

STUDENT LEADERS MET AT BANQUET THURSDAY NIGHT

Short Addresses Made By Pres. Chase and All Other Members Attending Group

DI AND PHI ARE DISCUSSED

Captain "Red" Whisnant Thinks We Have "Worst" Gridiron—Hackney Decries Paid Athletes

Nineteen campus leaders met at a banquet in the Carolina Inn Thursday night for the discussion of campus affairs and problems, and remedies which may be applied to their solution.

President Chase made an introductory talk on the importance of the meeting of student leaders, mentioning the fact that many of the large campus movements in the past have been results of discussions held in the meeting of student leaders. These meetings will be held from time to time during the year.

The discussion of debating at Carolina, opened by a talk by Ted Livingston, President of the Debate Council, brought out two suggestions for the promotion of debating and speaking on the campus. It was suggested that the two literary societies be formed into an upper and a lower house, the upper house to draw its membership from the two upper classes of the University, and the lower house to be composed of members from the two lower classes. It was also proposed that the number of the Debate Council be decreased, by the Di and Phi Societies being represented by one student each. A resolution was passed by the meeting "that more continuity should be given to the control of debating at the University; that the debating program should be arranged far enough in advance to allow debaters ample time for preparation; that the present Debating Council be requested to study the situation and make suggestions to the literary societies, the student body as a

SURVEY RESULTS ANNOUNCED SOON

Tar Heel Announces Outcome of Student's Time Survey Tuesday

Results of the University of North Carolina student's time survey, compiled by the TAR HEEL and the Dean of Students Office, will be announced in Tuesday's issue of the TAR HEEL. The survey cards filled out by the freshmen and sophomores were collected in chapel yesterday morning.

Several hundred of the cards were turned in. Just what proportion of time the students give studying, athletics, and their other activities will be determined from the results of the survey.

Surveys similar to the one undertaken here have been conducted in many of the larger universities of the country, including Dartmouth, Northwestern, and others. Some very valuable statistics have been compiled from them, which have resulted in important reforms and advances in student organization and life.

Certain changes will probably be made here as a result of the survey, it was indicated by authorities yesterday, since some rather startling information has been obtained from it.

CAROLINA AND TECHMEN MEET ON EMERSON FIELD THIS AFTERNOON

Tar Heels in Fine Fettle To Tackle Wolfpack—Gus McPherson Out of Game Because of Injuries—Kike Kyser To Stage Homecoming Performance

Today on Emerson Field the N. C. State Wolfpack, which has for a week followed the Tar Heel trail closely, will be pitted against the Carolina gridders.

Both teams are in excellent shape and promise a bitterly contested struggle when the referee's whistle shrills at 2:30 this afternoon. The State College team is far superior at this date to the eleven which was trodden upon so readily by the Furman aggregation during the early part of the season. This fact was readily demonstrated last week when the Wolfpack held V. M. I. to a one touchdown margin in Richmond. Practices on Riddick field this week in Raleigh have indicated that the Techmen will present a team against Carolina which shall prove a mighty obstacle to penetrate.

The Tar Heel offense functioned brilliantly during the week's scrimmages and gave promise of a fast developing scoring machine of considerable power. Injuries to "Gus" McPherson's knee will probably render Carolina's fastest half-back incapable to enter the contest today.

Special Features Through the efforts of cheerleader "Kike" Kyser, several novel attractions have been added to the events of this afternoon. The active members of Carolina's monogram squad will march on the field as the half begins and receive the organization's older members who have returned for the occasion. Wearers of the N. C. will then be led in cheers by former cheerleaders Frank Graham, "Scrubby" Rives, P. C. Fronenburger, L. V. Huggins, Squatty Thomas, and Robert Hardee. Not to be outdone, Carolina's stellar cheer leaders in the persons of Dean Andy Johnson (of the medical school), Uncle Bill McDade, Brother Johnson, Uncle Henry Merritt, Jimbo Stroud, and Fletcher Whitted will lead the members of the club in a colorful yell for the Tar Heels.

A parade, consisting of the band, three squads of cheerleaders (past, present, and black), the Cheerios, and all members of the monogram club will march around the field and render a song before retiring in favor of the gridiron warriors.

Another feature attraction during the half will be a game of football between neophyte members of the three sophomore orders.

LEADS WOLFPACK

Captain Logan, center for the Techmen, is hoped to figure greatly in the attack and defense of the Wolfpack today. He is pitted against "Rabbi" Swartz, which will add more color to the game.

DANCE BE GIVEN TONIGHT BY GRAIL

Second Grail Dance of Year in Bynum Gymnasium To Cap State Game

RALEIGH GIRLS MAY COME

The second Grail dance of the year is the major attraction on the campus tonight and will serve as the meeting ground of old friends and acquaintances who have journeyed to Chapel Hill to view the annual football clash this afternoon between Carolina and State.

This week-end is known as homecoming week-end and scores of prominent alumni are coming up. A large number of boys have taken advantage of the situation presented by the game and the Grail dance, and are bringing up girls to help them appreciate the festivities of the week-end. The Tau Epsilon Phi annual formal and house party is also responsible for the presence of quite a few representatives of the fairer sex.

The Grail dance given a few weeks ago was one of the most enjoyable affairs ever sponsored by this campus organization,

CHEERIOS STAGE A SECOND SHOW ON EVE OF GAME

Short Addresses and New Features At Performance Last Night in Memorial Hall

NOVEL STUNTS AT GAME

Last night in Memorial Hall for forty-five minutes the student body met in another get-together Cheeri-O-Show. The affair was highly successful, everyone enjoying the short talks by Coach Cerney, Dr. Archibald Henderson, Capt. Whisnant, and other members of the squad. Besides the talks, the Cheerios were present, also the band, and the entire football squad. After the meeting, the squad filed out of Memorial Hall where the Cheerios were waiting for them with torches. The torchbearers gathered around the squad, and the student body gathered around the Cheerios, then led by the band the whole gang sang "The Song of the Cheerios", gave a few yells and sang "Hark the Sound". This was the close of the most impressive Cheeri-

DANIELS IS CAPTAIN OF CROSS COUNTRY

Varsity Cross Country Elects Captain—Meet Duke Monday

Arthur F. Daniels, of Charlotte, was elected captain of the Carolina varsity cross country squad for the 1826 season at a meeting of the runners Wednesday. Captain Daniels will lead the Carolina harriers into their opening meet of the year with Duke at Durham next Monday.

The new Tar Heel captain was a member of the freshman cross country and track teams of 1923-24, and has been a consistent point winner with the varsity squads the past two seasons. He made his letter as a two-miler last spring, and was also a member of the state-championship cross country team last fall.

Supreme Court Justice Heriot Clarkson and Mrs. Clarkson were in Chapel Hill Sunday.

H. D. Meyer Lectures

Series of Lectures Are Delivered to Durham Teachers Society.

Dr. Harold D. Meyer of the University of North Carolina, is delivering a series of lectures in Durham to the members of the Physical Education teacher's society. These lectures will last for five weeks and will be held on every Monday. Credit for the lectures will be given in reading circle work.

The course given by Dr. Meyer will consist of a scientific discussion of the various phases of Physical Education. In the lecture delivered Thursday at the Municipal Building, Dr. Meyer discussed the attitude evidenced by people toward recreational activities. He brought out the attitude during the dark ages and the renaissance, the military attitude in Sparta, Persia, and Rome, and the art attitude during the age of Pericles.

MINOR BARCLAY SETS LOW TIME FOR CAKE RACE

Fourth Annual Cake Race Runner Sets New Time of Nine Minutes and 27 1/2 Seconds

193 RUNNERS PARTICIPATE

The fourth annual running of Carolina's intramural classic Cake Race resulted in a victory for Mr. Barclay, Statesville, a freshman representing Old West, by a new time of nine minutes, 27 1-5. A large crowd witnessed a hair-breath finish between Barclay and J. B. Fisher, Salisbury, another member of the class of '30, representing Old East. These two lead the crowd of 193 contestants by several hundred yards, both entering the East Gate on Emerson Field almost together. Barclay was ahead, and in spite of a gallant finish by Fisher, retained his advantage to the finish line. Both broke last year's record time of 10 minutes: 2, set by Galen Elliott, by a good margin.

Barclay, running for Old West, led a group of 16 men representing this dormitory, who finished in the first hundred. This won the dormitory cake, an immense confection presented by Dean Paulsen, for Old East for the fourth consecutive year. Mangum was second with 13 men, and Old East tied with Grimes for third, each having 9 men finishing in the first hundred.

The event was run off under ideal running conditions before an interested crowd. While the runners were out of sight, the spectators were entertained by a special running event, between Ross and Fish, gentlemen of color who are trainers for the football team. Fish, about half the size of his lanky rival, started off at a great pace, but Ross's stork-like legs pulled him in first. He was presented with a collection given by the coaches, managers, and players.

Phoenix, Greensboro boy who is probably the best secondary school distance man in the state, was allowed to enter unofficially, and he made an excellent showing finishing seventh.

The ladies of Chapel Hill were as kind and generous as always in the matter of the delicious awards. Frank Butler, head of the Intramural department, stated when interviewed, "I wish to take this opportunity of
