivery in the four innings during which he tolled on the mound. Should Ingram fail to come through against the collegians, Coach Lowe will have in reserve Thomas and Shuler, right-handers, and Baxter, a southpaw.

Fred Beam, former Shelby player, will probably get first call for the catching assignment, with "Steve" Furches being held in reserve. Edison Foard, captain of the Tar Baby football team last fall, will be seen in action at the initial station, while Jessup, a member of Pomona's championship aggregation of three years ago, will probably cavort around the keystone sack. Tom Cox, of Wadesboro, a former Woodberry Forest player, will play shortstop, while

Promises Double Flunking For Walking On The Grass

Dr. Collier Cobb, widely known professor of Geology, has promised a double F to any of his students whom he sees walking on the newly planted strips of grass. It is not known just how seriously the Geologist intends his threat to be taken, but that he is thoroughly out of sympathy with the careless and inconsiderate student was made plain by a recent class lecture.

Much Work Being Done

Under the supervision of Dr. Coker, much work has been done toward beautifying the University campus. Walks have been laid on both sides of Cameron Avenue and grass has been planted extensively over the grounds. Masonry work has greatly improved the cut made by the Avenue through the hill between Carr Dormitory and New East Building. A great amount of filling in has been done on the west side of Old West and in various sunken spots between there and the West Gate. Shrubs have recently been planted in the Old Well court and about Gerrard Hall and the Playmaker Theatre. All over the campus, in fact, extensive operations are under way looking toward the beautification of the University.

Work to Continue

It is understood that "a sum of money has become available" for work on improving the college grounds. Nothing has been made public as to the source or extent of the available funds. It is pretty well accepted that the University has begun work on the campus which is to continue until the grounds are

Roy Williams will probably be the selection for the custodian of the hot corner. If Henry Satterfield had not been injured in the game last Saturday, he would have been playing shortstop, with Cox at third, Williams at second, and the hard-hitting Jessup in the outer pastures.

In left field will be stationed "Buck" Finlator, who is one of the best ball chasers ever seen in these parts. In the center field position will be found Harry Swartz, of Charlotte, who is not only a good fly chaser but who has been clouting the horsehide with great consistency during the past few days in practice. Stone, a former Thomasville player, will probably land the right field berth, as he is a good fielder and a fair hitter.

unkept campus for months to come. Found Everywhere In speaking of the students who for no reason whatever walk on the grass and commit other small acts that infringe on the rights of others, Dr. Cobb stated that no matter where you go, or where you are, you always find a few people of this type. In fact, said he, "They sometime even come on my class".

THE MELTING POT

Having been lured to the port of unexpressed desires, we see, with straining vision, the radiance of unconquered peaks. Human intelligence, then, is probably but an accident, and moral ideas but parasitic growths springing from an excess of nutrition—too much pabulum, served all alike, out of too many textbooks.
