Whoopee girls—Eton!

Says the N. C. C. W. Carolinian: "The South Carolinians originated the Charleston; why not have a new step called the 'Tar Heel'?" We second the motion.

R. B. House has been selected as Executive Secretary to President Chase. Wonder if he is to be the president's "independent self" and "silent partner?"

The Playmakers from N. C. C. W. are to be with us again this year. Two years ago they presented "Fashion" here. One student made the remark that we should receive them "with open arms."

There was talk of having a large Carnival here last spring, but it was postponed until this year. Nothing has been said of it recently, which leaves us wondering what happened to it in the meantime.

The Carolina Playmakers are setting a precedent here in producing Moliere's Le Malade Imaginaire in French. The play should be interesting at least to see and hear if not to understand.

An exchange coming into the office has the following in it in referring to a student who has just been elected to a high office in one of our sister institutions: "She is a well rounded girl and one who has many admirers." It is nothing but natural that such a girl should have many admirers.

The last issue of the New Student, an interesting New York publication, was apparently the University of North Carolina number. In it were extracts of the Tar Heel's story of the recent elections, a poem from the Carolina Magazine by R. H., and a column from W. J. Olive's satire on the colleges advertising.

The canine population of Chapel Hill no longer has to be muzzled and also be in leash as has been the law during the past month or more. It is no more than right that the poor fellows should be given more freedom. They were simply being treated like dogs.

TERPSICHOREAN ACTIVITIES

With the lifting of the ban placed on dances at the University immediately after Thanksgiving, the faculty committee and the officers of the German Club drew up a set of by-laws which have been adopted by the club in case that dances are to be permanently resumed here. The lifting of the ban does not necessarily make the removal of the probation permanent.

Whether Commencement dances will be given this year depends upon the conduct of the students and visitors at the dances which are to take place between now and then. All dances are being closely watched and in case of disorderly conduct dances will again be placed under the ban and the finals will not be given.

In reviewing the history of the regulations on dancing Dr. Bernard chairman of the faculty committee on dancing, recently said: "Three years ago the misconduct and disorder at the University dances brought forth much criticism from the state at large and the President received many indignant letters concerning the matter. Immediate action had to be taken and a meeting of the administrative committee was called by the President. Although some were in favor of the complete abolishment of the dances, it was decided to leave the matter up to the students themselves and the German Club was asked to appoint a special committee to meet with the faculty committee. After several meetings the set of rules which has been in use for the past few years was worked out. During the following year the plan was particularly successful and the committee was congratulated on what was thought to be a perfect set of rules; however, last year there was a let-down in the high standard of behavior at the dances and criticism again rose which finally resulted in the suspension of the dances last Thanksgiving."

It has often been said that history repeats itself; so whether the dances will be suspended again is left entirely up to the German Club. The faculty has inaugurated a policy of laissez-faire, and it is now up to the club to make good its chances.

All dances must be held under the auspices and regulations of the German Club and the club will be responsible to the University for conduct at all dances. The former Vigilance Committee has been abolished and the Executive Committee of the German Club has taken over the functions of that group.

Section VII of the by-laws reads as follows: "The Executive Committee shall be empowered to suspend from all dances given under the auspices of the German Club, for a period of one year, any student, visitor, or alumnus for any misconduct whatever in any period during which the dance or dances are being held, regardless of whether the misconduct is before, during or after the dances."

The constitution of the German Club is extremely simple and easy to interpret; so there should be no ambiguity concerning the by-laws. Dr. Bernard, in praising the present regulation as "a masterful piece of work," truly said, "No paper, or organization, or constitution is above the personnel behind it."

Since the club is responsible to the University for conduct at all dances, the members of the club should seek by precept and example to encourage right and wholesome spirit at all such occasions. No system of espionage is needed, but each member should make it his duty to see that proper conduct prevails.

While not believing that a student should be expelled from the University because of becoming inebriated, we do not believe that any students should be excused for taking a drink and indulging in conduct unworthy of a Carolina man just because he says older and influential men do it.

When the University Authorities attempt to enforce puerile regulations on the students, the young men rise up in alarm and proclaim to the world that they are men and should be treated as such, but as soon as the authorities reverse the order and expect the students to be leaders and exemplars a cry arises from the students that they are merely students following the examples set by their elders.

The by-laws are made in such a way that an offender pays the price alone, or as the president of the club expresses it, "The individual pays for what the individual does, and the majority does not have to suffer for the misdeeds of the minority." The rule was sagely made, but if too many individual offenses are committed the ban will be replaced and dances suspended. The length of that ban cannot be surmised here.

So it remains to the German Club to set a criterion and see to it that all dances are up to the standards unless history is to repeat itself in this instance.

STUDENTS WILL SPEAK AT DR. HOOPS SEMINAR

Number of Literature Students Will Make Reports at the Meetings to Be Held Here Next Week.

The following students are to present reports in the Hoops Seminar, meeting in Murphy Hall 110, on the afternoons of Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. These meetings will begin at three o'clock. The time has been too short for shaping adequate in every case; in many cases these reports will have to be statements of difficulties met. But they will serve as points of departure for discussion.

On the topic of the first meeting, "Goethe's Faust, and Byron's Manfred," Byron's philosophy and pertinent biographical data will be reported upon by Miss Naomi Alexander and M. L. Radoff; the genesis and philosophy of Goethe's Faust, by Miss Strop, D. R. Hodgins and J. W. McCain, Jr.

"The Idea of the Immortality of Art in Keat's Poetry," which furnishes the topic of the second meeting will be reported upon by J. W. Harris.

The third and fourth meetings will be concerned with reports on "The Literary Sources of the Pre-Raphaelite Movement." The influence upon Rossetti of Keats, Dante, the Ballads, Villon, and the French Romantics will be reported on respectively by Messrs. Hill, Shine, H. R. Fuller, H. C. Brown, and Dr. Wind. W. R. Abbott will report on Rossetti's influence on Morris and Miss Ellason upon the same influence on Swainbourne. Mrs. M. R. Trabue will report on Pre-Raphaelite painting.

A list of books for suggested auditors has been posted in the main library and on the second and third floors of Murphy Hall. These books have been placed on reference.

The Philological Club of the University will give Professor Hoops a smoker on Tuesday night at 9:30 after the Sigma Chi lecture.

BOXERS ELECT OX SHUFORD CAPTAIN

Bill Way Is Manager for the Coming Year.

SPRING CALL IS ISSUED

Shuford Succeeds Ad Warren As Leader of Mitmen.

The Tar Heel knights of the squared circle in a meeting Wednesday night chose E. G. Shuford of Lincolnton, commonly known as "Ox," as captain of the 1927 Boxing Team. Bill Way, of Charleston, South Carolina, was elected manager.

Shuford was one of the most outstanding men on the squad during the past season. He fought in the heavy-weight class, and won all of his fights by the knock-out route. Besides his boxing activities, "Ox" is one of the most valuable men on the football squad. Making his debut as varsity fullback last fall, he proved to be one of the most consistent ground gainers in the back field, and was a whale on defense. He has two more years of athletics at the University.

Bill Way was formerly business manager of the Tar Heel and served on the Publications Board last year. His work at both positions has been exceptionally good.

Captain Shuford and Manager Way issue a personal appeal to all men who are interested in boxing to come out for the spring training now in progress. This training will do a great deal towards getting oneself in condition for next year's campaign. An attractive schedule is being arranged with other teams in the South, with prospects of meets at home as well as on the road.

Boxing was inaugurated at Carolina by Bill Cox and "K. O." Warren in 1924. Bill Cox was manager of the team for the seasons of 1924 and 1925. Warren captained the squad in 1924, '25, and '26. He had the unusual distinction of being the only man to be captain of a University team for three consecutive years.

The sport steadily grew in favor, and is now one of the most popular on the campus. By action of the Athletic Association, it was made a Varsity sport this year.

Coach Rowe, one of the best boxers in the state, is conducting a class in self-defense every afternoon in the Tin Can at 4 o'clock. All men are urged to come out. There is plenty of room in the Tin Can.

BAND WILL GO TO GREENSBORO TODAY

The 38 piece band which played at the game here yesterday will go with the team to Greensboro today for the big Carolina-Virginia game there. T. S. McCorkle, leader of the band, has announced.

A special place in the Carolina stands has been reserved for the band and that side of the field will be made to ring with "Hark the Sound," and other favorites Carolina songs.

Every student who can possibly find a way to get to the Gate City is urged to place himself solidly behind the band and cheer the Tar Heels on to victory.

RACQUETEERS MEET DUKEMEN MONDAY

The Carolina racquetiers will journey over to Durham Monday afternoon to meet the Duke tennis team in a dual match. The Dukemen have a strong aggregation this year and will give the Tar Heels a hard fight.

The Blue Devils have not been defeated this year in a dual match. They have met and defeated Virginia, Wake Forest, and Union College, while the Tar Heels have also defeated Virginia, Wake Forest and South Carolina. The comparative strength of the two teams is about the same, but in Whitener and Rogers, Duke has two stars who will give any college player a hard tussle.

White Makes Valuable Gift To Engineering Laboratory

Gilbert C. White, of the Gilbert C. White Co., Consulting Engineers of Durham, N. C., proved himself very generous by recently donating to the Highway Engineering Laboratory of the University of North Carolina a complete apparatus, with a value of $400, for testing bituminous materials used in highway work.

While this equipment is not absolutely necessary for the laboratory it will be a great aid in the research work carried on by the engineering professors, and it is greatly appreciated by them.

Mr. White does not want publicity for the noble gift that has been made, but permitted that this article be published with the hope that other men might make similar gifts.

When you and spring are thrilling to the opening game of the year—and your favorite player drives out a homer—as the stands rock with cheering—have a Camel!

WHEN the first ball game is here. And the heavy hitter cracks the ball shrieking into deep center for a home run—have a Camel!

For Camel adds the magic of its own fragrance to life's most festive days. Camels are of such choice tobaccos that they never tire the taste or leave a cigarette after-taste. You'll get more contentment, more pleasure out of Camels than any other cigarette.

So this fair spring day as a redoubtable batter lofts out one that it seems will never stop flying—oh, then, taste the smoke that means completed enchantment.

Have a Camel!

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skillful blending. The most scientific packages. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No better cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company Winston-Salem, N. C.
