FACULTY COMMITTEE OVERRULES DECISION OF COUNCIL

Fraternities Round Up 240 Men As Climax to a Strenuous Rushing Season

CAMPUS RELIEVED

End of Abnormal Period Eases Nervous Strain for All Concerned

OBSERVE REGULATIONS

Pledges Must Pass Five Courses Before They are Initiated

By Walter Creech

After five weeks of concentrated rushing the annual quota of Greek neophytes has at last been selected and the end comes as a relief to all concerned. Excitement on the campus has run high for the last few days with speculation rife as to the outcome. The doubtful freshmen have been subject to eloquent and persuasive glances during the silence. They have been objects of discussion and conjecture. Rivalry between opposing fraternities has been intense and relations have been strained. The hostilities are over, the abnormal excitement dissolved.

Excited groups gathered before each lodge house. Some few, vainly attempting to appear calm and at ease stared vacantly at a magazine or occasionally peeped from behind curtained windows. All were eager to welcome those freshmen whom they believed to be possessed of the rare good judgment to select their particular fraternity. All afternoon a line of much scrutinized first year men straggled from Memorial Hall on the way to the houses of their choice.

The fortunate new men have had the time of their lives. They have enjoyed being fought over. They have been much courted, much flattered, much honored, much deceived. Now remains the next step, that they be much disillusioned. The hostilities reached their highest pitch Monday night just before the period of silence began. The much sought after freshmen were led in bewilderment from pillar to post, snatched from one crowd by another, taken off the Hill.

DI OVERWHELMINGLY FAVORS FAUN AND UPHOLDS MAGAZINE'S POLICY

Brown Asks if New Sheet Can Offer Remedies—Accuse Tar Heel of Having Been Political Organization Heretofore—30-Vote Downs Magazine Policy Bill

At the meeting of the Dialectic Senate Tuesday night resolutions were given precedence over all bills. The resolutions that were introduced are as follows: Resolved that the Dialectic Senate go on record as opposing the new student publication, the Faun; also resolved that the Senate go on record as opposing the policy of the Carolina Magazine in using outside material in preference to that submitted by local contributors.

The first discussion brought warm and caustic comments both pro and con. The affirmative was upheld by Senator Brown, while a throng of opponents voiced their opinions in no uncertain terms in behalf of the negative. Senator Brown, in his opening speech stated, "The Faun is constantly reflecting on the spirit and the traditions of

Avent Defeats Rouse

Ed Avent, Pittsboro, is the newly elected Vice-President of the Junior class. He defeated Charlie Rouse in the final balloting yesterday by the count of 114 votes to 76 votes. The election of Vice-President was necessitated by the fact that Artie Newcomb, who was elected to this office last year, failed to return to school this year.

CAKE RACE WILL BE HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON HERE

At 3 O'clock on Emerson Field—100 Cakes and Silver Cup are Prizes

PHOENIX TO ENTER RACE

Carolina's annual classic, the cake race, is scheduled to come off tomorrow afternoon. The ambitious "cake eaters" are asked to meet, stripped for action, on Emerson Field promptly at three o'clock Friday. The course is marked off with arrows showing the runners the route.

Paulsen is giving a huge team cake to the organization placing the most men in the first one hundred to cross the finish line. The Book Exchange is donating a silver cup to the individual who leads the entries at the end, and one hundred Chapel Hill ladies have opened their hearts and are giving cakes to the first hundred men that complete the two mile course.

Phoenix to be Here

An added attraction of the cake race will be the presence of Clarence Phoenix, the young Greensboro track phenomenon, who will journey to Chapel Hill in attempt to annex the title of champion "cake eater". Phoenix will not be eligible for the book exchange's silver cup, but he will have his choice of the cakes.

TRACKMEN URGED TO TRAIN HARD AT MEET HERE

Fetzer and Ransom Speak on Necessity for Daily and Uninterrupted Workouts

Forty-four men attended the varsity track meeting held at Gerrard Hall Tuesday, and listened to Coach Bob Fetzer and Dale Ransom plan for the coming spring season. The purpose of the meeting was to arouse interest in varsity track and to get men started working out in anticipation of the strenuous track competition that Carolina will face this year. Measurements for equipment and shoe sizes were taken of the men present, and it was asked that the men absent from the meeting who intend going out for varsity track, report their shoe sizes to the sub-assistant on the Cinder track, Emerson field, afternoons 4 to 5:30.

Coach Bob opened the meeting by reading the names of about 100 men who have evidenced some promise as prospective track men, and asked that the men present who are friends of some of the "prospects" cooperate with the coaches in getting these "prospects" out for fall practice. Coach Bob explained the secret of the Tar Heel's track success, and told about the splendid progress made during the last 5 years that culminated in the winning of the Southern conference track meet last year. He said that there was nothing remarkable about Carolina's accomplishment, and that success was attributed to the fact that the boys were inspired and worked hard.

TAR HEELS MEET WOLFPACK HERE

Preparations are Being Made for Large Crowd Expected to Attend Saturday

Athletic officials of the University are making many preparations in anticipation of the large crowd which is expected to attend the game with State College on Emerson Field next Saturday.

This date has been set aside as Home Coming Day for University alumni. A block of 1500 seats adjoining the Carolina Student Section has been reserved for the alumni and their families. Every effort will be made to accommodate and please the returning members of former University classes.

Many state officials, including the Governor and his family, have been invited to be present for the occasion; acceptances are being received in every mail. The Carolina coaches, with their squad in fine condition, are grooming two backfields for offensive use against the coming invaders from Raleigh.

State College gridders have installed four mammoth flood lamps around the football field and are practicing day and night to round out a team which will

FRESHMEN PLAY BRAGG FRIDAY

Will Be Pitted Against Hard Team of Regimentals at Fayetteville

The Carolina freshman football team has arranged a game with the Fort Bragg Regimental eleven to be played at Fayetteville Friday afternoon. The team will leave Chapel Hill Friday afternoon and will return in time to be interested spectators at the annual State-Carolina game Saturday.

The soldiers have a veteran team that has been playing together for the past several seasons. Their main asset is size and the Tar Babies will have their task cut out for them when they bump against a couple of big two hundred pounders. Service teams have always been noted for their fight and the Fort Bragg aggregation is no exception. A victory by the Freshies over this powerful team will be quite a compliment to the strength of Carolina's first year representatives.

Coaches Belding and Pritchard counted noses at practice Monday and found that no men were seriously hurt as a result of the defeat administered by the Biddies of South Carolina last

Council Justified In Bringing Action Against Students

McINTOSH IS CHAIRMAN

Graham and Seven Other Faculty Men Submit Report

The faculty committee appointed to consider the case of Starr and Fowler in connection with the story "Slaves" states that it finds the story "improper for publication" but overrules the decision of the Student Council in demanding the resignation of the two men.

The whole affair arose in the publishing of the story "Slaves", by Robins Fowler, in the October number of the Carolina Magazine. The Student Council held that the story was "obscene and indecent" and not fit for publication in any University organ, and demanded the resignation of Fowler, author of the objectionable story and assistant editor of the Magazine, and of Julian Starr, editor of the Magazine. These two men, denying the authority of the Student Council in such matters, made an appeal to the faculty; as a result of this appeal, a committee was appointed, three men by the Magazine, three by President Chase, and three by the Student Council.

The report of the committee holds that the council was within its rights in assuming jurisdiction over the two men involved and that the story was "improper for publication", but ruled that "it does not consider the publication of the story an act of personal misconduct on the part of the persons involved, but rather as an act of bad taste and faulty judgment in their capacity as contributor to and editor of the Magazine." The members of this faculty committee were: A. C. McIntosh, chairman; Frank P. Graham, secretary; W. S. Bernard, Howard W. Odum, R. D. W. Connor, George Howe, James B. Bullitt, C. S. Mangum, and H. H. Williams.

HEATED DISCUSSION IN PHI SHOWS FAVOR TO EIGHT MONTHS SCHOOL

Bill Introduced to Prevent Reproduction by the Insane Through Approved State Board of Health Methods—Objected to as Very Unfair and Cruel

By a vote of the society the Phi Assembly Tuesday night showed itself in favor of an eight months school for the state based on a franchise tax.

The opening resolution concerned the levying of a franchise tax for the maintenance throughout the state of an eight months school term. Messrs. Harrell, Whitley, and Johnston strongly opposed the bill with the idea that the rural districts were hardly in the position, due to lack of interest, finances, and their general disregard for education, for a prolonged school term. They further maintained that such a term would necessitate the transference of child-labor from the farms where it was so important as well as profitable. One of the speakers also contributed the idea that, according to history, this state enjoyed its greatest prosperity when its illiteracy was at its height.

The resolutions found its defenders in Messrs. Mathews, Lewis, and Chappell. They were of the opinion that no efforts should be spared for thorough child education. Therefore, they said, the initiative of effectively instituting the eight months school term should be taken by the state and not by the rather inactive rural districts. The vote of the society showed them in favor of his resolution.

In the little time remaining, a bill was introduced to the effect that all incurably insane should be sterilized, or made impotent to reproduce, in a manner
