SOCIAL PROGRAM MAKE WEEK-END A GREAT SUCCESS

music by the steadily improving Tarsonians put spirit into the dancing and shortened to an unbelievable degree the hours from nine to twelve. Dr. and Mrs. Bagby, Dr. and Mrs. Meyer, and Mrs. Lawson chaperoned the dance.

Greta's Dance a Success

The Zeta Psi Fraternity, hosts at the second dance of Saturday night, brought a festive climax to a big week-end. An incomparable assortment of girls from all ends and corners of the State was gathered together for the occasion and this was the most important factor in the success of the dance. A second factor, scarcely less important, was the irresistible music of Hal Kemp and his orchestra, which enthused the dancers from nine till twelve. The only thing that marred the dance was the fact that it was Saturday and the arrival of midnight put an end to the festivities. Although the floor became somewhat crowded, the girls and music made the dancers overlook this for what's a little jostle between friends.

During the grand march, led by Marvin Wilson and Miss Betty Bryan, the girls were presented with beautiful miniature silver loving cups bearing the Zeta Psi seal. There were several no-break dances for Zeta Psis only when the carnation adorned men danced with their girls to the rhythm of the Fraternity songs. The dance was thoroughly enjoyable and was a fitting climax to such a gala week-end. The Zeta Psi dance was chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Dey, Dr. and Mrs. Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woolen, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Graves.

TAR HEEL NETMEN DEFEATED IN MEET

Participate in Southern Conference Tennis Tournament at Atlanta.

DROPS OUT IN 2ND ROUND

Teams in Both Singles and Doubles Eliminated—Whitaker Falls Before Morton.

Battling against almost unsurmountable odds the Tar Heel netmen were eliminated in the second round from the Southern Conference Tournament held at Atlanta last Saturday. The weather conditions were fine, the courts not too damp and a slight breeze.

Geddie and Elgin drew byes in the first round, while Whitaker and Dalrymple both defeated their man. In the second round, however, Geddie lost to Merry, of Georgia Tech, after two furiously fought sets, 6-4, 7-5. Chamberlain, of Tulane, puzzled out Elgin's southpaw service and sent him back with a 6-3, 6-3 defeat. Chamberlain and Murray won the doubles champion for Tulane last year at Chapel Hill. Chamberlain also went to the finals in the singles with Slade, of Florida.

Dalrymple fell victim to the long slashing drives of Grant, of Georgia Tech, and lost out by the score of 6-3, 6-3. Grant will be remembered here as the man who forced Murray to five hard-fought sets before being eliminated last year. The singles match between Whitaker and Morton, of Georgia Tech, was the continuation of a bitter rivalry started back in prep school days at Oak Ridge. Hap gave him a good scrap but was unable to equal Morton's height and strength, and was defeated by the score of 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Slade and Harris, of Florida, defeated Carolina's doubles team, composed of Geddie and Dalrymple, in the first round after two hard-fought sets, 6-4, 6-4. Slade also went to the finals in the singles with Chamberlain, of Tulane. After drawing a bye in the first round Whitaker and Elgin took on Morton and Strickland, of Georgia Tech, and led them a merry pace for three sets before being eliminated, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

The finals in the singles and the doubles were both played off yesterday at Atlanta, and they promised to be hard-fought battles from start to finish. Slade, of Florida, and Chamberlain, of Tulane, will fight it out in the singles, while the doubles spectacle will be furnished by Georgia Tech and Tulane.

SMALL ATTENDANCE MARKS PHI MEETING

Very Little Business Taken Up Because of Lack of Quorum—Resolutions for Next Meeting Read.

With the many dances on the Hill, the attendance of the meeting of the Phi Assembly, Saturday, was too small to have even the necessary quorum. It was decided by the members present to conduct the usual meeting under more intimate conditions and to transact some important business.

A letter from President Chase was read by Speaker Cooper. It concerned the plans for the renovation of the New East building and the headquarters for the new Phi Hall to be constructed on its fourth floor. Suggestions from members were solicited and the two plans of construction were explained by Mr. Cooper.

The preliminaries of the junior commencement debate are to be held at the Phi Hall on Monday night at 8:30.

A number of very interesting resolutions, which are to be discussed during the next meeting, were read by Mr. Noe. Among the most striking was: That it is the sense of the Phi Assembly that admission to the "Pick" should be reduced to fifteen cents.

Kenneth Jones was initiated into the Assembly during the meeting.

Tar Babies and Wolf Pups To Play in Raleigh Today

The Carolina freshmen meet the State first year team in Raleigh today in the first of a two game series scheduled for this week. The other game will be played here the latter part of the week; it was to have been played Saturday, but the date may be changed on account of the fact that the state championship high school game is to be played on that date.

Both the Tar Heels and the Wolf Pups have strong first year teams, and the games are sure to be hard fought affairs. The superior hitting strength of Lowe's men should give them a victory in each of these games.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AT MEETING

The final meeting of the Rockingham County Club was held last week in the County Club room of the Y. M. C. A. and officers were elected for the coming year. D. S. Gardner, of Reidsville, was elected president, and Sam Page, of Leaksville, vice-president; W. Doyle DeLaney was elected secretary-treasurer.

Following the business meeting an informal entertainment provided the members with cigarettes and fruits.

The Rockingham County Club is an active group on the campus and is one of the largest of the county clubs. There are about 47 members at the University.

or of the bill; so when the measure came up in the Legislature, the vote was taken on whether the minority report should be accepted. This result defeated the bill and it was never voted on in the House.

At the first meeting of the ID Senate after the Easter holidays, President L. A. Crowell appointed a committee to invite Mr. Poole to come to Chapel Hill and speak his views against the teaching of evolution in the State, and it is under the auspices of the ID Senate that the lecture is being held. Mr. Poole will be present at the regular meeting of the ID Senate, which will be held at 7:15 tonight.

PHILOGICAL CLUB HOLDS YEAR'S LAST MEETING

The Philological Club of the University of North Carolina held the last meeting of the year on Tuesday evening, May 11, at the Episcopal Parish House. Due to several other talks and outside attractions that were taking place on the campus the attendance was rather small but nevertheless enthusiastic.

Two very interesting papers were read during the evening. Dr. N. B. Adam's paper on "Romantic Drama in Spain in the 19th Century" and Dr. H. D. Larned's paper on "Preliminary Notes on Old French Loanwords in the New English Dictionary".

At the conclusion of the evening the election of officers for 1926-27 was held.

STATE SPORT WRITERS ORGANIZE HERE FRIDAY

Sport writers from leading North Carolina newspapers gathered here at the Carolina Inn last Friday night and organized the North Carolina Sport Writers Association.

Jake Wade, of the Charlotte Observer, was elected president; Jim McDaniel, of the Winston-Salem Journal, vice-president, and W. S. Christian, of the Twin-City Sentinel, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the new organization is to form a closer contact between the sport writers of the state and to educate the public as to the value of sports.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the University News Bureau, with Robert Madry, director of the bureau, presiding as temporary chairman.

A feature of the meeting were addresses by Coach Curlee Byrd, director of athletics and track coach at the University of Maryland, and Coach Bob Fetzer, director of athletics and track coach at the University of North Carolina. Both stressed the importance of educating the public to a greater appreciation of track and emphasized the point that sport writers are in a better position to do this than any other group.

Coach Fetzer stated that he believed the football season, on account of the warm weather unusually prevailing in September, ought to be started later and end correspondingly later.

Among those present were representatives of most of the large dailies of the state, while several sent telegrams heartily endorsing the proposed organization. Those present were Jake Wade, Charlotte Observer; E. V. Mitchell, Charlotte News; Jim McDaniel, Winston-Salem Journal; W. S. Christian, Twin-City Sentinel; Fred Hancey, Durham Morning Herald; R. F. Morrison, Durham Sun; Herman Baum, News and Observer; Jasper C. Hutto, Carolina Sporting Goods Company, Charlotte; and Robert Madry and L. N. Byrd of the University News Bureau.

CHapel Lectures Were Closed Yesterday Morning

In the final Chapel Exercises of the Spring quarter, Rev. Walter Patten of the Methodist Church presented an impressive lecture, summing up the various speeches given by several professors during the past week, on vocational subjects.

"We have been hearing with interest the speeches of our professors, advising us against procrastination, lack of definiteness of purpose and we must have come to the conclusion that our lives must be dominated by a motive, a real purpose," said the speaker. It can be wealth, in which all our efforts will be concentrated to the amassing of money in the business-world. Or better still, we may be dominated by the desire to perform a service for our fellowman. In either case there is a real motive behind our lives.

Before we can achieve success, we must love our work, the speaker said. The best can be accomplished only provided we are interested in our vocation. This can be done by recognizing our own abilities in special fields.

BANQUET GIVEN FRIDAY FOR TRACK OFFICIALS

What was described by President Chase as the "largest Southern Conference representation that has ever gotten together under one roof" gathered at the Carolina Inn Friday night at a banquet given by the University Athletic Association in honor of the officials and coaches of the Conference and the sport writers.

R. D. W. Connor, of the University Athletic Committee, served as toastmaster. There were addresses by President Chase of the University of North Carolina; by Coach W. A. Alexander of Georgia Tech; by Coach Bob Fetzer of the University of North Carolina, and by Coach Curley Byrd of the University of Maryland.

The guest speakers paid high tribute to the successful efforts of Coach Bob Fetzer for his outstanding achievements in the development of track in the South, with special reference to his work here at the University of North Carolina.

Coach Byrd declared that the South has made more rapid progress in the development of sports in recent years than any other section of the country.

An excellent musical program was rendered by Hal Kemp's orchestra.
