

Chappell Elected Student Body Head On First Vote

HEAVY MAJORITY

Madry Elected Editor of TAR HEEL by Comfortable Margin.

MAMMOTH MACHINE WON

Ran Roughshod Over Smaller Combinations Took Place Before Easter Recess.

S. G. Chappell, of Belvidere, was elected president of the University of North Carolina student body by an overwhelming majority in the election held on April 1, preceding the Easter recess. Out of a field of five candidates he polled sufficient votes on the first round to give him the presidency.

A Big Surprise

The election of Chappell was expected and generally predicted on the campus. But it was thought that a second vote would have to be taken in order to give him a clear majority. It was a great surprise to many students when the final count showed that the four other candidates in the field had not polled heavily enough to necessitate a second round. The official count of votes gave Chappell 653, Williams 341, Thomas 14, Sides 62 and Fred Parker 26.

In the hotly contested race for the editorship of the Tar Heel, J. T. Madry, of Scotland Neck, defeated Luther N. Byrd, of Mount Airy with 702 votes against 635. Madry was the nominee of the board and had served on the paper both as a reporter and as managing editor. Byrd had acted as sporting editor of the paper.

Mammoth Machine Won

The vote cast in the election was the greatest in the history of the University, over twelve hundred students having personally filed into the voting booths and cast a ballot. The election was held under the Australian system and a free-for-all collecting of votes in the dormitories was prevented.

The elimination of this election evil however, did not cripple machine politics. The greatest machine ever formed here got under way within a remarkably short time before the election and swept everything before it. The fight developed into one between a small and large machine and, of course, the latter won.

Time Ripe for It

The carefully nurtured machine of the regular Carolina type which had been oiled at and greased upon since early in the year was no match for the beautiful

CHASE ADDRESSES WINSTON ALUMNI

First of Series of Similar Talks To Alumni Groups.

INDIVIDUAL ATTENTION

President's Keynote is Individuality of Students Here.

President H. W. Chase recently addressed the alumni of Winston-Salem at their annual banquet. This address was the first of a series of similar talks which he intends to deliver to alumni groups in the larger cities of the state with the purpose of implanting the University in the center of state life. He is to speak in Asheville, April 21; Hickory, April 23; High Point, April 26; Wilmington, May 5; and in Charlotte about May 7.

Dr. Chase chose as the key note of his speech the individual attention which the University gives to its students. He declares that as much personal consideration is shown to the 2,500 now in the institution as was formerly shown to the much smaller student body of 600. "It is not an institution," he said "where men are fed into a hopper and turned out machine-like without regard to individuality."

From the idea of individual services rendered by the University he passed on to the numerous state services. He felt that the University was essential to the solving of state problems because of its undeniably influence on progressive development. This is best being done by nationalizing intellectual life in the same manner that industry has been nationalized. In regard to this subject he said, "We must measure things not by the 'Best in the South' but by the 'Best in the Nation'. If the University exemplifies the New South and serves it as it did the old, it will be because it does exemplify the best in the Nation." As statistical evidence of the University's progressive spirit and position of prominence

CLASS ELECTIONS HOTLY CONTESTED

Red Smith and Kike Kyser Fail To Get Majority.

Kelly Wins Over Ferrell for Presidency of Rising Juniors.

The election of the officers for the three classes, Rising Senior Class, Rising Junior Class and Rising Sophomore Class were in most cases hotly contested. In two of the offices, the president of the Senior class and Student council representative for the rising Junior class, there was a majority of the votes cast and a second election to determine the winner of these offices will be held soon. Definite announcement as to the date of the next contest will be announced in the Tar Heel as soon as it is agreed upon by the election officials.

Like the general election the class affairs were not devoid of politics. The two machines functioned a little more evenly, although there seemed to be somewhat of a slackening of interest in those offices. The contest for the positions was considerably closer in most cases, being won by the margin of two ballots in two distinct instances.

Senior Class

For president of the rising senior class there were four candidates, Red Smith, Kike Kyser, T. E. Clemmons and Zack Owens. Kyser and Smith ran highest and neither having majority it will be necessary to hold a further ballot to determine the winner. J. J. McMurray defeated Duncan Elgin for the vice-presidency by a comfortable margin. Zack Williams was elected secretary and treasurer and Ad Warren claimed a heavy poll over Johnny Graham for representative on the student council.

The Tar Heel is unable to publish the exact count in the senior elections because Bob Sides could not be located yesterday afternoon by the reporter.

Rising Junior Class

Walter Kelly polled a wide margin of votes over his rival, Billy Ferrell, for the presidency of the rising Junior class. The count in this ballot was Kelly 199; Ferrell 128. Artie Newcombe barely nosed out J. W. Crew 168-154 for the vice-presidency. Norwood Carroll rode roughshod over Bill Wiley for secretary, the count being 177-141. Tom Young was the nominee for treasurer. In the contest for the student council representative no candidate polled a majority. Core and Lipscombe had pluralities over Norman Block and Ben Eaton. The date for the runoff has not yet been set because Manly Williamson, president of the class, has not returned to school since Easter. The ballots cast for the Student Council office were as follows: Core 117, Lipscombe 94, Block 73, Eaton forty.

Rising Sophomore Class

Henry Satterfield was the only nominee for president of the class and polled a total of 368 votes. Charley Thomas drew an even couple of hundred votes to win the vice-presidency over Samuel Wade who trailed with 170. For secretary Charles Wood nosed out Clyde Eby 182-174. For treasurer Walter Brown won from George Lockhart by two votes 179-177. And in the race for student councilman the office was also decided by a margin of two votes, Donald McRae winning from Harry Schwartz 184-182.

J. PLUVIUS WILL HOLD COMMAND THIS WEEK

Annual High School Week is Once Again Ushered in With Customary Ceremonial Libations.

With the opening of the annual high school week Jupiter Pluvius has appeared on the scene with his usual promptness and begun the initiatory rites with his customary ceremonial libations. Indications at present are that he will hold sway throughout the week.

For about 10 years at this regularly recurring time when the pretty high school lassies and the young aspirants in the art of Demosthenes have gathered together here in forensic competition for the Aycock cup, they have been greeted with torrents of rain and seas of mud that would tinge the soul of Hinton James with envy. The fairer members of the argumentative troupe have had to don galoshes or assume the appearance

PHILOSOPHER TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Professor Walter G. Everett, of Brown University, Here.

IS NOTED LECTURER

Will Speak on "The Philosophy of Tragedy" in Gerrard Hall at 7:30.

Professor Walter G. Everett, head of the department of Philosophy at Brown University for the past thirty years, will lecture here tonight at 7:30 in Gerrard Hall on "The Philosophy of Tragedy," it has been announced.

Professor Everett is widely known to the academic public, his treatise Moral Virtues, a recognized treatise on ethics having gained for him a national reputation. It has received praise from students of philosophy both in Great Britain and America. He is also the author of various articles and reviews, among which is an early one entitled Aristotle as a Gentleman.

The learned professor was formerly president of the eastern branch of the American Philosophical Association, and in the year 1922 delivered the annual presidential address on "The Problem of Progress." During a year's leave of President Faunce of Brown's, Prof. Everett was acting president of the institution, and at the last meeting of the International Congress of Philosophers in Paris he was present and took an active part in the discussion.

During his tenure of the philosophical chair at Brown Professor Everett has been noted throughout the student-body for the clarity and humanity of his teaching, for the seriousness with which he took the ethical and religious problems of our time, and the moderation and breadth with which he handled them. His classes have been large but never

HI SCHOOL WEEK BEGINS THURSDAY

Debating, Tennis and Track Events are to be Featured.

ONLY 69 HIGH SCHOOLS

Fourteenth Annual High School Week In Chapel Hill—Meet in Y Wednesday Night.

The fourteenth annual high school week will begin on Thursday, April 15th. The first event to take place will be a meeting of all entrants in the tennis tournament at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night at nine o'clock.

The events will be divided into three sections: debate, tennis, and track. Interest in the occasion has been great and all indications point to a very successful affair.

Preliminaries in the debates have narrowed down the contestants to 69 high schools. Each of these schools will send four debaters. The schools left in the race are: Ahoskie, Altamahaw-Ossipee, Angier, Atlantic, Aurelian Springs, Bethel Hill, Biltmore, Black Creek, Bunn, Candor, Cherryville, Churchland, Clayton, Clearmont, Copeland, Colowee, Drexel, Eagle Springs, Fayetteville, Glendale, Grace, Greenville, Hamlet, Hayesville, Henderson, Huntersville, Indian Trail, Jackson Springs, Jamestown, King, Leggett, Lenoir, Liberty, Long Creek, Grady, Marshall, Mount Airy, Mount Holly, Mount Olive, Moyock, Newell, North Brook, Oak Ridge, Old Town, Oriental, Pantergo, Pilot Mountain, Prospect, Reidsville, Ruffin, Rutherfordton-Spindale, St. Pauls, Sand Hill, Sanford, Shelby, Sherrills Ford, Sparta, Statesville, Tabor, Tryon, Vanceboro, Virginia-Carolina, Waco, Walnut, West Durham, Wilen, Winston-Salem, Beulaville, Murphy, and Mocksville.

The track meet will begin on Friday morning at ten o'clock at which time the field events and heats for the track events will be run off. The finals will take place Friday afternoon at two o'clock. The following schools have entered: Atkinson, Burlington, Cary, Charlotte, Fayetteville, Fremont, Greensboro, High Point, Marshall, Reidsville, Roxboro, Rapids, Salisbury, Sparta, Statesville, Vanceboro, Wilmington, Winston-Salem.

A preliminary meeting in the tennis tournament will be held Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. at 9:00 o'clock when all the contestants will meet to decide on their opponents for the following day. Play will start on Thursday. It will last through Friday. The schools which have entered the tennis tournament are: Asheville, Bethel Hill, Burlington, Canons, Chapel Hill, Charlotte, Fayetteville, Hendersonville, Greensboro, Kernersville,

BAN ON DANCES ENDS THIS WEEK

Terpsichorean Activities Resumed After Being Halted Last Thanksgiving.

GRAIL DANCE SATURDAY

Alpha Kappa Psi and Sigma Nu Fraternity Give Dances This Week.

The lifting of the ban placed on dances in the vicinity of Chapel Hill immediately following Thanksgiving will be celebrated by a dance given by Alpha Tau chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, National Commerce Fraternity, at Carolina Inn Friday evening, April 18th. The Tarsonian orchestra, composed of a recently organized group of Carolina students, has been engaged for the occasion. The orchestra filled numerous dates during Easter Holidays, and has already established a creditable name for itself. The dance will last from nine to one, and admission may be obtained only by card.

Saturday morning the Inn will be the scene of a morning dance given by the Carolina chapter of Sigma Nu. Dancing will be from eleven to two with admission by invitation.

Foremost among the attractions for Saturday afternoon will be the Carolina-Duke ball game.

Saturday night the order of the Grail will bid forth for the first time in many moons. This dance is expected to draw a multitude of visitors, and along with the other social events of the week-end, should prove highly successful.

It is probable that the campus will be graced by a choice assortment of feminine visitors through the endeavors of the Sigma Nu fraternity, plans having been completed by the members of the chapter for a house party in honor of visiting girls from many of the favorite girls' schools of the South.

GAMECOCK GAME HERE TOMORROW

Poyner Likely to Start Off For The Tar Heels.

SOUTH CAROLINA STRONG

No Shifts Made by Duncan in Line-up of the Varsity.

The Universities of the two Carolinas will line-up in action against each other tomorrow afternoon on Emerson Field when the Gamecocks come here for a game with the "Duke" Duncan's Tar Heels. This game promises to be one of the best and hardest fought contests of the season and should be witnessed by a large crowd.

Although the Tar Heels met with several reverses on their northern trip, they are not the least bit discouraged and will go on the field tomorrow afternoon with blood in their eyes. South Carolina has one of the best teams this year that has ever represented the Columbia institution and are coming here confident of carrying the bacon back to their state. They defeated "Chick" Doak's State College aggregation last Saturday by the overwhelming score of 12-1, demonstrating a powerful attack both on the offense and on the defense.

It is not known who Coach Duncan will start on the hillock in tomorrow's contest, but it is highly probable that "Bill" Poyner will get the assignment. Although the big right-hander met with several set-backs on the northern trip, it is expected that he will come through tomorrow. Should he fail to deliver the goods, Coach Duncan will have Sapp, Westmoreland, Fulcher, and Whisman to send to the mound. Sapp and Fulcher both pitched in several games on the trip and showed up well, and it is highly probable that they will get a chance to display their wares in the game with South Carolina tomorrow. Sharpe will probably get the catching assignment—with Green being held in reserve. Either Captain Jones or Dodderer will cover around the initial station while Bob Sides will be seen in action at the key-stone sack. At the shortfield position will be found either "Moose" Tenney or Jones, while at the hotcorner will be seen either Webb or Jones. The outfield combination will probably be the same with Young, Hatley, and Mackie.

CARD OF THANKS

My family joins me in thanking, most sincerely, the student body of the University, the faculty, townspeople of Chapel Hill, and others for their kindness and words of comfort given during the bereavement of the family following the tragic death of my father, J. C. D. McNatt, Tuesday, March 30, 1926.

Duncan's Tar Heel Had Mediocre Trip During Holidays

WIN 2 OUT OF 6

Takes Game From Lehigh and Virginia Techmen During Trip.

OLD DOMINION WINS, 7-3

Davidson, Maryland, and Catholic University Also Hand Duncanites Small End of Scores.

The Tar Heel baseballers returned to the "Hill" Sunday after a rather disastrous invasion of Virginia, the District of Columbia and Maryland. Coach Duncan's men played six games on the trip during the holidays, winning two and dropping four. The Lehigh University nine and the Virginia Techmen fell victim to the slugging bats of the Carolinians, while the Tar Heel hurlers held the opposing batters down to the little end of the bingle barrel.

The four games dropped were to the Davidson Wildcats, the Catholic University outfit, the Old Liners of Maryland, the Virginia Cavaliers. The Wildcats and the Catholic triumphed over the Duncanites by one point margins, but the other two games were dropped by bigger scores. One game with the University of Maryland was rained out.

Lehigh Defeated in Slugfest

Through nine hectic frames of the spring pastime the Tar Heels battled the Lehigh tossers in High Point on Saturday before Easter, with the Carolinians emerging victor by the count of 11 and 10. The Sultan of Swat waved his wand over Welch Field that afternoon, and the two teams garnered a total of twenty-three safe hits off the delivery of the opposing pitchers. Fourteen of the bingles were chalked up to the Tar Heels credit, with the three of them going for three bases. A smashing double by Bob Sides, with the score tied in the ninth, drove Sharpe across the rubber with the winning run.

Westmoreland and Poyner kept the Pennsylvanians eating out of their hands during practically the entire contest, and allowed the Tar Heels to bat out the win. The fielding of both teams was erratic, with the Tar Heels chalking up five bobbles against a half dozen for the northerners. Sides, Jones, Webb, and Sharpe were the leading batters for the Tar Heels, with two hits each, while

CINDERMEN MAKE SPLENDID RECORD

Wins From Washington & Lee, South Carolina and Davidson.

ALSO WINS IN ATLANTA

Takes Three First Places, One Second, and One Third.

While the majority of the Carolina students were enjoying themselves, during the Easter Holidays, the Tar Heel track team was striving hard to win laurels for their school, and Coach Fetzer's men succeeded admirably, winning from Washington and Lee, South Carolina, and Davidson by overwhelming scores and winning three first places, one second, and one third place at the Georgia Tech Relays in Atlanta.

On the Friday that school was dismissed for the holidays, the Washington and Lee team was defeated by the Tar Heel trackmen by the overwhelming score of 88 to 38 in a meet which was featured by the record breaking time made by McPherson in the 100-yard dash. When the pistol cracked, he jumped into the lead and increased his speed all the time, he made the distance in the remarkable time of 9.8 seconds, thus breaking the record which was held jointly by him and Byrum, of State College. However, this will not go down officially as a state record because it was not made in a state championship meet, but it will go down as a University record.

The two mile run was also a thriller for the crowd, Henderson, running for Carolina made one of the most beautiful runs ever witnessed on Emerson Field. In the last 440 yards he made a remarkable spurt and finished yards in front of Daniels, his team-mate, and Vance
