

GRANT NEW PRESIDENT OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Daniel L. Grant, Executive Secretary of the General Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina, was elected president of the National Association of Alumni Secretaries at the thirteenth annual conference held at Columbus, Ohio, last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Grant returned to the "Hill" Monday and stated that the Association is planning to have its annual meeting here next April provided accommodations can be arranged. There are more than two hundred members of the Association from about eighty per cent of the colleges of the United States.

"There was no difficulty in getting the University's invitation accepted," he said, "I found the alumni secretaries more than anxious to hold their meeting here. All of them were talking about the big march of progress the institution was making and they were anxious to get first hand information about it. The eyes of the educational world are focused on North Carolina and especially on the University."

Under a new plan adopted by the Association, Grant will appoint regional directors throughout the country. He is the youngest alumni secretary, in age and experience, ever to be elected president of the national association.

While away from Chapel Hill Secretary Grant also attended meetings of Alumni Associations in Nashville and Chattanooga, Tennessee; Louisville, Kentucky, and Chicago, Illinois. The Alumni Magazine Association held their annual meeting in conjunction with the alumni secretaries, and when the two groups meet here next year they will be supplemented by the alumni fund directors.

The Saturday issue of the Tar Heel omitted the name of J. W. Silver, of Southern Pines, from the list of students making all A's in the winter quarter, he having made four. The omission is gladly corrected.

Jimmy Poole was on the Hill for the Grail dance Saturday night.

OPEN FORUM

Editor of the Tar Heel.

Your asinine and misguided columnist, J. N. Robbins, has seen fit to make disparaging remarks about the activity of Epsilon Upsilon Epsilon. He may be partially excused on the grounds of verbiage and unfamiliarity with the art of column writing, but this excuse becomes slight indeed when one peruses his maiden effort in the field. It is deplorably evident that he will remain forever a bungling neophyte. We offer the Tar Heel our commiserations.

Allow us to quote the puerile Mr. Robbins: "If the E. U. E. brethren really have an organization, we should like to see them come out in the open and demonstrate a little of that opposition of which they boast." Such criticism, born of ignorance and sycophancy, is typical of the entire campus. This one poor slinger of hackneyed phrases is not the sole subject of this denunciation; he merely represents the complacent density of the student body.

First, be it understood that Epsilon Upsilon Epsilon is still in existence and that its policy of opposition is as stringent as ever. We have not come out in the open because we realize that any real, concentrated effort would be more than useless. The men forming the student personnel of this institution of higher learning are in the depths of mental stagnation. Any attempt to call attention to their shortcomings would be resented, and any essay to correct their faulty attitude would be disregarded as the work of halfbacked radicals. So our opposition has only been manifested in our private meetings, in which we sorrow over the childish simplicity of the campus in general and of Mr. Robbins in particular. To offer constructive criticism would be an attempt to elevate the local Babbity—and to this we are opposed. Let them stumble unaided down the path of dumbness, fundamental to the last.

Mr. Robbins is the proud possessor of a double complex. He feels that he is undergoing eternal persecution and also that he is superior to the majority of his fellow morons. As an example of this failing it will be necessary to give another extract from his lamentable column. "The Lord knows a little opposition would not be amiss at present in this place where over two thousand supposedly intelligent students are herded together like sheep, shorn of all individuality and made to conform to a sorry pattern which is at best only a cut and dried type of mollycoddle." Here the budding literateur insinuates that he considers himself very mistreated, in fact robbed of his individuality. This latter feat would be impossible, as individuality of the most rudimentary sort has never been among his assets. In this he stands four-square for the Carolina student.

In conclusion, the opposition of Epsilon Upsilon Epsilon to all forms of campus idiocy will be ever-present, but unheard by the unwashed. We see no object for example, in striving to better the intellectual lot of men who allow a scheming politician to ride over them by the simple process of crying "Death to Politics." Mr. Robbins, it may be added, unfortunately rose to his present editorial position by conniving with that gentleman.

TAR BABY TRACKMEN LOSE TO DUKE FROSH

Houchins, Woodward, and Candler for the Visitors Are Big Factors in Running Up the Scores of 76-49.

The Tar Baby track aggregation, facing its first real strong competition, was able to win only five out of fourteen first places in a dual meet with the Duke Frosh last Monday and were accordingly defeated by a score of 76 to 49. Duke jumped out in the lead at the beginning of the afternoon by taking first in the century dash and the mile and from that time on were never headed. The cold wave Monday that was experienced all over North Carolina handicapped the athletes somewhat, but the track was fast and the competition keen enough in many events to insure fairly good time. The most noteworthy performance of the afternoon was turned in by Colburn, of Carolina, who flung the discus 110 feet 11 inches.

Duke's whole track team was built up around three men. If these three individuals had been missing, Carolina might have enjoyed a more prosperous afternoon. Together they were responsible for forty-two of the seventy-six points garnered by the winners! The three lads responsible for this remarkable feat were Houchins, dash man, and Woodward and Candler, distance runners. The latter two deserve particular commendation when it is known that they placed first and second respectively in the half mile, the mile, and the two mile. A rather strenuous afternoon's work when all things are considered. Houchins, high point man of the meet, a track team in himself, won first place

TAR BABY NINE DOWNS DUKE YEARLINGS 5-2

University Freshmen Win by Getting Breaks of the Game—Ingram Does Good Defensive Work.

The Carolina freshmen got revenge for their previous defeat at the hands of the Duke Freshman nine by taking the big end of a 5 to 2 score on Hanes field, Monday afternoon. The game was featured by tight pitching and loose fielding on both sides, the high wind making it impossible to handle the ball cleanly. Each team was charged with five miscues for the afternoon.

The stick work of each team was exceptionally light, but the Tar Babys were fortunate enough to produce hits when they meant runs. The pitching of "Steve" Ingram was the bright spot in Carolina's defense, and Johnson, of Duke, proved a worthy opponent. The Duke hurler held the slugging Tar Babys to three hits, and the stick artists for the Little Blue Devils were able to gather only six bingles from the delivery of Ingram. The Duke twirler struck out five while the Tar Baby ace was sending eleven of the opposing hitters to the bench by the strike out route.

Jessup, slugger for the Tar Babys, delivered the winning hit in the sixth when his two bagger sent a pair of tallies over the plate. This gave the Carolina nine a three run lead and the Duke boys were never able to overcome it.

Base on balls, off Ingram 2; off Johnson 4. Hit by pitcher: Satterfield and Jessup by Johnson. Umpire, Steiner (Duke). Time of game, 1 hour, 55 minutes.

in the hundred, the two twenty, the two twenty low hurdles, and second place in the broad jump.

Carolina's only field of superiority was in the weight events. She scored fourteen out of a possible twenty-seven points in these events, taking all three places in the discus throw.

The mile run was interesting in that Candler, Duke, barely nosed out Brown, Carolina, for second place with a beautiful sprint down the home stretch. Thomas, Fresh baseball pitcher, showed his versatility by placing second in the low hurdles and second in the discus.

The Summary follows: Hundred yard dash: Houchins, Duke, first; Adams, Duke, second; Metts, Carolina, third. Time, 10 3/5 seconds.

Two-twenty yard dash: Houchins, Duke, first; Metts, Carolina, second; Holt, Carolina, third. Time, 24 3/5 seconds.

Four-forty yard run: Sandlin, Carolina, first; Goodwin, Duke, second; Davis, Carolina, third. Time, 55 seconds.

Half mile run: Woodward, Duke, first; Candler, Duke, second; Moore, Carolina, third. Time, 2 minutes 13 seconds.

One mile run: Woodward, Duke, first; Brown, Carolina, second; Candler, Duke, third. Time, 4 minutes 49 seconds.

Two-mile run: Woodward, Duke, first; Candler, Duke, second; Cox, Carolina, third. Time, 11 minutes, 3 seconds.

220 low hurdles: Houchins, Duke, first; Thomas, Carolina, second; Miller, Duke, third. Time, 28 seconds.

High hurdles: Smith, Carolina, first; Miller, Duke, second. (Other men disqualified). Time, 19 1/5 seconds.

Pole vault: Cooper, Carolina, first; Pierce and Brogden, (Duke, tied for second. Heights, 9 feet 4 inches.

Shot put: Brummitt, Duke, first; Harper, Carolina, second; Burton, Carolina, third. Distance, 37 feet.

Discus: Colburn, Carolina, first; Thomas, Carolina, second; Burton, Carolina, third. Distance, 110 feet 11 inches.

Javelin: Roberts, Duke, first; Brogden, Duke, second; Presson, Carolina, third. Distance, 129 feet 5 inches.

THE UNTAMED LADY

One of the season's big events, a new Swanson film! Glorious Gloria in "The Untamed Lady" scheduled for its local premiere at the Pick today.

The ever popular star is seen in the role of Joan, a spoiled society darling accustomed to having her own way and the heroine of many broken engagements, who rules men like an imperious queen until she falls in love with a chap who isn't so easily handled. There's a surprising finish to this picture, which runs the gamut of all the emotions from thrills to comedy and back again, with Miss Swanson giving one of the greatest performances of her career.

Wonderful society backgrounds, Gloria in magnificent gowns, comedy thrills, delightful romance! Part of this picture was made at Pinchurst, N. C.

SPORTING LIFE

A magnificent film version of the great London Drury Lane stage success, "Sporting Life," which had a two years run before the footlights in this country, comes to the screen of the Pick on Friday. It is an elaborate melodrama of London sporting and society circles, vibrating with thrills, offering a sympathetic love story, a furious prizefight, and a great scene visualizing the running of the Derby at Epsom Downs.

Bert Lytell plays the role of hero Lord Woodstock, supported by Marian Nixon, Paulette Duval, Cyril Chadwick and other well-known screen favorites.

When the man he backed to win the fistic championship was doped, young Lord Woodstock took his fighter's place and won by a knockout. He rescued his girl from a Limehouse den and saw his racehorse run to victory in the Derby.

Dr. Wilson Is Attending Convention of Librarians

Dr. L. R. Wilson, University librarian, left Tuesday for Signal Mountain, near Chattanooga, where he will attend a meeting of the Southeastern Library Association, of which he is the president. The convention, which will last from April 22 through the 24th, will be attended by delegates from nine southeastern states: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

President Charles F. D. Belden and three ex-presidents of the American Library Association are on the program. Three important committees of the American Library Association, the Committee on Library Extension, the Committee on Training for Librarianship, and the Committee on Adult Education, will gather in the Tennessee city.

BUDD-PIPER ROOFING COMPANY DURHAM, N. C. Roofing and Sheet Metal Work

Massachusetts Institute of Technology School of Chemical Engineering Practice INDIVIDUAL and practical training at five industrial plants are important features of the Graduate Course in Chemical Engineering Practice. Field work is carried out at Bangor, Me.; Boston, Mass., and Buffalo, N. Y.; in plants producing sulphite and soda pulp, paper, caustic soda, chlorine, heavy acids and salts, sugar, coke, gas, steel and other chemical products. The more important operations of Chemical Engineering, as typified by the above processes, are studied systematically by tests and experiments on actual plant apparatus, thus fixing in the student's mind the principles of Chemical Engineering and correlating these principles with practice. The work is non-remunerative and independent of plant control, the whole attention of the students being directed to study and experimentation. Registration is limited, as students study and experiment in small groups and receive individual instruction. Admission requires adequate preparation in chemistry and engineering. Able students can complete the requirements for the Master of Science degree in one and a half years. For further details address the SCHOOL OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERING PRACTICE Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.
