Seniors Inaugurated Social Season With Dance Last Night

MANY PRESENT
Bynum Gymnasium Transformed Into Unexcelled Beauty and Hilarity.

MUSIC BY HAL KEMP'S
Last Night's Festivities Opened Heavy Season of Social Activity for Soon-to-Be-Grads.

The Seniors, duly endowed with all their proverbial dignity celebrated their approaching graduation at Bynum gymnasium last evening at one of the most charming senior balls of recent years. It was a thoroughly Senior affair and the night of May 14 will long be remembered as one of gala festivity when Senior met Senior at an entertainment where four years of college work was the card for admission. Hal Kemp's orchestra furnished the music that filled the Gym with harmony and rhythm for the dancing couples. A large number of girls whom the seniors had invited down for the occasion and many girls here for the numerous social and athletic events of the week-end, attended the Ball and their presence was a great contribution to its success.

The hall was elaborately decorated in black and gold, the class colors and the dull prosaic gymnasium took on a holiday appearance. The crowd was large enough to insure an enjoyable time, with plenty of breaking, but was sufficiently small to prevent the crowded conditions that usually mar the dances at the gym. A novel feature of the evening were the special dances by various honorary groups in the class. The first of these was that for the monogram wearers when the athletes that Carolina is losing this year were given the floor to prove that their field of valor is the ballroom floor as well as the athletic field. Phi Beta Kappa men came next and the wearers of the key were not found deficient in the Terpischoean activities. Special

SIGMA NU DANCE WAS GALA EVENT

One of Prettiest Dances of Season Held at Inn Last Night.

MUSIC BY TARSONIANS
Bevy of Beautiful Girls Throng Ball Room Floor.

Last night at the Carolina Inn, the Carolina and N. C. State chapters of the Sigma Nu Fraternity entertained at one of the most delightful dances of the season. The girls—a ballroom full of them, were the outstanding feature of the dance. The Tarsonians played irresistible music from nine till one and these were hours of keen enjoyment for the dancers.

Girls from far and near graced the dance with their presence. With some forty odd visiting girls at the Sigma Nu week-end house party, to say nothing of the many others in town for the multiplicity of week-end events, the feminine talent for the affair was well cared for. Debutantes, college girls and high school lassies vied with one another for the favors of personal charm, and light-hearted college youths scrambled for a chance to judge them.

The decorations were simple and dignified. A large Sigma Nu pin, four feet in diameter, built especially for the occasion by Murray Crawford of State College, was illuminated and given the most prominent position in the ballroom. This served as the feature of the decoration scheme.

The figures, led by Everett Huggins with Devries Davis was one of the most original ever executed at local dances. The couples filed down the steps at the entrance of the ballroom and divided, half going to the right and half to the left, and after circling the room the couples met and the line glided snake-like over the floor, finally ending up with the formation of the Greek letters; Sigma, and Nu. During the figure the girls were presented with beautiful butterfly purses of white kid, with the seal of the fraternity in gold set on the strap. There were two no break dances for

"WINDY" WHITE,

V. M. I. WEIGHT STAR TO GO STRONG IN CONFERENCE MEET
"Windy" White, captain of the V. M. I. track team, won the shotput in the 1925 Conference Meet at Sewanee last spring, and has already bettered the present record by several feet this year. The Cadet captain should easily break the old mark in the big Meet at Chapel Hill this weekend, and his duel with LeBauer of Virginia, for first place should be one of the high lights of the finals today.

Senior Week Begins Monday

The annual "Senior Week" at Carolina begins next Monday, May 17, when the University's graduates of 1926 will be distinguished by distinctive attires of Tuxarrow collars and ties of class colors, which are black and yellow, and dapper canes. This regalia will be worn by members of the Senior Class throughout the week at all Senior affairs and entertainments, and on the campus. The necessary articles for the regalia may be secured at Jack Lipman's, who has been given the Senior contract, and all Seniors are urged to secure theirs today or Monday.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA TO PLAY HERE MAY 16

Annual Concert of Well Known Music Body Will Be Given in Memorial Hall.

The University Orchestra under the direction of T. Smith McCorkle will give its annual concert on Sunday afternoon, May 16, at 4 p.m. The concert will be given in Memorial Hall.

The orchestra consists of 30 members. Most of this number being taken from the student body. The program which this group will offer will be of a symphonic nature consisting of an overture, symphony, and smaller orchestra numbers.

The University Orchestra has made a number of appearances this year. Various functions around the University have been favored by their selections. They have played at most of the performances of the Carolina Playmakers this year. In a recent performance of the Playmakers in Durham the orchestra served as a means of entertaining the audience between the acts. Here it was well received. In a recent luncheon of the wives of the members of this district Rotary Club the orchestra was enthusiastically received.

The orchestra this year is featuring a violin quartet. This is a feature introduced this year and one of the many things of great interest in the orchestra.

M'NAIR LECTURES WERE CONCLUDED THURSDAY NIGHT

Dr. C. R. Brown, Dean of Yale Divinity School Was Speaker.

SUBJECT WORKING FAITH

Large Crowds In Attendance at All Three of The Lectures—Tuesday Night's Speech Was Best.

"Trust in the Lord, do good, so shalt thou dwell in the land, and thou be fed." Dr. C. R. Brown, Dean of the Yale Divinity School, gave this verse as the basis of a working faith in his lectures.

Dean Brown lectured here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday on the subject "A Working Faith". He was here under the auspices of the McNair foundation.

The specific subject for the Tuesday's lecture was "What We Live By". The lecturer said that people allow bits of dogma and useless belief to cling in their minds, as bits of useless furniture and bric-a-brac clog up a house. He urged that we get rid of these worthless ideas. He then gave the above mentioned verse as a foundation for a successful life. He showed how it contained worship love of fellow man, citizenship, and economic success, each necessary, he said, for a well rounded existence.

The first lecture gave in condensed form all that he talked on in his second

CAROLINA LOSES TO BAPTISTS 11-4

Demon Deacons Overwhelmed Tar Heels at Pinehurst Yesterday.

WAS AN EASY VICTORY

Sapp and Poyner Fare Badly at Hands of Wake Forest Batters.

The University of North Carolina baseball team lost to Wake Forest College at Pinehurst by an overwhelming score yesterday afternoon. When the dust of battle had cleared away and the final results were tabulated it was discovered that the Baptists had garnered eleven tallies while the Tar Heels had managed to register only four markers, all of which came in the final innings after the Demon Deacons had built up a healthy lead.

The Baptists pitched Pearson in his initial varsity appearance, and with stellar support from his teammates he

CAPTAIN ENDSLOW

Endslow, Captain of the strong Maryland track team, is one of those rare combinations for speed and endurance so seldom unearthed. He holds the South Atlantic record of 49 3-5 seconds in the 440, and runs the 880 in 1:59 3-5. He may lower both records in the meet today on Emerson Field.

Five S. I. C. Records Are Bettered In Initial Tryouts

CAPT. CHARLIE JONAS

Above is Captain Charlie Jonas, who will make his final appearance in college athletics as the leader of the Tar Heels in the Southern Conference Meet this week-end. He is one of the fastest half-milers ever seen on a Southern track.

CAMP

Camp, a Florida star, should be a familiar figure to campus followers, since he was first started on a track career by Coach Bob Fetzer, at Woodberry Forest. Camp runs the high hurdles under 16, and also competes in the broad jump and the dashes.

Tar Heels Nosed Out Duke Nine Here Wednesday 8-7

Tar Heel On Sale At Smoke Shop

Announcement comes from Guy "Kelly" Schmitt, manager of Dean Paulsen's Carolina Smoke Shop, that the TAR HEEL will be sold from his news stands beginning with this morning's issue.

The Smoke Shop has agreed to handle the student publications entirely without charge to the management, merely as a matter of more complete service to the student body and the townspeople. If at any time anyone desires further copies of the paper he may get them at the Smoke Shop.

Considerable favorable comment was made recently upon the service Carolina's popular Dean rendered the student body by handling Sigma Upsilon's Yellow Journal. Again, in this instance the Smoke Shop would accept no pay for its service.

President of University Delivers Scholarship Address.

SPEAKS ON THE SOUTH
Is Made Honorary Member of Pine Burr Society.

Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase, President of the University of North Carolina, delivered the principal address at State College's first annual scholarship day.

In his address Dr. Chase declared that the next great chapter of American history would be written by the South and that North Carolina would play an important part in the making of this history. The greatest need of North Carolina is intellectual leaders, according to Dr. Chase. He pointed out the fact that of the 10,000 biographies in "Who's Who" there were listed 380 persons

WON IN EIGHTH Westmoreland Pitched Stellar Ball—Struck Out Six Methodists.

TAR HEELS WERE HITTING HARD
Hatley Starred at Field—Touchdown Jones Plays Bangup Game At Initial Station.

The Carolina Tar Heels came from behind in the eighth stanza Thursday to hand the Duke University Blue Devils an 8 to 7 walloping on Emerson field in the second game of the series between the two aggregations. A base on balls, a sacrifice fly, two singles, and a two-ply blow netted two runs in the eighth frame and the game for the Duncansites.

"Lefty" Westmoreland, who did the hurling for the Tar Heels, succeeded in holding the Blue Devils to two lone markers until the sixth frame when they bunched five hits and with Tenney's miscue, counted five runs to make the score read 7 to 6 with the Dukemen holding the big end. The Tar Heel port-sider retired six of the Duke stick artists via the strike out route, and issued only one free pass to the initial station.

Whitted used three pitchers in an effort to stem the tide of Tar Heels' markers that were drifting across the plate. Thomas was the first one to occupy the mound for the Dukemen, but he was sent to the showers after the Tar Heels had gathered four hits off him to count for four runs. Jones was the next twirler that Whitted sent to the mound, but he did little better than Thomas had done before him, and he was yanked in the third stanza when he walked Mackie and allowed Webb, Jones, and Sharpe to hit in succession.

Thompson did the remainder of the hurling for the Blue Devils and exhibited more stuff than did either of the other two Duke hurlers. He held the Tar Heels to two bingles until the final frame, when he yielded three hits to count for the tying and winning runs.

"Touchdown" Jones was the leading hitter of the day. The Tar Heel captain came to the rubber three times and drove out a single, a double, and a triple. This is the third game in

MORE THAN 200 ATHLETES HERE AT ANNUAL MEET

Exceedingly Warm Weather and Light Rains Late Last Night Made Track Fastest Ever Seen Here

CAROLINA QUALIFIES 9

Finals in Every Event Will be Held on Emerson Field at 2:30 This Afternoon. Large Attendance Expected

Living up to all the expectations and hopes of the dope prophets, the notable assemblage of cinderpath artists carried off the preliminaries of the Southern Conference Track and Field Meet, held on Emerson Field Friday afternoon, in fine fashion.

Five records were bettered, and every indication points to the fact that during the finals today spectators will see a grand and glorious slaughter of records which have stood the onslaughts of more than one meet.

Realizing the importance of the occasion, the weather man gave J. Pluvius the afternoon off, and had he not overlooked a slight breeze the weather would have been ideal. What few fans were in the stadium cannot grumble about the afternoon, for the weather aided the galaxy of stars in staging the preliminaries to their record-breaking party just as much as they did.

Carolina and Maryland are tied for first place in the number of men placed, each having qualified nine men, while Virginia and Louisiana State University are tied for second with seven men each. Today will see these four teams fighting for the honor of carrying off the winner's prize. Carolina will pin her hopes on McPherson, Watt, Jonas, Fordham, Woodard, Ambrose, and Williams, while Maryland will count on such stars as Endslow, Thomas, Sherif,

TAR HEELS MEET QUAKERS TODAY

Duncanmen Will Attempt to Make it Two in A Week From Guilford.

SAPP MAY PITCH AGAIN

Rabb Expected to Get Assignment to Hold Tar Heels.

The Tar Heels invade the stronghold of the Quakers this afternoon in an attempt to make it two straight victories over the Guilford nine for the week. They took the boys from up Greensboro way by surprise earlier in the week and nicked "Shirt" Smith for seventeen hits and nine runs. This proved to be just seven more tallies than "Cicero" Sapp allowed the visitors to make.

Donk's boys were right much chagrined by this unexpected setback, but in true Quaker fashion, they have said little and thought much. It is reported that they are planning to get sweet revenge when Duke Duncan leads his Tar Heels into the Quaker arena this afternoon.

Guilford has three hurlers primed for the game, and if the Tar Heels hit up to their usual standard, they will all get into the game. Rabb, a right hander who stood the Davidson sluggers on their ears earlier in the season, is said to be itching for a chance to avenge the defeat of his buddy, "Shirt" Smith, at the hands of the Carolina maulers. From the way that the locals treated the Blue Devil right handers Thursday, it looks as if Rabb might meet the same fate as did his southpaw croney. Coltrane and Smith are the other hurlers ready to start. Smith may draw the assignment, but in view of the fact that he has already been solved once this week by the Tar Heels, he is not likely to work, unless the other two should find the going too rough for them.

Duncan has Poyner or Sapp ready for today's game. Sapp has already turned the Quakers back once, and the "Duke" will probably send the big fellow back to try his luck again today.
