

Welcome Carolina Students

YOU ARE ALWAYS WELCOME AT JACK LIPMAN'S UNIVERSITY SHOP TO INSPECT OUR COMPLETE NEW STOCK OF THE HIGHEST GRADE MEN'S SUITS AND TOP COATS, HATS, SHOES, SHIRTS, SWEATERS, GOLF HOSE, KNICKERS, BATH ROBES, PAJAMAS, TUXEDO SUITS AND SHIRTS, UNDERWEAR AND NECKWEAR AND EXTRA PANTS. DO NOT HESITATE AT ANY TIME TO STOP IN TO INSPECT OUR STOCK AND COMPARE PRICES AND QUALITY.

Make This Store Your Headquarters
Jack Lipman's University Shop
 NEXT DOOR TO PICKWICK

FOOTBALL TEAM IS BEING WHIPPED INTO SHAPE

(Continued from page one)
 gaps left by George Robinson and Bill Dodderer last year. Warren and McMurray are both husky men, and have combined with their size and weight a fleetness of foot which promises to be the downfall of many opposing backs this season. They are both good tacklers, and can snag passes. "Mac" played end on the '23 yearling team, and has been filling that position on the scrubs for the last two seasons, while Warren was a scrub on last year's eleven. Dill, another scrub from last year's aggregation, is showing up well for the flank position, and will probably get into the Deacon mix-up.

Strong Line Predicted
 Garret Morehead and Buster Gregory have been contributing the outstanding work at the tackle positions, and should go well against the Deacons. Gregory was a member of last year's Tar Baby squad, and his rise in the varsity ranks has been phenomenal, while Morehead is a man of several years experience, he having performed on the varsity squad last year.

Captain Whisnant and Joe Joseph, both letter men from last year's squad, and back and working hard for the guard positions, while Harry Swartz, last year Tar Baby center, and Charlie Lipscomb, scrub from last year's squad, are putting up the stiffest fights for the pivot position.

It is in the backfield, however, that the Tar Heels have their greatest problem. Only Shuford, Hackney, and Ferrel are back from last year's squad, and none of these men participated in more than one or more games during the season. Shuford bids fair to occupy the fullback position while Bunn Hackney, assisted by Jonas, will call signals. Hackney is well-known in Tar Heel circles for his spectacular work on several occasions last year, especially in the V. M. I. and Virginia encounters. Jonas, however, has yet to prove his qualities in the backfield. Ferrell, Lassiter, Ellison, Coxe, and Young are all exhibiting prove sufficient material from stellar work at half, and should prove sufficient material from which may be picked a pair of halves not to be equaled elsewhere in the state. They are all men of experience.

Probable Line-up Given
 Unless some radical change takes place during this week, the squad which will more than likely begin the setto against the Deacons Saturday are: Warren and McMurray, ends; Gregory and Morehead, tackles; Whisnant and Joseph, guards; Swartz, center; Ellison, Lassiter, Young, Ferrel, and Coxe, halfbacks; Shuford or Block, fullback; and Hackney, quarterback.

Two Teams May Be Used
 A second string squad will probably get the second shot at the Deacons Saturday, should the coaches use the "alternate team" system which was made famous several years ago. The strength of the second aggregation was easily seen Saturday when they rammied across four first downs against the first string squad, while the regulars did not succeed in running across a single first down against the scrubs, if they may be called such. On several occasions Tom Young, second string half from last year's squad, broke loose for nice gains around the end, despite the fast work of Warren and McMurray, while Furches and Tom Coxe, both of last year's Tar Baby squad, succeeded in finding holes in the opposing line for nice gains.

With these two strong, steady teams on the field, and the wealth of further reserve material to pick from, Carolina's chances for handing the Demon Deacons a whale of a drubbing Saturday seem extremely bright. Of course, practice scrimmage

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES WILL BEGIN SOON

Coming Season of Collegiate Socials, Hops and Proms Has Many Promises

The opening of the University, while bringing to an end the summer social season which has diverted her sons for the past three months, also inaugurates the season of collegiate socials, hops and proms. The coming season, although it may seem a trifle dull in comparison with the late summer pre-college rush of dances, offers several bright spots to enliven the early fall. To the Sophomores, the autumn dances will allow their debut on the campus dance floors. To blase upperclassmen it means only another season of Grail and fraternity dances. However to the Class of '30, prep school and high school sheiks and social lights included, it means a season of banishment and exile from the ballroom, until the merry month of June, 1927, ushers in the commencement dances and brings the freshmen their first official privilege to dance at University dances.

The Order of the Grail, whose dances are always welcomed as an oasis in the drab routine of the year, promises several affairs for the Fall term. The Grail usually gives three or more dances each quarter and it is rumored that the first Grail dance of the year will take place early in October, perhaps the week-end of the South Carolina football game.

can in no way foretell what will happen when the new, inexperienced men which Coaches Collins and Cerney will run upon the field; however, it may be safely predicted that, with the steady power of the old men around them, they will hold up steadily under fire, and play havoc with the bag of tricks which Jimmie Baldwin has in store for them.

PRESIDENT CHASE SPOKE ON "AMERICANISM"

(Continued from page one)
 tion, to recall that we are not only members of this University community, but citizens and future citizens of the American commonwealth — citizens on whom a peculiar obligation rests and will rest because of the advantages that are ours. For such a reason, I ask you to think for a few moments this morning of the character and scope of the obligation to our American life that rests on such a community as ours."

Some Fundamental Problems
 "The fundamental problems of the South today are American problems. . . . When North Carolina set out to build an adequate system of good roads it was not concerned merely to build a better system than that of some other Southern State. It was wrought steadily in terms of the best national standards and that best national experience!"

In reference to education he stated: "The question is just what is necessary, according to the best American standards and practice, to fit youths who live within the borders of this state for life in America for the twentieth century. There is no more room for the second-rate in our educational system than in our road system."

Value of Ideals
 President Chase concluded his address with a word of warning to the students. He said: "The achieving of a free personality is no easy task. It is a task which you must perform for the most part yourselves. The longer it is my lot to deal with educational affairs, the more I am impressed by the little that can be done for a man in comparison with what he must do for himself. We can surround you with every opportunity. It is you who determines whether you take advantage of what is offered here. There is no doctrine so fatal to your success here, to your development into a free man, as the easy doctrine of "getting away with it if you can"—in the classroom and on the campus. That is the type of doctrine that makes men despair of democracy, because it negates the principle of intelligent and worthy self-regulation on which the success of democracy depends. I charge you, amid the variety of interests which come to you here, not to forget your obligations as a future citizen of the American Nation."

The Pilot's Letter

Forest Park, Ill., June 15, 1925
 The Parker Pen Company, Gentlemen:

At 4:30 P. M. yesterday I took off in my Yackey plane from Checkerboard field. When I reached an altitude of 3000 feet I leaned over the side and dropped a Parker Over-size Duofold Pen. A few minutes later I made a landing near my starting point, and a crowd was examining the same Parker Duofold pen, which had landed on hard ground. To my great surprise, the pen had not been damaged in the slightest by its 3000 feet drop.

Walter Addams
 Signed with the Parker that dropped 3000 feet.

Start School with a Pen that won't break—Dropped 3000 feet!

YES, the Parker Duofold Pen was tossed from an aeroplane at dizzy altitude to test our new Non-Breakable material "Permanite," and landed 3000 feet below—unharmd.

Tests such as this are the best guarantees that a pen will last practically forever.

For a year we kept secret the fact that Parker Duofold Pens and Pencils have barrels of this new lustrous, beautiful, light-weight Permanite until a whole series of heroic demonstrations proved that it does not break.

This black-tipped lacquer-red beauty is not only the smartest, shapeliest pen, but the greatest writing instrument the world has ever seen. Its yielding, super-smooth point is guaranteed 25 years not only for mechanical perfection but for wear.

Choose your point and color at any good pen counter. But look with care for the name "Geo. S. Parker" on the barrel—the mark of highest excellence.

Parker Duofold Pencils to match the Pens:
 Lady Duofold, $3; Over-size Jr., $3.50;
 "Big Brother" Over-size, $4

THE PARKER PEN COMPANY, JANSVILLE, WISCONSIN
 OFFICES AND REPRESENTS:
 NEW YORK • CHICAGO • ATLANTA • DALLAS
 SAN FRANCISCO • TORONTO • CANADA
 LONDON, ENGLAND

Parker Duofold
 Lucky Curve Feed and 25 Year Point
 Duofold Jr. $3 Lady Duofold $5

NOTE BOOKS

Loose Leaf and Permanent Bindings

FOISTER'S

Stetson "D" Fall and Winter Line of Woolens on Display at Stetson "D" Shop
 $29.50 --- MADE TO YOUR MEASURE --- $34.50