Dramatic Reviewer Finds Co-Eds Have Little Interest In Vague Matrimonial Plans

Girls Come Here to Keep from Getting Married—Purposeful Women are Here for Education—Reporter Offered Tea.

By Beachcomber

Summer is gone but spring still lingers on the campus, as the movies have it. For the Co-ed House has blossomed forth in all the colors of corticelli silks and the fragrance of Houbigant and Hoyt's. There is something about the arrival of a new bunch of Co-eds that strikes terror to the masculine heart—co-eds as a rule are flippant and frightening. All we can do however is to grit our teeth and look them over, for we accept them now as more or less of a necessary evil. After an exhaustive grilling that lasted some three hours last night, a special representative of this paper gathered from the co-eds their statistics, peculiarities, and reasons for coming here. These were noted carefully, together with their ambitions, interests, and -ah- ankles.

The outstanding piece of information gathered is that Carolina men are not looked on at all favorably by the Co-eds as prospective husbands. Last year 99 percent of the co-eds avowed their intentions of matrimony. This year only one professes any desire at all to enter into marital entanglements. The major part

Language Association Met Tuesday Night

In a meeting held last Tuesday night the members of the Philological Club were asked by their president the advisability of inviting The Modern Language Association of America, which meets this year at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., during the Christmas holidays, to hold their next session, 1927, at the University of North Carolina.

After a discussion the president was empowered to appoint a committee to consider the steps necessary in order to get the Association to meet for the first time in North Carolina at the University.

New Faces Will Appear In Gamecock Game Saturday

Dean of Students to Handle Fraternal Bids

At the Tuesday meeting of the Interfraternity Council, definite plans and arrangements were made for the handling of the rushing season's special business and members of the Executive Committee were chosen.

It was decided that fraternity bids to freshmen would be conferred through the office of the Dean of Students, according to the custom established last year. Dean Francis F. Bradshaw and Dean A. H. Patterson were therefore selected as faculty member of Executive Committee, while H. Buck was made chairman, and W. A. Vanstory, and John Finley compose the additional members from the Interfraternity Council. This group of five is for the purpose of hearing and trying all alleged violations of rushing regulations, and also in a ministerial capacity on bid day.

In the line of separate business, the council elected Lambda Chi Alpha, formed last year from the petitioning local Gamma Delta, to membership in the council by majority vote.

SQUAD IS REDUCED

Several Players Are Forced to Abandon Practice Temporarily.

39 MEN STILL ON SQUAD

New Men Fill Gaps Made by the Players' Inactivity.

By Brown Shepherd, Jr.

On Monday the University's football squad was narrowed down to thirty-nine men.

Faulkner has found that he is unable to remain in school. Williams and Beam, reserve ends, Sides, and several other scrubs have quit the squad.

The coaches feel no concern over those men who quit the squad merely from lack of spirit and stamina to continue the grind, but are anxious to remove obstacles that have forced some of the players to discontinue their training.

Saturday's game removed all the fight from several gridiron warriors of the University, and failure to make the trip sapped the fortitude of others. The system of football being introduced at Carolina requires a squad composed of men who are game under any conditions, and men who will fight and keep their heads up till the last. The squad has not been materially weakened by the loss of men who did not qualify under these conditions.

It is expected that several of the men who quit were suffering merely from a temporary attack of radicalism, and they will be back on the field before the close of the week.

The Tennessee system apparently calls for particularly rough treatment to opposing guards. The game resulted in the loss of the services of three Tar Heel guards, and Captain Whisnant's ribs were more or less stove in.

Shuler, former freshman guard who was rapidly developing into a first class varsity end, has been transferred back to the guard position to fill the gap created by the Volunteers Saturday.

Too much class work has been the main factor in causing members of the squad to cease their activities on Emerson field. Several of the men are more effective in other sports, and wish to pass their work this quarter in order to be eligible for varsity teams during the spring and winter quarters.

The University of North Carolina Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will meet tonight at seven-fifteen in Room 206 of Phillips Hall.

Frosh Who Want to Wrestle Meet Tonight

All members of the freshman class who are interested in wrestling, whether they have had previous experience or not, are requested to report at a meeting to be held in Gerrard Hall tonight at 8:30. Good coaching for the freshman wrestling squad has been secured, and a good team should be produced.

WOMEN ARE NOT TO BE ALLOWED IN PHI ASSEMBLY

Chappell Issues Warning Against Danger of Mixed Society—Precedent Should not Be Broken.

POSTPONE INITIATIONS

Important resolutions held the attention of a large and actively interested group at the meeting of the Phi Assembly, Tuesday night. The initiation ceremonies, which were to be the feature of this meeting, were definitely postponed until the next meeting. Fourteen new men received the obligations of the Assembly.

The first resolution concerned the admittance of Co-eds into the society. As was to be expected, this idea had its vigorous champion. Mr. Parker spoke of the inspiration that could be supplied by the presence of nature's fairest in that Hall. With the equality of woman in every field, he was in favor of her admittance into the Assembly. Female law students also could find in the society a means of increasing their speaking ability, he said. Mr. Whitley agreed with the previous speaker, with the added opinion that the Co-eds were too few in number to warrant the establishment of their own literary society.

It remained for Mr. Chappell to oppose this resolution. He spoke of the necessity of following precedence in this matter, since there was no mixed literary societies in the large universities, he was not in favor of their presence here. Girls in the society, according to the speaker, will also tend to take the minds of members away from serious thinking. The vote of the Assembly showed it opposed to this resolution. A provision that the co-eds be invited to the society to find their opinions of this question was passed.

The next resolution was the working out of some plan for keeping students off the grass, of the campus grounds. In spite of a great deal of discussion, no real decision could be reached. It was decided by vote to table this resolution indefinitely.

W. T. Couch, assistant director of the University Press, is making a tour of the eastern United States. While away Mr. Couch will attend the meeting of the American Library Association which is meeting at Atlantic City, N. J., this week.

German Club to Meet In Memorial Hall Today

There will be an important meeting of the members of the German Club in Memorial Hall today at 2:15 p. m. for the purpose of electing a president to succeed Jim Shannonhouse, who did not return to Carolina this year. The plans of the Club for the coming year will be outlined and it is important that every member be present.

GRAIL WILL GIVE DANCE SATURDAY

The Order of the Grail is making all possible efforts that its initial dance of the season, to be held in Bynum Gymnasium Saturday night, be fitting opener for the autumn season.

A record crowd of visitors here for the gridiron fray in the afternoon will remain over for the occasion, and it will be a goodly array of grace, beauty, and gallantry that assembles on the ballroom floor to trip the foolish toe at the year's first hop. Many girls have been invited by those of special social aspirations and the acceptances are pouring in fast. Many last minute decisions will be made as usual, and some fortunate boys will miss the game in order to meet a train in Durham.

Kyser and his Orchestra have been engaged to make the music, and the dancers of the campus are looking forward to the debut of the new orchestra.

Weaver to Talk to Durham Kiwanis Club

Mr. Weaver and Mr. McCorkle of the University Music Department will meet with the Durham Kiwanis Club today to discuss Community Music in Durham and other cities of the state.

Mr. Weaver will make a talk more or less in the form of a discussion in regard to the above mentioned topic. His experience in a thing of this type has brought the Durham Kiwanis Club to the place where they wish his advice on the subject concerning community music in the city.

There will be a musical program also, with Mr. T. Smith McCorkle taking the leading part. This is part of a movement on foot to get the state lined up with the University Music Department. Other programs similar to this are to be put on in other cities of this state.

COACHES TALK AT BIG PEP MEETING

Students Exhibit Splendid Spirit Last Night—Mangum and Fetzer Deliver Speeches.

The greatest outburst of enthusiasm at Carolina in many months was shown last night by the student body at the "pep" meeting called by the Cheerios in Memorial Hall. With the compact organization of Cheerios, and the pep of the entire student body behind them, Carolina has every indication for a real fighting machine and student body to oppose the game cocks Saturday.

Talks by Dr. Charles Mangum and Coach Bob Fetzer stirred the students to enthusiastic athletic loyalty and ye old time Carolina support and spirit. In his talk Coach Bob brought forth the idea of trying to establish a better understanding between the Carolina football team and the student body, and to acquaint the student body with the conditions existing on account of the change in material and the new system of coaching.

"While we have made a poor start, the student body should be as lenient and liberal as possible, and patient, and refrain from too hasty opinion as to the final outcome of the season. We can't expect to have real success unless we have the cooperation and understanding of the student body. Your cooperation and support and loyalty are more necessary at this time than ever, and the time for the campus to work together to bring about a successful season is when prospects are poor and things look gloomy," said Coach Bob.

He stated that the team needs an expression of confidence by the student body, and that there ought to be a fighting spirit arising in the student body which should be contagious to the team. Instead of ridicule and knocking, the students ought to be squarely behind their team, concluded Coach Bob. The talk of Dr. Mangum was an inspiration to the student body and the team to pull together toward a successful football season this fall, as he related in vivid terms the Carolina spirit and tradition by which Carolina men have been inspired in the past years.

The Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity initiated Buster Gregory of Salisbury on Monday night.

COACHES SHIFT MEN FOR SOUTH CAROLINA GAME

Warren Changed to Right Tackle—Shuler and Beard are Now Guards—Many on Sick List.

SOUTH CAROLINA IS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Strong University of Maryland Team Defeated by Visitors—Neighbors have Downed Tar Heels only Once.

Coaches "Chuck" Collins and his assistants have been laboring tirelessly this week on Emerson Field to fill the gaps caused by injuries to regular players, and to remove certain flaws which developed in the Tennessee game the past Saturday.

"K. O." Warren, former stalwart end, has been shifted to right tackle where he should prove a strengthening factor through his ability to use his hands.

McMurray, Dill, Presson, and McDaniels are being used on the end positions at the present time of writing. Shuler, star member of last year's freshman aggregation, together with Beard has been transferred to guard position. Captain Whisnant is recovering rapidly from injuries sustained in Saturday's game.

On the injured list are Foard with dislocated muscles in his shoulder, Josephs with water on the knee, Supple with an ear abscess, and Shuford with an injured wrist.

The morale and spirit of the players has brightened visibly during the past two days and the prospects of the coming battle with the University of South Carolina "Gamecocks" are not as dark as was the general feeling Sunday night.

South Carolina comes to Chapel Hill with the scalps of two decisive victories hanging from their belts. The first game ended with a five touchdown margin over Erskine college. Maryland's crack team was the next aggregation to succumb to the crashing offense of the Gamecocks. The score was 12 to 0, despite the fact that South Carolina was minus the services of two valuable players who were on the injured squad.

The invaders from the South will appear on Emerson Field Saturday with victory on their lips and confidence in their hearts. Rated as one of the foremost contenders for the South-

Fraternities Shower Attention on Frosh

"Bootlicking", free "Picks" and Drinks are Precursors of Coming Greek Battle

The announcement of the official pledge day by the Interfraternity Council as October 27 served as a pistol shot to start the Greeks on their annual Marathon with renewed vigor. It is becoming more concentrated, more open, and in most cases more desperate with only three more weeks before the Period of Silence brings an end to the 1926 race for Freshmen.

Nightly the crowd waiting for dates in front of the drug stores increases. The season of free "Picks", free drinks, and obvious "bootlicking" has come to
