

FIVE CHEERLEADERS AT THE GAME SATURDAY

By R. W. MADRY
(In the Greensboro Daily News)

C-a-r-o-l-i-n-a! C-a-r-o-l-i-n-a! Team! Team! Team!
It was the familiar "Split Carolina" yell for the Tar Heel football team, the old war whoop that makes a thrill run up and down the spinal column of the old grad.

Never did the old yell thrill more than when it was being given by the five darkies shown in the photo above at the Carolina-State game here today. It would be safe to guess that every one of the several thousand alumni back for "home-coming" game today has been waited on at one time or another by one of these most faithful of university servants. These darkies have served Carolina students for periods ranging from 15 to 50 years.

Kike Kyser, Carolina's enterprising cheerleader, got these old boys out on the field today and led them in a series of yells for the Tar Heel team, while the stands went into an uproar of applause. President Chase and many of the old alumni walked over and shook their hands.

They proved a most delightful sight for alumni eyes:

In the photo above they are shown giving a Carolina yell. Left to right, they are Uncle Bill McDade, age 73, who has been waiting on university students 50 years; Johnson Merritt, age 59, whose university services dates back 35 years; "Dean" Andy Johnson, age 66, now the guardian of the med school, who has been serving Carolina students as far back as his memory will go; Jim Strowd, age 39, the youngest of the lot, chief steward at the "Cabin" for many years past; and Henry Merritt, age 45, whose attendance on Carolina students dates back 20 years.

By virtue of residence in Chapel Hill, Uncle Bill McDade, who is almost ready to celebrate his 73rd birthday, has probably been actively connected with the University longer than any of its alumni or employees. He has been known and known well by virtually all the alumni to pass through the institution during the last half century.

FUND BE AWARDED

Applications for Four Scholarships
Should Be Filed at Once.

All students desiring a Holt scholarship or a loan from the Holt Fund must send their application in writing to R. B. House, Executive Secretary of the University, by November 15, 1926. The applications for scholarships or loans will be considered at that date, and awards made soon afterward.

This fund, which is administered by the University, was established by Mr. Lawrence Holt, Jr., of Burlington, N. C. The principal of the fund is loaned to "worthy and needy students" of the University. The income from the fund is to be used in establishing scholarships. The fund first became available for loans and scholarships during the session of 1920-21. There are now four Holt Scholarships valued at $125 each, based on the income from the Holt fund. These are awarded to a member of each of the four classes in academic departments.

PHILOLOGICAL CLUB TO MEET TONIGHT

Graduate Students Especially Invited —Paper by Professor Bernard.

The third meeting of the Philological Club will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Episcopal Parish House.

Professor Bernard is to present a paper on "A Resume of the Higher Criticism of the New Testament." Professor Bernard has spent a life-time of studying and thinking in the field of the interpretation of the gospels and the epistles as historical documents of the greatest importance. Therefore his lecture is sure to be interesting as well as instructive and of especially high value at a time when "fundamentalism" and "evolutionism" are the talk of the day.

Graduate students are especially invited to this meeting, which promises to have, besides a lecture of general appeal, a discussion of important questions related to the historical background of Christianity.
